94 YEARS

Tells of Old Days Here

Even at 94, George Burns still thinks that having his birthday come on Christmas is a sort of unfair deal.

For he and the Leonard Burns family, with whom he makes his home, are getting ready to celebrate the double event Saturday.

But birthdays do not seem greatly important to him nowadays. He chuckles as he says that his sister-in-law, Mrs. Ed Burns, pays e lot more attention to her 94th birthday than he does to his. He's mora interested in his grandchildren. And he is glad to tell about the old days.

For George Burns has seen the pageant of Northern Michigan

What's Cookin' . . .

To the Town's Taste

Some weeks ago Mrs. J. C. Marshall was in Detroit. At that time she brought back with her a recipe that really has a story behind it. It seems that a Detroit woman went to one of the better hotels there and had lunch. For dessert she had some cake. It was so wonderful that she wrote to the chef when she got home and asked him if he would send her the recipe. He did, but there was a bill for $100.00 for it. Indignant, she went to her lawyer who told her that she would have to pay it. She did, but declared that everyone she knew would get that recipe. So, here it is for you.

Salad Dressing Cake

2 cups sifted cake flour
1 cup sugar
1½ teaspoons soda
4 tablespoons cocoa
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup salad dressing
¾ cup cold water
2 teaspoons vanilla
Package of black walunt meats

Sift dry ingredients together in bowl. Add salad dressing, all at once. Blend thoroughly. Add water and vanilla gradually. Stir until smooth. Bake in two 8 inch layer pans at 350 degrees about 30 minutes.

Use your favorite recipe for frosting.

Mrs. Marshall also gave me three more rules of hers that are tried and true. While all are cookies I thought you might want to try them out and use them for Christmas boxes.

Gold Cookies

½ cup shortening
1½ cups sugar
4 egg yolks
2 tablespoons milk
1½ cups flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla or lemon

Cream shortening, add sugar and cream well. Blend in well beaten egg yolks, milk and flavoring.

Sift dry ingredients, stir into first mixture and beat for two minutes. Chill, shape into balls, size of walnuts. If lemon is used roll balls in ¾ cup cocoanut. If vanilla is used roll balls in ¾ cup finely ground nuts and 2 teaspoons cinnamon.

Place three inches apart on cookie sheet and bake 400 degrees from 12 to 15 minutes. Makes about 5 dozen cookies.

Molasses Crinkles

Here's a cooky "to write home about." Crisp when they first come from the oven, but after standing a few hours, they develop a soft almost chewy texture.

¾ cup shortening
1 cup brown sugar
1 egg
4 tablespoons molasses
¼ teaspoon salt
2¼ cups flour
2 teaspoons soda
½ teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon ginger

Cream the shortening, add the sugar very gradually and cream this mixture thoroughly. Blend in beaten egg and molasses.

Sift the flour once before measuring. Then sift together all the dry ingredients, flour, salt, soda, cloves, cinnamon and ginger and stir into the creamed mixture. Mix well and set in the refrigerator to chill, an hour or more.

Take the chilled dough from the refrigerator and shape into balls the size of a walnut. Dip tops in sugar. Place the cookies with the unsugared side down about 3 inches apart on baking sheet. Sprinkle each cookie with 2 or 3 drops of water.

Bake 12 to 15 minutes in a quick moderate oven 375.

Oat Meal Cookies

This recipe has been a favorite of the Marshall family for many years and was originally a rule of Mrs. Emma Sutton, grandmother of Mrs. Marshall.

1½ cups sugar
1 cup shortening
2 eggs
5 tablespoons milk
2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon soda
2 cups oatmeal
1 cup raisins

Cream sugar and shortening together and add eggs. Add the 5 tablespoons of milk to the dry ingredients. Pour hot water over the raisins and drain and flour and add to ingredients.

Drop from spoon on baking sheet. Bake 7 to 10 minutes in a moderate oven. Makes about 5 dozen cookies.

Bake 7 to 10 minutes in a moderate oven.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our Mother Theresa Woods who passed away one year ago Dec. 28, 1947.
Our Mother's hands that did God's will
Are folded now resigned and still,
Our Mother's eyes are closed—they shone
With love and patience for her own.
God knew she was tired and weary,
Although she never complained,
He knew her work on earth was done
And he kindly spared her pain.
We light her lamp now she is gone
Her lived ideals we carry on,
Then from Heaven she will bless
Our grieving hearts with happiness.

Her loving children,
Marguerite, Gertrude, Ila, William and John.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Anna McDonald who possed away Dec. 17, 1947.
Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear,
Too far away for sight or speech
But not too far for thought to reach.
Sweet to remember onec here
Absent now but just as dear.

Sister Erma Voreis.

CARD OF THANKS

May I again in this way express my sincere oppreciation for many acts of kindness and words of sympothy extended me when my sister, Anna McDonald, passed away a year ago Dec. 17, 1947.

Dutch Miller's Back In Uniform

After ten days in the city, Dutch is back in uniform. I don't mean Army khaki or Navy blue—but a different uniform, that's every bit as patriotic and American.

Blue jeans and a denim shirt, for work around the yards and barns; stout boots for tramping through the fields; and a straw hat when the sun gets high—a uniform you see from Maine to Texas, Iowa to Alabama.

It's the uniform of an army—the great army of American farmers who, by their productivity, are helping to keep this nation strong—bolstering the forces of democracy that guard our freedom.

And in their way of life, too, they are champions of freedom. Temperate folk who enjoy a moderate glass of beer—but never quarrel with those who prefer cider. Tolerant people who fight to the bitter end against oppression and intolerance. From where I sit, a credit to America!

IT HAPPENED ON . . . . BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

Christmas will be ushered in on Beaver Island with midnight Mass at Holy Cross church. The choir, composed of school children, will sing the Mass.

The fury of the east wind and the nor'west kept the Island without mail from Monday until Saturday. With the freight house bulging in Charlevoix, the relief came with diminishing winds. Saturday's boat brought across a record load of freight, plus three truck loads of mail.

The Christmas play, to be presented by the pupils of St. James grade and high school, will take place Wednesday evening in the Parish Hall. Following the play, Santa will arrive to distribute gifts to all the children.

Dozens of ladies were filing in and out of Eva McDonough's home all day Thursday. The reason—to take a peep at her decorations.

Ella Summerville sported a halo of white paint after she hung up several branches of painted evergreens to dry in a spot where she had to "duck" under. After so many "ducks", the halo showed up.

Mrs. Lawrence Malloy, Jr., Chicago, the former Joan Spalding, has arrived to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Spalding. Lawrence will be up in time for Christmas.

Island men and young lads who sail the Great Lakes have arrived for Christmas and the rest of the winter months. They are: Gene and Jack Burke, Buddy Left, Carl Left, Robert Gillespie, Charles McCauley, James McCafferty, Don Burke, Sheldon Martin and Matt Melville.

William J. Boyle, the "ax man" has made good use of his spare time aboard the Great Lakes freighter, George F. Baker. You should see the assortment of beautiful neck scarfs he has woven and sent back home.

Kay McDonough made her own costume for the playlet at Mrs. Palmer's Thursday evening. "It was a five hour job," said Kay.

Nestled among the pines and cedars on Back Beach Vernon LaFreniere's cottage now complete, was open to all Thursday evening. Dancing and card games were enjoyed by those who were present. Refreshments were served.

There was another gathering on Back Beach Thursday evening. The P. A. Club met at the home of Martha and George Miller.

Mrs. James H. Gallagher flew to Charlevoix Wednesday. From there, she will visit her mother in Kalamazoo and daughter, Edith in Owosso.

Dorothy Lee McCann arrived Saturday to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rolland McCann.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Gallagher and granddaughter, Kay, are in Chicago to spend the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. John Peternard.

Sunday morning, we awoke to see the first appearance of ice in the harbor. A soft snow fall transformed the Island into a perfect setting for the Christmas season.

Music Pupils Present Suite

"The Nutcracker Suite" by Tschaikowsky was presented in miniature last Thursday by the music pupils of Mrs. Russell Palmer at St. James.

Those taking part were: Terry and Ann Hanley, A. J. Gallagher, Rolland Cull, Brian Gallagher, Kay McDonough, Carolyn Miller, Eleanore Gallagher, Mary Hanley, Audrey Gathiff, Noreen Cross, Grace Marie McCann, Jill Smith, Grace Gathiff and Rosemary McDonough. Mrs. Palmer was the narrator.

Kay then sang Bach-Gounod's "Ave Maria" and played six piano numbers. Mrs. Arthur Miller sang "Tatters", "Silent Night" and "Jingle Bells." Others singing and playing were Jill Smith, Janet Gallagher, Grace Marie McCann, Eleanore Gallagher, Mary Hanley and Carolyn Miller.

The music room was decorated with Christmas trees. Refreshments were served.

Tourist Council Advises Operator to Give Value

"Michigan—Water Wonderland" will be the theme of this state's 1949 advertising, which will stress the idea of it as a year-round vacationland.

Emphasis will be placed by the Michigan Tourist Council on winter sports, early spring and fall vacations.

The easy dollar days are over, the Council warns resort areas. Although 1948 was the biggest year yet in number of vacationers, they were more particular about how and where they spent their money. This, the Council says, means the place with the better values and attractiveness will be getting the business from now on.

The Council has been advertising Michigan in national publications and in other ways. To check on its effectiveness, it checked back with thousands of persons who had written for information. For every dollar spent on advertising, these visitors spent $128 on Michigan vacations.

Road Employees Have Yule Party

The Charlevoix County Road Employees Club held their annual Christmas party at the high school cafeteria in Boyne City Thursday evening. More than 140 members and their families were present for the potluck supper and social time which followed.

Immediately after the dinner Santa Claus made a visit to the group bringing candy and other treats to the children. Social hour and dancing followed.

The committee in charge of the party was John Martin of Charlevoix, Bob Bradley of Boyne City and Mike Hitchcock of East Jordan.

THE HAIRY WOODPECKER

It is hard for a person who does not know birds to tell the two birds apart. I am speaking of the hairy and downy woodpeckers.

The hairy bird is about twice the size of the downy. Its bill is sharper and some longer than the downy's and it seems to be more slender. But both the adult males have the red spot on the back of their heads. The red on the head of the hairy is a little different shape than that of the downy. They are both black and white and their food habits are about the same.

The orchardist and the forester have nothing to fear and much to gain from both of these interesting birds. The number of useful insects which he eats is most insignificant compared with the quantities of destructive insect larvae that both species will feed upon.

An unusual feature of both birds is the tail, the under part of which, that is the quills, is covered with tiny barbs, which allow the birds to use their tails as a sort of prop. They literally sit on their tails.

The nest habits of the hairy and the downy are alike, only the nest of the hairy is much larger and deeper than the downy's. Both species lay white eggs of which four to six will make up a set. After the nest has been used for some time and after the young birds hatch and both birds are busy bringing the food to the growing young, the spot below the entrance to the nest will become worn away. In fact, it is literally chiseled away by the barbs on the tail feathers.

The birds do not have much of a song. In fact, the downy merely chooses a dead limb on the top of a big tree and hammers away. That is his song. While the hairy has a sort of yelping call note, not unlike that of the flicker or golden winged woodpecker.

—Walt Hastings.

List Speakers for MSC Farmers' Week

Visitors to the Michigan State College Farmers' Week program from Jan. 24 through 28 will hear a number of outstanding speakers.

Each department of the school of agriculture will hold meetings during the morning.

Tuesday afternoon speakers will be Carl P. Thompson, professor animal husbandry at Oklahoma A and M College. Two programs will be presented in the evening, one in the auditorium featuring a travel talk on the West Indies, and another in Jenison fieldhouse with a band concert and varsity boxing.

Speaker for the Wednesday afternoon program will be Fred W. Heinkel, secretary of the Missouri Farmers Association. Departmental banquets and a program on conservation will make up the night meetings.

For the Thursday afternoon session, Sen. J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas will be featured speaker. He will give his views of the United States in Foreign Affairs. The evening program will again give two choices—a travel lecture on India, or a band concert and basketball game with MSC playing Wayne University.

Income Tax Time

Income tax is going to be due again this year for farmers, just as it has been in the past. There's a new bulletin on income tax available. You can get it from the office of your County Agricultural Agent.

The bulletin is divided into two parts. The first takes up general information, such as who must file, date return is due, forms needed, cash and accrual methods of reporting, depreciation, reporting livestock sales, and development costs. This part is followed by a Form 1040 F (the farm form) and a sample form 1040 filled out on an actual farm on both a cash and accrual basis. There is also a complete explanation on how and when Schedule D, Form 1040, should be used to report the sale of dairy cattle and machinery.

Either the final return or an estimate is due by Jan. 15. Keeping complete farm records is the best way there is to simplify income tax reporting and suggests the new year is the ideal time to get started.

Rev. Howell to Give Thursday Broadcast

Rev. Gaylord D. Howell will give his second talk over the air Thursday morning at 10:15 over WMBN at Petoskey.

These mid-morning meditations are sponsored by the Petoskey Ministerial Association and a minister from outside Petoskey is asked to take part regularly. This is the second time Rev. Howell has been chosen.

Fighters Sought for Gloves Tourney

Tournament officials of the Northern Michigan Golden Gloves committee are seeking entries for the annual spectacle at Boyne City, Jan. 24-25 and 27.

Many veterans organizations north of Cadillac are sponsoring teams, but Harry Jennings, tournament chairman, believes many amateur fighters in the region would like to try for the team which will compete in the state tournament in February.

Unattached fighters desiring to compete may obtain entry blanks by writing Harry Jennings at Boyne City or through their local veterans organization.

Plant Wins Two Firsts At State Turkey Exhibit

Taking the only two firsts open to it, the CoOperative Poultry Processing Plant has two blue ribbons to show for the entries it sent to the Michigan Turkey Show at Alma Dec. 7 and 8.

They are for a box of six hens and another of four toms, dressed New York style, which were sent to the show. Fred Willis, the manager, says that just before the show the ten birds were picked out of the day's run, boxed and taken down. He does not know which birds were whose but that day the plant was handling turkeys grown by Hiram Brock and Jalmar Romback.

Foot Trails to Pavement, George Burns At 94 Recalls Pageant of North Michigan

from the days of the foot trail to today's paved highways. And he has played a part in it all.

Born over in Ontario near Owen Sound, his folks came to Antrim City below Norwood in 1885. "The soldiers were just coming home," he recalls. Antrim City then was a shipping point for four foot wood, mostly maple, that was shipped for fuel across the lake.

A year later, when he was ten, the family followed a blazed trail to what now is Barnard. Incidentally, that place was named for his father, who had been a Scottish orphan boy.

There he graw up fest. By the time ha wes 16 he was hendling e yoke of oxan or e team with the grown man. About 1870 he helped heul the stone for the foundetion of the present Methodist church and skidded timbers which went into the first piers at the harbor entrance.

By 1871 when he was 17 he was ready to earn his own living in the pine woods below Cheboygan. And for 18 years he drove teams or contracted hauling in the pine. One winter he was at Seney, the toughest town in the country.

Summers he worked at tha ferm or at teaming. One summer he helped cleer end grede four miles of the G. R. & I. north of Bear Creek south of Petoskey. Insteed of pulling tha stumps, the crew would dig end chop roots until the tree fell, pulling the stump along with it.

His father operated the first threshing machine in these parts, an eight horse outfit. Soon George bought one of his own and later replaced it with a 12 horse thresher.

In 1889 he started a livery stable in Charlevoix. A stage and freight line to Petoskey formed a large part of the business, "until the railroad put us out." In the winter a 20 passenger stage, heated with a stove, was used to haul passengers at $1 a trip. Mail was sometimes carried and often there was so much freight a box sleigh had to be used in addition.

In 1896 he bought an 80 acre farm on Oyster Bay and after closing out the livery business in 1907 he went there. For a time he ran a lath mill.

Then in 1930, helped by his boys, he put up the first tourist cabins between Traverse City end the Streits. "Folks thought we were crasy but they did fine."

Old memories bring frequent chuckles. It was not funny then, but the first winter the Burns family lived on corn meal and rutabagas. Or the time Charlevoix ran out of pork and finally the Burns freighter got through with two barrels from Petoskey. It lasted just two hours.

The new bridge, he remarks with a twinkle, isn't so wonderful. The first wooden one worked just the same way.

Cheirman Named by Legion Auxiliary

A Christmas party was enjoyed by 20 members of the American Legion Auxiliary at the home of Mrs. A. T. Bennett on Monday evening. Gifts were exchanged and refreshments served by the hostess.

Plans for sending Christmas baskets, greetings to members who are out of town and gifts to Charlevoix veterans in hospitals were made.

The annual Christmas party of the Shakespeare Club was Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ed Edwards. Twenty-four were present.

News of folks, your neighbors and mine . . .but did you know that—

I RESOLVE . . . but what's the use, I can never make resolutions stick somehow . . . Surely hope that Christmas was a merry one for little Billy Zeitler down in the children's ward at the University Hospital. Billy had some skin grafting done and was coming along fine when he broke out with chicken pox. So it was the contagious ward for him during the holiday season . . . There is chicken pox in Charlevoix too. Terry Coxe just finished a bout with it and his dad has been keeping his fingers crossed for he never has had them . . .

The Doug Nettletons have had one thing after another go wrong to interfere with their getting started to Florida . . . Mr. and Mrs. Bill Meyer left Friday to go to Chicago to spend the holidaya with Mrs. Meyer'a mother. From there the Meyers will go to Florida for the winter months . . .

Jerry Finney of Detroit spent the week end as a guest of Virginia Ranger . . . One of our chief joys during the Christmas holiday time is looking over the many, many Christmas cards, holiday notes and letters we receive from our good friends, and it seemed as though the basket was more running over with good wishes than ever. It takes Christmas to get some folks in the mood of writing that annual letter, but isn't it fun to get them? . . .

How quiet it seemed at the Post Office Monday morning. Gone were the huge piles of packages, gone were the piles of letters and greetings. We take our hats off to those fellows at the Post Office. They have done another year's big job and done it mighty well . . . A Christmas note from the Clarence Roe family who summer in Charlevoix, states that Mr. and Mrs. Roe and Bunny expect to go to Florida for Februsry and will then go on to Buenos Aires and Rio for the rest of the winter, but expect to be back in Charlevoix in mid-June . . .

They needed to call on Mrs. Santa Claus to come and help out at the Charles Warner home on Christmas Day for there was really a crowd there for dinner. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Warner and Betty, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Warner, Wanda and Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Warner and their children, Marion, Larry and Judy Ann, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Warner, Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson of Lansing, Miss Irene Warner of Dearborn, Gordon and Donna Towns of Grand Rapids . . . Then Saturday evening callers at the Warner home were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Beck, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Beck of Gilhraltar and Mrs. Charles Boschma of Swan Island.

A note from Mrs. A. A. Shearer from Stuart, Fla., says it is 82 degrees down there. She wonders what it is in Charlevoix. Well, we can tell her that it is COLD. Christmas week end was the coldest in many months. But, what a White Christmas! . . . 'Twas a real Christmas present the Ted Coopers received—twins, a boy and a girl. Congratulations

Charles Elzinga returned to Camp Breckenridge, Ky., Monday after spending Christmas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Elzinga . . . It surely seems good to see Frank Bird out and about the street. Carrys a cane but it gives him an air . . . A Christmas card addressed to the Biggest Dodge and Moose hunter in the World got delivered to the right person. Three guesses: Brownie, of course!

Joan Ward arrived home last week from Elkhart, Ind., in time to spend Christmas with her parents. She is now finished at school and expects to start the middle of January as medical secretary and assistant to Dr. H. O. Messmore at Grand Rapids . . . Word has been received from San Diego of the death of William Saville, an uncle of Mrs. Harley Ochs, who ran a sanitarium in Petoskey many years ago. He was 90 years old this month. The body is being brought to Charlevoix for burial . . . It was "Happy Birthday" to Jack Lucas last week when a party was held at the Clarence Woods home in his honor. Guests were greeted with strange signs at the front door and found more about the house. Following a delicious birthday dinner the 20 folks played bridge.

Had an interesting chat with Rosa Nettleton downtown last week. She's surely a busy woman. Knowing that summer is go-

Wallace Sells Station, Plant to Sinclair Oil

W. H. Wallace has sold his entire oil equipment and garage holdings here to the Sinclair Refining Co.

The transaction concluding some six months of negotiations, was closed Wednesday.

Sinclair will take possession April 1.

Included are the bulk plant and land on Ferry avenue, the garage, warehouse and filling station at Bridge and Belvedere, and the delivery truck.

By April 1, Louis Wallace expects to be ready to move into the new garage on Antrim street and will operate both the garage service and Packard agency there.

No arrangements have been made as yet by Sinclair as to operating or leasing the new property after April 1. The company is planning to build another warehouse near the bulk plant.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace left Monday for Florida. They expect to return in March and he will keep busy next spring and summer, he says, on construction work already lined up.

Produce Party Is Planned for CROP

Not content merely with giving produce in the CROP drive to get 11 tons of honey to send to Europe, the folks over around Boyne Falls are planning a Farm Produce party.

It will be Sunday in the public school gym and will start at 8 p. m. Each member of the community has been asked to donate farm products. Instead of turning these over to the CROP committee, the donations will be used as prizes at the Jan. 2 party.

Contributors of farm produce will receive due credit for their gifts. Doors will be open at 6 p. m. so these gifts can be brought early and arranged for the party.

Both donors and those who come only for the games will be asked to state the church of their choice. This is to insure that the individual gets credited and that his share of the 11 tons of honey is distributed by his church to the needy of Europe.

Henry Korthase of Boyne City was elected chairman of the CROP drive in Charlevoix County, at a meeting held last Wednesday in Boyne City. Other officers include: four vice-chairmen as follows: Father Ostrowski, Harry Behling, Rev. Behling, Rev. W. D. Wood, Rev. Howard Moore. Secretary-treasurer is Aldwyn Barden.

The township chairmen are as follows: Bay, Howard Skornia; Hayes, Lee Sneathen, Jr.; Charlevoix, Robert Colcman; Norwood, Alvin Morrow; Marion, John Rosquist; Eveline, Walter Kemp and George Ferris; South Arm, George Klooster; Wilson, Leroy Hardy; Boyne Valley, Thomas Matelski; Hudson, Bert Woodard; Chandler, Howard Wood; Melrose, Mrs. August Jensen and Evangelline, Mrs. Steven Wessels.

Fairbanks Bakery to Close, Open Again June 1

Fairbanks Bakery, after 15 years of continuous operation, will close Friday night and will reopen about June 1.

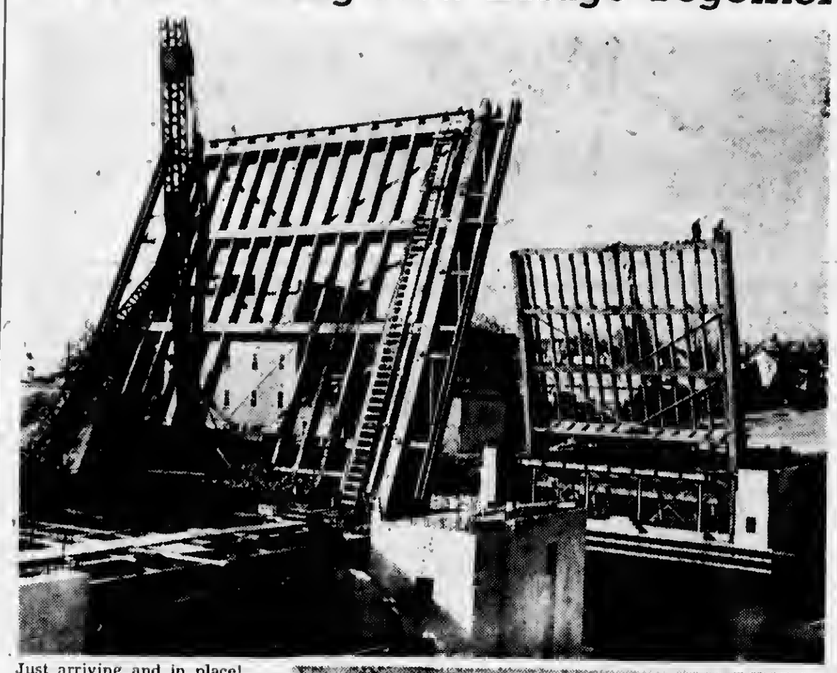
Ron Fairbanks has just bought the Silver King Doughnut Co., in Grand Rapids and will be there operating the new business. However, he plans to continue to run the bakery here during the summer months.

The Grand Rapids concern is an established wholesole concern with two routes and three delivery trucks. It is now making 25,000 doughnuts monthly. A new bakery department has just been installed and Fairbanks plans to add general baked goods and a retail store.

The Leo Fairbanks family plans to move to Grand Rapids permanently. He will manage the business in his brother's absence. The Ron Fairbanks family will continue to live here, at least for the time being. Mrs. Agnes Fairbanks will go to Grand Rapids but be back before June.

• Mrs. Frank Kenyon was a guest during the Christmas week end of her nephew and niece, Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Mayne at Cheboygan.

Riveters Putting New Bridge Together



Just arriving and in place! At the left is shown one of the four big bascule girders of the new bridge as it was hauled from the Pere Marquette tracks to Bridge street on one of John Boss' lumber trucks. Above the same girder, three others like it plus a hundred tons of other steel in place in the two section bridge.

When the picture was taken the erecting crew was just finishing the work of putting the north section together. Since then the derrick on the south side has been removed, the three missing beams riveted in place and work on the counterweight started.

There will be an opportunity for people to ask questions and if necessary have a conference with Mr. Butler following the lecture.

Beaver Island's Hunting Publicized

Beaver Island received a fine piece of publicity in this week's news release from the Lansing office of the Conservation Department.

The news story from Lansing makes two points. The Department has a positive check on the deer kill on the Island. More than 16 percent of the hunters got their buck. The story also makes mention that many sportsmen flew in on their own planes.

Health, Welfare Drive In County to Be This Month

The United Health and Welfare Fund of the county plans a federation of the fund raising activities of all worthy state and national health and welfare services operating in Michigan. The first annual appeal of the Fund will be held in January-February, 1949. Michigan is the first state to attempt to apply the Community Chest principle to these health and welfare services.

Serving on the committee are: Gordon L. Freedman, Robert Bridge, Rev. Jackson Turner and Charles Wells, Rt. 1, of Charlevoix; Mr. and Mrs. John Porter and William Shepard, Rt. 2, of East Jordan; Mrs. S. A. Tokoly, A. K. Rouse and LeRoy Hardy, Rt. 1, of Boyne City.

This is a new idea in financing these voluntary state and national health and welfare services. It grew out of the mounting confusion and annoyance of givers and campaign workers to the growing demand upon money and time to give to or work in one campaign after another. More and more of them began asking, "why not do the job once a year for all of them? They began to question too if the amounts asked by some of the agencies represented the community's true share of the national goal, or if it was based simply upon "what the traffic would bear."

Charlevoix to Observe Twelfth Night Next Thursday with Big Public Bonfire, Singing

Tweifth Night will be observed this year by Charlevoix in a community celebration, something new here.

The celebration will consist of a big bonfire of Christmas trees, a farewell from Santa and possibly community singing.

Twelfth Night supposedly is the time when the Three Wise Men came to the manger in Bethlehem with their gifts. In several European countries it is observed as elaborately as is Christmas.

Sometimes called "Old New Years", it is the customary time to burn the Christmas trees and evergreen decorations. It is this feature which will be used here. The Board of Commerce and the city together have worked out a program for the event.

On Jan. 6 the city will take all the downtown decorations out to the softball field where the ragweed was burned last summer. Citizens also are invited to bring their household trees and evergreens, either during the day or at night.

Then at 7:30 p. m. the pile will be set afire. Santa will be on hand to bid farewell to the youngsters for another year. If the weather is not too cold or windy there also will be community singing.

Soil District to Have First Annual Meeting

The first annual meeting of the Charlevoix Soil Conservation District will be held at 8:00 p. m. in the Assembly Room of the Boyne City High School Jan. 10.

The program will include explanation of next year's program by the directors, some discussion on the district by the County Agricultural Agent, Paul Barrett, Extension Specialist from Michigan State College, will present a illustrated lecture on Soil Conservation and Land Use.

All farmers in Charlevoix County who are interested in obtaining assistance from the Soil Conservation District should plan on attending this meeting. The procedure that will be followed by the District will be that of working through neighborhood groups. From 5 to 10 farmers in each group must join together for 4 to 6 meetings in order that the basic principle of the Soil Conservation plan can be explained to them. After these group meetings, farms will then be laid out in individual bases.

A series of three forestry meetings has been planned for Jan. 12, 13, and 14. These will be afternoon demonstration meetings out in various wood lots. One demonstration will be near Boyne City, one near East Jordan, and a third one will be close to Charlevoix. This will give everyone in the county an pportunity to witness these demonstrations. Lester Bell, Extension Specialist in forestry from Michigan State College, will be in charge of these demonstrations. He will discuss wood lot thinning, maple syrup production, and other questions vital to forestry. Mr. Bell will also bring along for demonstration a one man chain saw. Farmers are asked to watch next week's paper for the names of the farmers whose wood lots will be used in these demonstrations.

New Year's Eve Dance Planned for Students.

A New Year's dance for the high school students will be held Friday evening at the Masonic Temple.

Sponsored by the Fellowcraft Club of the Masons, the idea of the club was to provide wholesome entertainment for the young folks on the traditional celebration night.

There will be no admission charge whatsoever. However, the juke box will have to be fed. And there will be refreshments at cost. Dancing will start at 8:30 and last until 1 o'clock.

• Robert Fiedler, student at Central Michigan, Mt. Pleasant, is spending the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Fiedler.

County Men Report to Draft Board

The first Charlevoix county men to leave for the peace-time draft will be William E. Baumgardner of Charlevoix and Gerald L. Fincout of Route 2, Boyne City. Their induction had been postponed because of the holidays.

The following men have been ordered to report at 8:00 a. m. Jan. 6, 1040 at the office of the local draft board, Court House Charlevoix, for transportation to the Induction Station, Traverse City, for preinduction physical examination: Charlevoix, Otto L. Harvey, Bernie Ward, Jr., and David A. Hamilton; Boyne Falls, Sylvester J. Baker, Kenneth E. Howard and Frank W. Kominski; East Jordan, Lyle G. Wilson; Boyne City, Walter L. Charon; St. James, George W. Van Erkle.

Auto Licenses Now On Sale

Auto license plates for 1949 went on sale Monday instead of Jan. 3 as originally announced.

Fenton R. Bulow, representative here of the Secretary of State's office, says car owners should bring the prepared application blank sent them from Lansing. But if they do not have the blank, and want a license right away, Bulow's office in the Court House will fill out one for them if the car title is presented.

Lumber Company Completes New Building, Office

One of Charlevoix's newest business buildings has gone largely unnoticed since its completion because of its location on the north side of Pine River near the new bascule bridge.

It is the Charlevoix Lumber Co., office and warehouse located on the east side of Michigan ave., at the foot of the north side hill in approximately the same spot as the old building.

The new structure, 70x180 feet, is of wood construction with wood siding painted white. The office, 20x50 feet., is on the west side of the building and is finished in natural knotty cedar.

The remainder of the large building houses a shop with a line of builders' hardware, a heated store room for sash, a storage room for wall board plus other store rooms for lumber. The workship is located on the east side of the new structure and is joined to the new building.

E. J. Hiller, owner of the lumber company, has been with the company for 42 years and assumed management of the company on Jan. 1, 1923.

A lumber company has stood on the north bank of Pine River since 1865 when the first saw mill machinery was brought to the little fishing village from Wisconsin.

• Mrs. Frank Rasset has returned home from Detroit where she spent the holiday week end with relatives.

GOOD IDEA

Farmers Want Program to Stop Lawless Damage

By L. E. Towe

Prospect of too many folks at the meeting Monday night caused the sudden calling off of the announced session at the Hayes Town Hall.

The meeting was to discuss the possibility of posting against hunting because of the damage careless or cussed hunters have done.

It was intended for farmers and caretakers only.

The meeting as originally planned was to be only for owners and caretakers. As announced in The Courier it seemingly was to be an open meeting.

Monday morning plans seemingly were all going smoothly. Arrangements were made with Mrs. Amandus Evers to get the key to the town hall.

Then during the day it developed that two groups would be there in force. One consisted of Hayes farmers who were against widespread posting. The other were members of the Rod & Gun Club who were considered outsiders.

So Monday afternoon the arangements to have the Town Hall open and heated were cancelled.

But Monday night about 50 folks gathered at Tripp's Store at Burgess just the same. Discussion ranged from the weather to the cost of deer meat per pound to the hunter. But with no hall and no chairman, no formal meeting was held.

The situation, however, is more serious than the foregoing indicates. The farmer has a real complaint. Too much damage has been done by careless or just plain mean hunters. Too many deer and other game killed wantonly.

Joe Duplessis Monday night listed just a few cases he knows of personally. Raymond Pearl had a shot hit the house. Harold Blaine had a dog shot, and a hole drilled in a metal roof. Some hunter shot holes in a wash tub and a water tank at Jim O'Brien's.

A shot went through Amandus Ever's barn. Bill Kerns had a shot hit his oil stove tank and the window broken out of his barn. Some hunters drove a doodlebug on the Frank Bird place into a mire hole and messed up the wiring.

When the smell game season opens, his neighbors get their cattle in and put them on feed when otherwise they could leave them on pasture for two or three weeks more. In 11 years, only two city hunters ever have asked his permission to hunt or cross his land.

The farmers, he declares, are interested in conservation. They feed the game and they want to see it thrive. But they are getting tired of the lawbreakers and vandal.

The solution evidently is widespread posting with landowners ready to complain against any trespass of unauthorized hunting.

The original idea of the Monday meeting was for the interested landowners to meet and discuss their common problem and see if they could work out some common plan for some or all.

The object would be a plan which would seek to block the outlaw killer, protect the farmer and as far as possible play ball with the law abiding and cooperative hunter.

Some such plan as that is needed. The idea is a good one. It should be given another try.

A Dream, and Hard Work, Pan Out

When the S. S. North American pulls into the harbor here next summer on the first of its regular cruise stops, it will be the result of a dream of eight years ago.

It also will be equally the result of hard, steady and undiscouraged work over eight years.

The dream and work largely are S. E. Coleman's and Capt. Joe Howard's. Back in 1941 they got the idea that the cruise ships could and should make Charlevoix a port of call. Not only would it be a good thing for the town, but it would give the passengers a chance to see a most attractive resort community and rest their sea legs.

So the two, aided by other citizens around town, started in. In the face of steady discouragement and the remark that they were wasting their time, they kept hammering away on that one idea. Now it has paid out.

Charlevoix, and a lot of summer cruisers, owe a debt to those two men.

Two Good Things

The last issue of the Saturday Evening Post had two things in it which were far above average.

One was the page sermon by Roark Bradford. The other was the little editorial on the last page about Pop as a financier. One was serious, the other seriously funny.

That Roark Bradford piece jarred my insides. It pictured the Negro as he really is—a dignified, self-respecting, clear seeing and deeply religious individual. He may use slightly different expressions than we white Northerners do, and they may sound funny to us. But his ideas aren't.

That page was one of the most cutting commentaries on our observance, or lack of observance of the real spirit of Christmas, I have seen.

Three Quarters of a Billion

That amount is the gross business done by this state government during the last fiscal year. When I saw the figures in the annual Michigan Treasurer's report I felt flabbergasted. Few of us realize what an immense business we own and help to operate through our elections.

It is a cause for regret rather than joy. Government is getting too big, doing too many things for the individual that he should do for himself.

Another shock in the state report was the fact that Michigan went behind last year. Income was $781,319,313. Disbursements were $792,327,246. That makes a deficit of $11,007,933.

Still another surprise was the amount of tax money the state gets from corporations. The primary school interest fund receives almost $30,000,000 a year from such sources as railroads, telegraph and telephone, insurance firms and inheritance taxes. The C & O for example hands over a tidy $574,890 a year. The Pere Marquette check in addition is $575,678. Michigan Bell turned over $4,385,744, making it far and away the largest single taxpayer on the list.

Income Tax Aide to Be Here Monday

Rev., Mrs. Don Evans Write of Interesting Life On Dutch Island In Caribbean

A picture of a busy and satisfying life on a Caribbean island is contained in a letter from Rev. and Mrs. Don Evans to the D. C. Nettletons, received just before they left.

The Evans family is at Lago colony in the Netherlands Antilles off the coast of Venezuela. The Colony is composed almost entirely of Americans connected with the oil refinery operated for the Standard Oil of New Jersey. Don is the pastor of the colony church, although there are five other Protestant clergymen.

They are: a British Methodist, Socialist; a Britist Anglican, conservative; a Dutch Protestant who was an underground worker during the war; a Dutch Protestant who was an East Indies missionary and in a Japanese concentration camp during the war; and a Lutheran from Norway who takes care of the Norwegian sailors.

All the others are subsidized by the government on the theory that one clergyman is worth ten policemen.

The island itself is of coral, lacks the usual lush tropical vegetation, but makes up for it in rugged scenery. There is no provision for heating in their bungalow-with-patio. Water is heated by running through pipes laid on the coral and is hot during the day, cool at night.

Since everyone patronizes the company store, all families live about the same and the housewives are all without cake flour or whatever happens to be lacking at the same time.

One big surprise is that there is a waiting list on Sunday School teachers. Being largely a community of professional folks, the church work is well organized.

IT HAPPENED ON .... BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

Christmas week, Island lads and lassies who attend schools in other cities or work away from home were arriving to spend the holiday with their parents.

With weather conditions such an important factor in travel from the mainland to the Island it was indeed, a blessing visibility was good for flying and Loke Michigan quieted down for the North Shore to make regular trips.

Arriving by plane the first of the week waa Mrs. Charles Teeter, Lake Forest, to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vesty McDonough. Mr. and Mrs. Bob McDonough and daughter, also arrived to make the McDonough family complete for Christmas.

The best Christmas present Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Greene could ask for was their's—all the family were together for Christmas.

From Pontiac came: Marge and Bill Spalding and daughter, Karen to visit Mr. and Mra. Fred Spalding; Catherine Marie and Charles Wilke to visit Mr. and Mrs. Willie Schmidt, Henry Ricksgers came to spend the holidays with his parents.

Rolland McCann, Jr. a student at Providence College, Providence, R. I. came home for the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred O'Brien entertained the young folks home for the holidaya last Wednesday evening. There waa dancing and singing with Wilfred playing the fiddle, Mrs. O'Brien at the piano, and Roger Ricksgers playing the harmonica.

The old net shed belonging to the "Bowery" Gallagher family has broken in two. It happened during one of the aevere wind storms which hit the Island recently.

Alvin LaFreniere, six year old aon of Archie LaFreniere, Jr., proved himself an able actor in the play "The Shepherd Who Came Late."

Lee Cuddington, a good friend of the Island down in Grand Rapids, sent chocolate Santas for all the children. They were given out after the play.

In the happy holiday spirit, "The Dairy Bar", the non-profit and popular club house of the Island boys, opened it'a doors Christmas evening to all—and about eighty accepted the invitation. Believe it or not, there was room for dancing while Jewell Gillespie strummed hia electric guitar and Archie LaFreniere, Jr. played the mouth organ.

Island Children Give Yule Program

A Christmas program was presented by the pupils of St. James high school and grade school on Wednesday evening in the Parish Hall.

Opening the program, the girl's choir sang "Birthday of a King" and "Christmas Bells."

Two one act plays followed. The cast taking part in "The Shepherd Who Came Late" were: Mary Mailoy, Henry Dubiel, Alvin LaFreniere. In the nativity tableau scenes were: Pat LaFreniere, Gerald Hanley, Verle McCann, Patrick Wabininkee, Robert Bonner, Ronald O'Donnell, Janet Gallagher, Eileen Gatliff, Mary M. National SPEB Magazine Tells Jamboree Doings

Charlevoix got a big boost this month in the December issue of The Harmonizer, international publication of the SPEBSQSA.

The article said:

"To Charlevoix, one of the smallest chapters in the Michigan association, 30 members, goes major acclaim of SPEBSQSA for one of the most unusual and enjoyable conclaves of barbershop harmony in the land. Undertaking a three day assemblage of barbershoppers by any chapter is breath taking. However, Charlevoix has now done it six times in a row and without any profit left, is looking ahead to its seventh. The Charlevoix affair for 1948, like those of previous years, was the mecca of Michigan harmony singers, beginning the Friday before Labor Day and continuing through the holiday week end."

The magazine goes on to describe in considerable detail the program presented here last summer.

Potato Growers Must Register for Price Support

Potato growers who want to be eligible for the 1949 price support program of the government must get their namea in to tha county AAA office by Jan. 20.

Letters are going out now to all commercial potato growers who raised three or more acres during the last four years. These letters ask the growers to report their potato acreages for 1945-46-47 and 48, as well as the area they plan to plant in 1949. These figures will be used by the county AAA committee in determining the the acreage goals for each individual farm next year.

However, any farmer, whether he receives auch a letter or not, must let the AAA office know if he plans to raise three or more acrea of spuds next year. He can do this either by mail or in person.

Once he has filed this notice, there will be an official acreage goal assigned to his farm. Then if he staya within thot goal, he will be eligible for the price support protection on his 1949 crop.

This price will be supported at a level equal to 60 percent of parity. Unless the grower meets the eligibility requirements he cannot receive a government loan on the potatoes grown nor sell to the government at the support level.

THE HERRING GULL

Of all the birds in the county, one that is able to take care of itself and do it exceedingly well is the common herring gull. Winter or summer it makes no difference. Hot or cold, this bird is able to adopt itself to all changing conditions and do it so well that we call it "gullability."

The greatest value of the herring gull, which is our common gull, often referred to as the "sea gull", is its seavenger-like food habits. Its main joh is to keep the heaches and shore line free of almost everything that is unpleasant. Another job that this bird has taken upon itself during the late year is that of following the plow. While a farmer is working his fields, gulls will gather in considerable numbers and will follow along behind the plow or drag and in doing so be of great benefit to the farmer.

One day I was driving on M-22 north of Leland about eight or ten miles and I came upon a dead herring gull lying in the road. It had been just killed by an automobile. Being an inquisitive person, I stopped and picked up the bird. Finding it still warm, I opened its crop with my pocket knife and found it full of cut worms and white grubs, freshly picked up. Out in a field nearby there was a farmer diseing a field and I counted forty of these birds cleaning up the cut worms and grubs the disc had brought to the top of the ground.

I don't know how much of a garden you good people raise. But I raise quite a garden and there is nothing more discouraging to contend with than the cut worm or the common white grub. They do a lot of damage to my garden and are hard to control. So I surely would like to have a lot of these birds work my ground over while it is being plowed and dragged.

The herring gull nests in three places in this county. On little Gull Island in Northport Bay. I once counted three hundred and sixty nests with eggs in them.

The herring gull is rather a dirty bird some times. There are many hanging around the fishermen's docks waiting for food. But we surely would miss this picturesque bird if we were to lose it from our landscape, wouldn't we?

—Walt Hastings.

STRONG ARMS FOR TELEPHONE POLES—Ever stop to think how much extra weight an ice storm can add to telephone wires? Crossarms on telephone poles must be strong enough to stand up under the strain. Here you see a Bell Laboratories hydraulic testing machine bending a crossarm to the breaking poiot. Southern pine and Douglas fir crossarms can carry nearly 2 tons weight.

ONE UP ON NATURE—During the war Bell Laboratories scientists found a way to grow synthetic crystals better in some ways than natural quartz. A "seed" crystal is produced by evaporating chemical salts, then rotated in a chemical solution which causes deposits to build it up to many times its original size. Crystals vibrate at exact frequencies, separate the many telephone messages travelling over a long distance line.

BETTER AND BETTER—In the 72 years since the telephone was invented, there have been more than 18,000 additional inventions—an average of 260 a year—that have contributed to its development. Many recent ones are playing a part in Michigan Bell's big service improvement program in rural areas.

With his army discharge papers in his pocket, Clarke Bergeon is home again and swears he is going to take a good long rest. Perhaps Clarke's greatest surprise is to come home and find that young brother, Mike has beat him in height so that now he is the little brother, so to speak. These boys do shoot up in spite of all that can be done.

Mrs. Fred Cartier and Mrs. Albert Edwards were hostesses to the Charlevoix Garden Club at the Edwards home for the annuel Christmas party last week.

News of folks, your neighbors and mine . . .but did you know that—

Wedding bells will soon be ringing again . . .. What is the sign when a cricket chirps in tha winter time? Do crickets go alang with return of robins in January? Anyway a cricket in the alleyway just back af the Charlevoix Caunty State Bank has brought several folks into the office. It started Monday night with Jim Novatny coming in and asking if we had heard the cricket. Anyway we can't complain about this winter weather . . . And during the holiday time one waman remarked that Charlevoix looked like the Christmas scenes on Christmas cards.

The Meyer Levinson family has already arrived in Clearwater, Fla. . . . It's just like I spent an afternoon in Sun Valley, or some other winter resort spot one sees in pictures or the movies," said one of the local women Sunday when she sat in the club house at Boyne Mountain and watched folks on skis. Several Charlevoix folks did their bit that day too. Dr. McClintock knows his stuff all right. Learned to ski over in Switzerland and the mountain held no terrors for him . . . Have you got that income tax report made out? Happy thought!

Well, chicken pox seems to be the vogue nowadays. More kids in town spent their holiday entertaining the disease . . . Mrs. Rudy Korth spent tho holiday week in Chicago visiting her relatives. Said she just could not stay for New Year's, she had to get back and then when she arrived she learned of the sudden death of their good friend, John Kling . . .

A note from Floy Edson who spent the holidays down at Boone Tavern at Berea, Ky., states she had a wonderful Christmas there where one has to make a reservation for the holidays months in advance. She also told of going to the big gym and watching dancers from all over the country learning old folk dancing. Pres. Robert Hutchins of the University of Chicago was also there for the festivities. His brother is president of Berea College.

We were surprised to learn of the tragic things that had taken place in Charlevoix while we were in Charlotte last week following the sudden stroke and death of Mr. Towe's mother, Mrs. Eva Blanchard. It is truly a time when one learns who his real friends are. As for ourselves, we deeply appreciate all the many kindnesses of our friends, flowers, notes and letters . . . The Don Feagans spent the holidays in Cincinnati with relatives. "We were not too far from Lansing," said Don, "and we were speaking of the Nettletons and wondering if they got off to Florida for the road was extremely icy. Just a few minutes later if we didn't see a car and trailer approaching us and if it wasn't Doc himself just gripping that wheel as he passed us." 'Tis a small world.

Wish I had a dollar every time I heard folks say "I am going to start to reduce, I have just eaten too much over the holidays." And who didn't?? . . . Mr. and Mrs. Bert Houston expect to leave Sunday for Ann Arbor where Mrs. Houston expects to take some tests at the University Hospital. She is going prepared to leave the hospital and go South for the winter as the doctor has told her that she cannot stay in a cold climate . . .

Don Campbell took the Dick Herricks back to Albion Monday following their vacation here. . . . Susan and Bud Webster have left Algonac and cast anchor in Charlevoix, which is to be their future home. Bud has gone in with his father-in-law, Harold Miller, in his boat business . . . Richard Saltonstall of Detroit, the Jack Dollenmeiers of Bay City and the Charles Sessions of Ann Arbor spent the holiday week end with Dr. and Mrs. Gilbert Saltonstall . . .

Bill Ochs accompanied by Walter Elliot of New York and Edward Ladd of Pontiac spent the New Year's week end with the Harley Ochs family. Other guests at the Ochs home are Leota Saville of San Diego, Calif., Grace Brock of Detroit . . . Mrs. A. J. Usher writes from her daughter's home in Lansing that she attended her first inauguration of a Governor, and that a Democrat (she adds). Sho said she was impressed by the manner of Governor Williams . . .

Grace Norris, sister of Mrs. E. B. Bowman, spent the holiday week with the Bowman family,

New Ski Resort to Be Dedicated

Northern Michigan's new ski resort and highest ski run will be formally dedicated Saturday with triple ceremonies.

There will be a dedication in the afternoon at the new Boyne Mountain Resort with Highway Commissioner Charles Zeigler as speaker. Then will come a ski race and inspection of the entire resort. And in the evening dinner.

There is a good likelihood that Gov. G. Mennen Williams will be at the dinner and will speak. He promised to come if he could get away from Lansing and the latest word was that he could make it.

Also on the evening program will be Louis McGregor of Flint, president of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs. This dinner is sponsored by the Charlevoix County Chambers of Commerce, will be at 0:30 p. m. at the Dilworth in Boyne City. Details of the program are given on the first page of the ski supplement.

Everett Kircher, president of Boyne Mountain has stressed one point regarding the new resort:

"This whole set-up is Northern Michigan's and we want the folks here to feel that way about it. It is not a snooty nor an exclusive club. It's for everyone who likes to ski and who wants fine slopes."

Farmers Union to Discuss New Buying Club

Discussion of the newly organized buying club will mark the meeting of the Charlevoix County Farmers Union Jan. 25.

It will he held at the Hayes Town Hall at Burgess. Starting at 11 a. m., there will be a potluck lunch served at noon.

The Norwood Local will meet at its hall Thursday night at 8:30 p. m.

Western Union Asks for Closing Permit

Formal application to the Federal Communications Commission for permission to close the Western Union office here next fall has been filed hy the company.

Letters supporting or opposing the application must he at Washington with the FCC before Jan. 25.

The company asks permission to close the office Sept. 16 and reopen it on June 15 next year. If permission is granted, what is known as substitute service will be available through the Abstract office. Telegrams may be filed there and will he telephoned to the Petoskey office.

Stork Does It! Brings Baby On New Year's Day

A son born to Mr. and Mrs. Maurice P. Ksemer of East Jordan on Jan. 3.

Mr. and Mrs. William Porter of East Jordan are the parents of a daughter born at the Lockwood General Hospital Petoskey on Jan. 1.

George VerSnyder Rites to Be Friday

Funeral services for George VerSnyder, 81, will be held Friday at 10:30 a. m. in St. Mary's Church with burial in St. Mary's cemetery.

Mr. VerSnyder was a retired Norwood farmer. His death occurred Tuesday at his home here following a long illness.

No More Free Rides On Ferry

When the Ironton Ferry starts running again next spring, it is going to cost money to cross the South Arm.

Monday afternoon the Board of Supervisors approved a resolution turning the operation of the ferry over to the Road Commission. They also approved a schedule of tolls and agreed to underwrite any operating deficit.

The fares will be:

Cars and pickup trucks 25c
Cars with trailers, trucks 40c

Books of 25 tickets also will be available. Those for cars will be $5, or 20 cents n trip. Trucks and cars hauling trailers will pay $8 or 32 cents.

The Road Commission will take over Jan. 5. It contemplates no change in crew, schedules or ferry. It will only run the ferry. The rate schedule was set hy the Supervisors, and any sinking fund for repairs must also be set up by that body.

The change from a free ferry to tolls was bound to come, say Supervisors. Last year the ferry cost county taxpayers $8000 to operate. The engine is 22 years old. Before long major repairs almost certainly will have to be made and there is no eash on hand to pay the bill.

The supervisors felt the Road Commission could do a better job of running the ferry than it could itself.

BIRDS PAY

New Plant Profits Growers

More money went into the pockets of turkey growers here this year because of the new poultry processing plant.

That is the opinion of Fred Willis, manager, after studying the final figures for the season. "It's more than fulfilled the hopes of the growers," he says.

Starting in October, the new plant dressed and shipped 17,200 turkeys, netting the growers an estimated $167,000. Sixty percent of the birds were from the immediate area of Charlevoix, East Jordan and Ellsworth. The rest came from Mancelona, Beulah, Harbor Springs, Kalkaska, West Branch and Cadillac.

Because no figures on last year's crop are availabla it is impossible to estimate the gain over that year.

However, turkey growers in other sections sold turkeys live weight for from 4 to 6 cents a pound less than outside buyers were offering growers here. Therefore, it is quite evident that the turkey growers who used the new dressing plant received more in cash for their birds because of the plant and the contacts made through it. They were also rid of the worry and risk of marketing their birds and the trouble and work of home dressing.

The new plant furnished employment for 33 people for about eight weeks that it was in operation.

Mancelona Team Comes Here This Friday

After a lapse of three weeks during which they played no league games the Charlevoix Rayders will reopen their sixteen game schedule on Friday when they meet Coach Matt Jacobson's Mancelona team on the local court.

The Rayders, as well as every other team in the conference, has held full practice sessions during the Christmas holiday vacation.

Charlevoix with three wins and two losses is sharing the third place berth in the conference with East Jordan and Gaylord, while Boyne City, in spite of their defeat by Petoskey by a 40 to 35 score in a non-conference tilt still holds first place.

Harbor Springs is second with only one defeat at the hands of the Rayders. On New Year's Day they defeated Petoskey 44-32 on the Petoskey floor.

Other games scheduled for Jan. 7 are Harbor at East Jordan; Boyne City at Gaylord and Pellston at Grayling.

Mancelona and Pellston with one and four losses are tied for fourth place. Grayling is alone in the cellar with five losses.

There will be only one contest in the city election Feb. 21.

Board Endorces Plan to Finance New Court House

Salting away tax maney naw to save interest and finance costs in the future is the idea back of a plan approved Tuesday by the Board of Supervisars that will be submitted to the voters at the April election.

The money will go into a ainking fund to be used for the construction of the badly needed new Court House.

One thing is emphasized. Thls plan does not mean any new taxes nor the curtailing of present services. The Suparvisors' plan calls for putting away two mills of tha present tax money each year for three years and then saving one mill for tha next seven years.

In this way, about $22,000 will be set aside annually for the first three years, and $11,000 for each of the following years. Only in this way, the Board feels, can the money be raised without undue hardship and costly bonds.

Under the Supervisors' plan, the whole propasition will be submitted to the voters at the April election. The reason for the program and details are given in the Papers Join Forces On Supplement for New Ski Resort

Included in this issue is something new in Charlevoix County—a supplement on the new Boyne Mountain Ski Resort.

Three things are different about it.

The supplement was sponsored by the Charlevoix County Chambers of Commerce as one way to help promote the new ski resort.

The supplement is carried by all three of the Charlevoix County papers as their contribution.

It represents an all-county effort to promote the new resort at Boyne Falls.

Type for the supplement was set in all three of the county's newspaper offices. However, the issue itself was assembled, printed and folded by the Boyne Citizen. Most of the writing was done by A. G. Smith of the Citizen.

Awards Will Be Presented At Pomona Grange

Leadership awards will be presented at the next meeting of the Charlevoix County Pomona Grange Monday at the Barnard Hall.

State's Only Woman Surveyor Starts Third Term in Charlevoix Office

Charlevoix county officers who were reelected in the November elections were sworn into offiec for another two-year term on Monday. Among those who resumed their offices for another term was Mary C. Feindt, who is starting her third unopposed term as Charlevoix county surveyor, the only woman to hold that position in the state of Michigan.

It is hard to believe that this young red-haired woman is not only a sueeessful business woman as co-owner of the Charlevoix Abstract and Engineering company with her husband, Lawrence Feindt. They purchased the company from R. F. Sloan in 1944.

"How did I happen to become an engineer? I wish I could give you a very nice answer to that but I can't. I guess it was my love for mathematics and because I had heard a lot about engineering from my grandfather, who was an early surveyor.

"After I had completed my Junior year at Albion College and still insisted on being an engineer my father decided he would settle the question once and for all by getting me a job with a friend who was a surveyor. I was to have the job for a few days but after a couple days

The Farmer Is Getting a Raw Deal

Last week the Detroit, Lansing and other industrial town newspapers carried the news that milk prices were dropping a cent a quart. The same news stories pointed out that food prices were dropped all along the line, and the savings to the consumer was made possible by lower prices to the farmers.

At the same time the UAW-CIO is getting ready for a fourth round increase in wages, and other labor unions are going after further boosts.

There's a lot of economic high explosive being piled up by those two trends. Labor should have learned long since that low farm prices sooner or later mean no jobs. Or else the CIO leaders are willing to close their eyes so that fact in order to keep their hold for a few more months or years.

The annual start-of-the-year forecast of the president of the A & P, John A. Hartford, has something to say on this.

Food prices have been dropping ever since July. eH expects they will go still lower. Folks are no longer buying what they want but what they can afford. The extra dollar is going for scarce articles such as housing and cars.

Hartford says the major danger is that farm prices will be pushed below the cost of production. One answer to the future is for a general improvement in all food handling. Greater efficiency here will cut the spread between what the farmer gets and what the retailer must charge.

What's Cookin' . . .

To the Town's Taste

It was annual recipe day at Dickens Club Monday and what good things found their way to the dining room table at Linda Campbell's. It was impossible to get all the delicious dishes, but I did get recipes for four or five things to pass on to you.

Bernice Wexstaff brought an Orange Cake rule from California when she returned recently and it made quite a hit:

Orange Cake

½ pound dates
1 cup nuts
1 cup sugar
1 egg
2 cups flour
1 cup water
1 teaspoon soda
½ cup shortening
2 small grated oranges or one large orange.

Cut dates and nuts into small bowl. Boil water and add soda to water and then pour over dates and nuts. Cream sugar and shortening and add beaten egg and date and nut mixture. Grate oranges over mixture. Measure and sift flour three times and add. Bake in a greased baking dish 9x15 in oven 350 degrees for ½ hour. Cool five minutes. Mix juice of orange dissolved in ½ cup sugar and pour over top of cake. (And if you want it extra special, serve with whipped cream).

A Blitz Torte was Margaret Bowman's rule for the day and once you have eaten this delicious concoction, it will blitz itself into your recipe file for keeps.

Blitz Torte

½ cup sugar
½ cup shortening
1 cup cake flour (sifted before measuring)
1 teaspoon baking powder
Pinch of salt
5 tablespoons milk
4 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream shortening and sugar. Add yolks of eggs one at a time, beating after each addition.

Add vanilla to milk and add alternately with the dry ingredients to mixture. Make a meringue of the egg whites, beaten until stiff to which an additional ⅜ cup of sugar is added. Spread on the batter and bake in two layer pans at 350 degrees. Put together with your favorite custard and top with whipped cream.

You will say "Yum, Yum," when you treat yourself to a loaf of Ella Fochtman's

Black Walnut Nut Bread

2 eggs
1 cup sugar
1 cup sweet milk
2 tablespoons melted shortening
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup nut meats
3½ cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder

Beat eggs and sugar until light. Combine milk and shortening. Add salt and nuts and mix. Fold in flour and baking powder. Put in greased pan. Let raise 20 minutes and bake 375 degrees for one hour.

Susan Webster came through with a luncheon meat rule that is a real surprise treat.

Ham Balls

Grind one 12-ounce can of luncheon meat.

Combine the ground meat with 2/3 cup of uncooked rolled oats
1 beaten egg
½ cup milk
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon prepared mustard

Mix until thoroughly blended. Shape into small balls. Place in a shallow baking dish. Bake in a moderate oven 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Pour the sweet-sour sauce over them and continue to bake for 15 minutes.

Sweet-Sour Sauce

Combine 1 tablespoon flour
½ cup brown sugar
⅓ cup dark corn syrup
½ cup water
2 tablespoons vinegar
6 whole cloves.

Cook on top of stove until slightly thickened. Pour over spiced ham balls.

Are you one of those gals who never know whether or not the omelet is going to fall. If so, cheer up, for Alice Miller has the answer to all this in her Chinese Omelet with a rice base and it never falls.

Chinese Omelet

2 cups cooked rice
2 tablespoons butter (melted with flour)
1½ tablespoon flour.
¾ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon paprika
½ cup milk
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
½ pound cheese cut up (nippy)

Born in Thorne, Canada, on May 21, 1867, the former Mary Ann Lang came to Clare with her parents when she was 21. About a year later she came to Charlevoix and on June 8, 1897 was married to Daniel G. Livingston who preceded her in death on Feb. 1, 1911. In February, 1913, she was married to Mr. McGeagh. She had operated a summer boarding and rooming house at 309 E. Dixon ave., for about 30 years.

Following his death in 1923, she was married to Dan Blanchard, also of Charlotte, who died in 1940. In 1946 she moved to Charlevoix from Glendale, Calif., and purchased the home at 215 Clinton.

Three weeks ago she went to Charlotte from Wolcottville, Ind., for a Christmas visit with her brother, Ray Upright. It was at his home, across the road from her birthplace, that she suffered a stroke Dec. 24.

Surviving are her son Lawrence Towe of Charlevoix; two brothers, Ray and Clarence Upright of Charlotte; a sister, Mrs. Harry Williamson of Jackson, and a grandson, Dudley. Funeral services and burial were Friday at Charlotte.

Well, most of the deer hunters have gone and returned—empty handed, with tall tails of the ones they missed. They got out in the woods away from women and business long enough to have a swell time. That's the most important thing.

Reed Is Recovering From Injuries; Car Driver Killed

After serious injuries received in the fatal crash Friday night, Jack Reed is recovering at the Charlevoix Hospital.

His eventual recovery is confidently expected although he still is a badly hurt man. He had a fractured nose, badly bruised face, separation of the pelvic bone, a shattered left leg, and broken right. Both these breaks fortunately were below the knee.

The accident took place on the new U. S. 31 pavement just this side of the road leading to last fall's gravel dump and about two miles west of Bay Shore.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Lund of Petoskey were coming toward Charlevoix in a Buick. Reed was riding with Donald E. Pearse, 30, of Harbor Springs. They were in a Crosley going east.

A strong wind was blowing, the pavement was icy on the Crosley's side of the road. It evidently was swayed by the wind and went out of control. The light car crashed into the front left corner of the Buick.

Pearse was badly cut about the face and neck and died within five minutes according to Coroner R. B. McClintock from shock and the severe injuries.

Lund and his wife were taken to the Little Traverse Hospital in Petoskey where he was treated for minor cuts and bruises. Mrs Lund had severe facial lacerations and knee injuries.

Pearse was a former naval flyer in the Pacific and from 1946 until two months ago had been flying instructor for Phillips Flying Service of Harbor Springs. He left at that time to join Reed Enterprises. He is survived by his wife and four year old son, Gary; his parents, Capt. and Mrs. F. F. Pearse of Rogers City and a brother.

The body was taken from the Erwin Funeral Home in Harbor Springs to Rogers City for brief funeral services on Monday. Final rites and burial were in Escanaba on Tuesday.

Mary Feindt Takes Office; Only Woman Surveyor In State

his assistant got a better position and I continued to work with him during the summer. That decided me and my family and I went on to the University of Michigan engineering school.

"That particular school has very few girls enrolled and my life there wasn't easy," Mrs. Feindt recalls, "but after they found I meant business I was treated as an equal and got along alright." She was even granted special perimission to attend the University surveying camp at Jackson, Wyo., for one summer.

It was in the engineering school that she met Prof. Roy Swinton, a former Charlevoix resident. He gave her to understand he did not approve of girls in his classes and demanded the same of her as of the men. But later, in her senior year, it was Prof. Swinton who was instrumental in getting her a job in Charlevoix with Mr. Sloan at a time when jobs everywhere were at a premium. She came to Charlevoix for two months, stayed to serve a 4 year apprenticeship, turned down an engineer's dream of a job with the Tennessee Valley Authority project which was offered her the day before she was to marry Mr. Feindt and is still among those present more than ten years later.

What does she like about her job? "Field work" is her quick answer. "Each new job is a new adventure. You gather what information you can from your files, talk to the people in the vicinity, spend hours looking for old markers that usually aren't there and then find one clue. From then on it's routine."

Mrs. Feindt, the former Mary C. Bastian, of Albion, received a bachelor of science degree from the University of Michigan in 1938 and returned in 1944 for her master's degree. She is an associate member of the American Society of Civil Engineers, one of 26 women in a total membership of more than 22,000. In Michigan engineering circles she is even more unique for only one other woman is listed in the membership of the Michigan Engineering Society.

Old Greeting Pictures Early Quartette Here

Back then they didn't have heads and hairs, but they had quartettes with facial trimmings.

An old New Year's greeting brought to The Courier by A. M. Allard, 203 Sheridan, shows the forerunner of today's SPEB outfits. The four members of the Apollo Quartette Club are pictured.

There was W. A. Smith, tenori primo, with a narrow wide moustache; and A. D. Bradbeer, tenori secondo, whose upper lip trimmings swept down to handsome mutton chop side whiskers.

S. C. Graves, M. D., with a full moustache and whiskers was basso primo. J. A. Carlson, another M. D., was basso secondo, and wore only a heavy moustache.

Bradbeer was the town's photographer, for the card bears his imprint. At the top, in fancy letters, appeared "Happy New Year, 1885" and at the bottom "Compliments of the Apollo Quartette Club."

Will Speak Over WMBN

Rev. Gaylord Howell again will give a 15 minute talk on Jan. 13 over the Petoskey radio station. The morning talks are sponsored by the Petoskey Ministerial Association.

Only Ghosts Left

Tuolumne county in central California has many ghost towns. On Jackass hill is Mark Twain's cabin, which still contains his personal effects. Nearby is the Wells Fargo stagecoach building, reminiscent of the gold-carrying days when millions of dollars in gold were found at Mount Baldy and Colome.

TELLS STORY

Corn Shows Soil Condition

The corn you harvested this fall can give some valuable tips for higher yields next year, say soil scientists at Michigan State college.

Take a little time to examine the ears and you'll discover how well your corn was fed. The Middle West Soil Improvement Committee lists a number of starvation signs that show up in corn ears.

It there are a lot of nubbins with well filled kernels and a fair polish and luster, then your corn was probably starving for nitrogen. The corn plant adjusts the size of the ear to the nitrogen available.

Ears that are crooked because rows of kernels did not fill are signs that the corn was starved for phosphate. When phosphate is lacking, corn is slow in shooting silks. The late silks do not catch any pollen so the kernels are not fertilized and fail to fill.

Pointed chaffy ears are sure hints that your corn could have used more potash. Without sufficient potash, the corn plant cannot fill the kernels, no matter how much nitrogen or phosphate it can get. The plant needs potash to manufacture the sugar, starch and proteins it packs into the kernels. Without potash it cannot build the cellulose that makes up a large part of the cob.

More Counties Join Ag Area

The counties in the Ninth District of the Lower Peninsula are now included in the Northern Michigan Agricultural Planning Committee's work.

Monday at Gaylord the Ninth asked to be admitted and was accepted.

Those attending from here were John Rosquist, George Block, Charles Mascho, Don Crandall and Warren Schole.

Chest Turns Over Funds to Various Community Groups

Money contributed by Charlevoix citizens in the Community Chest drive last November was turned over to the various local organizations for which it was raised.

Transfer of the funds was approved last Wednesday night by the Board of the Community Chest. The funds appropriated were:

Charlevoix Hospital	$1,500
Boy Scouts	800
Girl Scouts	550
District Health Unit	500

Because Boyne City and East Jordan both have their own Health Nurse, and so did not contribute to the District as was expected, the Charlevoix Board voted to turn over an added $350 to the work here.

Mrs. Dean Davenport, the District Health Nurse, serves only the Charlevoix School District area and this $850 goes to carry on her work, part of which is supported by the school.

Red Dane Breeders to Organize

A group of farmers who are interested in Red Dane cattle met last week at the Ellsworth Community Hall. They have planned a field trip to Harrisville in Alcona County, to visit some Red Dane herds. This field trip will either be on Friday, Jan 7, or Thursday, Jan 20. Anyone interested in making this field trip should contact the County Extension office at Boyne City.

Before the Red Dane breeders can organize, a total of 200 cows must be signed up for service in this breed. Service will be obtained through the Antrim Charlevoix Artificial Breeders Association. Some of the rules and regulation state that farmers must join a Dairy Herd Improvement Association and test the milk production of their cows.

UAW In Effect Asks for State Socialism In Proposal to Boost Wages and Cut Profits

By Gene Alleman

The Alice in Wonderland aspect of our postwar economic life is illustrated currently in the demand of Michigan's youngest and largest labor union, the United Automobile Workers, CIO, for a 1949 wage increase of "at least" 20 per cent.

That a union is seeking better living conditions for its members, via a larger pay check or less working hours, is not news.

That this union is asking the same to "restore the living standards of four years ago" is not news either. Collective bargaining, like horse trading, consists of asking for more than you hope to get.

However, it is important that the UAW believes American industry could afford to grant such a drastic wage boost (without necessity of increasing prices, of course) because of one fact: Profits are high.

Nat Weinberg, UAW research director, reasons it this way: "Corporations are now paying out wages and salaries at a rate of $87 billion a year. A 20 per cent increase would amount to $17.4 billions. Since corporation profits before taxes are running at a rate of $35 billions a year, a wage and salary increase of this magnitude would leave $17.6 billions.

Then after corporation taxes are paid, the net profit left would be $10.8 billions. This amount would be greater than the peak wartime earnings of 1944. And $10.8 billions, so Weinberg reasons logically, should be plenty for stockholders.

Now all this makes good sense if you are willing to accept these figures as being the whole truth. However, they are not. Before you reach a final conclusion, please consider the following: Almost two-thirds of all corporation earnings (profits) today are being plowed back to finance plants and equipment! In terms of dollars, more than $13 billions are being spent to buy better tools, to make possible better American products!

Why? Because many persons are reluctant to invest in common stocks and securities when federal personal income taxes may take up to 77%, of profit dividends. We find ourselves again at the crossroads. If industry cannot finance its own needs out of earnings, the inevitable alternative is for the government to do it. Such is England's solution for economic security under a labor management.

More state socialism is the choice of the UAW. We are well on the road already. Nationalization of industry is the new pot of gold at the end of the rainbow.

John Kling Death Unexpected; Lived Here Since 1920

Funeral services for John Kling 66, caretaker at the Loeb Farms since 1920, were held at the See Funeral Home at 4 p. m. Saturday with Rev. Norman Kuck, of the Boyne City Lutheran church officiating. Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

Mr. Kling died unexpectedly late Wednesday afternoon. He was found in his car at the Loeb Farm entrance by Sheriff Floyd Ikens who was passing by on M-66. It is believed that he shoveled snow after becoming stuck and suffered a heart attack.

Born in Helekis, Sweden, on Sept. 22, 1882, Mr. Kling came to this country as a young man. In 1906 he was married to Nanny Anderson in Chicago where they continued to live until coming to Charlevoix in 1920.

He was a member of the Masonic lodge and the B. P. O. E.

Besides his wife he is survived by a son, Edwin of Royal Oak; a daughter, Mrs. John Geer of Charlevoix; two grandsons, John and Robert; two sisters, Hilda and Signe and one brother, George all in Sweden.

Two Groups Ask First Soil Saving Programs In County

The Charlevoix Soil Conservation District has accepted 11 applications for Soil Conservation work.

These 11 applications were composed of two groups. One group of 6 included the following men: Joe Leu, Perry Looze, Art Nicloy and Sons, Orvel Bennett, Clarence Staley and Clayton Healey. The other group of 5 include: Harold Thomas, Frank Lawton, Douglas Knudsen, Norbert Nachazel and William Zitka. These applications will be kept on file until the Farm Planner is assigned to the District, probably around March.

The plan to be followed is that of working with neighborhood groups. Farmers who are interested in this program should try to get from 5 to 10 other farmers into a group with them. During the winter this group will meet with the Farm Planner and County Agent and the basic principals of Soil and Water Conservation discussed. After the completion of from 4 to 6 meetings, those who still want their farm laid out in a Soil and Water Conservation plan sign an agreement and the work is carried out as rapidly as time permits.

Farmers who wish to obtain applications for this program may either call at the County Agent's office at Boyne City—or contact one of the Directors, according to Ed Rebman, secretary. Directors who have applications are as follows: George Klooster, Clayton Healey, Peter Winnick, Carlton Smith and Norval Korthase.

The annual meeting of the Charlevoix Soil Conservation District will be held Jan. 10, at 8:00 p. m., in Boyne City. At this time the Directors will discuss the program and plans they expect to follow. The main speaker of the evening will be Paul Barrett who will give a illustrated lecture in the field of conservation.

"Oh, I like to work, all right," says Rufe Hawkins, "but I prefer to be very moderate in my indulgence."—Sanilac Jeffersonian, Croswell.

BIRD MUSIC

Few birds there are, unable to sing or that don't sing. Yet there are some that don't really sing in the sense of a real song. I have never heard a hawk sing nor have I heard an eagle. But most birds have a way of expressing themselves which can be classed as a song.

The ruffed grouse, our only native game bird, finds a log in some secluded spot in the deep woods. He mounts this log and drums. It is his way of expressing his exhilarating joy of living. Again, when his mate's eggs are hatching, he drums just that much more, probably overjoyed in his knowledge that he is reproducing himself. At least that is the way we figured it, after spending some time making pictures on the drumming and also making a radio recording of the same thing. It was while the eggs were hatching that the grouse really went to town with his drumming.

The prairie chicken has two orange colored pouches on each side of his neck. He inflates these pouches and makes a loud booming noise as he deflates them. It is his song.

Both the Wilson snipe and the woodcock while flying away up the sky, make a peculiar winnowing sound. Another way of singing.

The nighthawk does consuession music and the whip-por-will sure "Whip-poor-will". He can do it over a hundred and fifty times without stopping and it is his way of singing.

But it's the little downy woodpecker who has stolen the show with his manner of expressing himself. He finds a dead limb away up in the top of a tree. The bigger the tree the better and if the limb is hallow he likes it that much better. It's up on the dead limb that he sure tells the world how glad he is to be alive. He'll hammer away up there and he sure hammers with it will and you can hear it from a long way off.

Some friends of ours from the city visited us one spring in early April and they were wakened every morning at the crack of dawn by the hammering of the downy on a dead limb of a tree, not such a great distance from the house. There was little sleep for them, after the downy started hammering. The birds had a nest in a dead birch near by and the male bird was unusually happy with the world in general and in his hammering he was telling it so. People who are not used to the sounds of the woods seem to notice these sounds much more than we do. Yet when the Little Woman and I go to the city and have to listen to the racket that goes on at all times, it is really more than refreshing to get back home here in the woods where it is so quiet and peaceful.

Once a downy woodpecker found that the galvanized ridge on the top of our house made a good sounding board. He sure went to town. Four or five different mornings he woke us up at daylight. But the iron ridge seemed to be too much for him and he gave it up and went back to the dead limb. The tin probably jarred him up too much and it didn't hurt our feelings in the least when he changed his mind.

Fifty-five guests enjoyed the oyster and turkey dinner at the Rock Elm Grange hall New Year's day.

Mr. and Mrs. Ole Neilson and family were New Year's day dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Cunningham.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Carlson entertained Mr. and Mrs. Ole Neilson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Nasson and daughter, Adele and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Babel and daughter, Shirley at a New Year's eve party at their home.

IT HAPPENED ON . . . .

BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

Beaver Islanders will long remember the stretch of bright sunny days following Christmas this year. Blue skies, blue water mild winds and enough snow to make the Island a picture of winter time beauty.

St. James harbor is still wide open for navigation. Vesty McDonough says he remembers back in 1930 or thereabouts the harbor was open as it is now the last of February. We are wondering if that will be the case this winter.

With practically no wind and the temperature down below freezing, a portion of the harbor froze up enough for good skating.

Tuesday evening, the Beaver Island Game Club met at the "Dairy Bar". It was decided at the meeting to place feeding stations at several points on the Island for the pheasants.

Mrs Russell Palmer and niece, Jill Smith were in Charlevoix and Petoskey during the past week.

Mary Ellen McDonough spent the holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill McDonough.

A card from Pete and Peggy Rivers down in Winter Park, Fla. says they enjoy reading the Beaver news. She has just returned from two weeks in New Orleans where she visited the French Quarter, and feasted on creole dishes. Peggy is the niece of Mike Cull and she and Pete have spent a lot of time on the Island.

"Speck" Gillespie arrived home a few days after Christmas from sailing

Murder! Kill him! Went up the cries of all on the dock as he ran off the North Shore. Hiding where ever possible to escape the wrath of the Islanders present, the hunt for the intruder lasted one hour. At last Francis Ricksgers cornered and slew the victim and the first rat on Beaver Island in years was thrown in the lake.

Bussie LaFreniere couldn't make it home for Christmas but he got here for New Year's. His coming was a surprise to the family.

There'll be no mistaking Gus Mielke when he comes down the road For Christmas he received a Kelly green jacket that really stands out.

Turner Boyle, Jack Connoghan and Audrey Gathff were mighty sick people during the past week.

Mrs Ted Wojan made a flying trip to Charlevoix and back Friday.

Friday evening, Rolland McCann and his son, Bobby, were lucky to be back home. Fishing out near the Foxes, the McCanns had pulled anchor to return home when it was discovered fish nets were caught in the wheel, making it impossible to move.

Fishing nearby were the Cull boys, Ray and Larry and deckhand, William Washgeshic on the LaFond. The LaFond was pulling out to return to the Island when they sighted the distress flag over McCann's boat. The LaFond went to their rescue and towed the disabled boat into home port.

It was a gay time New Year's Eve in the village. Gathering at the Shamrock and Beachcomber, the Islanders welcomed in the New Year with noise makers, paper hats, confetti and with every one wishing one another the best in the world for 1949.

Voters to Decide On Creating Fund for Court House

resolution adopted Tuesday morning:

WHEREAS the Court House of this County was constructed a great many years ago and has more than served its purpose, and

WHEREAS said building is of such design and construction as to make it impracticable at attempt to remodel same, and

WHEREAS said building has been repeatedly condemned by the Fire Marshall of this State as unsafe and a fire hazard, and there exists a very real danger of the valuable and important records of this county being destroyed by fire because of inadequate vaults and storage space, and at a loss to the public of many thousands of dollars, and

WHEREAS it is deemed essential that provision be made for the setting aside of a fund, at interest, each year, for the construction of a new County Building as soon as building conditions make the same practicable, and in such manner that the financing of a new building will not increase taxes, if possible, and to meet any situation that might arise:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that a tax of two (2) mills on the assessed valuation of the County of Charlevoix, Michigan, be levied each year, for a period of three (3) years, and that a tax of one (1) mill on the assessed valuation of said county be levied each year, for a period of seven (7) years next following thereafter, for the purpose of creating a sinking fund to be used for the construction of a new county court house, the proposition of levying such tax to create such sinking fund to be submitted to the electors of said county and approved by a majority of those voting thereon at the annual spring election for the year 1949, in accordance with the provisions of Act No. 14, of the Public Acts of the State of Michigan for the year 1920 (Extra Session), as amended.

Respectfully submitted,
Public Grounds and Building Committee.

coming from Rensselaer, Ind. . . . The Tom Coxe family left Thursday for Scotsdale, Ariz., and Joe Abbey left Tuesday morning . . . As we drove up Park Avenue Sunday afternoon we really got a thrill. The air was so clear that we were able to see the Fox Islands and the Beavers. We thuught of Jill Smith and her aunt, Mrs. Russell Palmer who flew over from the Beavers one day last week. On that day the air was so clear, the sun was shining and the ride was so far beyond their expectations because of the beauty that they just could not forget it. One doesn't really know how beautiful it is about here until he is in a plane. Will never forget my thrill when Joe McPhillips first took us up.

Young Billy Zeitler was transferred last week from the University Hospital to the Mary Free Bed Clinic at Grand Rapids at 920 Cherry Street. This is a training school for crippled children. Monday morning I bet Billy was a thrilled youngster for he was going to start to school.

We heard many glowing reports about the Christmas ball sponsored by the Senior Class. A huge tree in the middle of the gym floor was decorated with blue lights. Two other trees graced the hall. Thirty-five couples danced to the music of Wayne Beldings Orchestra. Several of these were students returned from college, grownups and service men home on leave. Don Burke, president of the Senior Class, crowned the King and Queen, Dick Jolliffe and Frances Potter. The two with their partners, Joan Brumm and Bernie Ward led the Grand March. Chaperones for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kipke, Mr. and Mrs. Uno Suomela, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hamilton and Mr. and Mrs. Max Novak.

Donald Weeks of the Michigan Economic Development commission will accompany an entourage from the state capitol that will take part in the dedicatory ceremonies.

Chester Wells, executive secretary of the Western Michigan Tourist and Resort Association and Frank Davis, executive secretary of the Eastern Michigan Tourist and Resort Association will attend as well as Airey Shalgoust, veteran Western Michigan newspaper man and feature writer who is now public relations director of the W.M.T.A.

Frank Andrews, Hillman, newly elected senator of the 29th District, and Louis Anderson, representative from the Charlevoix-Leelanau district will attend. Wm. Doyle, a member of the Mackinaw Island park commission will accompany them. Representatives of the Detroit News, Grand Rapids Press, Chicago Herald Examiner, Detroit Free Press, Chicago Tribune, Toledo Blade, and staffmen of the wire services will be covering the event for their respective papers.

Attendance at the dedication banquet will be limited to 175 guests due to the seating capacity of the main ball room of the Dilworth. Only a limited number will be offered for public sale; they may be obtained at the Hotel Dilworth, at Boyne Mountain Lodge and at the Chamber of Commerce office in Boyne City.

Boyne Mt. Location Assures Plenty Snow

Snow, primary ingredient of any successful skiing holiday, is an assured factor at Boyne Mountain which lies in the region of the greatest snowfall in the central United States.

The peculiar location of this resort assures it receiving more than its quota in an area renowned for its heavy snowfall. Moisture laden winds off Lake Michigan funnel down the gap formed by Lake Charlevoix. These prevailing northwesterlies get a lift of one hundred feet as they sweep onto the floor of Boyne valley until they come to the Boyne Mountain range where they are swept 600 feet upward.

The drastic increase in altitude at this point causes an abnormal precipitation with the result that snow clings in heavy quantities along the eastern and north eastern fringes of the range. In fact, throughout the area, snow at Boyne Mountain is the last to disappear when spring thaws set in. Natives of the village of Boyne Falls, through the years, have come to regard the disappearance of snow at the base of the hills as a true harbinger of spring.

Located inland 24 miles from Lake Michigan, the site is sufficiently removed from the tempering climatic effects of the lake winds to hold its snow through deep thaws, a factor which is often disturbing to winter sports activities located closer to the coastline. The full effects of sub-zero cold waves are registered to their fullest extent in the area with the thermometer often plummeting to 40 below during freezing spells.

Around the county, East Jordan is the "Rainbow" city of the north because of the unusual size of the rainbow trout caught in the Jordan river. Charlevoix is noteworthy for its luxurious summer resort, perch runs and the "Venetian Night" held the last week in July each year. Ironton is a fisherman's haven and home of the quaint Ironton free ferry. Walloon Lake boasts of its scenic wonders and is one of the three most beautiful lakes in the world. And here you have Boyne Falls and Boyne Mountain Lodge.

Louie and Violet Mangles, whose names have become synonimous with the finest in eating in northern Michigan are in charge of the cafeteria. They came out of retirement to assist the project after selling their popular "Louies" restaurant in Boyne City. They are assisted by two former Detroit residents Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Paul who likewise came out of retirement to assist in the project. They formerly owned and operated the Esco Bar, corner of Harper and Lakewood, Detroit.

Peterson Hall is named for Wm. Peterson, "Grand Old Man" of northern Michigan whose generosity helped in the acquisition of some of the acreage on Boyne Mt. Once a member of the state legislature, state senate, and later the conservation commission, he lived most of his life in Boyne Falls, but is now a resident of Boyne City.

Walter Hately, who manages the bar, was scheduled for a berth on the Swiss Olympic skiing team until Hitler changed his plans. Hately still does a neat turn on the "boards" and assists Victor Gottschalk with instruction duties. During the past deer hunting season he made headlines throughout the state when his wife shot a deer in their backyard near Detroit while he traveled 600 miles through the north country without getting a shot.

The river you cross when entering the lodge area is the south branch of the Boyne river, a favorite of trout fishermen for its babbling brook, brown and rainbow trout. At its mouth in Boyne City it is the scene of the famous Boyne river smelt dips each spring.

Camera fans, unaccustomed to ski [illegible] pay, take a tip. When shooting pictures of [illegible] and [illegible] ski area, hold your camera level. If they are pointed up or down the slope, they lose their perspective and appear flat when developed. For action shots, focus your camera at the spot where the action is to be snapped then instruct your subject to do his stem, turn, or snowplow on that spot. Snap when he hits the designated spot. Use filters if you have 'em.

Boyne Mountain Lodge is located only six miles from "Smeltania" world famous city on ice, where shanties are available for rent. Smelt bite best at night, so it doesn't interfere with your skiing pleasure.

The railroad at the base of Boyne Mountain is the Boyne City Railroad, shortest in the state. It is 7.2 miles long and every inch of it is owned by the company. The crew never worries about breakdowns because they can leave the train and walk home and come back after a good night's sleep to repair it. It makes the 7 mile trip from Boyne City to Boyne Falls every Tuesday and Friday. The return trip is faster because its a down-hill grade all the way.

Only Chair Lift in Middle West is at Boyne Mountain

THE CHAIR LIFT AT SUN VALLEY

First Chair Lift Ever Erected In Mid-West Carries Skiers Up Slope

When Boyne Mountain lodge officials had completed a survey of the slope, it became apparent that the ordinary rope lifts would not be adequate for skiers due to the height of the slope (500 feet) and its length (1,800 feet).

A survey of all the manfaeturers of chair lifts revealed that the earliest date at which delivery could be expected of a chair lift would be late in 1951. It was then proposed to service the mountain with a two stage rope tow until a fortunate circumstance occured.

To better service the Dollar Mountain slope at Sun Valley, Idaho, the western resort was installing a new lift in a new approaeh site. They would consider selling the former lift, if delivery of a lift that was on order could be had in time for this year's skiing season.

On September 16, officials of the Union Pacific railroad received confirmation of the delivery of the new unit, and George F. Ashley, president, wired from the Omaha, Neb. office that the lift was for sale. James Christianson and Everett Kitcher immediately confirmed the purchase and set about to make arrangements to ship the tow to Boyne Falls.

It has already compiled a history in the annals of skiing. It is the only lift in the world to have been dismantled and re-erected in a new location. It is also the only chair lift in the central United States and the third to be erected east of the Rocky mountains. The others are located at Mt. Tremblant in the Laurentians and at Mt. Mansfield in the Appalachians.

Victor Gottschalk, returned to Sun Valley in October to direct the mantling operations. The 76,000 pounds of towers, bull wheels, wire, chairs and gears rolled into the siding at Boyne Falls on Nov. 6, nearly three weeks ahead of schedule. Bulldozers and cranes were immediately pressed into service to complete the difficult task of getting the equipment up the precipitous slopes.

Within a week, the towers had been erected. A new motor and gearing system was installed and the difficult task of lining up the intermediate supporting towers was undertaken. On December 18, final adjustments were made and the last chair hung. The first chair lift ever erected in the mid-west was ready for operation!

The chair lift itself consists of three steel end towers, a 3,600 foot endless steel cable, and 46 chairs carried from the cable.

The 40 horsepower electric motor is mounted at the top of the hill. This is done so that the motor is directly pulling and lifting the chairs. There are controls at both top and bottom.

At the foot of the hill are heavy double steel towers. One carries the ten foot wheel around which the cable passes. This wheel is mounted on a carriage which can travel back and forth for a few feet. This travel is necessary to take care of the load on the chairs, and changes in cable length due tn temperature.

At the top of the hill the cable passes around another big wheel. All three towers are solidly anchored in big concrete foundations. Between the steel end towers, heavy wooden poles carry cross arms ending in three steel pulleys over which the cable rides.

A ride up the hill is easier and more comfortable than an escalator. At the bottom there is a ramp and platform up which the skier walks. A chair is brought into position and he simply sits down. From then on all he has to do is watch the scenery.

Half way up the mountain is a landing platform at which he can get off if he wishes to use only the lower and less steep slope or the McLouth trail around through the wood to the west.

Boyne Falls Students Taught Skiing by Gottschalk

ONLY SCHOOL IN MICHIGAN TO RECEIVE TRAINING IN SKIING BY PROFESSIONAL INSTRUCTOR

Students of Boyne Falls high school have the distinction of having one course in their curriculum which no other school in the state has.

As a part of their physical training program, they receive instruction in skiing from Victor Gottschalk, director of the club ski school. During weekdays the students gather at Boyne Mountain where Gottschalk indoctrinates them into the principles of the Arlburg technique — and they take to it like ducks to water.

Within a matter of two or three years, this region will undoubtedly produce many native products who will be excellent skiiers according to Gottschalk.

Although skis are not a foreign mode of winter transportation in northern Michigan, heretofore virtually all skiing was done on the familiar "strap" and barrel stave contraptions.

The arrangement with Boyne Falls school came about through the acquisition of land on Boyne Mountain which was owned by the school board. As a part of the leasing agreement, members of the school board specified that instruction of Boyne Falls students would be one of the stipulations in the leasing agreement.

The honor of having the first ride in the Boyne Mountain chair lift was given to Miss Irene Matelski, 17-year-old Snow Queen of Boyne Falls High School. This chair lift is the first of its kind in Central United States, and the third to be erected East of the Rocky Mountains.

Gottschalk Heads Boyne Mt. Ski School

Former Member of the Alpine Association has had Colorful Career Skiing in Europe and With Tenth Mt. Division.

ONE OF ORIGINAL GROUP OF SUN VALLEY INSTRUCTORS, HE LIKES POSSIBILITIES IN MID-WEST

Big and small—it's all in the day's work for Victor Gottschalk, director of the Boyne Mountain Ski school.

The 38-year-old professional has spent his lifetime in teaching others how to do it and skimming down slopes from Garmish in his native province of southern Germany to the boulder studded peaks of Kiska and Attu in the Aleutians.

Gottschalk's brother Alfred, put him on a pair of skis at the tender age of four. By easy stages and ages he gradnated from the slopes at Garmish to Kreuzeck and Mittenwald on the German-Austrian border; then Zell am See, Austria. As a member of the German-Austrian Alpine association, he moved on to St. Moritz, Switzerland, Pontresina, Piz Palii and other famous European resorts. Although his primary duties were that of instructor, he fared exceptionally well in a number of European professional competitions.

A world depression, a trek with the German merchant marine for a livelihood, and Victor Gottschalk ended up with California as his new residence. While on a hunting trip in Idaho in 1936, the skiier ran into Hans Hauser who was recruiting a corps of instructors for the Sun Valley resort which was then scheduled for its initial opening. When the two old friends had completed their visit, Gottschalk had a new job and residence—Sun Valley.

"I like the Valley," Gottschalk says. "But I think the place where skiing is really going to come into its own is right here in Michigan. That's why I accepted the offer extended to me to come to Boyne Mountain."

From 1936 until the United States entered World War II, Gottschalk stayed at Sun Valley. During the war years, he served as an instructor with the 10th Mountain division. While "on loan" to the 76th division for training purposes, he visited Michigan during the winter of 1943 on maneuvers and was impressed with the possibilities of this area as a fertile field for a missionary of the Arlberg technique.

"Regardless of personal favoritism, I say that Boyne Mountain is as good as the best eastern resorts and better than many of them," Gottschalk states.

After the war he returned to Sun Valley, where he resumed his duties as instructor until coming to Boyne Mountain this summer. Prior to the opening of the club, he has busied himself with assisting in the layout of trails and erecting the chair lift. He returned to Sun Valley in October to direct the dismantling operation on Baldy mountain and assisted with its erection when it was shipped here.

The "Operation Chair Litt" has given Gottschalk a unique record in the annuals of skiing history. He is the first man to have dismantled a chair lift.

Talking It Over

Former Governor Kim Sigler and Wm. Pearson "Grand Old Man" of Northern Michigan discuss Boyne Mt. Lodge when the Governor visited the county as the new ski resort was being completed.

"Grand Old Man" Does His Bit Toward Aiding the Tourist Industry

Former Conservation Commission Official Believes in Economic Value of Tourist Industry

Among the Charlevoix county residents who "did their bit" in helping the progress of Boyne Mountain Lodge was Wm. Pearson, "Grand Old Man" of Northern Michigan.

Always a firm believer in the tourist industry as the economic salvation of northern Michigan, Pearson donated the use of his property on the site of Boyne Mountain Lodge to the ski club officials. Other property on the 640-acre site was leased from local residents on a long-term "rental basis."

Wm. Pearson first came to Charlevoix county in 1881 and after spending three winters teaching rural schools, he became township treasurer, clerk, and supervisor. Later, moving on to the county level, he served two terms as county register-of-deeds and two terms as county sheriff.

While operating his lumber business at Boyne Falls, he was elected to the state legislature for two terms and then was sent to the state senate for two terms by the electors of the Charlevoix-Leelanau district. He retired from politics until called to serve on the conservation commission by the late Gov. Fitzgerald. He served the commission for seven years and retired when a seige of illness prevented his active participation in the conservation department's program.

Long a potent political force in northern Michigan Republican circles, Pearson has played a leading role in the formation of many of the policies of the present state government.

Both he and Mrs. Pearson recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at their home in Boyne City where Mr. Pearson is still the active head of the Boyne City Railroad company. He takes a great deal of pride in being the chief executive of the shortest railroad in the state.

Location of Boyne Mountain Result of Six Weeks Search Throughout North Michigan

STUDY OF SEVERAL SLOPES REVEALS SITE IS ONE OF HIGHEST WITH STEEPEST "RUN-OFF" IN STATE

It was a blustery March evening when three skiers met for an evening at the home of Everett Kircher in Detroit.

The men, Kircher, John Norton, and Jas. Christianson were such ardent devotees of the sport that they had for several years spent all their annual vacations at ski resorts. Mt. Tremblant in the Laurentian mountains of Canada; Sun Valley; Mt. Mansfield; Aspen, Colo; Jackson Hole, Wyoming, were familiar stamping grounds for them.

While "talking shop" the conversation drifted around to the subject of available skiing in the central United States. The three men deplored the lack of good slopes that would provide a thrilling run at many of the resorts then in existence. As the arguments and the conversation became more fervid, someone suggested that it would be interesting to find out just what might be the best site in the lower peninsula.

Christianson, Norton and Kircher put action into words and set out on a quest that was to take them on a six week junket searching for a better "mousetrap."

Using contour maps obtained from the state conservation department, they checked off the ten most probable sights and set out traveling right. At each sight, they camped at the scene and spent an average of three days running levels on the slopes, checking altitudes, exposures and the many other items that would affect skiing conditions.

Boyne Mountain was the sixth site they investigated. The northeastern exposure and the long range of the mountain immediately impressed them, but not content to let the search drop, they continued their investigation at the other sites they had checked.

Finally convinced that Boyne Mountain was the most likely site in the state they began to formulate plans for the development of the ski resort as it stands at the present time. Although they had planned to start construction of the site in 1949, their love of the sport led them to junk their original half-formed plans and press the development of the site to completion in time for the beginning of the 1948-49 skiing season.

Working through a Boyne City real estate agent, they secured leases to 640 acres of the range by the end of May. On June 17, the first trees were fallen at the base of the mountain as crews armed with power saws and bull dozers started the big task of clearing out the extensive stand of second growth timber on the mountain.

July 20, foundation work for the chalet was started, and by late autumn with the arrival of the chair lift, the opening of the finest ski resort in the midwest in time for this year's skiing was assured.

FOUNDERS OF BOYNE MOUNTAIN SKI LODGE

Boyne Mount'n Lodge Owes Its Existence to Three Men With A Common Interest -- Skiing

The three, all from different walks of life, are now realizing their fondest dream —that of having mountain calibre skiing close at home with the best in service, a chair lift.

The development of Michigan's newest resort did not occur by accident. It was the result of an extensive search to find a site that would meet, to the best extent possible, their ideal of the best slope available in the state. These are the men who found and developed the lodge.

Everett Kircher, President

John Norton, Vice President

Jim Christianson, Manager

Everett Kircher, President

A love for the unusual has always characterized the pursuits of Everett Kircher, president of the Boyne Mountain Lodge corporation. That's why he was an early archery enthusiast and one of the first skilers in the United States when that sport was in its buddlng stages.

Although he professes a fondness for catsup on his ice cream and bird dogs, between jaunts afield, he lives the life of the staid and stolid businessman as the president of Kircher Motor Sales, Detroit. He has been in the business since graduating from the University of Michigan.

For the past eight winters he has received all his skiing instruction from Victor Gottschalk at Sun Valley. He gives the Boyne Mountain instructor all the credit for winning Sun Valley's three star racing award which he won last winter. It gave him the distinction of being the sixth person to win the award since the Valley opened.

Successful in every pursuit he has undertaken, he is happy with the prospects of Boyne Mountain. "I am glad to have a hand in doing my part toward making Michigan the leading skiing state," he says.

His wife, also an ardent skiier, is in complete agreement. "It keeps him closer to home," she says.

John Norton, Vice President

Even though John Norton's first house building attempts resulted in a first class trouncing because he borrowed the lumber off the family picket fence, he's still at the game. Born in Cleveland in 1910, the vice president of Boyne Mountain Lodge has been a resident of Detroit since 1917 with the exception of four years spent at Purdue's refuge for Boilermakers.

With the exception of two years employment with other firms, Norton has operated his own engineering and contracting business in and around Detroit. Since the development of Boyne Mountain, he now makes Traverse City his headquarters.

Although intensely interested in Boy Scout work, his own family efforts have resulted in a troop of Girl Scouts. He and his wife, the former Jane Edwards of Detroit, have three.

Boyne Mountain's clubhouse is a product of his drafting board which he uses for a livelihood while pursuing his out-of-door hobbies such as camping, hunting, archery, skiing and courting ulcers with his camp recipes. Indoors, he's still a hobbyist; stamps, ceramics, firearms, and a lapidary collection keeps his mind off skiing.

Jim Christianson, Manager

There are a thousand and one little details in the management of a ski club, but Jas. N. Christianson, ex-Catholic University grid star, can still find time to whittle out more pipes for his extensive collection which numbers around 150 made of everything ranging from Michigan black cherry to Japanese yuki.

As a high school star in his native Mishawaka, he made the all-state Indiana eleven in 1931 and continued his grid exploits at the Washington, D. C. school. Following a year post graduate work in social science at Notre Dame, he became an executive of the Greater Detroit Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America. His war record as at Lt. (j. g.) aboard a destroyer escort is distinguished by the number of new types of pipe making wood he discovered in the south seas.

His first exposure resulted in a complete infection at the Otsego ski club back in 1038 and since that time Boyne Mountain in June.

he admits of spilling his way down One of the leading contenders for some of the country's finest courses the title of "most eligible bachelor such as Mt. Tremblant, Big Bromely, in Boyne Valley" he still prefers his and Aspen. He resigned his scouting own cooking done in true scout style post to assume the management of with a reflector oven.

PARK & WATER BOYNE CITY, MICH.

Boyne Mountain Clubhouse Is Unique in Design

No winter resort in the United States has a clubhouse with the distinctive functional design embodied in the two story 40x70 structure at Boyne Mountain.

Designed by John Norton, Traverse City architect and civil engineer, the "chalet" is done in a modern motif in which the structural members form an integral part of the interior design. The, wide vistas of the second story facing the slope, the inverted roof, interior planning with horizontal surfaces giving an air of spaciousness, all combine to form a distinctive new scheme in rustic architecture.

The clubhouse is a maximum departure from the traditional high peaked Swiss chalet style of architecture which predominates at virtually all winter resorts throughout the world. The roof, although apparently flat, is actually an inverted V with a side pitch and drain for water run off.

On the second floor, housing the cafeteria, the emphasized horizontal lines predominate giving the spacious effect which belies the compact design. Onaway limestone was used in the construction of the fireplaces to heighten this effect. The wide vista formed by the long windows give maximum visibility, light, and again heightens the horizontal plane effect. The bar on the first floor has been designed with an eye to providing that bit of intimate atmosphere which is conducive to a successful ski vacation.

Some of the lumber used in the construction of the clubhouse is off the slopes which once covered the hillside. The huge beams supporting the roof necessitated a considerable search throughout this area as timbers of such huge dimensions are virtually non-existent in northern Michigan, once the capital of the lumber industry.

Construction work was started August 15 and completed Dec. 31. Local carpenters, masons, general laborers, and John Salicz, Petoskey contractor, working under the direction of John Norton put the finishing touches on the building just in time for the opening of the club.

Boyne Mountain Resort Typifies New Spirit Of Cooperation In Charlevoix County Today

In one way, the Boyne Mountain Ski Lodge helps to mark a new era in Charlevoix County.

Although it is at Boyne Falls, it has the active support and endorsement o fall sections of the county. Chambers of Commerce of the various communities have united in backing it and giving it every cooperation they can. The Charlevoix County Chamber of Commerce is supporting the new resort.

Businessmen throughout the county, as this special supplement testifies, are backing the new venture. The supplement itself is published jointly by the three new papers of the county, 5500 copies being printed.

All this is typical of a new spirit of cooperation in Charlevoix County. Instead of working against each other as competitors, the various communities are showing they believe they all will do better by pulling together.

Boyne Mountain Resort also typifies the renewed emphasis which is being put on winter sports by Charlevoix County. It is proof that this area truly has something outstanding to offer for every season.

Boyne Mountain Offers Wide Variety of Winter Sports

The development of one of the most complete winter resort areas in the state is a definite prospect for the Boyne Mountain area due to its many characteristics.

With more than two miles of range with a vertical drop of 500 feet, the development of long toboggan slides, swift and sharp turning bob sled runs, a ski jump, and a skating course large enough to accommodate national meets is possible with a minimum of construction effort.

Located within one quarter mile of the Pennsylvania railroad and US-131 the site is readily accessible for equipment, participants, and spectators.

In the first year of its establishment, Boyne Mountain Lodge has already developed seven major ski trails. These will be enlarged upon in succeeding years with still acres left for the construction of toboggan slides and bob sled runs. The gullied face of the mountain lends itself readily to the construction of runs that are fast and packed with thrilling curves. There are several sites along the range which are as readily adaptable to any particular down-hill sport as the present 1,800 foot main slope.

The large flat plain just below the club house can be readily flooded for skating and the area is large enough for every type of ice contest.

During the water drilling operation for the club house, a well that spouts 3,600 gallons of crystal pure water per hour was struck. This flow would assure ample supply for flooding purposes of the area. At present, the flow is being repumped into the ground.

Boyne Mountain offers slopes to suit everyone from the veriest beginner to the most expert.

Of its seven trails now open, three are for these just acquiring their ski legs.

The Little Hemlock is at the left of the lodge, looking uphill. With a 70 foot drop, it is 500 feet long, more than 200 wide and has a rope tow.

The McLouth Trail, named for Don McLouth, chairman of the Conservation Commission, starts at the halfway station on the chair lift and curves around through the woods to the right. It is 1,200 feet long and drops 220 feet.

The Cold Spring trail is the longest of all, a mile and a half. To start, the skier rides to the top of the chair lift, then follows the 25 foot trail off to the left around the shoulder of Boyne Mountain and finally comes out on the flat below the Lodge.

There are two intermediate trails. The Pearson, named for former Sen. William Pearson, starts at the top of the chair lift, swings through the woods at the left and comes out on the main slope above the Lodge. It is 2500 feet long, has a 500 foot drop and averages 50 feet wide.

The Lower Hemlock trail starts at the half way station on the chair lift and comes down the main slope. A thousand feet long, it drops 220 feet.

There are two trails for experts only, both being the highest in the Middle West. The Upper Hemlock starts at the top and comes directly down the main trail. Averaging from 100 to 300 feet wide, it takes only 1800 feet to drop 500.

The other is the Slalom Cutoff, which also starts at the top of the lift. It goes through the woods at the left and in 400 feet it drops 180 feet to connect with the Pearson trail.

All the vacation pleasures that have made Michigan the foremost resort state in the country can be had within a few minutes drive of Boyne Mountain either in winter or summer!

Seven Slopes, Lodge, Lift Combined to Form Skiers' Dream

Shown at the top is the whole panorama of Boyne Mountain as seen from Boyne Falls. Cutting straight up the hill is the path of the chair lift. The main slope widens from the top to the level flat 500 feet below. In the center is the new ehalet-type Lodge. The curving Pearson trail can be seen in the thinner woods at the left.

Below are the big stone downstairs Lodge fireplace with Jim Christianson talking to two skiers; and the lower Hemlock slope, showing the chair lift lane at the left, the end of the Pearson trail at the right.

50 Years of 4-H Work Honored at Grange Meeting

Fifty years of 4-H Club leadership was recognized Monday night at the County Pomona Grange meeting when gold pins were presented by Karl Festerling, district club leader.

Called the National 4-H Clovers the small gold pins are given for leadership service. Receiving the 15 year pins, which have a small pearl, were Mrs. Anna Warner and William Parsons.

Not present to receive their pins were Elizabeth Dhaseleer and Mrs. Ruth Hair, with ten years each. Also presented was a tractor maintenance medal to Jim Fiedler. Bill Brooks was awarded one but was absent. The medals were in recognition of the work the boys did under the leadership of Mr. Parsons.

Mr. Festerling praised the work of the Barnard Grange in sponsoring a community group and providing the leadership. "I can get youngsters by the hundreds," he said, "but leadership auch as this community supplies is hard to find."

During the summer 513 members carried out projects, an increase of 66 over 1947. The total value was $13,000.

A short program was given before the presentation. The Lumley sisters of Deer Lake played the piano and saxophone. Mrs. Ila McKay read a Guest poem. A play was presented by Mr. and Mrs. Parsons, Mrs. Harold Totten, Orville Hilton and Mrs. Warner. It was directed by Harold Totten.

Wild Life Asset, Eagle Tells Game Club Banquet

More than 90 persons sat down to the annual game supper of the Rod and Gun Club Thursday night at the IOOF rooms.

In place of venison, rabbit was the main course this year. The dinner was largely prepared and served by wives of the members.

Al Eagle, district enforcement officer of the Conservation Department, was the principal speaker. He discussed the importance of game and fish and natural scenery to this area, and complimented the club on the work it has been doing.

Colored slides of Michigan wild life and scenes were shown by Otto Faling, the game area manager from Gaylord.

Also presented to the group were Ed Starback, the county conservation officer; the club officers for 1949 and Don Swinton, chairman of the MUCC Convention here in June. The officers are Bonnie Nickerson, president; Glenn Pemberton, vice-president; and Glenn Ingalls, secretary-treasurer. L. E. Towe was toastmaster.

Masons to Sponsor Saturday Dances

So successful was the New Year's Dance given at the Masonic Hall for the high school students, that the Fellowcraft Club plans to hold one every Saturday night this winter.

The dances will be at the Hall from 8 to 11:30. Music will be provided by the juke box, chaperones by the Masons, and refreshments can be bought at the kitchen there.

Trucks Need Not Be Weighed Again

Owners of commercial vehicles can save themselves some bother in getting new plates, Fenton R. Bulow says.

It is not necessary to weigh the trucks again if there has been no change made since they were weighed for the 1948 license. All required is to bring in the 1948 registration slips showing the weight.

If a change has been made, a new slip must be supplied.

Foster Boat Uses Novel Display to Exhibit New Features of its 1949 Line at New York Show

Something new in the way of boat show displays is being used this year by the Foster Boat Co.

It now is at the New York Boat Show at the Grand Central Palace which opened Jan. 7 and will close Friday. The display is mounted on a two wheeled trailer. The sides close up for travel. But at the show hall, the whole model can be wheeled into place, the sides dropped down, the lights plugged in and the display is ready for the customers.

Mounted on the blue background is a 14 foot model of the outboard boat built by Foster. Flourescent lights and spots illuminate the model and the round discs as the side. The trailer itself is 18½ feet long, and weighs less than a ton.

Wayne Belding designed the display, which was built here at the Foster plant. President Harry Foster and Clare Webster took it to the New York show.

The company this year plans to make greater use of the boat shows in its promotion. The display will be at the Chicago show at Navy Pier Feb. 4 to 14. After that it will be taken to Detroit and possibly also to the Cleveland, Grand Rapids and Toledo exhibits.

For the Chicago show there will be a wire recording telling both about the Foster line and the Charlevoix area.

Several new features mark the Foster line this year. The outboard boats have a new three-way seat amidships. These seats can face either forward or back. Or if the user wishes, both backs can be laid flat and occupants can face either way.

The company also is putting up both the 12 and 14 foot models in prefabricated kits. In these every part is supplied, even to the screws and hardware. The buyer can do his own assembling at a considerable savings.

A third feature is the price, which this year includes both crating and delivery to the nearest shipping point. This policy will be continued until operations use up all the available factory space, which will prevent economical crating at the plant.

Odd Fellows Take Lead In Tournament

Like last year, the Odd Fellows took the lead in the onnual winter Cribbage tourney on the second round.

The IOOF team made 19,100 points Monday night to 18,622 for the Masons. Deducting the 84 point Masonic lead of the week before, this makes the Odd Fellows ahead by 394 points.

Belfy was high for the Masons with 958, while R. Heise with 957 was top IOOF player.

Airport Operator, Bride On Honeymoon

The couple will make their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Foster left Wednesday for Cortez, Fla. where they will join relatives for a six weeks stay. Enroute they plan to visit in Kalamazoo and Fort Wayne, Ind.

Cupid Slows Down From Last Year's Record Pace

Cupid didn't do so well this year in the county.

In figures just compiled by County Clerk F. R Bulow, marriages and divorces both took a drop. The figures:

	1947	1948
Marriages	166	133
Divorces started	40	23
Divorces granted	34	21

State Pays Tax On Its Lands In Charlevoix County

A check for $4,323.07 has been received by County Treasurer Lillis Flanders from the Game Protection division of the Department of Conservation for payment of taxes on land maintained by the state as game preserves, state swamps and tax homestead lands.

The amount will not be retained by the county treasurer's office, Miss Flanders explains, but will revert to the townships and school districts in which the land is located. The Beaver Island townships, as well as Chandler and Hudson townships are the chief recipients of the tax money. Several other townships receive small amounts. The tax return is on approximately 43,000 acres in the county.

The state pays ten cents an acre taxes on land owned by them and used for the above mentioned purposes.

Ziegler Will Run for State Road Job

Charles M. Ziegler has announced that he is a candidate for reelection as State Highway Commissioner.

Three things in his announcement are novel and almost unique in today's government.

In the first, he points out that Michigan's post-war highway construction has averaged less costly than that of neighboring states.

It isn't the new Secretary of State at all on Page 3. By sad mischance we got the pictures mixed and that is Charlie Ziegler's smiling face, not Dean Acheson's.

Secondly, he says he believes (and his record on maintenance bears it out) in having all the work possible done by local units. Today most departments and bureaus are trying to swallow the local governments.

Third, the state highway department payrolls have been reduced by more than $1,000,000 annually and efficiency has been increased. The department has fewer employees, autos and lower costs than it formerly had.

Grayling to Send Team Here Friday

Grayling, one of the three Conference teams tied for bottom position, will come to Charlevoix Friday night to meet the Rayders.

When Harbor Springs nosed out East Jordan in two overtimes last Friday, the Rams broke the three-way tie for second place and made Charlevoix a definite third in the Class C standings.

The hot game this week will be over at Boyne City when Harbor plays the league leaders.

Charlevoix's Rayders looked more like their old selves Friday night when they met and defeated the Mancelona Ironmen 46 to 21 in an easy game here.

A slight edge in height helped the Maroon boys pile up their lead, but still more it was due to superior team play and defense. The Rayders shot at the basket 54 times, connecting 19. The

Chemical Team of Midland Will Be Here Jan. 22

What may be the outstanding game of the season will be played here Jan. 22 at the school gym.

The former Dow Chemical team now known as the Midland AC, comes here then to meet the Charlevoix Independents. Bolstering the Michigan Cleaners squad will be Don, Bill and Bob Carey, and Jeanne Hardy. The team expects to give the Chemicals a real battle.

The squads met once before, at Midland, Charlevoix lost 51-42 after leading 24-23 at the half. Lack of reserves then hampered the Cleaners, but the Midland crowd praised the Charlevoix team. Here on Jan. 22 the Cleaners will have at least ten experienced men in uniform.

Manager John Knight says that if this game is well supported at the gate, other strong teams will be brought here.

Last Tuesday the Cleaaers took Onaway 46-28 in a slam bang battle in which only football suits were lacking. Lusk and Ward were high point men with 11. Moran led for Onaway with 8. Plum showed definite promise as a Charlevoix substitute.

In a fast game in which the East Jordan Independents led until the last five seconds, the Michigan Cleaners Tuesday defeated the visitors by a 42 to 41 score. At the crucial moment Johnny Swanson sunk a field goal to put the Cleaners ahead.

Don Meggison was high point man with 12 points and Edson for the Jordanites with 18.

The Cleaners have won both their league games to date and set a record of 13 wins in 15 games.

Four New Groups Ask for Soil Saving Program

Four new groups of farmers want to form soil conservation groups it was announced Monday night at the first annual meeting of the new county Soil District.

Held at the Boyne City high school, the meeting was attended by 109. George Kiooster, chairman, explained that so far the work has been mostly on paper but that this year will see actual planning on farms and the start of soil building practices.

So far two groups actually have begun a study of their land. Monday night four more applications were ready. One is from South Arm, the rest from Marion and Norwood.

Ed Rebman warned about the danger of applying lime in the county, where many soils do not need it.

Paul Barrett, extension specialist in Land Use and Conservation from MSC, spoke and showed pictures of Michigan land use. He stressed the point that it took Nature centuries to build up the land but man can deplete it in o few years.

They will obtain their baked goods from the Boyne Bakery at Boyne City early each morning. Deliveries will start here about 9 or 9:30. By working six days a week, they plan to cover each half of the city every other day.

Their plan is to take orders for the next call. In addition, they also will carry a stock of rolls, breads, and pastries.

Their first trip will be Saturday. After the work gets started, Whitley will continue with Glenn See.

Mail to Island Is Being Flown from Pellston

Beaver Island's winter airmail service got off to a bad atart Monday.

Friday the North Shore made its last run of the season. H. H. Bechtold, Jr., of Bellaire, who was awarded the post office contract for flying the mail this winter, was to start his tri-weekly service Monday. He planned to fly from Pellston.

According to reports from St. James, he was unable to get his twin motor plane into the air and finally flew over in a smaller plane late in the day.

This is the second time since 1926 that Charlevoix has not been the terminus for the flight. As soon as arrangements can be made by the postoffice mail will go directly to Pellston. Meanwhile it is taken there from the local office.

At the request of the Post Office department Bechtold submitted a bid in the fall.

After his bid was accepted, he came here to arrange for flying from Charlevoix. City Supt. A. G. Leitch told him the use of the port would be $250 a month. Bechtold then went to Pellston, putting the post office to the extra expense and inconvenience of rehandling the mail, and delaying its delivery to and from the Island.

"It costs us about $800 a winter to plow the airport the way that two-motor Cessna would need," Leitch says. "We had one of these fliers in here two years ago who wanted to skim the cream of the flying business here. He cut up our runways and tried to stir up trouble for us over at Beaver Island. It all cost us plenty.

"To proteet the city we have to make a charge on that kind of operation. That $250 is not a bit out of line.

"We have one of the best airport operators in Joe McPhillips there is in Northern Michigan. He's going to keep on flying to the Island and the folks over there tell me they expect to use his dependable service to get back and forth and to bring stuff from Charlevoix."

Two Piano Team to Play Monday

The outstanding two-piano team on the concert stage will play Monday night at the Petoskey Concert Series.

They are Vronsky and Babin. The concert starts at 8:30 p. m. at the Petoskey school auditorium. Ten Charlevoix girls will act as ushers.

Coming Events

Jan. 13—The Past Noble Grand Club will meet with Mrs. Ella Brenner, 102 E. Lincoln ave., for a 6:30 potluck supper and installation of officers.

Jan. 13—St. Mary's Rosary Altar Society will meet with Mrs. Herbert Campbell, Burns St., at 8:30 p. m. Mrs. Henry Supernaw and Mrs. Hugh Mayne will assist.

Jan. 14—W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. Emma Sutton, 118 E. Upright ave. Mrs. Jane Fiedler will be in charge of the program.

KEY MAN

Plant Layoff Temporary

(Editor's note: During the last week end there have been rumors and more rumors about the closing of the Freedman Arteraft plant. To get the facts and the reasons straight, President Gordon Freedman has prepared the following statement for The Courier.

(One thing should be remembered by Charlevoix citizens. The Freedman company came here with no bonus, no tax or rate concessions nor any of the other disguised gifts or subsidies all too often required of communities by new industries. Adequate and year around housing for its men is the only request it is asking of Charlevoix. It might well pay the city, which could act through the Board of Commeree, to provide such housing, since private owners will not.—LT).

By Gordon Freedman

In line with our policy of keeping the people of Charlevoix informed of our activities at the Arteraft Engineering plant, I want to explain the lay-off of part of our production crew.

Mr. George Cowdrey has resigned as production manager. For the third time he has had to seek housing. Rather than consider again trying to find a house and be compelled to pay "summer rates" starting in June, he feels it is more practical to seek employment in another locality.

It is out of the question for us at this time to continue employment of any except highly skilled men who can produce at maximum efficiency without the supervision of a competent production manager.

November through March is generally slow in our field. The KNOW THEM?

Old Pictures On Display

There ore some pictures far the old timers to help explain, and for the newcomers to see in The Courier window.

They were brought in by Dobbie Allard who knows some of the names and places.

At the left top and bottom are two of those old style New Years greetings, both of 1885. The house is the old Hulburt place at the corner of State and Hulburt. But who was the driver?

Between the greetings is a scene from Round Lake. The Washburn machine shop is at the left. The Tillotson & O'Leary livery barn is directly below the Armstrong house. The top of the Hulburt house shows. That was the Martha Ayres Hall in front of the boat. The tall dark building was the former bank of Bridge, Butters and Bridge. The Myers and Bonthron building is at the extreme right.

At the top is the lighthouse about 1903 when the Illinois went ashore.

Allard wonders if anyone in town can recognize the two houses in the center picture. Both are still standing.

He doesn't know when the life boat picture was taken. But it patently was before the days of power craft.

Let's Do It All At Once

Before long some Charlevoix citizens will be approached and asked to head drives for three or four charitable organizations.

Now the causes these three or four serve are excellent, worthy and merit public support. But the policy of the organizations themselves is open to question.

None is willing to throw in with the combined United and Welfare Drive. None is willing to take only its fair share of the moneys so raised to carry on its work. All prate about the danger of losing their identity. (And as long as the work is done, who in Charlevoix cares about titles in New York City.)

But each of these hold-out groups is perfectly willing to ask Charlevoix citizens to take time and to work hard to further its own individual goals and to make a lot of wasteful and duplicated effort.

It also is a peculiar fact that some of the organizations which balk most about coming in on a united drive (which saves us here a lot of work and money) are the ones which usually have the most over-subscribed drives. Of course, maybe the two facts have no connection.

Let's examine the recent record of the March of Dimes here, as just one example. For years Charlevoix has raised funds for the fight on polio. Always it was definitely stated that one half of all the money contributed should stay here in Charlevoix to carry out polio work when there should be the need.

Last spring there was some $1800 on deposit here. That sum had been built up over the years and little had been used. Suddenly word came from higher up that due to the big polio outbreak in Michigan extra funds were needed, especially more equipment at the Munson Hospital in Traverse. At the urgent request of state headquarters, $1300 was transferred out of Charlevoix County.

By chance, it was just at this time it became evident that Charlevoix would have an active United Health and Welfare organization. Of course, maybe the two factors had no connection.

But to my way of thinking, it was a plain breach of faith with the folks who through the years had but dimes in the little containers.

There is no legal nor administrative nor logical reason why the March of Dimes, the Cancer Society, the Red Cross or the Salvation Army, as far as Charlevoix is concerned, should not combine their fund drives with the United Health and Welfare. They would get their fair and predetermined proportion of the money raised. It would be enough to carry on their work in Charlevoix and the county.

But apparently the love of the extra dollars they have been collecting is keeping them out. Of course, they do not and cannot say so. But to me it looks so.

The Courier as of now is adopting a new policy. It will not support any independent drives for charitable purposes except the United Health and Welfare.

It will not contribute to such drives and will use what voice it has to urge others not to do so.

We might just as well keep those extra dollars we have been sending to New York right here at home working for us.

Let's Wait and See

Over the week end I talked with our legislators, Sen. Frank Andrews and Rep. Louis Anderson. Naturally, we discussed the situation at Lansing. Both men, speaking apart from each other, expressed virtually identical views of how things look at the capital.

Governor Williams is sincere, intelligent and willing to listen to all sides. A newcomer to government, he has much to learn about the work he'll have to do. But he apparently is willing to learn.

His program on the whole is good and the legislature will go along on a large part of it. This is especially true since the program announced by the Republican legislative majority before the inauguration almost duplicates the Governor's on most points.

The more costly parts of his plan, such as widespread public housing, are almost certain to fall by the wayside. Labor legislation is the hottest potato but the state is likely to keep the Bonine-Tripp law. Needed minor changes, however, are almost certain to be made there.

Mancelona Drops Two Contests to Charlevoix Squads

Mancelona players made 34 tries, with only 6 dropping through.

Coach Ray Kipke sent in a completely new team in the second quarter and substituted freely. Wallace was the scoring star of the evening and played one of his best games this year.

The box score:

Charlevoix	GF	FT	FA	PF	TP
Wallace	5	4	6	1	14
Case	6	1	4	2	13

Long	1	0	2	2	2
B. Johnson	1	1	3	4	3
Stewart	0	0	2	1	0
	8	5	15	15	21

In contrast to the first team, the Little Rayders seemed to have been slowed down by Christmas dinners and vacation. The game was slower and more ragged than the junior squad usually supplies.

When it became evident that the second squad was too much for the Mance Reserves. Kipke sent in his second string for the second period. Before the game was over the third string was in there getting experience.

Mancelona had trouble finding the basket, even when facing the shorter third stringers. Cunningham did a fine job of grabbing the ball on rebounds. The boys also succeeded often at sinking long ones.

Those who played were Tom and Charles Donaldson, McFarland, Bowman (who was high scorer with 11), Cunningham, Ketchman, Bud Barber, Dean Boss, VerWys, Suomela, Ward, Bryant, Lee, Bleha, Gibbons, Lagerman, N. Boss and Left.

The score was 32 to 17.

State Again Offers Pine Seedlings

Unlimited stocks of red and jack pine seedlings will be available to farmers and others for the spring planting season, the conservation department reports.

Orders are now being accepted only at the department's forestry division office, Lansing.

Pine seedlings are distributed at cost for reforestation and may not be resold or otherwise used commercially. Stock must be ordered on special blanks provided by the division, on which the legal description of the acreage to be planted appears.

Prices continue at last year's rate of $3 a thousand for two-year-old jack pine seedlings, $4 a thousand for two-year-old red pine seedlings and $4.50 a thousand for three-year-old red pine seedlings.

White pine seedlings are not available at present.

It is really rugged in a climote where they are not prepared for cold weather to have snow and wintry winds suddenly descend upon them. Ceremonies Dedicate New Boyne Mountain Ski Resort; Hailed as Asset to All Northland

Boyne Mountain Ski Resort, Charlevoix County's newest winter attroction, waa formally dedicated Saturday.

At 1 p. m. Chorles Ziegler, atate highway commissioner, spoke at the lodge to the 200 guests. He praised the work that Charlevoix County has done in building new and needed attractions which bring folks north for recreation all the year oround. He especially mentioned Venetian Night, Smeltania and the new ski resort.

In the evening at the Hotel Dilworth a dedication dinner was served to 175. The story of Boyne Mountain was told by Everett Kircher, president, orld John Norton, vice-president, of the new venture. Mr. Ziegler, Robert Furlong of the Michigan Tourist Council, Chet Wells of the West Michigan Tourist Association, and others spoke.

In his talk at the Lodge, Commissioner Ziegler said in part:

"I was honored to receive an invitation to participate in the dedication ceremonies of the finest ski center in the middle west —the Boyne Mountain Ski Club.

"Charlevoix county, in so many ways, has caused the national spot light to focus on Michigan. I cannot pay too much tribute to you for your forward thinking, planning, and development of your natural resources to provide both summer and winter playtime activities. Very little is lacking in hotels, restaurant, and other accommodations and facilities for summer and winter resort programs. You have capitalized well on your assets.

"In summer the county affords beautiful, well-constructed, sporty golf courses, well-kept and policed sandy bathing beaches, riding stables with thoroughbred horses, a skeet club, tennis and shuffleboard courts, all types of pleasure craft boots, yacht clubs, parks and camps. Water sports have been developed until your Venetian Night has become a national attroction. Charlevoix is the annual rendezvous of the Chicago-Mackinac Island yacht race.

"Fishing—deep trolling for Mackinaw trout in Lake Michigan, steelhead trout in delightful Lake Charlevoix, bass and pike in lovely Walloon, rainbow in the Jordan River, and various unexcelled trout streams, including Boyne River, which it has been my joy to fish—bring lovers of this sport from distant places. Deer and small game hunting in season bring the nimrods to your county."

Kroger

It Started With $800

When B. H. Kroger opened his first store, his total capital was about $800. His business grew on its merits—on the quality of his products, the economy of his prices. And the Kroger stores of today are operated with the same high standards and attention to economy that distinguished the No. 1 Kroger in Cincinnati, nearly 70 years ago.

Can you afford today's rising hospital costs?

Figures show that one out of every four families will be faced with hospital bills this year—would you be able to pay them?

TO GO to a hospital today costs far more than it used to—in some cases 98% more than in 1941. That's why hospital bills are larger than ever—and are still rising all over the state! That's why you and your family need this Blue Cross protection now more than ever.

No other health-care plans offer so much for so little

For only pennies a day, you and your entire family can be protected now and whenever sickness might strike in the future.

Liberal allowance toward your hospital bill in non-participating hospitals.

BLUE CROSS Surgical Plan Pays stated amounts for surgical procedures . . . maternity care provided (after nine consecutive months' enrollment)...emergency (accident) care . . . up to $15 per year for diagnostic X-rays.

BLUE CROSS Medical-Surgical Plan Pays (in addition to surgical benefits) stated amounts for doctor's bills when hospitalized for reasons not requiring surgery.

Bell Rate Hearing to Start on Jan. 26

Hearings on the application of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company for a $20,400,000 increase in revenues will get under way Jan. 26 before the Michigan Public Service Commission.

Plant additions of $38,000,000 in the past year and increased operating costs, including wage hikes of $7,000,000 a year, have combined to depress the compsny's return to less than 4½ per cent on its investment, the applicstion said. The company's request would permit a return of at least 7 per cent.

Freedman Layoff Only Temporary, President Says

reduced sales during this period, coupled with Mr. Cowdrey's resignation, has necessitated this partial layoff.

In spite of "recession talk", we plan and expect to triple our 1949 sales over 1948. To do this our production efficiency must be greatly increased.

During 1948 our efficiency was handicapped because we lacked the services of three skilled men to round out our supervising crew. During the latter part of last year we acquired Charles (Dick) Sammons as foreman of mill operations, and Frank Klein, an expert furniture finisher now in charge of our finish department. Leon H. Joseph has joined our organization recently as treasurer, the position he held with the Freedman-Burnham Engineering Corp. in. Cincinnati.

We are still badly in need of an expert cabinet maker for our sample department, particularly since Stanley Hascher has moved back to Cincinnati.

Although we have acquired this additional supervisory personnel, in Mr. Cowdrey we have lost one of the main cogs. We shall, however, continue production with the generally more experienced men we have retained.

It is no reflection on the ability and willingness of the men we have temporarily laid off that they are not able efficiently to produce without the supervision of a competent production manager. They are a fine crew of men and I am certain in time with proper supervision their productive efficiency will be second to none.

The men we have retained generally have had more experience and have acted as lead men. They can continue production on a reduced but efficient scale, each man acting as his own foreman.

With the thought we may be some time in acquiring another production msnager who has the ability we require, we have embarked on a program with our present crew to increase efficiency and develop each man so the crew collectively will help replsce the loss of Mr. Cowdrey.

When we progress to the point where the present crew can adequately supervise the men who were laid off, we shall again rehire them.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Percy Durance, husband and Dad, who passed away one year ago today, Jan. 13th.

Next to God you understood us again and again,
And cheered our hearts when in sorrow and pain.
You were so very kind, loving and dear
Home is not home when you are not here.
Without God's help, no care of ours too small
To cast on Jesus, let us tell Him all,
Lay at His feet the story of our woes,
And in His sympathy find sweet repose.

News of folks, your naighbors and mine . . .but did you know that—

A most interesting letter arrived from the Ted Fosters, telling of their life in Altadena, Calif. The family attended the Rose Bowl game, and primed by their fell football cheering at Charlevoix, the Foster girls gave their all. The girls are settled in school and intrigued by one feature, quite new to them. They have "Disaster Drills." These drills are given instead of fire drills. The children are supposed to practice crawling under their seats (earthquake precautions.) Jean Foster writes that Kathleen still insists thot her seat in the Charlevoix school would be much easier to crawl under . . .

Bernie Zeitler is playing on the basketball squsd for Tyndell Field Airbase in Florida . . . From Susanville, Calif., our former home, comes the homctown paper and we learn thst for three days last week the thermometer dropped to 16 below zero. Sure glad we sre right in good old Michigan.

Cronies of Doug Nettleton have been getting a real thrill in Charlevoix. They are those with short wave sets ond have heard Doug's voice from St. Petersburg, telling them how much he and Hilda are enjoying themscives. Hilda declares that she is already acquiring somo Florida tan . . . The William Ratigans hove arrived in Lake Worth ond mention in a note that one should look up page 6 of the February Adventure msgazine which gives a fine plug for Charlevoix . . . The Bedforda are in Clearwater and word comes from the Bill Wallaces and the Pete Scotts that they havo arrived as far as Chattanooga, Tenn., where they expect to stay a few days and will eventually end up at Port Orange, Fla. (What no bull fights in Mexico this year, Bill?) . . . P. R. and Phoebe Ross aro in Harlingen Tex., and have already had chinfests with the Millwards and the Clines . . . (Migosh, it snunds as though everyone had left and gone somewhere).

Our sympathy to Esther Hawley who received word Tuesday that her father, who lived at Rhinelander had passed away. Mr. and Mrs. Hawley left immediately and Mrs. Alice Bellinger is taking eare of the children in their absence . . . Last year the children of the third grade under the direetion of their teacher, Mrs. Dorothea Badger, inade o dinosaur for their room, said dinosaur being nainey "Dippy." This yeor, it was found necessary to dispose of Dippy to make way for other projects in the offing, ao Monday the former third graders and Mrs. Badger went with their Dippy to the John Schroeder home where he was consigned to the outdoor fireplace for eremation. After the eremation, members of the class who had written poems about Dippy read them about his bier. As one daddy said, "It was quite an occasion."

Word has been received of the death of William H. See, an uncle of Glenn See, at his home in Portland, Ore., on New Years Day. Mr. See was a retired merchant in Portland. He was born in Racine, Wis., in 1857 and did not go to Oregon until 1889 where he opened a store at Coburg. Several years later he opened the Trading Post at Warm Springs Reservation and later founded the See Merchantile Company. He is survived by his widow, Anita B. See and a sister, Mrs. Mame Chaloupka, four nephews and three nieces. Mr. See will be remembered by old-timers as his boyhood home was here where the Lakeview Hotel now stands. Mr. See planted the trees which are about the hotel.

Nick Hamilton made his farewells to Charlevoix Wednesday. He left for Detroit from where he will go to Great Lakes Naval Station and become a sailor for Uncle Sam . . . Belated birthday greetings to "Granny" Morse, mother of Mrs. Robert Bridge, as she is affectionately called by all who know her. Mrs. Morse celebrated her 90th birthday Friday and couldn't understand why folks should make auch an event of it. "Is it so unusual to reach 90 years of age?" she asked and then answered her own question by saying, "Perhaps it is, nowadays, with the rush of things and people not taking time to live." In spite of her ups and downs as she called them—burglaries, fires, losses and such like, Mrs. Morse has had a wonderful life, living through four major wars, daughter of a doctor and later wife of a dentist. She raised a family of three children in

Plan Proposed For Veteran Memorial Here

A suggested plan for a World War II memorial has been drawn up by the committee named by the Mayor and Council.

The committee, composed of representatives from the service organizations, sought something which would meet three requirements: be dignified ond fitting as a memorial, of lasting value to the community, and within the financial reach of Charlevoix.

The tentative plans call for a small building, possibly of white siding, which could house both a hronzo memorial plaque ond a historical collection on Charlevnix.

The committee believes the best spot would be on the park near the new bridge, where it would be handy for both visitors snd townfolk. There is a wealth of interesting material here which only needs a permanent place to bring it out. Such a memoriol ond collection would bo a real ottraction to visitors.

The committee will present its plan to the City Council.

The group also made one other recommendation entirely unconnected with the memorial. Out of respect both to the flag and to veterans the committee believes that a lot of flags displayed by merchants should be given a cleaning.

Marion Leads County In Gift to CROP Drive

Marion Township is leading all the rest of the county in the CROP drive.

Under the chairmanship of Jnhn Rosquist, Marion contributed $341, enough to buy 2600 pounds of honey for shipment to Europe The overage contribution was $3.65.

According to County Choirman Henry Korthase, it looks as though the whole county will contribute about $1500. This will buy about a quarter of the car of honey which was wanted.

Latest word is that Antrim County will turn its contribution in towards the car. At the stato meeting in Lansing, Clinton county also said it would join in on the carload. A car, weighing about 25 tons, would cost $7000.

Seventy-five men from Boyne City, East Jordan, Ironton and Charlevoix attended the first of the oyster suppers sponsored by the Ironton C. of C. Tuesday night.

The Ironton group plans to have another such supper later on.

Floyd Supp Not Opposed for Probate Judge

. Charlevoix County will not be having a primary election this spring .

That was made sure Tuesday afternoon when no one filed in opposition to Probate Judge Floyd Supp. Judge Supp Monday had filed his nominating petition with County Clerk F. H. Bulow.

If two other eandidates had filed, the county would have had to hold o primary next month. As it is Judge Supp's name will appear unopposed on tha April 4 ballot. At thia same election, there will be a state ballot with the names nf those running for Superintendent of Public Instruction, Highway Commissioner, Supreme Court, Board of Agriculture and University Regents.

Each township also will hold its biennial election, selecting all its officers then.

Two Farm Bureaus Say Proposed Ferry Toll Is Too High

Opposition to the proposed scale of tolls on the Ironton Ferry was voted last Wednesday night by the Marion Center Form Bureou.

If any toll at all is charged, the group voted, it should not exceed 10 and 20 cents.

Tho 10 members met at the Floyd Block home.

The question of parity prices brought on a heated discussion, the group being almost evenly divided between a sliding scale of 60 to 00 percent or a straight 90 percent support.

Tho group favored using the Charlevoix CoOp more extensively for marketing farm products. This plan would benefit both producer and consumer, it was pointed out.

The proposed toll charges on tho Ironton ferry were the topic at the Ironton Farm Bureau meeting last Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Babel.

Fifteen members were present. President Olc C. Neilsen presided.

The consensus was that after 50 years of free service, it was too sudden a shock to havo a 20 cent toll started all at once. A resolution was adopted recommending pass books be sold to local citizens, giving 50 crossings for $5.

Discussion, led by Homer Nasson, was on ways of improving methods of marketing live stock.

A pedro party followed with Mrs. Neilsen and Mark Saunders winning. Mr. and Mrs. Babel served a lunch at midnight.

Rambler Sinking At Same Island Dock Where Built

On St. Patrick's Day, 1923, the Rambler was launched.

It was built on Beaver Island by Gus Mielke and operated by him until sold to the late Nels LaFreniere. During the course of years the Rambler changed hands many times, the most recent owner being Capt. Russell Brown.

Late this fall, Capt. Brown brought the Rambler back to the Island. Tied up where it was originally launched, the boat is sinking. It looks as though the rambling days of the Rambler are over.

St. Mary's Classes Will Be Resumed Monday; Building Badly Damaged By Crash

No more classes will be held for pupils at St. Mary's the rest of this week but school will resume for some and possibly all of the pupils Monday morning.

Tentative plans for resuming study were made Tuesday night after the truck vs. building crash of Monday morning made the regular structure unsafe.

Two classes almost certainly will be held at the American Legion hall. What will be done about the third still is a question, Fr. Leo Malinowski says. The city has offered the use of the City Hall but the distance between the buildings may make this impractical. Final announcement of the plans will be made at the services Sunday morning.

The cause of all the trouble was a collision between o Coca Cola truck driven by Forrest Stafford of Traverse City and the wooden St. Mary's school.

At 7:30 a. m. Eddie Thorp, with Andrew Johnson as a passenger, wos driving home from work at Korth's Poultry Farm in the Korth truck. Also going north was the big yellow semi and trailer with o full load. Stafford in the middle of the block started to pull around the Korth truck. At the corner Thorp, not noticing tho other machine, started a left turn.

Stafford swung left to avoid crushing the lighter machine. The big load bounced over the curb and squarely into the center of the building.

Smashing a small hole in the wall the truck also: shifted the whole building about aix inches on the foundation, knocked both the inside stairs and the new fire escape out of line, buckled some of the downstairs floors, cracked concrete pillars in the basement and posts in the attic, drove a cupboard in the downstairs classroom over on nearby seats, broke the gas tank outside the building, broke water pipes in the basement which was partly flooded, and shorted some of the outside wiring.

Not damaged was the heating plant.

Luckily no students were in the building or hurt.

Stafford was charged with reckless driving and his hearing before Justice Don Swinton will be Thursday at 2 p. m.

"We're grateful for twn things," says Fr. Malinowski. "No one was hurt and the offers that have come in from the Legion, the City and others to help us out."

Set of Color Views of City Are Needed

Does anyone have a set of colored slides of Charlevoix scenes the Board of Commerce could buy or borrow?

A request has come from Mrs. Lucille C. Holmes down in St. Augustine for such a set. Her hotel makes a practice of showing such scenes for the entertainment of tha guests and she says if Charlevoix could loan her a set, she would help advertise the city.

Gaylord Is Next On Rayders' List

When Charlevoix's Rayders go to East Jordan Friday night thay will be playing in the top contest of tho week in the Northern Class C Conference.

The other three games are likely to be as lopsided as was this week's contest against Grayling here. As a result of Charlevoix's 57-27 victory, and Boyne City's handing a 49 and 18 walloping to Harbor Springs, the Rayders and Rams are now tied for second spot. Boyna still is undefeated top dog.

Both Charlevoix teams acored easy victories last Friday night

After the Boyne contest, the VFW plans to sponsor weekly amateur boxing events open to the public. Commander John Geer will announce the dates later on.

CHANCE TO LEARN

School to Offer Adult Classes

Adults who want to get some more schooling will be able to do so this winter.

As a result of the interest shown in continuing education at the last Open House, the school has been receiving requests for many such courses. To get definite plans under way, a clearing house date has been set by Supt. Roy Bennett for Jan. 27.

This meeting will be at 8 p. m. in Room 100 at the High School. Everyone who is interested in taking an adult course taught by a competent instructor should be there, Supt. Bennett says.

Among the courses which have been suggested are: woodworking, mechanical drawing, arithmetic or advanced mathematics, sewing, typing, bookkeeping, literature, foreign language and social science.

What courses are offered will depend entirely on the demand. The classes will meet for three hours at least once a week for nine weeks. The cost will be divided between the school district, a state fund for adult education, and a course fee paid by the person taking it. This fee likely will not exceed $6 for the course.

ONLY WAY

Fund Needed for Court House

The only way the county can have a new Court House, outside of taxation to the limit, is through the proposed sinking fund plan, F. H. Bulow told the Kiwanis Club Monday night.

The state fire marshall has condemned the present building almost annually since 1932. In order to make it usable, he said, it would need outside vaults, a complete rewiring, another fire escape, fireproofing the heating plant room and many other similar changes.

The cost would not be justified by the old and inadequate building, Bulow pointed out.

The county now is in a financial position where it can take two of the nine mills of tax money it receives and put this in a sinking fund. The only way this can be done is by popular vote and this vote will be taken at the spring election, April 4.

Taxes would stay the same as now under the plan.

November's Cause Brings February's Effect

Back in November, largely because of a well unified labor vote, President Truman und Governor Williams were elected.

Within the last two weeks both have come out with plans for higher taxes.

Within the last ten days the wire services from Detroit und from other large cities all over the country have been carrying news reports of growing unemployment. For the first time since Pearl Hurbor there are more men than jobs.

It is a simple case of cause and effect, of chickens coming home to roost. If higher taxes are going to be collected, and management placed at a legal disadvantage, then the ineffecient, the less productive worker will be let out.

We're Paying Enough Now

This country and state should not have to collect more taxes. The public is paying enough now. If a million or so unneeded job holders would be fired, there would be enough savings to take care of essential public services.

We had a specific case right here in Charlevoix County last week. Two men from MSC gave three woodlot demonstrations. The demonstrations were good, the things explained are necessary steps in good woodlot management.

But of the handful of farmers who attended, almost all knew the facts beforehand from free bulletins or other reading.

If a farmer is interested in woodlot management, he can and will get the information for a three cent stamp. If he isn't interested, mules won't drag him to a demonstration. Sending two men here for three days was largely a waste of the people's money.

— — — —

Want to Make An Easy Million?

I don't know how I got there but I'm on at least one sucker list.

For this week I received an invitation to buy some Canadian gold mining stock.

Now some folks do make money in gold mines, but the percentage is low. It's much like bucking a three shell game.

There are plenty of gold and copper millionaires up in Canada who know the country and the prospects. If these new properties were likely producers, the boys on the ground would never let the stock get on the mail order market.

Something Unusual Here

There were several unusual things in last week's Courier, but to me the most outstanding was that letter from Gordon Freedman.

Here is the president of a manufacturing concern candidly and fully explaining to the community what the firm's problems are, why part of the employees had to be laid off, and plans for the future.

Such a frank explanation is unusual, even today. Nevertheless, it is sound public relations. But with Gordon Freedman I am convinced it goes deeper than that. He feels himself and his industry to be a part of the community and as such they have a responsibility to Charlevoix. He feels the public has a right to know what is going on and what is planned.

Executives with that viewpoint and thinking are rare. Charlevoix is fortunate.

Cultural Sorority Invites Women to Interviews

Young women interested in forming a cultural and social sorority here will have an opportunity to do so.

Beta Sigma Phi through its Delta Tau chapter at Petoskey will offer a limited number of invitations to young Charlevoix women. First meeting will be this Saturday from 2 to 4 p. m. when at least four of the Petoskey members will be here at the City Hall for individual interviews with possible charter members.

About 20 Charlevoix women have said they want to form a chapter. The Saturday interviews will be for these and for any others who are 21 or more and who wish to learn more about Beta Sigma Phi.

The sorority itself is international and non-academic. Its purpose is the development of creative ability in its members and providing them with adult recreational education.

By means of a four year study program, the sorority outlines topics for the semi-monthly meetings. The first year is devoted to social conduct and graces, and practical experience in organizing and public speaking.

The second year of study is on personal appearance and environment. The third year takes up the work of various artists, sculptors, painters and musicians. The object of the fourth year is learning to be happy through a better understanding of self and environment.

Fishing Shanties Must Be Marked

Conservation officers are calling attention of ice fishermen to the law requiring that all shanties must be marked with owner's names and addresses.

The law states: "All structures and shelters placed or used on the ice shall be identified on outside with name and address of owner in letters of insoluble material not less than two inches high to be readily seen. All such structures shall be removed before ice conditions become unsafe."

Under the law the department may remove and store or destroy such structures and assess the costs of same to owner in addition to penalties which may be assessed for violation.

The Etha Nagler Circle of the Methodist Church will hold a baked gooda sale at Brown Motors Saturday, Jan. 22.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

We Both Won This One

Blew my top the other morning when I discovered a shirt I'd put on had two buttons missing.

"Joe," the missus says, "do you ever read what you write? For a man who writes newspaper pieces all about tolerance, you sometimes show a lot of race prejudice."

"Race prejudice!" I hollers. "No one can accuse me of that." "I mean prejudice against the entire human race," she interrupts with a smile. "Why get mad at the world over two little buttons!" That took the wind out of me.

From where I sit (as I told the missus that evening), a lot of us sometimes get too worked up over little things... little differences of opinion or taste. One person prefers beer or ale, another prefers cider or lemonade. But why criticize the other fellow just because his tastes aren't the same as ours? "That sounds more like you, Joe," she laughs, snipping off a thread. (It so happens she was sewing on buttons.)

THE NEW FUTURAMICS

FUTURAMIC—the most glamorous word in motor cars now applies to two great lines of Oldsmobiles. Not only the newly styled Futuramic "98"—but also a brand new Futuramic "76" with a new '49 Fisher Body that's lower, wider and offers greater visibility. And this year, Oldsmobile has struck a new balance of power with two great engines for these Futuramic cars. The new "Big Six" Engine in the "76" is more powerful than ever. And the new "98" is powered by the revolutionary "Rocket" Engine. It's a high-compression, valve-in-head eight—an engineering marvel that steps up horsepower to 135, yet actually cuts down on gas costs. Words can't describe it. You've got to drive it yourself for Oldsmobile's "NEW THRILL!"

Following the service a wedding supper was held at the home of the bride's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Warner.

The couple plan to make their home in Charlevoix.

Danger of Liquor Explained at Club

Mrs. Carroll Fiedler spoke on the topic, "Scientific Temperance Instruction" at the regular meet- of the W. C. T. U. held at the home of Mrs. Emma Sutton on Friday.

She told the part that liquor had played in the history of the world and how it had played a large part in the fall of many nations. It is important, she emphasised, that our nation's leaders, our teachers as well as parents, realize what an enemy liquor can be and teach temperance and not moderation.

Alcohol tells on itself, she warned. What those who are guarding against it must do is work and pray.

Mrs. W. D. Wood was in charge of the devotions and Mrs. Guy Smith sang a solo.

Plans were made for a bake sale to be held on Feb. 12.

WHEN you see the 1949 Chevrolets, a glance will be enough to tell you they're new—all new—in line and contour, in beauty and style. And when you look inside, and under the hood, and beneath the chassis, you'll see that their newness is not merely in outward appearance, but in design and engineering and construction as well.

But, to a lot of people, the 1949 Chevrolet is already old. They know what it will do, and how exceedingly well it will do it—they know all about its performance, its comfort, its power, safety, durability and economy. They are the engineers and technicians of the General Motors Proving Ground—the largest, most completely equipped, outdoor testing laboratory in the automobile world.

Here, before a single new 1949 Chevrolet went into production, experimental models were tested—made to show that they possess, in greater measure than ever, all those qualities on which Chevrolet has built its leadership.

In short, the General Motors Proving Ground tests are your assurance that your new-model Chevrolet has proved its worth through many months and many, many thousands of miles of rough handling.

Soon you will see the new Chevrolet—and when you do, you will see a car not only new, but tried and true.

It Is Hallett House In Old Charlevoix Pictures; Coast Guard Boat Was Built for World's Fair

The old pictures in The Courier window belonging to Dobbie Allard hsve been attracting a lot of attention.

Stumping most folks was the identity of the two houses. They are the present John Hallett housa and the first of the Belvedere cottages. Since the picture was taken, a new porch has been added to the Hallett house and the Belvedere fence put in. The cottage is virtually unchanged.

Mrs. Henry Hair recognized the sleighing outfit in the 1885 greeting card. The pair of grays belonged to Tillotson. He alwsys had beautiful horses, Mrs. Ilslr says. She also recalls how Editor Smith of the Sentinel and Charlie Hampton of the Courier used to fight in their papers.

Bill Bellinger remembers all four men in the picture: Smith was the banker, Iddinga in a hardware, Washburne had a dry goods store and built the house on Psrk avenue now owned by Julins Gilbert; Rosenthal had the first dry goods store in the old Lewis Grand Opera house.

The Coast Guard boat, he says, was a double planked craft built for the Chicago World's Fair and brought directly here after it was over. The lighthouse picture was taken before 1911 because the light was moved across the channel that year.

The sailboat in tha Round Lake picture looks to him like tha Lady Margaret built by Roy Ranger for William Washburne.

Capt. Allie Moore said the Coast Guard boat picture was taken when Cspt. Fountain was in charge here and Nels Palmer was no. One man at the station. The large boat on Round Lake, he sdds, was the double cat of Washburne's and he believes the small slooping was the Meteor. The picture was taken about 1898.

Choosing Pictures Is Topic of Club Talk

Mrs. Pearl Fitch was hostess to the members of the Shakespeare Club at her home Monday afternoon and the lesson was presented by her daughter, Mrs. Karl Erber.

It was most informative on "Art," with suggestions for choosing pictures for one's own home. Mrs. Erber ended her lesson with the plea that in some future date art might be taught in our public schools in Charlevoix.

Kiwanis Club Takes In New Members

Two new members were received into the Kiwanis Club at the Monday night meeting.

Presented by Roy Bennett, they were Angus Fochtman and Archie Livingston.

W. G. Wood, one of Michigan Lieutenant Governors for Kiwanis, presented the attandsnce pins for last year. Those receiving them and the number .of yesrs were: Fred Bancroft, 1; Ralph Hamilton, 1; Roy Bennett, 3; Gaylord Howell, 3; Robert Richards, 3; Howard Brumm, 4; Floyd Brown, 11; Meyer Levinson, 14.

President C. B. Meggison reported on the state officers meeting in Ann Arbor.

Hold Deer Down to Size of Range Is Best Policy

Reviewing four "sure-cures" for the deer starvation problem tried in the lsst 23 yesrs, I. H. Bartlett, deer investigator for the conservation department, says game biologists' advice still holds good as it did in 1925: fit the herd to the rsnge as a stockmsn would.

The four "cure-all" proposals all have been efforts to fit the range to a herd too big for it. They include feeding, transplanting deer, replanting browse, and winter deeryard cutting operations.

Feeding hsy soon proved too costly, and where successful only increased the need the following seasons. Livetrspping and transplanting to yards not yet browsed out also proved costly, snd a puny measure compared with the tremendous growth of starvation areas. In CCC dsys 5,000,000 trees of browse species were planted, hut deer and rabbits ate most of those that survived before they grew big enough to supply more than a mouthful of feed. "Saving" the deeryards from lumbering (through their purchase by the state) produced no deer food when young shoots were eaten down and older trees grew out of reach.

Logging the larger timber from state-owned deeryards, latest popular remedy, has been tried for a number of years and had its most extensive trial the winter of 1947. These operations pay for themselves. Cutting on a 30-year rotation plsn provides sddltional food each winter snd stretches the reserve food available in tops over the entire 30-year period. In spite of this, Bartlett says, in overpopulated areas the herd still expands faster than the food supplies.

MICHIGAN Motoring

January is a "DANGER" month for pedestrians as well as drivers. The wintry weather can be the cause of death, of severe injury to you, to your passengers and to the persons on the street—unless, each ona of you practise extra caution every day—every hour!

Why is January called a "Danger" month? Ice—wind and snow make driving more difficult. These, coupled with the many extra hours of darkness reduce visibility. That's why it'a especially important to caution your family to be extra careful when walking. You may see the driver—but, he might not see you.

Good drivers will reduce speed to compensate for these weather hazards . . . they'll use tire chains on snow and ice to compensate for poor traction. Good drivers will also keep their windshield wipers, defrosters and lights in good working condition. Wise pedestrians will take special precautions—will cross at crossings, with lights — will look carefully before stepping into a street. Cautious pedestrians will realize that drivers cannot see them as well after dark now in rain or snow.

Are you a good driver? Are you a wise pedestrian? Think it over —resolve to be one—save your own life — and the lives of those dear to you!

Twenty members of the Dickens Club met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ray Hamilton.

Due to the absence of the leader, Mrs. Jack Reed, who is at the bedside of her husband in the hospital, Mrs. L. E. Towe gave the lesson which was a resume of the paper she gave a few weeks ago at the Garden Club, "Where Did Your Garden Grow."

Boyne Only Resort to Have Skiing

Boyne Mountain had the only skiing this last week end there was at any established resort east of the Rockies.

Skiers poured in there Saturday from all tha other Michigan resorts and from down state. Under the warm weather, the snow had disappeared from the other slopes. The ten inches of solid snow, protected by the high hill from the sun and warm winds, even lasted Sunday morning under the steady hammering of the warm rain.

"It goes to prove that we picked the right place," said Manager Jim Christianson.

Charlevoix Four Wins Second At SPEB Contest

Calling themselves the Remnants, four Charlevoix barbershoppers took second place Saturday night over at Boyne City's Bush League Contest.

Each man formerly had sung in another quartet and came on stage in that quartet's outfit. There were: Charles Hamlin of the Ballard Benders in silk hat and tails; Bob Miles of the Saturday Nighters in bathrobe and towel; Tip Riley of the Had To Four in red shirt and blue jeans; Gib Saltonstall of the Cabin Boys in striped jersey and white ducks.

Winners were a new Boyne outfit, the Mountainaires. It was the third annual Bush League contest. Competing were quartets from Mt. Pleasant, Manistee, Traverse City, Boyne City and Charlevoix. Judges were the Travelers of Grand Rapids.

Taken as a whole, the singing showed great improvement over that of former Bush League contests.

Farm Cooperatives Are Important Farm Tools

The automobile industry achieves efficient and profitable operation by extending manufacturing to include production and transportation of raw materials, the production of accessories, and systematic sales promotion and distribution—all under one management.

In like manner, farmers increase the efficiency and income of their farm business through the ownership and use of farm co-operatives. They are manufacturing, purchasing and marketing tools that are part of our farm business.

Michigan farm co-operatives process and market grain, beans, fruits, vegetables. They market milk, or make it into butter and milk products. They market livestock and poultry and their products. They manufacture fertilizer, feeds and other supplies and equipment. They are the purchasing department for general farm supplies.

Savings effected by farm co-operatives are returned to farmer patrons in accordance with the amount of business they do with their co-operative. Naturally, such additional farm income helps build all types of business in the community.

Wild Experience On Train Stalled In Wyoming Blizzard Described by Glenn Cook

Pfc. Glenn Cook, who left Traverse City via plane on Jen. 2 to return to his base by 8 e. m. Jan. 3, finally arrived at his destination, Fort Warren, Cheyenne, Wyo., at 5 p. m., Jan. 8, he has informed his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cook.

When he arrived at Omaha, Neb., on Sundey evening all aircraft were grounded so he took a train for Cheyenne. On Monday they became snowbound in 20 foot drifts near Egbert, Wyo., a village with a population of 55. After 28 hours aboard the train during which the heat wes turned off during the night and the passengers burned paper in esh trays in an effort to keep warm, they were taken from the train to a heated school house. While on the train railroad officials broke into a railroad car on a siding to secure food for the stranded passengers. When they left the train they walked in 15 degree below zero temperature in a 50 mile gele to the school house, stopping enroute at the store in the village.

The men spent the remaining days at the schoolhouse while the women on the train were cared for elsewhere. At night they slept on the floor. Army planes finally dropped food supplies to the stranded passengers and the villagers. On Thursday busses were able to get through and take them on to their destinations.

Glenn ended his letter with "you'll be hearing a lot more about this. After all, it was quite an experience."

WHITE PELICAN

One lively evening the first of September a few years hack, the wife and I were enjoying a picnic supper on the shore of Lake Michigan near the outlet of Bar Lake, just a little north of Empire. It is one of our favorite spots. The sunsets there are gorgeous and the wild scenic beauty is very satisfying to both of us.

It is a fine place to watch the bird migration. One of its advantages is that the vast expanse of Sleeping Bear Sand Dunes seems to bring the birds to a concentration point in the locality so it is tops, for the enthusiastic bird student, especially for waders or shore birds which at that time of year leisurely move southward.

Not only do you find waders there, but many other species of birds will be seen, as the low bushes and trees along the shore afford good shelter for the small feathered migrants. The Sleeping Bear seems to bring migrants to the shore of Lake Michigan and they will pass before ar Lake and the Big Lake and you have an advantage, if you are there when the waves of migrants come along. It is quite a thrill tn list twenty-five or thirty species of birds in the course of ten or fifteen minutes.

It's best to keep at least partly concealed and you will want a good pair of binoculars. But what I started out to write about was not the migration. But about five big white birds that we saw that particular evening.

We had finished our supper and had been watching some white crowned and Savannah sparrows feeding in the low bushes along the shore. The sun had started to pull her blankets over herself for the night and it was loveiy. The big lake was a beautiful orchid color with some gold and yellows and it was good just to be alive in such a grand place.

Then, all of sudden the wife touched my arm and said, "Look", and pointed to the north, where we could see five huge white birds coming down the shore, flying in a straight line, elose to the water and about three or four hundred feet off shore. We couldn't believe our eyes but here were five huge, white pelicans, birds exceedingly rare for Michigan. I'd seen them once in North Dakota and again in 1947 down on the Texas Coast, on the Boca Cheta Flats. There wa had watched a dozen or so of these big white birds as they rested on a sand bar out in the flats. But here in Michigan this was something.

There was only one way that I could explain it. It was right at the time Lake Michigan was laboring under a pretty big, dead swell, from the northwest, caused by a howling southwester, a day or so before. The southwester had hauled to the northwest and settled down to such strength that the big lake freighters had taken to shelter for twenty-four hours. So this boisterous northwestern had without question blown these hig white birds quite a little distance off their course.

You see theso birds are known to nest in Northwestern Wisconsin and Western Minnesota; up in North Dakota, clear north to Alberta, they nest in some numbers. This time they came to our shores a little way north and were moving southward, looking for a pince to rest and feed, as they swung in over Little and Big Bar Lake. We watched them with our glasses till they were out nf sight.

A week or so later we got word that one of the big birds hed been wing tipped by a so-calied sportsman; who was shooting ducks in a big marsh down on Black Lake near Holland and the bird was in the Grand Rapids zoo.

As I had work to do down that way I dropped into the Zoo and found the hird none the worse for the clipping the trigger happy boob had given it. It seemed even to have resigned itseif to its predicament and with my flash camera I took the picture you see of this interesting and unusual bird.

"POWER FLIGHT HELPS CUPID"

SAYS MILLER'S DAUGHTER

A fast-moving drama matching Hollywood's best came to pass when: Clem wrote his coed daughter to come home—the grist mill's water supply had failed and he was broke—but Nancy had other ideas. Arriving home she borrowed an old motor bike, hooked it up to the shaft and believe it or not, those old mill stones started again—but too slowly. Production was a mere trickle. In desperation Nancy turned to Bill who is pumping Power Flight these days. He rushed over with a can of the precious stuff. "Then there was action," says Nancy, "those ancient mill stones produced more flour than ever before." Eureka! the problem was solved.

"In the meantime," writes Nancy from Niagara Falls, "Dad revised his estimate of Bill, and frankly, so did I. I said 'yes' at the right time and now everybody is happy thanks to Power Flight."

This is the first report we have had that Power Flight gave new life to a stalled mill, and we don't entirely believe it either. But we do know that Power Flight users have learned by experience that there is a noticeable difference in car performance when Power Flight gasoline is used.

Made from selected crude under the most modern methods, the quality of Power Flight is accurately controlled.

Nancy snapped on her honeymoon radiates sheer happiness at her twin discoveries—first, her Bill's fine qualities—second, Power Flight's amazing performance.

IT HAPPENED ON . . . . BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Henley

(Editor's note: Dua to the delays resulting from the present routing of Beaver Island mail through Pellston, Mrs. Hanley's column arrives a week late. Wa're sorry.)

Two lumbering operations will be going on this winter. Ted Wojan and James (the young) Gallagher will cut. Wojan took his crew to camp Monday morning.

The Fred Spaldings have encouraged birds to ba their friends by any number of feeding stations in the trees naar their home. A nuthatch became friendly and called on the Spaldings right in the living room on three occasions last week. Mrs. Spalding says the bird is so tame sha can pick him up and return him to the wide open spaces without any trouble at all.

Lawrence Malloy, and Earle Boyle attended the supervisors meeting in Charlevoix, Malloy returned to tha Island the first of the week, while Boyle continued on to Detroit for a visit.

"Clink" Gallagher was up recently from Chicago to visit his father, Dominic Gallagher.

Mrs. Mary Martin is spending the winter months with her daughter, Catherine, in South Haven.

Judy Palmer spent the past week on the island visiting his father, Clarence Palmer.

Dick Martin is in Chicago for the winter months.

To celebrate "Little Christmas" the school children were given a party Thursday evening in St. James School. Under tha supervision of the teachers, the children were entertained with a number of games for which prizes were awarded. The upper grades enjoyed square dancing in addition to tha games. Refreshments were served.

Bob and Charlotta McDonough and little daughter flaw to Charlevoix Friday after spending two weeks visiting Bob's parents. During their visit, Bob and Charlotte sandwiched a few demonstrations of a well known brand of aluminum ware.

With just enough snow for good sleighing since Christmas, the rising temperature towards the end of the week cleared the roads and took away practically all the snow.

The high school students, anticipating a sleigh ride out to Don Burke's Friday afternoon were somewhat disappointed. The lack of snow made the going hard for the teams drawing the sleighs so it turned out to be a hike for most of the crowd.

Saturday, an anxious fisherman skidded a fish shanty out on the ice only to retrace his steps in short order.

Tha sleek-as-glass ice that formed in the harbor has afforded a lot of fancy figure skating. Saturday a number of trusting skaters were down on the rink, but a good half dozen crashed through for a partial ducking.

Sunday, afternoon, the Altar Society of Holy Cross Church met in the Parish Hall. Plans for a card party to be given in the Hall, Feb. 3 were discussed.

Farmers' Week

This is the last call for those that are interested in going to Farmers' Week at Michigan State College. Tha dates are Jan. 24 through 28.

Artificial Breeders

The Boyne City Artificial Breeders Association have just completed the first month of their second years business. A total of 40 services were given by the Inseminator Manager. One new member has joined the association, with 5 cows.

The next few months is generally the time when most of the cows are being bred. To get the best inheritance possible for your heifers, farmers should plan on using the best bulls obtainable. Some dairymen have very good bulls of their own, the maority however, are not able to obtain such high quality sires. For those who are looking for better inheritance the Artificial Breeding Association offers some very good bulls. If you are interested contact either Curtis Nicloy of Boyne City, Bud Best of Ellsworth, or Ed Rebman, County Agent at Boyne City.

Dairy Herd Improvement Association

An opportunity for a young man to learn more about the dairy enterprise is open to someone in Charlevoix County. If this young man would like to be the tester for the Antrim-Charlevoix Dairy Herd Improvement Association he should contact the County Extension Office at Boyne City. A ten day course at Michigan State College is necessary to prepare the tester for this position. There will be a course given during February and also one given during April.

Red Dane

The field trip that is being planned for the farmer interested in Red Dane cattle has been changed. The date is Friday, Jan. 21. Farmers who are interested in making this field trip which will include visits to three Red Dane herds near Harrisville, should leave their name and telephone number at the County Extension office.

Farmers with good dairy herds with high inheritance should think twice before changing to Red Dane. However, if you would like to find out more about this breed plan on attending this field trip. The local Artificial Breeders Association will supply the semen from the bull at Lansing.

Akin to Automatic Propulsion!

White sidewall tires available at additional cost.

When the great new Cadillac engine was in the final stages of development, a Cadillac engineer made a test run up Pike's Peak. "It felt," he said upon his return, "as if the car were moving by automatic propulsion." When you drive a 1949 Cadillac—powered by this magnificent new engine—you will understand what the engineer was talking about. The power flow is so smooth—and the supply of power so seemingly inexhaustible—that the driver is scarcely aware of the engine's existence. Owners are finding that this smooth, even, effortless flow of power does far more than increase the car's agility. It adds immeasurably to handling ease and maneuverability. It increases the confidence of the person at the wheel, and thereby makes him a better driver. And it increases the car's over-all safety to a remarkable degree. It has long been true that a search for the finest leads inevitably to Cadillac. But, today, the sign posts are marked so plainly that searching is not required. There is, literally, nowhere else to go—if you want the ultimate in motor car quality and satisfaction.

BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

Rose bushes budding in January on Beaver Island! This is indeed an unusual winter. Springlike rains towards the end of the week bared the ground and the small amount of ice left in the harbor is unsafe.

We are beginning to wonder what James Gallagher is going to put in his ice house after he finishes making repairs.

Our village on ice made a start the beginning of the week with Fred Spalding, Owen Chapman and Art Miller venturing forth. The three were lucky to get their shanties off before the ice became too soft.

Our youthful pilot of the twin engine Cessna delivering the mail this winter encountered difficulties the first day, but since then service has been good.

Catherine and Margaret Ricksgers returned to Pontiac with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mielke where they plan to remain.

The agony is over—last week the grade and high school pupils took semi-final exams.

Tuesday evening, the Third Order of St. Francis sponsored a party in the Parish Hall.

This reporter is in the dog house as far as a certain puppy on the Island is concerned. In reporting the killing of the rat recently, no mention was made of Prince, the rat terrier belonging to the Vernon LaFreniere family. It was Prince who scented the rodent hiding behind the baled hay on the dock that led to the capture—and Prince didn't like it one bit that he was not given his just due.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McDonough left Wednesday for Grand Rapids where Mrs. McDonough will be given a medical check-up.

Buddy Left, Charles McCauley and "Speck" Gillespie have gone away to work until sailing season opens.

We have missed Aunt Maggie Turner (Mrs. Dan Boyle) at social functions recently. She has been home taking care of a sick husband. Despite her 83 years, Aunt Maggie seldom misses a social and as for dancing, she's a lively stepper. When asked how she was coming along with her knitting, Aunt Maggie said she had all the grand children's mittens made for this winter and now she's knitting for next winter.

A good snow fall would be welcome on the Island. The lumbermen want it and so do those who have cord wood to be sleighed in. Then too, the Island looks barren without a blanket of snow.

NIPS TROUBLE IN THE BUD—Special equipment in the telephone central office tells the approximate location of cable trouble miles away. A tone is sent out over the wires. Then a repairman out on the line moves an electrical instrument called a "Cable Bug" along the cable until he no longer hears the tone. Right at that spot he opens the cable and finds the trouble. Another example of how fast and economical methods have been developed to do difficult telephone jobs.

ASTRONOMICAL FIGURES—To serve its customers, Michigan Bell has some 6,000,000 miles of wire and 822,000 telephone poles in Michigan. The wire is equal to 25 single strands stretched from here to the moon. The poles, if "planted" 40 feet apart, would form an "orchard" of 7,548 acres. Money for poles, wire and other equipment needed to provide service comes from folks who invest a part of their savings in the telephone business and expect a fair return on their investment.

RURAL-LINE SERVICE IS WHAT YOU MAKE IT—The quality of rural-line service rests in the hands of those who use it. It can be good service if everyone shares the line . . . spaces out calls . . . surrenders the line when others have emergency calls to make . . . hangs up the receiver carefully after each call.

Our $13,500,000 post-war rural construction program means more and better rural telephone service.

TRY Hudson!..See why

...it's lower...it's better!

Here's the only car you step down into—the lowest on the highway—a stunning beauty with the liveliest, smoothest and safest way of going you've ever known!

The whole world knows that the lower a car is built, the more graceful its lines can be made, the better it rides, handles and performs, and the safer it is.

And now you are invited to see and drive the lowest-built car on the highway—the New Hudson!

The New Hudson—and only Hudson—has recessed floors. Thus, lounge-size seats are lowered to harmonize with the new, lower top.

Because you step down into Hudson, you get more head room and roomier seats than in any mass-produced car built today . . . and all of this along with ample road clearance!

But you'll soon find that amazing roominess is only one of the wonderful things you get in this unique new kind of car.* We believe you'll want to read about more of them in the column to the right. Then see your nearby Hudson dealer who will gladly arrange for you to drive this sensationally low-built automobile.

NEW Hudson
The only car you step down into

BETTER design: Because the "step-down" principle is so basically right, it enables Hudson to achieve pleasing proportions and symmetric, free-flowing lines.

BETTER performance: Hudson's all-new, high-compression Super-Six engine—or the masterful Super-Eight, perform at their best because this car is so thoroughly streamlined.

BETTER roadability: With the lowest center of gravity in any American stock car, Hudson really hugs the road, especially on curves. Hudson's Fluid-Cushioned Clutch, Center-Point Steering and Triple-Safe Brakes contribute mightily to a wanderful feeling of assurance.

BETTER value: One look, one ride will quickly tell you that here is an automobile so far ahead it is a protected investment.

Come in, drive the New Hudson with Drive-Master Transmission — no clutch pushing or gear shifting in forward speeds — all-new, high-compression Super-Six, or masterful Super-Eight engine — Super-Cushion tires — and more than 20 other important features!

Machinery Next Big Job On South Span

Except for the machinery and the final trimmings, the south leaf of the new bridge is about done.

Of course, those two items will take quite some time to finish. But this week saw the grating which will carry traffic welded to the bridge frame and the form torn off the big concrete counterweight.

The Lamb-Leudtke crew poured the 73 tons of concrete last week and by Friday night had most of the form torn off. Then Monday morning Supt. Harry Armstrong started one of his two crews welding the steel grating to the bridge.

Incidentally, grating is used instead of solid floor steel because of the wind. Just one of the bridge leaves, if solid, would present a greater surface area than many of the Mackinac racing boats carry in sail. If the bridge had a solid floor, the machinery and frame would have to be made much heavier to overcome the force of the winds which sweep up the channel.

Lack of parts temporarily is holding up further work on the south side. Lacking are the bearing bracket for the driving machinery, and the rear floor castings. These go in where the movable part and the abutment section come together.

Both were shipped from Mt. Vernon Jan. 7. As soon as the car arrives, installing of the machinery will start. The rest of it is here and on the ground. Once the machinery is in, the span can be lowered, final alignment made, and the final work started.

This last will include attaching the hand rails, finishing the operator's house at the southeast corner, and installing controls.

Riveting still is going on at the north side. The work of putting up windproof walls around the counterweight base and building the form there remains to be done. Then the north counterweight can be poured, the machinery installed and the span lowered.

over the Grayling squads. The games were played here.

As usual, Coach Kipke had almost every player in uniform out on the floor, but the score kept piling up. The first game started slow but the team continued to show an improved spirit and willingness to work together.

Charles Krahnke, freshman, showed up well at hitting the loop with his hook shots.

The Reserves showed up badly in one department. Out of 25 chances at free throws, they connected with only three.

The scores were: first team, 57 and 27; Reserves, 47 and 23. The box scores:

News of folks, your neighbors and mine . . .but did you know that—

Actually seemed good to return home from the State Press Meeting at Lansing Sunday night and find SNOW. There is none down there and it really takes snow to give a winter look . . . A word from the Bill Heerings at Daytona Beach state they are enjoying life down in Florida. They have been there about ten days and plan to go over to the west coast of the state. Said they were enjoying beautiful weather . . .

Now it is the new look in cars that seems to be in the limelight these days. "Have you seen the new Chevie?", or "has the Buick the same grill" and many other questions of like characters are being asked. Passed the England-Cook agency Sunday morning in Lansing and the place was packed. Men can gurgle and gargle over the new car, putting women to shame who admire the new member of the family in his first buggy ride . . .

Several persons at the Press Meeting who attended the summer outing at the Belvedere last year asked the same question of us, "Is the new bridge done?" Perhaps some of them will be driving over it next summer when the outing will be held at Top-In-A-Bee . . . National Boy Scout Week is in the offing and plans are being made to make it a memorial date in Charlevoix with the Boy Scouts . . .

The Belvedere Golf Course proved to be a popular place Sunday with big and little folks with their skiis, toboggans and sleds . . . Also Boyne Mountain Lodge was crowded with folks from all over Michigan and Charlevoix folks who were there enjoyed watching the performers and the colorful outfits that some of the skiers were wearing . . .

"Have my taxes all paid and now my subscription to The Courier," said George Meggison Monday afternoon. "Now I am all set, all set for a big storm." . . . . . Mrs. J. F. Webb, better known as Marie Novak in Charlevoix and at present back in her old home town, is planning to leave next Tuesday for New York where she will sail along with her motor car to Frankfort, Germany, where she will meet her husband who is stationed there. Saturday night she really had butterflies in her stomach as she waited to hear the sound of his voice over the telephone as he talked to her from Germany . . .

Saw an interesting account in another yachting magazine "The Spreader" received by Joe Howard telling of the two men who went to Reno and tried to break the bank there and who bought a sail boat with their profits. While they were in Charlevoix harbor they were interviewed and a story was in The Courier about them. While here the men lost their cat and we put a plea for the lost tiger kitten in the paper. We were besieged with tiger cats. Finally one thought to really be the lost cat was sent. In the magazine the men tell of their Charlevoix experience and how they received the lost cat in Cleveland.

Mrs. Isa Alward, who has been ill so that it was necessary for her to be hospitalized, is now at home again and greatly improved. Her daughter, Mrs. Louis Jablinski, who lives near keeps a watchful eye and sees that her mother is well taken care of . . . I surely like the 1949 slogan of the Camp Fire Girls which is "Make Mine Democracy."

In a letter to her family from Wheatland, Wyo., Marguerite Johnson says that she is surely in the land of the big snow where trains and buses cannot get through. Even the big snowplows have got stuck there. She told of the youngsters sliding from the roofs of their homes from snowbanks and others had to climb out of their upstairs windows to get out. Quite a few people have frozen to death and one nearby rancher lost 2000 sheep . . .

Down in Liberty, Ky., the folks are advocating a project that the Dickens Club voted to sponsor in Charlevoix, namely: a Memorial Shelf in the Public Library. Fred J. Burkhard from Liberty says: "Our own little family decided not long ago that we would never spend a large sum on flowers at the time of the death of a close friend or relative. Instead we decided to give a book for the library in memory of the deceased. What we would really like to see is a shelf in the lib-

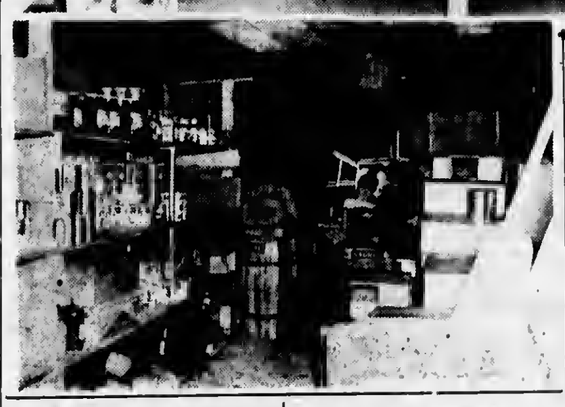
Before, After Pictures Show Changes Being Made at Charlevoix Hospital



Typical of the improvements which are being made at the Charlevoix Hospital is the new storage room in the basement.

As shown in the lower picture, it formerly was just one of those catch-all places with a few shelves at the side where some canned food was kept.

Then last fall, when more space was needed, the Board approved Miss Ann Baumgartner's suggestion that it be fixed up. After the accumulation was cleared out, a ceiling of insulating board was put in and a concrete floor poured, except in one corner. This is at the lower right where the potato bin is. Its floor is dirt.

Then shelves were built and painted. Now the room holds the canned food donated by various clubs and other groups of the community.

Ratigan Gives Charlevoix, SPEB National Notice

Charlevoix received some national publicity this month from Bill Ratigan.

The second of his Captain McCargo stories appears in this month's Adventuro magazine. In a quite lengthy shop talk feature at the front of the magazine, Author Ratigan told how he got the idea for the story, which is laid back in the pre-Civil War days on the Great Lakes.

He came to Charlevoix, intent on fishing and hunting. He dropped in to get a haircut and discuss outdoor activities. Instead he learned about barbershop quartets and what a tough time one particular foursome was having since it had lost its bass.

Bill goes on to describe Charlevoix, the SPEB and the Labor Day Jamboree. He makes it all sound like quite a place and quite an affair. But then, he's right on both counts.

New Chevrolet Now On Display

The new 1949 Chevrolet was officially put on display here at the Charlevoix Oil Co. new showroom Saturday morning.

The particular model was a Fleetline deluxe, blue four door sedan, one of the top models in the Chevrolet line. Close to 400 visitors came to the garage over the week end.

According to Dick Fochtman the things most commented upon were the new body lines, the new fender linings and the amount of room in the trunk.

Several Changes Being Made On North Shore

The North Shore will look like the same boat when it starts running again in the spring, but there will be a lot of changes.

A crew of four is at work now giving the diesel motor a complete overhaul. They are Capt. Dick Lyons, Emil Pischner, Willis and Mark Cross.

Emmett McCann is making alterations inside.

Diesel auxiliary motors will replace the present gasoline motors.

An automatic sprinkler system will be installed on the car deck. Besides the automatic feature, the sprinklers also can be controlled from the pilot house or below. This is a new safety feature.

Two New Teachers Join City Faculty

Two new teachers are joining the staff of the elementary school here, one this week and one next.

Both will teach the fourth grade.

Miss Marion Pletcher Tuesday morning took over the class of Mrs. Geraldene Goss, who has resigned. Miss Pletcher was graduated last week from Western Michigan College of Education at Kalamazoo. Her home is Muskegon.

Miss Mary Ann Murphy of Petoskey is to start next Monday. She also received her college work at Western State, and now is employed at the Petoskey Credit Bureau. Miss Murphy will take over the class formerly taught by Mrs. Mildred Paddock which has had Mrs. Roy Bennett as an interim teacher.

William McNally Dies at Hayes Home

Funeral services for William D. McNally, 86, retired Hayes township farmer, were held at St. Mary's church at 9 a. m. Wednesday with Rev. Leo Malinowski officiating. Burial was in the Undine cemetery.

Mr. McNally died Monday at his farm home after a long illness.

Born at Cleveland, Ohio, on Sept. 12, 1862, he came to Hayes township at the age of 15 years. On Feb. 10, 1885, he was married to Mary Haggerty at Petoskey. She preceded him in death April 30, 1927.

He was a member of St. Mary's church.

Surviving are one brother, George of Everett, Wash.

Masons Take Lead from Odd Fellows

The Mason cribbage players turned the tables Monday night, beating the IOOF team by 660 points.

The Odd Fellows had a 643 balance before, thus putting the Masons 17 points ahead so far.

Ray Ashdon was high for the winners and Arlo Wickersham led the IOOF players.

Second Son Arrives

Don Meggison was yelling loudly Tuesday afternoon. Tommy, weighing 8 pounds, 12 ounces, had just arrived at 1:32 p. m. at the Charlevoix hospital. Mother and son were fine.

REMEMBER

More Old Pictures Put on Display

More old pictures of early Charlevoix are displayed in The Courier window.

Art Fagan brought in the present group after so much interest was aroused by those of Dobbie Allard.

The school picture, taken on the north steps of the present building, was of the sixth grade. Those in the back row, as listed by Art, are: himself at the left, Mike Hamlin, Percy Crane, Ed Edwards, George Papineau, John Kirby, Lynn Thomas, Doug Netheton, Bob Bridge and Bill Poole. He doesn't recall who the end boy was, nor could he name more than a few of the girls.

The Bridge street scene shows the Levi Shay harness shop at the right. The building, now remodeled, is Gebeau's grocery Sidewalks and curbs were just being put in. The Ferguson house by the big tree stood on the corner now occupied by Dahlquist's. In reverse of the present street, the west side was largely unoccupied by business places.

New Class for Farm Veterans Will Be Started

Another Veterans' class for on-the-farm training will be started Feb. 3.

The meeting is scheduled for 8 p. m. in the high school. Notices have been sent out to 25 of the applicants for the farm training program from Lansing.

The new class was made possible when the school here was able to hire a third qualified instructor. He is Walter Keefer, now of New Buffalo, who will move here.

At present he is completing a three week qualification program at Michigan State College.

Up to now there have been only two courses offered. These are taught by Ellsworth Besemer and Floyd Ayres. There have been applicants enough for the third but the school has been unable to find an instructor who met federal requirements.

Zeitler Is New Head of Northern Auto

Harry Zeitler is the new manager of the Northern Auto Co. here.

He succeeds Karl Erber, who has resigned to take over the management on Feb. 7 of the W. H. Wallace properties recently purchased by Sinclair Oil.

Mr. Zeitler has been with Northern Auto for two years. Otto Kane will continue to head the shop. He has been there for 30 years. The manager also expects to have a new parts and sales man, and two new mechanics.

This band, numbering 90 pieces is composed of students from most of the bands in this area.

Charlevoix participants include: Sally Swinton, Dwight Smith, Sue Miles, Marge Brow, Clarinets; James Niswander, Doris Nielsen, cornets; Nancy Kipke, June Guild, saxophones; Lorna Lewis, Lyon Van Zant, French horns; Sue Webster, Patsy Hamilton, Baritones; Tom Bieha, trombone; Bruce Shanahan, sousaphone; Joyce McGhan, tympani; Roger Sweet, bass clarinet.

City Approves License Transfer

Approval, as far as the city is concerned, was voted Monday night by the City Council on the transfer of the liquor license for Turner's Bar.

Harry Turner appeared before the Council and asked for an okay on turning the license over to Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Gardner of Saginaw. The Council gave this approval.

The transfer application now goes to Lansing for action by the Liquor Control Commission.

Hamilton, Clarke Accepted by Navy

Nick Hamilton and Bob Clarke, who left last Wednesday for their final examinations before entering the Navy, were accepted and are now at the U. S. N. T. C., Great Lakes, Ill.

The former is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hamilton and the latter the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clarke.

Classes for Adults Will be Determined Thursday Night

Classes in many subjects may be offered to adults as a result of the meeting in the high school Thursday at 8 p. m.

It is being held because a number of Charlevoix citizens have said they would like to have instruction in various lines. Supt. Roy G. Bennett has called the meeting of those interested so the school can learn what the demand is and arrange for instructors.

Each class will be on a fee basis, likely $6 or less for nine weeks of instruction. Only classes for which there is sufficient demand will be arranged.

Petoskey to Send Cage Team Here

Petoskey's Class B team will be coming to Charlevoix this Friday night, seeking to even up the overtime defeat the Rayders handed them on Dec. 4.

Coach Buckmaster of the neighboring city dropped in at the gym Tuesday night for a social call and stayed to see the Charlevoix-Gaylord bout.

In the Conference standings little was changed by the last week's games. The Boyne-Jordan game was postponed to Feb. 1 because of the Golden Gloves.

Chief excitement Tuesday night was provided by the Reserve teams of Charlevoix and Gaylord when they met here. With a minute and a half to play, Gaylord pulled up within two points of the home second team. Bowman and Cunningham sank three shots, however, to end the game 30 to 24.

The first team won easily, 63

Midland Trounces Independents; CIO Teams Also Win

Charlevoix fans Saturday night saw one of the best Michigan teams in action.

They also saw the Independents overpowered 54 to 33. Despite the addition of Hardy, King, Don Carey and Louis Brown to the regular line-up, the Cleaners were no match for the sharp shooting Midland five.

It was the first time the Independents have played before a large turnout. Efforts will be made, according to John Knight, to bring Grand Rapids, Grand Haven and Battle Creek here for Saturday night games.

In a listless game at Boyne City last Wednesday the CIO team outplayed Charlevoix all the way to win 38-34. Gallagher led both teams with 11 points while Kupowski was high for Boyne with 10. The Reserves also stubbed their toes 31-18. Plum and Bergmann led the Reserves with 13 points between them. Bowers was high for Boyne with 11.

Charlevoix's next home game will be Wednesday with the fast Gaylord Eagles. The two teams have split in exhibition games and this one will be a league game.

The standings in the Northern Michigan Independent League on Jan. 24 were:

	Won	Lost
Boyne City	5	1
Charlevoix	2	1
Gaylord	2	2
East Jordan	2	2
Central Lake	0	5

Circuit Judges Will Meet Here

One more convention has been lined up for Charlevoix.

Through the effort of Judge Charles L. Brown, the Circuit Judges of Michigan will meet here at the Belvedere Sept. 7 and 8.

All of City Gloves Team in Finals

Winning both their two fights and drawing a bye for the third, the entire Charlevoix boxing team will be in the Golden Gloves finals Thursday night at Boyne City.

Tuesday night Alvin Bennett won in the 126 pound class over Gail McConnell of Petoskey, Monday night victor.

Greg Bryan took a decision from Delmar Quick of Alpena in the 147 pound group. Quick also was a Monday winner.

Don Burke, 175 pounds, drew a bye but will fight Lex Potter of Petoskey Thursday night.

Winners Thursday night in the finals will go to the Golden Gloves state finals at Grand Rapids.

Coach Jack McDermott says the boys showed up well Tuesday.

Blue Cross Will Offer Protection to Individuals

An opportunity for the individual citizen to get the protection of Blue Cross hospital and surgical insurance will be offered during the next two weeks in Charlevoix County.

Rated as the most economical insurance of its kind in the country, the Michigan Blue Cross has been limited to groups of ten or more. These include Farm Bureau, factories, large offices and similar occupational or industrial groups .

Starting Feb. 4 in Charlevoix, individuals can enroll under the Community Enrollment Campaign which will be put on. Applications and information will be available at the Hospital.

Under this Blue Cross plan, a family can sign up. Depending on what is wanted, a policy can be bought which will pay all hospital bills, give either private room or ward care. The surgical policy gives similar protection for any surgery which has to be done.

No applications from those over 65 are accepted.

The Enrollment Campaign will cover Cheboygan, Emmet, Charlevoix and Antrim counties. It is the first in Michigan this year. This particular area was selected partly as a test to show that the Blue Cross could give protection to individual citizens in a rather thinly populated area.

Mrs. Thomas Jensen Rites Wednesday

Mrs. Thomas Jensen, 59, died early Monday morning at the Charlevoix Hospital following a brief illness.

Funeral services were held at the See Funeral Home at 2 p. m. Wednesday with Rev. Ole Olsen of East Jordan officiating. Burial was in the Lakeside cemetery, East Jordan.

The Merry Primrose Path

Are you or the government going to run your life?

That is the real issue of this coming fight over a "National Health Program" which really is socialized medicine and no health program at all.

It also is the issue at stake between totalitarianism and the western democracies.

It is the question which we Americans have got to decide one way or the other within the next four years.

The mislabeled Health Program of President Truman has a lot of sugar coating. But basically it is a plan under which the government in the end will pay your medical bills and dictate to your physician.

Of course, the government also will collect enough taxes of you to pay the doctor and about ten new federal pap eaters for every physician.

During all these coming months, if we want to keep the personal freedom which has made our country, we've got to apply one test above all to every new measure presented.

This test holds true in every case where the individual's freedom of choice or action is concerned.

If the law says, you have to—It's bad.

If the law says, you can if you want to—it may be good.

New Federal, State Programs Means Worker Will Have Less Pay Left to Take Home, Spend

By Gene Alleman

Lansing—More government employees, more government payrolls and more government taxes for everyone are just beyond the horizon.

This prediction appears to be a safe bet for 1949.

There is only one possible "if": Congress must adopt the comprehensive social insurance program, proposed by President Truman. Many Washington observers agree that such is likely to happen. The popular mandate on Nov. 2 is cited to show which way public opinion is going.

Consider a Michigan worker who gets $3,000 income. Today his payroll deductions for social security—old age insurance—takes 1 per cent or $30 a year. The "bite" on the regular paycheck is small.

Beginning July 1, 1949, if Congress approves expanded social security for everyone, his paycheck deduction will more than doubled, from $30 to $87.50, an increase of $37.50. If the employees earn $4,800 or more, his payroll taxes would total $108.

The employer would pay a like amount, $67.50 or $108 depending on the employee's wage.

If the worker is hired by a firm that has less than eight employees, the employer would be called upon for four successive years to contribute $157.50 for an employee earning $3,000 a year, or $252 for the employee earning $4,800 a year. Thereafter the unemployment compensation rate could decline to a minimum of 1 per cent, making a total minimum contribution of $37.50 by the employer.

These taxes are accounted for by the following proposed social security benefits.

Old-age insurance, now financed by a 1 per cent tax on both the employee and employer, would rise to 1.5 per cent on July 1, 1949. This tax would apply to individual income up to $4,800 instead of $3,000 as at present. Coverage would be broadened to include farmers, farm workers, doctors, small businessmen, and even household help.

Unemployment compensation would be broadened to cover employees of firms hiring less than eight persons. The maximum wage, to be taxed would be $4,800 instead of $3,000, as at present. The employer's payroll tax would be 3 per cent for four successive years; thereafter, 1 per cent minimum and 4 per cent maximum.

Disability (sickness) insurance would be financed by 0.5 par cent on employee and employer alike on the first $4,800 of income. This tax would increase as the program grew.

Health insurance would begin modestly with a 0.25 per cent tax on employee and employer on the first $4,800 of income. Later on this tax would go up gradually.

It all adds up to this: The combined payroll tax, levied by the federal government with credits available to the state governments which are to administer the benefits, would be 4.5 per cent of payroll income up to $4,800 as compared with the present 2 per cent combined tax on incomes up to $3,000.

The $4,800 income worker who now pays $30 a year would pay $108, an increase of $78 a year. Eventually the social security tax would raise to 7½ to 10 per cent on the employee and also the employer. A vast army of government employees would be needed to administer the details of such a broad program affecting practically every man, woman and child in the Nation.

The 1949 payroll tax increase add up to $2,000,000,000.

This contribution would be in addition, of course, to higher federal taxes which are now forecast at $4,000,000,000 and higher taxes by the State of Michigan, also freely forecast as inevitable.

The above factual appraisal of our growing state socialism, whereby bigger and better benefits are to be made available to the American people, affords an inside look at the additional taxes they will be called upon to pay from their income. The State of Michigan will get increased "federal aid" for many social programs. This aid will come out of the earnings of workers and the earnings of business. The net result is more government and more inflation.

NEW AUTO CODE

State Officials Answer Questions

By L. E. Towe

Every year the Towe family goes down to Lansing to attend the annual meeting of the Michigan Press Association. We returned Sunday evening.

This is the same bunch of editors who were here last June for the summer outing. (The winter meeting is the work session.) Charlevoix certainly made a hit. It seemed as though at least a third of the folks there spoke of what a grand time they had here and how much they enjoyed the hospitality.

Not Much Defense

(Note to Irish Coleman: The MPA likely will welcome another invitation in a couple years.)

We had quite an array and variety of speakers, besides the purely shop talk meetings. Officers of the National Guard told how their branch of the service is building up and the opportunities it offers.

One statement rather startled me. President Truman's program calls for only eight skeleton divisions to defend the world's greatest treasure house.

Paper Best Medium

The CROP in the state will have between 100 and 135 carloads of food for Europe's hungry, worth about $500,000.

The man who handles the Ford advertising account said the newspapers are the best ad medium in the country today. Of the total Ford budget, 57 percent goes to the papers, with the bulk for the community newspaper. All the others—radio, magazine, bill boards, house organs—divide the 43 percent between them.

By far the best session of the convention occurred when the 250 newspapermen present fired questions at the top state officials for two hours. And they answered them.

Makes Good Impression

Sen. Don Vanderwerp, probably the outstanding member of that body, says the new governor has made a good impression on the Legislature. I know most of those with whom I talked said he struck them favorably.

He declined to outline his tax program, saying that the Legislature would get that news direct. He said several times he believed the state would have to limit its services to the cash it could raise. The housing program he wants would give the local community the job of starting and partly financing the work done.

New Auto Code

In all this, he impressed me as being far less of a Santa Claus politician than I expected. It was evident (and he made no bones about it) that he has to learn the ropes. But he made just as plain that he has a mind of his own, he has thought out a lot of the problems, he is sincere, and he'll fight for what he thinks is right.

Secretary of State Fred Alger, who looks like Dr. Saltonstall said the Legislature will be asked to enact a whole new auto code. The present one is a hodge podge accumulation, contradictory in spots and faulty in many places, a handicap to both auto owner and official. The new code would be simplified, coherent and put all the regulations in one act. It sounded good to the editors.

Million Is Saved

He also favors having the state issue driver's licenses. After the meeting I asked him pointblank if this wouldn't mean more employees and more tax money. He said no. It would shift the cost in cities from city to state. But it would provide uniform testing and the elimination of a lot of unsafe drivers.

Highway Commissioner Ziegler defended his policy of having the counties maintain roads. He says it cuts state investment and employees, makes for efficiency, and last year saved $1,000,000 which was used for construction.

Face Big Deficit

Treasurer D. Hale Brake stepped into every hot question swinging, and he was handed half a dozen.

"The time is just ahead," he said, "when the Legislature will have to choose between cutting expenditures 50 millions or running out of money.

"A state cannot go on spending forever. When Michigan runs out of money, I'm going to quit signing checks. I can go to jail if I don't.

"The local communities get 60 percent of all the money we take in. There is the whole problem of state financing."

Episcopal Church Elects Officers for Coming Year

The annual business meeting of the Christ Episcopal church was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Barker Wednesday evening with 45 members present.

Rev. Clyde Hoch gave the prayer and presided at the business session at which reports were read and other business discussed. Louis Hamlin was named as delegate to the 75th annual diocesan convention held in Grand Rapids Tuesday and Wednesday.

Officers elected for the year were W. A. Cline, warden, who was reelected; secretary, Mrs. Leo Carey; treasurer, Louis Hamlin; missionary treasurer, Mrs. Don Swinton; choir director and organist, Mrs. Walter Bergeon; Sunday School director, Helen Rose Cline. Mrs. S. E. Coleman, assisted by Mrs. Swinton and Mrs. Barker, are in charge of the Sunday School department in Miss Cline's absence.

Plans were made for a baked goods sale to be held by the Women's Auxiliary on Feb. 5.

Girl Scout News

Girl Scout troop 3 reviewed second class studies. We had a business talk and collected dues. We also dramatized "Mary Had a Little Lamb" and "Hi Diddle Diddle."

Brownie troop 9 met Jan. 20 at the City Hall. We collected 18c dues. We said our Brownie pledge, pledged allegience to the flag, played games and sang songs.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Who's A Foreigner?

While I'm waiting for a haircut the other day, Slim Hartman lets slip with a crack about those "foreigners" who live by the depot.

"Now wait a minute, Slim," snaps Doc Sherman. "Don't forget we're all 'foreigners' more or less. Some of our families have simply been here longer than others. But even if they came over on the Mayflower, they were foreigners to the Indians."

Slim gets a little red and you could see that Doc had him. "And the reason they came here," he goes on, "was to find freedom to do and think as they wanted to so long as they didn't tramp on the rights of the other fellow."

From where I sit, America became the great land it is today through our being tolerant of different people and different tastes—whether it's a taste for square dancing or waltzing, radio or movies, goat's milk or a temperate glass of sparkling beer.

The Black-capped Chick-a-dee

As an optimist, I have always felt that the little black-capped chick-a-dee is tops.

During the years that it has been my privilege to study birds, I believe that the chick-a-dee has been the one bird I have enjoyed the most. It is true that I like the song sparrow for reasons of my own and there are several other birds that are very unusual. But anytime of the year in the Charlevoix region the chick-a dee will be found and it doesn't make much difference what the weather is, it is always about the same. Just a happy go lucky bundle of feathers.

Weather makes no differenee to the chick-a-dee. On days in the dead of winter, when the wind comes howling down from the north and it is cold . . . what I mean is, really cold . . . weather like that doesn't dampen his spirits in the least. It seems only to exhilerate his joy in living. He seems to be more lively and his call notes seem to be more sweet and cherry. Maybe it's because he is such a little tike. But the woods will ring with his music, which sounds like the tinkle of woodland bells and he seems to be always around.

Many a time after a hard day cutting film, my wife and I have strapped on our snowshoes, late in the afternoon and have taken a short swing up through the woods. This little chap and the blue jay seem to be about the only feathered creatures that we hear or see, but chick-a-dee never fails to put in his appearance. Cold and biting winds make no difference.

During the years that we have been feeding the birds here in the woods, this little bird has been the one that has seemed to appreciate our hospitallty the most.

During the time when the chick-a-dees are keeping house in the early spring time, they are not around so much, but I can pretty near alwaya tell when the eggs hatch and the young chick-a-dees start to grow. Then it is that both the male and the female will begin making regular trips to the suet hoppers and as the young chick-a-dees grow larger and larger, the trips are more and mora frequent, and after the birds break their home ties and begin to get around with their parents, it is not unusual to see the two old birds with from seven to nine young ones all accepting our hospitality at the same time. It is then that it's necessary to keep the feeding hoppers well supplied.

Baskets of pastel gladioli, snapdragons and tapers in candelabra decorated the altar of the Barnard Methodist church for the wedding of Kathryn Besemer and Clayton A. Smith at 8 p. m. Saturday. Rev. Howard Moore of East Jordan read the double ring service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Besemer. The bridegroom'a parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith.

Preceding the candlelight service Mrs. Moore sang "Beeause", "Through the Years" and "O Perfect Love", accompanied at the piano by Mrs. John L. Boss, who also played the wedding marches.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, selected a white satin gown designed with a net yoke with appliqued beaded flowers and long sleeves. The full skirt ended in a cathedral length train. Her fingertip veil fell from a beaded tiara and she earried a colonial bouquet of white roses and pink earnations.

Barbara and Carroll Besemer, sisters of the bride, were her attendants. The former was attired in a dusty pink taffeta gown and a matching pink tulle veil. Her bouquet was of pink carnations. The latter chose an aqua taffeta gown and a matching aqua halo headdress. She carried pale yellow carnations.

Carlton H. Smith assisted his brother as best man and Horton Southworth of Monroe was groomsman. Arthur Stoel, Jasper Warner and Millard Taylor seated the guests.

Immediately after the service a reception was held in the church basement. The bride's table held a four tiered wedding cake topped with a love bird and was decorated with lighted tapers.

Band to Try for State Honors at Petoskey Feb. 26

The Charlevoix High School Band under the direction of C. A. Odmark is beginning rehearsals in preparation for the District II Qualifying Festival to be held in Petoskey Feb. 26.

This festival is the qualifying event to determine eligibility for participation in the State Band and Orchestra to be held April 23 in Ann Arbor.

Several changes have been made in festival rules, according to Mr. Odmark, who attended the Mid-West Confarence in Ann Arbor last week.

Chief among these is the limitation on the size of the state festival. Last year 97 bands and orchestras, composed of more than 5,000 high school musicians, converged upon East Lansing. The Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association, which sponsors these festivals, felt that there were too many bands and orchestras taking part for the host city

As a result, effective this year only those bands and orchestraa receiving a I rating in District Festivals will be eligible. This I rating denotes excellence, hence only the best bands and orchestras in the state will be eligible.

Last year those organizations receiving I or II rating could participate,. Charlevoix received a II rating, and took part in the State Festival. This year in order to become eligible, a I rating is necessary.

The Rayders proved beyond a doubt last Friday they were a better team than the one which handed them the first of the two defeats so far this season when they took East Jordan for o 45-26 drubbing.

Neither team showed up too well, both playing a poorer game than usual. Offensively Wallace did the best job of the evening, dropping in 12 points. The boys still were weak on the free throws collecting only on a third of the chances.

More Old Pictures Being Displayed

The motor cycle lineup in front of Ben Brown's was taken about 1915. The new Masonic building is at the right. Ben and his mother are in the lead machine. Dan McSawby is on the third one.

Ray Faulkner is standing in front of his novelty and ice cream store. It now is Zeitler and Woodward's pool room.

Judging by the lineup along River street and in front of the old Fountain City House, the next picture likely was taken at the same time as the other Knights Templar picture. When Lamb-Leudtke moved their big crane last year, they used the same slanting path to the channel which shows in the picture.

The two brick stores were those of Mrs. John Fagan, Art's mother, and Bill Bellinger. The latter family was all lined up for the picture. The Lewis Grand Opera House just shows at the right.

How it looked when the railroad grade was new is shown next. At the right is the Chicago Club bath house with its short walk to the water. The boat dock in front of the depot, used for decades by Charlevoix's lake-going taxis, was just being constructed. The depot looks the same.

The last picture shows the Illinois aground and the old north pier ond light.

Potter Writes of Tax-Free Tickets

A new sidelight on the presidential inauguration comes in a personal letter from Cong. Charles E. Potter.

He writes:

"It is a little ironical to think the Administration—which is supposed to be a champion of the so-called common man—in one breath asked for an increasa in taxes of $4 billion and a week later sent a resolution to the Congress to exempt from the 20% amusement tax inauguration tickets sold at $10 a head to visiting politicians and tickets to the inaugural ball. The person at home has to pay the tax to see a newsreel of the inauguration and still the people who have the money to come to Washington and take in all the gay affairs were to be exempt from paying this 20% amusement tax."

Red Dane Meeting

A meeting has been arranged for all farmers who are interested in raising Red Dane cattle. This meeting has been set for Saturday at 10:30 o. m. in the Community Hall at Ellsworth. All farmers who are interested in this breed of cattle and who would like to know more about this particular breed should plan to attend this meeting.

Three car loads of 18 folks interested in Red Danes made a field trip to Harrisville and visited four herds there. All of these cows are uniform, with well developed udders. They were also the same red color. Milk production and fat production on these cows were good. Some of the boys who made this trip will discuss their impressions at the meeting on Saturday morning.

Poultry Growers Meeting

The first years business of the Poultry Processing Plant at Charlevoix will be discussed. Plans for handling broilers next summer will be developed at this time.

Dr. H. J. Stafseth from Michigan State College will lead a discussion in regard to poultry diseaaea. Charles Reed, Extension Poultryman from Michigan State College will talk on turkey management. Ernest McCarty from Lansing will discuss feeding of turkeys.

Why Is Poultry Manure Hot?

You often hear folks say that poultry manure is "Hot" and will "burn" plants if care isn't used in applying it as a fertilizer. Dr. C. E. Miller, head of the soil science department at Michigan State College, explains this characteristic of poultry manure. It contains somewhat more plant food than does ordinary farm manure, in fact, about twice as much nitrogen and as much phosphoric acid. However, it has somewhat less potash. The nitrogen is in an active condition and may "burn" plants if applied in too large quantities. If you're thinking of using poultry manure as a means of fertilizing ordinary garden soil, it will do a good job. It's a good idea to apply a fertilizer along with it—one that contains some phosphate and potash since plant foods in poultry manure are not well balanced. An O-14-7 or an O-20-10 would be desirable.

Socialized Medicine May Mean Government Domination of Private Life, Panel Tells Club

Not a health progrem, but a aickness one, will be presented to Congress within the next few months, Dr. L. E. Grate told the Congregators Wednesday night.

It was an open forum session on the proposed socialized medicine bill which is being pushed at Washington. Forming the discussion panel which started discussion were Dr. Grate, Rev. Jackson Turner and L. E. Towe.

The bill contains four major propositions, it was agreed. It would seek to provide enough doctors and hospitals to care for America's sick. The government would be the judge of how many was enough.

It would seek to put these hospitals and doctors where they are needed.

It would provide this medical and hospital care for everyone, regardless of financial condition.

It would finance this program by a payroll tax, estimated at 6% at the start, plus enough from the federal treasury to make up deficits.

The panel also agreed that this country today does have a health problem. But as Dr. Grate showed, the health problem is one of education, nutrition, sanitation. And the proposed bill attacks none of these things, only seeking to control the care of the sick and not to prevent that sickness.

The 20 percent rejection of the men drafted for the armed services was cited as proof this country needs a health program. However, analysis of the figure showed the fallacy.

One third of the rejected number were deferred for occupational reasons. A half million were illiterate. Volunteers numbered 2,700,000 and so were not counted in arriving at the 20 per cent.

A sickness program like the proposed one would have helped only two percent of the total.

Such a program would mean three things to the citizen: poorer medical standards, greatly increased costs; a huge new swarm of federal employees to support. As Dr. Grate phrased it: "Today the poor and the rich both get the very best of care and hospitalization. It's only the small middle class who actually would benefit much by this program. The laboring man would pay the bill for them."

That bill would be enormous. The men at Washington who are pushing the idea estimate it would reqoire a 6 percent payroll tax. Half would be paid by the worker and half by the employer, who would pass his part along in higher prices.

Economists such as Dr. William Haber of Ann Arbor say it would require between 15 and 20 percent to finance it instead of 6.

One fact about socialized medicen was clearly brought out. It has benefitted no country that has had it. And no country ever has been able to get rid of it, once established, except when a revolution occurred.

Dirty, abrasive-laden oil invariably causes excessive engine wear. When oil is dirty it no longer protects—it attacks pistons, rings and cylinder walls like a whetstone. Whenever the oil is checked, watch for its condition as well as the amount in the crank case. At the first sign of black oil on the stick, replace the filter cartridge, flush and refill with ROC oil for normal driving, or Northland oil which is made for higher speed driving.

Good, full-bodied oil, if kept clean, will add greatly to engine life. It is practical motoring economy to specify ROC or Northland Motor Oil, whichever is required for your driving needs.

Northland Motor Oil flows freely in cold weather—gives best protection for high speed driving.

ROC Motor Oil is tough—gives engines excellent lubrication under normal driving.

IT HAPPENED ON....

BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

The harbor is rapidly closing in with ice. Only a big puddle of water in the center can be seen.

The Cull boys set nets on Tuesday and lifted Saturday. The LaFond cut a path to open water Saturday morning, but was unable to reach the dock on the return trip in the afternoon. Mike Cull said it is unusual to set and lift nets at this time of the year for Island fishermen. However, every five or six years, the harbor remains open for fishing in January.

Karl Keubler returned to the Island Wednesday after attending the Forest Fire Officer's Training School at Higgins Lake. Karl was one of 98 officers attending the six days of classes.

Washington had nothing on Beaver Island on inauguration day. With a song in their democratic hearts "We're All Crazy About Harry" and a desire to celebrate, Beaver Islanders gathered together the evening of the 20th in the Parish Hall. There was a Jiggs supper—corned beef and cabbage prepared by Sophia McDonough, to start off the festivities. Speeches were made and a new democratic chairman elected. It was a neck and neck run of brother against brother, Pat and Vernon LaFreniere with Vernon coming out on top. A special table was arranged for Republicans who wished to rub elbows with democrats. Some were there.

On the three mail days last week, snow was flying like fury and visibility poor, but the mail came. The twin engine Cessna delivering the mail is equipped with everything necessary for blind flying.

We know Matt Melville has his interests—cattle, horses, sports, his cabin in the woods on Sand Bay, but never did we realize his secret ambition is to be a fancy cook. This was revealed when deep among his supplies, a book entitled "The Secrets of the Mystery Chef" was found.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Martin and one of the twins returned to the Island Saturday via McPhillip's station wagon after a week spent on the mainland.

The Juniors of St. James high sponsored a benefit party Friday evening in the Parish Hall.

Jack Boyle flew from Chicago to Pellston and to the Island Saturday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Boyle.

Here's one way to get rid of an old car that is constantly balking and costing real "dough" to keep up, and that is to take an ax and "hack it" to pieces. That's just what Carl Left did recently earning for himself the title of "Ax Man II".

rary devoted entirely to such books appropriately marked. There is something close and friendly about such a memorial shelf. Instead of so many flowers which are soon gone or a cold slab of marble in a cemetery, here is something warm and close about a memorial shelf. Scarcely a day would pass but someone would open the flyleaf of such a book and read the memorial." The Dickens Club have bookplates printed and anyone desiring to make such a gift to the Library can see Miss Milner or call at The Courier and the matter will be given full consideration. Such a memorial shelf was started in Jonesville (1300 population) a few years ago and the last report was that 649 books had been put on that shelf in memory of persons in that community. Every boy who had lost his life in service had one or more books in his memory . . . Speaking of the Library, the weeks ahead are the worst ones of the year and there is liable to be snow or rain. When the weather is bad Miss Milner puts the books in sacks to keep them from getting wet. If you have some paper sacks cluttering up your drawer, wouldn't you like to put them to good use in the preservation of our books?

Seems as though this past week has been my prize week for forgetfulness. After last week's paper had been all printed I suddenly came to with a terrible start that I had omitted to tell about the two luncheons and bridge parties given by Alice Bellinger and Benona Kohler at the Kohler home the week before. What made it still worse was that I was at the party on Saturday afternoon as a guest. The girls showed themselves the real cooks they are, served wonderful food and then there was an afternoon of fun at the bridge tables. At the first party Mrs. F. F. McMillan won high score, Mrs. Ed Edwards second high and Mrs. Don Swinton the travelling prize. At the next afternoon's party Mrs. Gilbert Saltonstall won high score, Mrs. Arthur Ranger, second high and Mrs. Mary Cooper the travelling prize.

Well, the president's inauguration is over and the country can now settle down and await the surprises that the Fair Deal has to offer . . . Harry Foster and Clair Webster returned home last week from New York and have now gone again to St. Louis to the boat show there and will stop enroute home at the boat show in Chicago . . .

St. Mary's Pupils Return to Classes In Repaired Building On Wednesday Morning

Pupils of St. Mary's school Wednesday returned to their classes after an unexpected seven day vacation caused by the collision of a truck with their building Jan. 17.

After a survey of the damage by two engineers, the contract was let last week to Arnest W. Priebe of Petoskey. He started work at once and by Tuesday night the work was far enough along to allow classes to be resumed Wednesday.

The building was jacked and slid back into place. The foundation wall at the south end was rebuilt. In the basement steel posts replaced the cracked concrete ones, and the cracked post in the attic fixed. Wiring was checked, stairs gone over and the smashed siding repaired.

The offer of the American Legion hall for use as temporary classrooms was declined. The hall presented too much of a problem for the short time involved, Fr. Leo Malinowski says, and it was decided to wait until the repairs were completed.

Four Fair Directors Go to State Session

Representing the Charlevoix County Fair, four men from this county attended the annual meeting of the Michigan Association of Fairs in Detroit last week.

They were Jess Smith, George Haggard, Claude Pearsal and Ed Rebman.

Fr. Malinowski Is Made Club Member

Another new member was received into Kiwanis Monday night.

Rev. W. D. Wood, Kiwanis lieutenant governor, welcomed Fr. Leo Malinowski into the group. In his charge, Rev. Wood said that as a pastor dedicated to the service of others, the new member already was a living example of the principles of Kiwanis.

Robert Coleman, district sanitarian, spoke on sanitation in eating places and showed a film on new dishwashing methods. He stated that improperly washed dishes are a health risk second only to contaminated food.

He also said that as part of his work he is compiling a unified set of health and sanitation rules which he will present to the Board of Supervisors in the spring for their consideration.

News of folks, your neighbors and mine . . .but did you know that—

More wedding bells to ring. Is this June or February . . . 'Twas a good bit of snow that deseended upon us last week but we had to have something to remind us that it was really winter up in these parts . . . The Shrine Circus in Grand Rapids is over. It must have been fun to have attended. The Archie Livingstons who are living in Rockford attended and a note from Manie Fessenden in Muskegon states that all their family was going from there.

The Allan Campbells were getting things in readiness last week so that they could take off this week for Florida for a month or so on vacation . . . Monday morning Mrs. Florine Stelter left for Detroit. There she will meet Georgia Gloster and Daisy Harsha and the three of them plan to go to New Orleans, down into Texas and possibly on to Monterey, Mexico, before the trip is over. Mardi Gras in New Orleans begins March 2 . . .

The George Smiths are also in Florida and the Arlo Wickershams expect to spend a few weeks in Arisona with their daughter and another nurse from Ann Arbor who will accompany them . . . And even my husband will be gone for about six weeks. Guess I will be ready for Timbuctoo or somewhere in the South Seas about April. But it surely is a great life, anyhow!

Passing the stores on Bridge Street one cannot but remember that Valentine Day will soon be upon us . . . Greetings, boxes of candy, those big red heart ones always did make my heart skip a beat or two . . . Looks as though a lot of ma's and pa's want some more educating by the number who showed up at school for Adult Education classes last week. It will surely be fun to be in a Spanish class again . . .

The old pictures in The Courier window have surely brought forth a lot of interest. Isn't it just a pity that some of the stories and experiences of things that happened on Main Street in those yesterdays cannot be recorded and kept. There is that old saying "we do not outgrow our past, we grow out o fit." Now surely is a good time for a historical society to be formed in Charlevoix county to preserve and collect items that will some day mean a great deal. So many of our old-timers who really had stories to tell (much more interesting than we read in best sellers) are quickly passing from us. Something should be done before it is too late . . .

License Plate Sale Lags Behind Last Year's Pace

There's going to be a bad jam the last of this month when folks want to buy auto licenses.

So far this year 151 fewer plates have been sold than had been bought in 1948. With the deadline set for Feb. 28, there will be a wild rush at the end unless folks start buying soon, according to F. R. Bulow, local manager of the Secretary of State's office.

At that, Charlevoix County is doing better than Michigan as a whole. Only 270,657 drivers have bought licenses thus far. That leaves about 1,989,617 who still have to get new licenses before March I.

Although all the prepared titles have been sent out from Lansing, Bulow says that his office will help those who come now to fill out forms here if necessary. For commercial vehicles, owners must bring the prepared application, title and last year's registration slip.

Area Sends Large Groups to District M. U. C. C. Session

Charlevoix and Ellsworth sent the two largest delegations of any communities to the district meeting of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs Saturday night at Boyne City.

Going from Ellsworth were George Koster, Charles Edson, Delbert Clow, Andrew Kooyer, John Wieland and Fred Schoenfelder.

Those from Charlevoix were Bonnie Nickerson, Bud Fisher, Greg Shadko, Glenn Ingalls, S. E. Coleman, Glenn Pemberton and L. E. Towe.

Farmers Invited to Attend Rod, Gun Club Meeting

Farmers of the area around Charlevoix are being invited by the Rod and Gun Club to attend the February meeting Thursday at 8 p. m. at the Odd Fellow Hall.

The club wants to discuss with them mutual problems of game conservation and protection for the land owners. The invitation is one result of the meeting which was called out in Heyes township the last of December.

Blue Cross Offers 2 Health Plans

Charlevoix County citizens will have an opportunity this week and next to enroll in the Blue Cross plan, the first time this hospital and surgical insurance has been offered to individuals instead of groups.

The Michigan Blue Cross during the next two weeks in Northwestern Michigan is putting on a Community Enrollment campaign. Its purpose is two-fold. It is a test (which will be the basis for national policy) to see if folks in a thinly settled rural area want health insurance.

It offers individuals an opportunity to obtain the insurance by families instead of by large groups as heretofore.

Information and application blanks can be obtained at the Charlevoix Hospital starting Friday noon.

Along with the individual offer, the Blue Cross is making another one for small groups. Before this, only groups with ten or more could sign up. During the Enrollment campaign groups with as few as five can sign.

There is one proviso on this. The group must be employed at one place. And if there are ten or less employees, only one of the total may remain outside the group. (Thus if a plant employs seven, six at least must sign up.)

Kiwanis Takes Lead In Move for Juvenile Home

The serious need of this county for a juvenile detention home was pointed out to the Kiwanis Club Monday night and a plan presented which may result in one for Charlevoix County.

Probate Judge Floyd Supp pointed out that state law forbids any youth under 15 being admitted to a county jail. The county needs a place to care for the few juveniles we have who need to be detained, either for a few hours or days, the Judge said.

He suggested that the Kiwanis Club name a committee which will ask the other service clubs in the county to appoint similar groups. These will study the situation and try to find some place suitable and financially within reach to meet the need.

The proposal was approved. President Clarence Meggison named Judge Supp, Frank Bird and Rev. W. D. Wood.

• Don Carey and Jeannie Hardy were home for the week-end from Alma College and while here Don celebrated his birthday.

United Fund's Drive in County Starts Feb 14

Solicitation for the United Fund (United Health and Welfare Fund of Charlevoix County) is scheduled to start Feb. 14.

This is a county-wide drive which next fall will be combined with the Community Chest Drive of Charlevoix, Boyne City and East Jordan. The Community Chest budget this year purposely did not include any outside agencies since all these outside agencies were to be included in this United Fund Drive.

The budget for the county is $3,600.00, which is to be solicited from everyone in the county. Each township is cooperating in the county so that there is as the name implies, a United Fund. The division of the $3,600 would mean that the City of Charlevoix, Charlevoix

Adult Classes Will Start Thursday Night

The first classes in adult education will be held at the Charlevoix high school building at 7:30 Thursday evening, Supt. Roy G. Bennett has announced.

At the first meeting held Thursday evening between 50 and 55 Charlevoix residents registered for classes in commercial subjects including typing, bookkeeping and shorthand; shop which includes woodwork and mechanical drawing; sewing and Spanish.

Others requested courses in art, current events and radio repair which might be offered later if additional students should apply for the subjects.

The instructors for the courses which will be given two hours each week will be announced later.

The classes are being financed by the school district, state funds for adult education and a course fee paid by the students.

Loton Willson to Head Annual Red Cross Drive

Loton Willson of Boyne City has been named campaign chairman for the annual Red Cross Fund drive ot be held in March, Ralph S. Hamilton, chairman of the Charlevoix county chapter, has announced. Frances Martin has been asked to be publicity chairman for the drive.

Plans are now underway for the kick-off meeting to be held later this month. The quota for the annual drive will be announced later.

IOOF Now Leads Cribbage Tourney

With the winter cribbage battle half over, it is a neck and neck fracas.

Monday the IOOF card sharks came out 55 points ahead, scoring 15,287 to the Masonic 15,232. That makes the Odd Fellows all of 38 points ahead for five sessions.

Robert Mitchell led for the Odd Fellows with Ernie Hiller being top Mason.

Norwood Pupils Learn Three R's, Art, Music, to Work and Play Together

(Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of stories and pictures The Courier will carry on the five rural schools in the Charlevoix area. Next it will be on Bay Shore and after that on Marion Center, Ironton and Hortons Bay.)

The fine arts, along with the three R's, play an important part in the schooling of the 16 pupils who attend the Norwood school.

Music and music appreciation, drawing, painting and design all are included in the class work by Mrs. Grace Warner, the teacher.

With a group which ranges from the kindergarten through the eighth grade, work which will fit all ages is difficult to find. But last Thursday Mrs. Warner had the class busy on such a project. It was making paper snowflake patterns. The trick is to get a square piece of paper, then fold it into sixths, trim the wide end and notch the sides. After two or three tries, even the first gradera were doing it.

The Norwood building originally was designed for a much

Cleaners Need Two Victories to Lead Leauge

The Charlevoix Independents will face the Boyne City team next Tuesday in a showdown battle for league leadership.

By defeating Boyne and then Gaylord, the Cleaners could tie for the title, thus necessitating a playoff or a flip of the coin to decide which team gets the home floor in the regular league playoffs to follow the end of the tournament.

The first and third, and the second and fourth teams will play. The winners then meet for the championship.

The Independents split in two league games away last week, stopping East Jordan 41-36 and losing to Gaylord 41-23. They also lost a non-league game to St. Ignace 51-40. St. Ignace will come here for a return game Feb. 22.

The league standings are:

	Won	Lost
Boyne City	5	1
Charlevoix	3	2
Gaylord	3	2
East Jordan	2	3

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Allard will observe their fifty-eighth wedding anniversary on Friday.

Mr. Allard, a retired lighthouse keeper, and his wife make their home at 103½ West Lincoln ave.

Mr. Allard, who served many lighthouse stations in northern Lake Michigan, is now 85 years old. Mrs. Allard, the former Pauline Cheney, is 75. The couple were married in Petoskey on Feb. 4, 1891, and have always made their home in Charlevoix except for trips to various lighthouses along the lake.

They have one son, Lee; one granddaughter, Mrs. Robert Herington and three great grandsons.

Harbor, Boyne Next Opponents

With the two crucial games of the season coming up next, Charlevoix's Red Rayders tucked two resounding victories under their belts as preparation for meeting Harbor and Boyne.

Both games will be here: Harbor this Friday and Boyne City a week later.

Boyne still tops the win column with no defeats followed by Charlevoix in second place.

During the last week Charlevoix ran up the most lopsided tally of the season Tuesday at Pellston. And Friday it handed the Class B Petoskey squad a sound 48-34 spanking.

The Reserves split their two games, dropping a close 36-38 game to the Petoskey second team and winning easily 28-11 from Pellston.

Church of God Plans to Build Recreation Hall

By next fall Charlevoix likely will have a new recreation building.

Plans are being worked out now by the Church of God to erect a combined recreation and Sunday School building back of its church.

The structure likely will be 30 or 35 by 70. The first floor will have a large hall and a kitchen. The second floor will have Sunday School rooms.

For the last two years the church has been talking about such a building. "It looks as though we may build it now," said Rev. W. D. Wood Tuesday.

It will be available to other community affairs, he said.

Scouts Observe National Week

Next week starting Sunday the Boy Scouts of this county will be observing the beginning of the fortieth year of their organization.

Along with the two million other Scouts in this country, those at Charlevoix will have their own week-long observation.

It will start Sunday with every Scout attending the church of his choice. Pastors here have been asked to make part or all of the sermon on Scouting.

Then at 2:30 in the afternoon in the Memorial Park the Torch Lighting ceremony will take place. This ties in with the theme of the Anniversary Week activities, which is "Strengthen the Arm of Liberty." Once lighted, this torch will be kept ablaze all week.

The Charlevoix ceremony will be a duplicate of one which will be taking place all over the country. On the same day, 12 Scouts will light a similar torch at Washington and will visit the Statue of Liberty at New York. The Scenic Trails Council was honored by having a Traverse City Scout chosen as one of the 12. There are 87 Counells in this country.

Bennett Wins Title, Medal at Golden Gloves

Alvin Bennett, 128 pound novice fighter from Charlevoix, will go to the Golden Gloves Regional at Grand Rapids Feb. 14 to represent this district.

Don Burke is the runner-up in the 175 pound class.

The boys won these positions last Thursday night in the finals of the district matches at Boyne City.

Greg Bryan, Charlevoix's third entry, lost on a decision to Pat Collins of Cheboygan at 147 pounds. Bryan put up one of the gamest fights of the evening and had the crowd yelling for him. Knocked down five times during the three rounds, he came back every time. Despite his opponent's greater reach, Bryan gave him such a battle that Collins was unable to appear for the final battle and forfeited to Paul Schroeder of Petoskey.

Bennett won one of the quickest victories of the whole card. He knocked out Marvel Clement of Petoskey in the first round.

Burke easily took the first of his three rounds against Lex Potter of Petoskey. Then his wind began giving out and Potter took the fight on a decision.

Navy Invites Editor to Maneuvers

By Mrs. ElDean Towe

Telephone calls don't always bring bad news; sometimes they bring startlingly good news.

Sunday afternoon the phone rang. Chicago was calling Larry Towe. I said he wasn't in. Then when he returned, would I have him call Chicago? The United States Navy had picked him as one of eight weekly publishers from the entire United States to go on fleet maneuvers in February and March.

I sort of gasped and asked them to say that over.

About 6 o'clock Larry and Dudley dragged themselves in from a Boy Scout hike. I wouldn't even let him get his mackinaw off.

"You'd better sit down," I told him. "I've got some news for you and you can't take it standing up. It's too sudden."

When I broke it to him, not gently, he just gasped. (He said later it took a couple of hours for the idea to soak through.)

He called Chicago back.

For the first time, in its recent history at least, the Navy was inviting a picked group of weekly publishers to go as news observers on the spring training maneuvers of the Atlantic Fleet. Before this only men from the metropolitan dailies and national magazines had been taken.

Just eight men from the entire United States were being invited. Larry was the only one from Michigan and one of the two from the whole Middle West.

The maneuvers were to be a combined operation of the Navy, Marines and Air Force with about 52,000 men taking part. He was to be at Norfolk, Va., and embark the evening of Feb. 16. He would get back to Norfolk March 26.

The fleet would visit Puerto

Conservation—and Taxes

There's been a big variety of interesting items turned up during the last week. Here's the gleaning of them:

Over at the MUCC meeting Saturday night (that stands for Michigan United Concervation Clubs) one delegate said the state should pass laws providing stiffer penalties for game violations. A couple of other men there took issue with him. What really is needed is stronger application of the present laws.

Justices, before whom game violators are brought, in most cases can give up to $100 fines and 30 days in jail. Instead for shining deer sometimes a $20 fine is assessed.

My feeling is that the game violator is doing more than killing a deer illegally. He is robbing all the law abiding citizens of the community by wantonly destroying one of our big tourist assets—a natural resource which brings revenue to the whole community. He should get a stiff lesson.

The Army and Navy want a 20 mile strip along the Lake Huron shore set aside for a bombing range area. This means no pleasure craft, no fishing boats, no commercial ships should traverse that section.

The fliers unquestionably need a practice area. But it seems as though it would be possible to find one which would not damage both our fishing and tourist business.

If we want good ronds, we're going to start paying for them. Introduced into the legislature last week were seven road bills.

Provided were: 1 1/3 cents more tax on gas, 15 cents more por hundred weight tax and a one third boost on commercial truck licenses.

That is the kind of a tax of which I approve. If we want public service, let us pay for it directly and those who benefit stand the cost. It is better and cheaper than putting on one of those hidden taxes which are painless only because we don't realize how badly we're being stung.

Speaking of taxes, a letter from Sen. Homer Ferguson at Washington has a paragraph on this line. He writes:

"As I see it, the difficulty is that the tax money taken from our people is appropriated to benefit various groups. These groups brig greater pressure in order that they may secure funds from the Federal Government. It is surprising the pressure which is brought upon members of Congress by the people back home to increase appropriations. I am reminded of a woman who wrote me saying she could not understand why the Federal Aid to Education bill was not passed because it would not cost the taxpayer one dollar—the government was going to pay the full cost."

The annual report of the Department of Revenue of Michigan arrived last week. It had three things which struck me as being particularly interesting. One little table speaks for itself;

Tax Collections In Michigan
(In Millions)

	Federal	State	Local
1940	287.2	140.8	167.3
1948	2,252.3	343.2	247.2

It's time we started cutting down and not increasing the golden stream we're pouring down the drain at Washington.

Second: tax collection by the state is three times as efficient as it was back in 1938. Back then $2.22 of every $100 collected went to pay for collection. Now it takes only 70 cents.

Third: The Department's report doesn't sound too happy over the new watercraft tax. That is the cockeyed levy started last year under which watercraft owners pay for a little license tag and the money is supposed to go for harbor improvements—which should be a local and not a state project.

It is a tough and costly tax to collect, it brought in only $55,478.98 and the Report frankly says it hopes the Legislature will give it considerable study.

On Behalf of Boxing

There are those who deplore boxing and say it is degrading.

Maybe it has had bad associations. But one thing impressed me over at the Golden Gloves. Those boys evidently had learned three lessons. When they went into the ring, they gave everything they had.

They fought fair and according to the rules.

Once the bout was over, there was good sportsmanship. There were no grudges; they had been opponents but not enemies. They were friends.

Those aren't bad lessons for any boy to learn.

In every part of the nation more than 2,200,000 boys and their adult leaders, will observe Boy Scout Week, Feb. 6th to 12th, marking the 39th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America. The theme of the celebration is "Adventure—that's Scouting!" This year the movement is emphasizing the fun and fellowship its members get out of the game of Scouting. More high adventure is planned in the out-of-doors. Their adventure in citizenship will find Scouts emphasizing civic service activities, emergency service training and world Scouting relationships. During Boy Scout Week, Scouts, their parents and countless communities will honor the volunteer adult leaders of the nation's 70,000 Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Senior Units. Has Secret Primary Picked Poor Officials? Sentiment In State Grows Against It

By Gene Alleman

LANSING—Michigan's secret primary is under fire.

According to D. Hale Brake, state treasurer, it has broken down party responsibility. It has invited popular nomination and election of individuals who were without obligation to party platforms or even party affiliation. As a remedy for the boss-ridden convention, it has developed its own weaknesses and evils: irresponsibility of the party leader to the party; a seesaw fluctuation of voters' whims whereby glamour is favored rather than personal ability. Such is the criticism.

Mr. Brake does not favor outright abandonment of the primary and a return to the party convention system as its substitute. He never got along with Frank McKay when McKay was party boss. Brake does favor a pre-primary convention at which party delegates would be given the opportunity to select nominees. These nominees, together with any others who filed petitions, would be subject to the voters' approval or disapproval at the regular party primary.

While Mr. Brake has not alluded to recent party leaders in his campaign to abolish the secret primary, it is obvious that he has in mind former Governor Kim Sigler. Sigler was elected county prosecutor on a Democratic county ticket. He was not the choice of party leaders. Rebuffed by a circuit court judge who was presiding as a one-man grand jury, Sigler tossed his hat into the Republican primary. He was swept into nomination and election on a popular protest wave against so-called corruption and graft at Lansing. A figure of glamour himself, Sigler became the knight on the white horse, the reformer battling lobbyist and other arch enemies of good government. His pearl-grey crap-shooting coat, cowboy hat, and oratorical voice made a flashy combination. It was just like Hollywood.

Governor G. Mennen Williams comes from a family said to be generally Republican. He has been at odds with the Democratic state chairman. He ran his own campaign, raised his own funds, and otherwise operated outside of the party organization.

It is Treasurer Brake's belief that the secret primary, without party restraint or responsibility, invites the nomination of a man who excells in glamour, sex appeal, or other charms that strike the voters' fancy at the moment.

Does Mr. Brake's conviction suggest a personal ambition that is now frustrated or at least handicapped? Lansing observers who have watched the steady progress of the state treasurer agree that what he lacks in glamour, personality, charm or call-it-what-you-may, he certainly makes up in plain old-fashioned common sense.

Here is a man who operates a successful farm in Montcalm county near Stanton. He is literally a dirt farmer, not a gentleman farmer who surveys the work done by others and who basks in the glory of their harvest. Hale Brake can dehorn a cow. Fortunately for the Montcalm farmer this fact is not generally known to the voters, many of whom apparently demand drama and excitement in their political leaders.

County clerks of Michigan met at Lansing last week. They were in agreement, so it is reported, that the secret primary should be abolished and that voters should declare party affiliation before they could enjoy the privilege of selecting party nominees.

Crossing of party lines whereby a Democrat tries to nominate a "weak" Republican candidate, and vice versa, has become a political factor in Michigan under the present system.

Oakley E. Distin, Detroit election supervisor, said the secret primary was introduced 14 years ago by a Republican legislature in order to protect Republican office-holders in a New Deal administration. Later the legislature required seperate ballots for presidential and state tickets on the belief that this separation would prevent Democratic state leaders from riding to election on the coat-tail of FDR. What happened last November? The dual ballot plan backfired. Voters favored Gov. Thomas E. Dewey for president, but switched over by hundreds of thousands to mark a cross in front of the name of Democrat G. Mennen Williams for governor.

The present reaction against the secret primary is also one aftermath of the defeat of Kim Sigler last November. People who voted "against" Sigler by voting "for" Williams are now inclined to condemn "glamour"—the handsome face on the billboard, the oratorical voice on the radio, the happy personality on the platform.

Would a pre-primary convention serve as a check against these?

You're going to hear more in 1949 of D. Hale Brake's crusade for party responsibility.

United Fund Drive Will Unite Many Campaigns In One

Township, Marion Township, Norwood Township, Hayes Township and Pesina and St. James Townships on Beaver Island would raise $1,200 as their share.

This $3,600 will be divided among 21 groups, many of whom formerly had their individual drives in Charlevoix. Almost half the budget, $1,642 goes to Cancer, Polin and Crippled Children's work. USO gets $204.00. The Children's Aid Society and Salvation Army receive $300 and $100. The balance is divided among such organizations as American Heart Association, Mental Hygiene, Epilepsy League and other public health groups who serve on a national scale.

There also is $112 for the State United Fund, $99 for campaign expenses and an Emergency Fund of $260 to care for unforseen needs. This last, like the same item in the Community Chest, is carried over to next year if not used.

The purpose of the United Fund is to unite all the various agencies. Some of the larger agencies are still not entirely willing, from the headquarter level, to cooperate. However, the United Fund has decided to raise money for their services and after the drive offer the money to these various agencies.

In the case of cancer services, in 1947, the Chest raised money for the Cancer Society although they objected. However, when the money was offered to them it was willingly accepted. This made it unnecessary for the solicitors to go out and solicit for cancer only. The same will be true of Infantile Paralysis Fund and the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

The United Fund is not legally allowed to specifically raise money for the agencies which do not wish to accept it. It raises money for Infantile Paralysis or crippled children services and if one service refuses, it can be offered to another. For instance: if the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis (March of Dimes) refuses the money raised, it can be turned over to the Sister Kenney Foundation as no agency has a monopoly on helping overcome any of these afflictions.

The main purpose as stated before, is to make a United Drive to keep from having one for each of many causes, to avoid having various people being repeatedly asked to serve on drives, and to avoid constantly bothering contributors.

It has been argued—it is easier to raise money if there are several drives so that contributions can be spread out over longer periods. This is easily answered in that the pledge cards provide for contributions to be spread out over a period of a year into any number of installations desired.

The present County United Fund Board of Directors are: Gordon L. Freedman, Robert Bridge, Rev. Jackson Turner, Charles Wells of Charlevoix;

Mr. and Mrs. John Porter, Mr. Wm. Shepard of East Jordan;

Mrs. S. A. Tokoly, Arthur Rouse of Boyne City.

• Word comes from Mrs. Jeanne Hawley, the former Jeanne Englehart, that she and her husband got back to Colorado from their California trip just ahead of the big storm.

Old Masonic Group Picture Brought In

There's another old time picture in The Courier window.

This one was brought in by M. K. Chew. The three men are Isaac Webster, retired farmer and sailor; Major Green, attorney; Willard Smith, editor of the Sentinel.

Green, who had served in the Confederate Army, had his home where Earl A. Young's office now is. The present Slezak Shoe Shop was his law office. The apple trees behind the Young office were part of his back yard office.

Smith was a fiery writer who didn't spare his opponents.

Mr. Chew believes that since all three were active Masons, the picture likely was taken when the trio were officers of one of the Masonic orders here.

Polio Gets Top Sum Per Death

Health Department's Task Is to Keep Us Healthy, Club Told

The job of the Health Department, Dr. A. F. Litzenberger told the Kiwanis Club Monday night, is to prevent illness rather than to cure it.

Head of the District Health Department, Dr. Litzenberger said its four chief fields are maternity and child care, sanitation, keeping vital statistics and preventing or fighting communicable diseases.

Here we are close to the national standards, he says. We have one public health nurse for every 5000 persons, and a director and sanitarian for 50,000. He praised the value of the work done by Mrs. Dean Davenport and told how East Jordan is so impressed by it that that community is starting a similar program.

Funds to carry on the work come from three sources. The Supervisors appropriate 50 cents per capita, which is all that should be asked of them. State funds set by law bring in more and Federal funds take care of TB, children's health work, and venereal disease control.

SeaBee Veterans Will Organize

Organization of a Michigan Department of the SeaBee Veterans of America will take place Feb. 12 and 13 at the Hotel Olds in Lansing.

H. P. McKinney of Charlevoix is heading the organization work in this area, in SeaBee terms called Island X-D.

Last year at Chicago a national group was formed. The state and area work is following on that. Michigan is one of the first states to get started. SeaBee veterans who can attend the Lansing meeting can obtain information from McKinney or E. C. Barnard, 630 Lathrop street, Lansing.

Keith Carey Still Honored At Alma

Don Carey, Charlevoix, currently leading the scoring for the Alma Scots with 101 points in 11 games, is a brother of Keith Carey, all-time Alma College great on the basketball court.

Keith was one of the high scorers of the 1041-42 MIAA Championship team, with a total of 107 points in 10 league games and 289 in all contests that season. His shot percentage was .669, a factor which did much to earn him a first team berth on the all-MIAA squad that year, also a berth on the Detroit Free Press all-state squad. In a poll of coaches, Keith rated just five points short of Harold Gensichen for best player in the state honors.

Banks Here Pay Intangible Tax

Good news for those paying the state Intangible Tax comes from Lansing.

Both the banks here in Charlevoix have taken advantage of the tax law provision which permits them to pay the tax for all their depositors, thus saving the individual the nuisance of entering his bank account on his tax report.

Hamiltons, Cooks Leave for South

Picking a good, stormy day to leave, the Ray Hamiltons, and the Albert Cooks started for the south Friday morning.

They planned to go by way of South Bend and Memphis to New Orleans, then along the Gulf Coast to Florida and posibly down to Key West. They expect to be back in about a month.

Ladies Aid to Raise Funds for Building

The Ladies Aid of the Church of God has been divided into six teams. Chairmen of the groups are: No. 1, Mrs. Peter Timmer; No. 2 Mrs. Archie Ward; No. 3, Mrs. Arthur Krulik; No. 4, Mrs. Leo Berg; No. 5, Mrs. John Funk; No. 0, Mrs. John Stephens.

The aim of each group will be to raise a given sum of money by Sept. 1 for the new recreation building which the church is planning to build.

Group No. 5 gave a chicken supper at the home of Mrs. Funk on Friday evening. Seventy-five were served during the evening.

Sorority Chapter Will Be Started

A chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will be truly launched Monday night when nine women from Charlevoix will go to Petoskey as guests at an invitation dinner.

Book On Caesar Is Outlined at Club

Fifteen members of the Shakespeare Club met with Mrs. Leo Carey Monday afternoon for their lesson which was given by Mrs. Kit Carson.

She gave a review of the latest book of Thornton Wilder's "Ides of March." Mr. Wilder spent two years in Romo in preparation for the book. Written as a series of letters by Caesar and his associates who figured in the Shakespearian play, the book disclosed events that happened during that time in a personalized manner.

Lindberg Book Is Discussed by Club

Twenty members of the Dickens Club met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Clarence Wood for their first February meeting.

Mrs. Clair Webster read the meaty little 50 page book of Charles Lindberg's, "Of Flight and Life." The book is a great plea to the world in this atom bomb era to strike a balance before we think ourselves supermen ,and not to forget God, or this civilization may go down as others before us.

Following the lesson a surprise tea party was held, the day happening to be the birthday of Mrs. L. E. Towe. Two candle lighted cakes baked by Mrs. Ray Faulkner and Mrs. Archie Livingston suddenly were brought to the tea table placed before the surprised member and enjoyed by all.

Instead of the regular meeting in two weeks, the Dickens Club will entertain the members of the Shakespeare Club on Feb. 11 at the home of Mrs. L. E. Towe from 3 to 5 p. m.

Mrs. Edythe Harris Weds South Bend Man

Mrs. Edythe Harris, former Charlevoix resident, and Mr. Celeste Bueche of South Bend were married at 3:30 p. m. Saturday at the home of the bride's daughter, Mrs. James Morrow, in South Bend.

The service was read by Rev. William E. Clark, pastor of the First Methodist church, in front of the fireplace, which was decorated with snapdragons, ferns and candelabra.

The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Lescher of Elyria, Ohio, sister and brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served to 20 guests.

The couple will make their home at 415 Sherman St., South Bend.

Big Red Helps Publicize City

Even the dogs here help publicize Charlevoix.

Red, the big Irish setter of Edward Heise, Jr., got his picture on the cover of the Norge News. Inside, a short story told how the picture came to be there.

Heise was working on the Bell building job. It was cold. Red would go in the little frame office and sit beside the Norge space heater. One of the men snapped the picture. Glenn Ingalls, Norge dealer here saw the shot and sent in a copy.

Norge considered it good enough for the cover.

Mrs. Fred Tyler had a rare sight Tuesday. Looking out the back window, she saw a buck and doe go slowly along the Belvedere fence.

• Walker Miles, mail carrier at the Post Office is un vacation.

See What You Hunt

Adequate visual skills are a requisite to safe hunting. Approximately seven million people take out hunting licenses each year. It is estimated that between four and five hundred fatal accidents occur in this country each hunting season, as well as three to four thousand non-fatal accidents

Mothproof Textiles

German textile finishes called eulans are said to give complete protection against moths, carpet beetles and even termites. An army quartermaster report said one eulan mothproofs wool, fur and related products, and is fast to washing and light Another protects fibers against carpet beetles and seems to protect cellulose material against destruction by termites.

Farmer's Food Bill

Farmers in the United States spent $2,750,000 for food last year, approximately one-eighth of all the sales in retail food stores, the bureau of agriculture economics reports. When the farmer pays high prices at the food store, parity prices go up for food products he has to sell, unless the prices of non-farm products have declined enough to offset the rise in food price. Using 1910-14 averages as 100, the bureau points out that the index of food prices paid by the farmer has averaged 228 since June, 1946, as compared with 114 for 1935-39. The lowest annual average was 90, recorded in 1932.

NORWOOD

Mr. and Mrs. George Light, Sr. and Helen and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wagner and daughter, Lois Ann and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wagner and daughter, Sharon had Sunday supper at the George Light Jr. home in Charlevoix, the occasion being George Jr.'s birthday.

Charlevoix Girls Have Tough Time Packing for Trips

"It's a long way from Charlevoix and Michigan," say Mrs. J. F. Webb ,the former Marie Novak, and Phyllis Roberts as they point out their respective destinations on the world map. Mrs. Webb left Charlevoix Monday for New York City from where she will sail some time after Feb. 7 for Frankfort, Germany, to join her husband, Lt. Webb, a pilot on the Berlin airlift.

Miss Roberts, daughter of Mrs. Bertha Roberts, left Detroit Saturday for Seattle, Wash., where she will sail Feb. 4 via Navy transport for Yokohama, Japan. There she will have a civil service position doing stenographic work with an engineering unit.

When the two young women met prior to leaving Charlevoix they asked each other many questions regarding their impending trips. "How much can you take? How are you packing it? Don't forget to take a lot of shoes. Have you had your shots?" are just a few of the remarks.

Mrs. Webb, because she will be maintaining a home in Frankfort, was allowed 1200 pounds including household articles such as linens and other furnishings she might choose to take. Not knowing how long she will be overseas has posed a problem for her for she must take clothing for an unlimited period.

During the few weeks she has known she was going she has received instructions and lists from the government as well as letters, cablegrams and even a trans-Atlantic phone call from her husband reminding her not to forget this or that.

Added to her troubles has been the family car she is taking with her. "It's not as simple as it sounds," she adds. "Just try getting Michigan license plates in a hurry with a Texas title. I thought my packing troubles were over when I was taking the car for I planned to pack everything in it, lock it when it was placed aboard ship and arrive in Germany in one big package. But they don't do things that way. Everything must be out of the car. Even the hub caps must be removed, the glove compartment emptied and the chrome treated so it won't be damaged by salt water."

The girls agreed they'd been living by lists for the past month.

Lt. Webb, now a pilot on Operation: Vittles, served with the Air Force for four years during the war. The couple had been making their home in Kennedy, Tex., when he accepted a recall to active duty on Oct. 15 and after a brief training period at Great Falls, Mont., left in November for Germany. Since then Mrs. Webb has been with her mother, Mrs. Charles Novak.

Miss Roberts had her share of troubles too. She was allowed only 400 pounds of luggage. Knowing she was to stay for two years she had to decide what was important and what wasn't. When she arrives in Japan (after 20 days enroute with stops at various Pacific islands) she will reside in a section of a Yokohama hotel where the government has set up quarters for civilian workers. Later on she plans to enroll at the University of Yokohama.

An honor graduate of Michigan State College where she received her B. A. degree in 1947, she has been working as a statistician's assistant in the accounting department of the Michigan Bell office in Detroit. In preparing for the position in Japan she enrolled in night school in Detroit and took special courses in typing and shorthand.

Retired Lumber Dealer Passes At Ellsworth

Funeral services for William Drenth, 81, retired Ellsworth lumber dealer, were held at the Ellsworth Christian Reformed church at 2 p. m. Tuesday with Rev. Gerrit A. Lyzenga officiating.

Burial was in the Atwood Reformed cemetery.

Mr. Drenth died late Saturday evening at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Boss, Sr., after a long illness.

Born in The Netherlands on Aug. 2, 1887, he was married to Effie Van Polen as a young man. In 1901 they came to this country and settled near Essex, a lumbering center southwest of Ellsworth. Mrs. Drenth died in 1902.

He was a farmer and lumberman until about 1917 when he moved to Ellsworth and started a lumber business which he operated until retiring in 1938.

In 1908 he was married to Mrs. Margaret Aardema who died in Jan., 1940.

He was a member of the Ellsworth Christian Reformed church.

He is survived by three sons, Gerrit and Jacob of Grand Rapids and Herman of East Jordan; three daughters, Mrs. John Hultsing of Grand Rapids, Mrs. Boss, Sr., and Mrs. Ed Boss of Charlevoix; seven step-children, Lambert Aardema of Washington, Jerry, Allen and John Aardema, Mrs. Fred Boss, Mrs. Vet Shooks and Mrs. Case Goeman all of Central Lake; 24 grandchildren including Edward Aardema of Chicago, whom he raised; 26 great-grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. Lena Kooistra in the Netherlands.

It's Like Part of Our Farm!

Our farm co-operative is an important "off the farm" tool for modern farmers. It adds to our farm business a purchasing department for supplies, and an assembling, processing, and marketing service for our production.

Savings made by farm co-operatives are returned to farmer patrons in accordance with the amount of business they have done with the co-operative. Such additional farm income helps build business for the entire community.

City businessmen employe co-operative principles in operating their credit bureaus. Mutual insurance companies serving such groups as millers, jewelers, hardware businesses are co-operative by nature. Drugs stores, grocers, and other business have purchasing co-operatives. In all of these, the savings effected are returned to the members.

This is a diesel ... a modern locomotive that means better service to you.

Leaders of two unions think it's a feather-bed ... a "make work" grab that means less service to you.

● Leaders of unions representing railroad engineers and firemen seek to force railroads to add extra, needless men on diesel locomotives. This is sheer waste—a "make-work" program which would mean fewer improvements and higher costs—for YOU!

Railroads use modern diesel locomotives because they are one of the means of giving faster, better service to you.

Two men compose the crew of a diesel. They occupy a clean, comfortable cab at the front. The engineer handles the throttle. The fireman sits and watches the track ahead. With no coal to shovel, he has practically nothing else to do.

No Benefit To You

Now the leaders of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen want to use the diesel locomotive as a means of forcing a feather-bedding scheme on the railroads. The extra men they propose to add to the diesel crews are not needed. There is no work for them.

The union leaders are fighting among themselves about which union should furnish these extra, needless men. The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers have even threatened a strike. You may not be interested in this dispute of these two unions, but you would be vitally concerned if these groups succeed in putting through this feather-bedding scheme, because it would mean a slowing up of the improvement program of the railroads—of which the diesel is the outstanding symbol.

Diesel crews are among the highest paid railroad employes—real aristocrats of labor! Their pay is high by any standard. Granting of these demands, therefore, would mean that the railroads would be paying out millions in unearned wages to those in the very highest pay brackets.

We'd Like To Spend This Money On You

You know how much the diesel has meant to you in increased speed, comfort and convenience. The railroads have many more of them on order for even greater improvement in service to you. But needless drains of money, such as this present demand of the unions for needless men on diesels, reduce the ability of the railroads to spend money on better service for you.

Proud as the railroads are of the diesel, it is only a small part of their improvement program. Since the War, literally billions of dollars have been spent on improvement of tracks and stations, on new passenger and freight cars, as well as on diesel locomotives, and on the many other less conspicuous details of railroading that contribute to improved service.

Feather-Bedding Means Less Service To You

But brazen feather-bedding schemes like the one now proposed would, if successful, divert large sums of money from our present improvement programs. Even worse, they make improvements like the diesel worthless, by making the cost of their operation prohibitive.

These demands are against YOUR interests—as well as those of the railroads. They are schemes to "make work". Neither you nor the railroads should be forced to pay such a penalty for progress.

That's why the railroads are resisting these "make work" demands to the last ditch—and why they are telling you about them.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY OF CHARLEVOIX
IN CHANCERY

In the Matter of the Petition of Murl K. Aten, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

To the Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix, in Chancery:

Murl K. Aten, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, respectfully shows unto the Court:

1. That he is the Auditor General of the State of Michigan and makes and files this petition under, by virtue of and pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 200 of the Public Acts of 1931, as amended, and Act. No. 126 of the Public Acts of 1933, as amended;

2. That Schedule A annexed hereto is the tax record required by the act first above mentioned and contains the description of all lands in the aforesaid county upon which taxes, which were assessed for the years mentioned therein, have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, the description of all lands in said county heretofore bid off in the name of the State and thus held and upon which taxes which were assessed subsequent to the tax for which such lands were sold to the State have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, and the description of all lands in said county which are delinquent for any installment of taxes under the provisions of the act first above mentioned;

a. That within the time provided by law this court may determine and decree that the aforesaid taxes, interest, collection fee and charges are valid and constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein extended;

b. That within the time provided by law this court make a final decree in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land therein contained;

PILEATED WOODPECKER

We have a feeling and will be willing to make a prophesy that the pileated woodpecker will eventually become exterminated, along with the ivory billed woodpecker, (a close relative of the pileated) the heath hen and the passenger pigeon.

This unusual bird does not seem to possess the ability or the faculty of adapting itself to the new conditions which are being created by civilization. So with the passing of the virgin forest this species of bird is very apt to disappear. This prediction is born out by the fact that it already has largely disappeared from Charlevoix County and from almost all of southern Michigan.

At one time this big woodpecker was found in Charlevoix County in fair numbers. When I was a lad, in the big hardwoods northeast of where we now live, I remember seeing this bird nearly every time I visited the wooded hills of virgin forest trees. It was not at all hard to locate the birds. They are rather noisy, with a loud yelping call note and when one is at work on a dead tree or stub, chopping or digging out the insects that the pecker feeds on, you could hear the noise from a long ways off. It sounds not unlike an axman at work chopping on a tree.

The birds will chop a hole to a depth of twelve to fourteen inches to get the insects. One can hardly believe that a bird could do such work.

In the big hardwood forests of the Upper Peninsula, I have found in some areas the pileated woodpecker in abundant numbers Every dead tree and stub will show evidence of their work. You will find an abundance of holes and these holes are a boon to holenesting birds, such as the screech owl, wood duck, hooded merganser and sparrow hawk. These other birds prosper by the industry of this woodpecker.

The pileated woodpeckers nest in holes that they chop out of the same dead trees and stubs from which they get their food. The holes are about twenty four inches deep and in these the birds lay from three to six large ivory white eggs.

It seems to me that it must be a tremendous job to chop out enough food to keep the young in good physical condition but they seem to be able to do it.

I have always felt that all of the woodpeckers and many other species of birds have a very unusual ability to find their food which is usually buried deep inside a dead stub or tree. They must have a very good hearing. I have watched a woodpecker fly to the tree where he thinks he will get his dinner. He lights on the side of the tree and seems to sit there a minute or so listening. Then all at once he goes to work with a will and soon is feeding on what he has come for. It seems to me it is much like radio reception.

Bohrer Sends In List of Questions for Old Timers Around Charlevoix to Try to Answer

Joseph F. Bohrer of Bloomington, Ill., in a letter to the editor admits that he is nuts about Charlevoix and Charlevoix folks.

He sent along a picture of the Steamer "Grand Rapids" entering the harbor with a query about when it was taken. He also wrote a bunch of questions for the old timers. They follow:

How many of the old timers can remember these?

The steamers "Huni" and "City of Boyne" maintaining regular a. m. and p. m. achedules down Pine Lake to East Jordan and Boyne City.

When it was a common sight to see three or four four-masted schooners on Pine Lake at once, loaded with lumber.

The time the "Illinois" went aground just south of the harbor entrance, and the local tugs puffed and pulled for 2 days (at $30 per hour) and then got her loose easily just as soon as the big tug from Traverse City stuck her bow around Fishermans's Island.

When Roy Ranger, Sam Hamilton and Allie Moore dictated everything that "Summer Sailors" could and could not do.

When Johnson's Ice Cream Factory made the most delicious creamy chocolate delight.

When the great author, Ernest Hemingway, used to visit Bill Smith at Horton Bay and they both came to play on the Belvedere baseball team. Ernie got the soft job at 1st base because he was still limping from his shrapnel wounds received in Italy. I believe John Dos Passos, the other great writer, was there at Smith's at the same time, as I later heard he married Bill's sister, Katie. This is the sanie Horton Bay where Vollie Fox ruled the trout streams with a masters' touch.

IT HAPPENED ON . . . . BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

January began to show it's authority on Beaver Island this week. Having been considered one of the mildest Januarys in recent years, the few days left to finish out the month were wild blustering and cold.

No longer is the snow skimpy. The heavy snow fall Thursday night padded the Island thoroughly making plenty of work for Elston Pischner, pilot of the snow plow.

Beaver Island harbor, which becomes one of the finest airports in these parts during the winter months, is as yet unsafe for the mail plane to land.

Due to the inability of the mail plane to land on the ice and the snow drifting so rapidly at the airport, the Island was without mail the last half of the week.

No plane means no bakery bread, so Island housewives were "in the dough" this week end.

Tuesday evening, members of the Game Club met at the "Dairy Bar", the boy's club house. Refreshments were served after the meeting.

School youngsters can sleep in a half hour longer on week days. School starts at 9:00 o'clock instead of 8:30 for the next month or so.

Beaver's ice village has a substantial beginning after two or three attempts to start. About seven shanties were anchored during the week. Some of us are enjoying a good feed of fried perch for the first time in a couple of months—and it's mighty tasty, this time of the year.

The big bird with the long legs flew over the Island Wednesday dropping a bundle at the Archie LaFreniere home. Archie and Frances will call the young lady, Sophia Irene. Mother and baby are fine.

Mark Cross made a trip to the mainland and returned Thursday via McPhillip's flying service.

Invitations have been received for the Beaver Island-Chicago party, which will be held March 19, at Keymen's Club Bldg., 4721 Madison St.

Father Jude, brother of Sister Walter, one of our Dominican nuns arrived during the week for a winter vacation and really got it. He was the guest of Father Giles.

A popular spot in the village is Joe Gallagher's recreation hall in the former garage building. There, one can play a game of pool and recuperate with a sandwich and hot drink. "Coffee" Jack Kleason, who presides over the lunch counter has made a reputation for himself when it comes to a "Wimpy Special."

Feb. 7, the Beaver Island Association of Commerce will sponsor the "doggiest" evening's entertainment in many moons on the Island. The product of Mrs. Fred Spalding's idea, the Parish Hall will be transformed into a night club for the occasion. A floor show will be presented to give the affair real flavor. Rehearsals have been taking place during the week under Mrs. Spalding's direction.

Sunday afternoon, Mary Catherine Hanley invited seven of her school friends to her home to help celebrate her 12th birthday. Margie Martin, Audry Gatliff, Eleanor Gallagher, Carolyn Miller, Rosalie Bennett, Margaret Ann La Freniere and Rosemary McDonough were the guests.

With the wind blowing at a gale Sunday afternoon, whipping up the snow in clouds over the harbor, Joe McPhillips came to the island and brought his small plane down on the only safe spot on the ice. The trip was made to take Father Jude back to the mainland. It was a fine landing and take-off for such a day and in a small area.

Mrs. Palmer Entertains at Afternoon Luncheon

Thursday afternoon Mrs. Russell Palmer entertained a few of her friends at an afternoon luncheon.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Spalding, Mrs. Port, Mrs. Arthur Miller, Mrs. John Gallagher, Kay McDonough, Jill Smith, Dr. Polmer, Fr. Giles dropper in and played a piano selection. Kay McDonough ployed two piano numbers, Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Gallagher each sang solos. Kay and Jill sang a duet and Mr. Spalding gave a violin selection accompanied by Mrs. Palmer.

Mr. Walker died unexpectedly at his farm home early Sunday morning.

Get Legume Seed Now

If you're planning some legume seedings this coming season and don't have the seed on hand at the present time, it would be a good idea to swing into action. That's the opinion delivered by Carter Harrison of the Michigan State College farm crops department after looking over the figures on legume seed supplies.

Michigan's most important legume, alfalfa, is in short seed supply this year. Other areas are also short and will be competing with Michigan farmers. Harrison says good alfalfa seed is going for $40.00 to $50.00 per bushel. Brome grass, timothy, Sudan grass, and sweet clover are also short in supply. However, red clover is in reasonably good supply this year and selling from $33.00 to $36.00 per bushel.

Livestock Insect Control

The other day we were talking about good livestock management as one way to make these price adjustments easier to take—an important part of good management is the control of parasites for those animals which aren't bothered with parasites are going to make faster and cheaper gains. What's more they'll bring better prices on the market.

We asked Roy Hutson, head of the Michigan State College department of entomology, to outline a program of good livestock insect control. Here's what he has to say: On cattle this time of the year it's important to control lice. This can be done by spraying or dusting with rotenone. In this cold weather, dusting is a better procedure as a general thing, although spraying can be done if the operator thinks weather is mild or he has housing for the animals that will keep them from getting chilled. The dust should contain one half to one percent rotenone. It can be applied with a piston pipe applicator. Make sure you work it into the hair and down to the hide where the lice are—if you do spray, use ten pounds of the five percent wettable rotenone powder per 200 gallons of water. The rontenone application will also be a good control for cattle grubs which will be showing up this time of the year.

The big problem in external parasites of hogs is control of lice and mange. Huston says one spraying with benzene hexochloride is generally enough to do the job on both lice and mange.

Here are precautions—make sure the hogs aren't chilled by the process. Be sure to wait at least 00 days after spraying before you butcher or send the animals to market. If you don't, the meat may have an off-flavor. Clean up the brood sows and their quarters at least 30 days before farrowing. If this ob is done right, lice and mange won't be passed on to the baby pigs.

Senior Scouts Play Big Role at Wilderness Outing

Charlevoix had the outstanding group at the Senior Scout outing held at Wilderness Park Saturday and Sunday, according to leaders of the boys.

Among the other places in the Scenic Trails Council sending Scouts were Traverse City, Cadillac, Petoskey and Boyne Falls.

While there the 35 men and boys went on snow hikes, did compass courses and hiked in the woods. They stayed at the park buildings. Saturday night at a group meeting plans for 1949 were discussed. Charlevoix boys led the singing and directed most of the evening's program.

Transportation was furnished by Gordon Freedman who loaned his plant truck, and Art Wexstaff with his station wagon. Capt. Hubert Paddock and Charles Bleha drove up for the boys Sunday. They found the road drifted shut and had to be plowed out.

The trip showed one serious lack, according to George Wolfe. The Senior Scouts are badly in need of more camping equipment.

Navy Invites Editor to Maneuvers

Rico, the Virgin Islands, make half a dozen other ports in the Antilles with the final call at Havana. He would see how the Navy is run from the inside as an accredited observer.

The official papers have not yet arrived from Washington but Chicago said they would be here soon.

So he's going to join the Navy, for six weeks at least. Harold Totten will be in to help run the paper for as long as he can stay. I'll be asking plenty of help from all you folks to get your news in.

But it seemed like too great an honor for Charlevoix and Michigan for him to pass up.

LANSING—These children, in a Polish kindergarten, are saying grace before eating food contributed through the Christian Rural Overseas program (CROP). To such as these, in dozens of different countries, a major part of the farm commodities contributed to the Michigan Christmas Spirit train will go. Thousands of volunteer canvassers throughout the state will begin soliciting gifts in kind from farmers, immediately after Christmas. Most needed are wheat, soy beans, fats, dried milk, beans, sugar, corn, and honey. Michigan has set 135 carloads as her quota.

B. F. Hennink is state CROP director and Dr. John A. Hannah is campaign chairman.

Tribute to G.I.e

Belgium Premier Paul - Henry Spaak recently inaugurated the terminal milestone of the "Highway of Freedom," named as a tribute to the American troops who liberated Europe in 1944. These Forest Fires

Nature will provide America with perpetual forests if we will protect our woodlands from fire. Although millions of seedling trees are planted each year, nature te the greatest regenerator of our forests. In some areas of our country, 50 seedlings spring up for avery mature tree harvested. Most so-called devestated forest regione are the rasult of repeated firee which have destroyed young growth, seed sources and soil humus in which seed must germinate. With protectioo ageinst fire, most forests will perpetuate themselves.

larger attendance, having two rooms. But now only the larger back room is used. Windows at the south let in light. A basement furnace supplies heat. In the entry hall are coat hooks, cupboard for mittens, wash stand and drinking fountain.

The second room is not allowed to stay idle. About 16 by 20 in size, Mrs. Warner has a basket rigged at one end and during noons and recess periods the pupils have basketball. It also is convenient for handicraft.

Decorations in the main room show some of the varied activities of the group. At the front, under a picture of the Nativity, is the Pledge to the Flag. Winter scenes from ads and Christmas cards decorate the north wall.

Splatter pictures, made with white ink on black paper, were made to go with calendars. A Certificate from the Junior Red Cross shows the class is a member of that organization.

The kindergarten class is Sharon Wagner, Shirley Weisler, Irene Holecheck and Eugene McBride.

Boyne City Game Friday Is Crucial League Contest

Friday night's game here with Boyne City will be the decisive one in the Class C Conference.

On it hinges Boyne's undefeated position and Charlevoix'a final standing. Conceded to be the only team in the circuit with a chance of trouncing the boys from the other end of the lake, Charlevoix can cinch its aecond apot Friday. At the same time the Rayders can set themselves up for a much better crack at the district title in the tournament which comes in March.

Swinging back into top form, the Rayders last Friday handed the third place Harbor Rams one of the worst trimmings they have received this year.

Played on the floor here, the Reds won 61 to 42. The whole Charlevoix team was hot. Case and Wallace, as usual, led the scoring but Pat Martin from his guard position managed to add 12 points to the total.

The game was a rough and tumble one with a total of 41 personals being called. Right from the start it became evident that

Cleaners Split Two Games, Play Mt. Pleasant Next

The Charlevoix Independents split even in the two games played last week, winning from Gaylord 41-37 and losing to Ludington 48-44.

Ward and Meggison were high point men against Gaylord with 11 each. Meggison again topped the Ludington game with 15, while Ayres was high for both team with 18.

The Ludington game was a heartbreaker to lose as the Cleaners, led by Captain Gallagher, broke through Ludington's defense time after time only to miss the basket. The game was lost in the final quarter as Ludington outscored the locals 15-4.

The next home game is with Mt. Pleasant Feb. 19.

Standings in the Northern Michigan Independent League now are:

	Won	Lost
Boyne City	6	2
Charlevoix	5	2
Gaylord	3	3
East Jordan	3	4

Island Again Is Getting Mail Brought by Plane

After eight days when the mail came over not at all or only in driblets, once more Beaver Island is getting its letters and papers.

A couple of weeks ago Il. H. Bechtold, Jr., who has the contract for flying the mail this year, started over in his big Cessna. According to Island reports, he was turned back by bad weather, had a landing mishap at Pellston and wrecked one propellor.

During the next eight days, he brought over only some first class mail in his light plane. But no parcel post, second class nor other mail was delivered.

"Wo didn't get a Courier for two weeks," was the wail from the Island.

Finally Bechtold flew over with the Cessna and dropped bags containing papers and magazines. Now, with the plane repaired and the ice thick along the west aide of the harbor, he comes in over Gus Mielke's mill and lands, stopping almost in front of the post office.

During all this time Joe McPhillips has been flying freight, groceries and passengers to the Island and back. With his light plane he has been able to land and take off from the harbor ice, making two or more trips on some days.

Bay Shore Pupils Active in Handicrafts and Club

Community support is bringing back a school which has had some tough going.

This is out at Bay Shore.

Once a high school, today there is a one room school with pupils from kindergarten through the sixth grade. Of course, the other room of the old high building doesn't go to waste. It is used for basketball, club meetings, club dances and meetings.

Mrs. Ruth Hair, who is teaching her third year there, is quick to praise the parents for their cooperation. They back the school projects, such as sewing and knitting clubs. They pack the school for 4-H affairs and help the youngster's own 31 Club put on the barn dances and social doings.

On the academic side, Bay Shore's school is handicapped by several lacks. The maps are old and badly worn. With all the changes the War has just made, too many of the boundaries don't run where the maps show. A

Charlevoix Scout Troop Wins Honor for Leader

Scoutmaster Gaylord Howell has been named the one leader from the Scenic Trails Council of Boy Scouts who will be the official representative Saturday at the "Crusade" ceremonies at Lansing.

The official notice sent out to all Scout troops tells the story: "The Scoutmaster of Troop 11, Charlevoix, sponsored by Kiwanis Club, because . . Troop 11 recruited more new boys into their Unit than any other unit in the Council. (41 recruits, including Cub transfers, during 1948.) This is recognition for "extending that Invitation to Adventure."

At Lansing the ceremonies start at 2:30 when Gov. G. Mennen Williams will present the message to be returned to the respective Councils to the Scouts who are there as representatives.

YTC Choses Best Temperance Posters

The Y. T. C. met Monday evening with Marguerite Colburn with 16 members present. After a short business session Howard Pearl and Ann Donaldson became members.

Mrs. Mary Kerr had the lesson on "How to say No." Five attractive posters made by the officers were displayed and explained to the group by Mrs. John Funk, Joyce Fiedler's poster was awarded first place and Joyce Hardy's second place. The posters will be on display in the various churches starting with the Assembly of God on Feb. 13.

A Valentine party with exchange of Valentines and games followed by refreshments in a Valentine motif served by Mrs. John Ryder were enjoyed by the group.

The next meeting will be with Joyce Hardy on March 7.

White Elephant Sale, Club Show Planned

Charlevoix again will have a White Elephant sale and an Amateur Show this spring.

Monday night Kiwanis President C. B. Meggison named two committees.

Farmers, Hunters Discuss Rules

Almost 100 country and town folks met last Thursday night at the IOOF hall to discuss ways and means of protecting the landowner while giving the good hunter a chance to enjoy the sport.

It was the regular meeting of the Rod & Gun Club. Farmers and property owners of the entire community had been invited to attend and discuss the problem of land use.

The farmers pointed out that they merely wanted protection against cut fences, wounded or dead livestock and wild shonting anywhere but especially around the houses and barns. The club members agreed that the farmers were justified.

Various plans were discussed, including the so-called Williamston System under which a land owner can allow only a fixed number each day to hunt on a posted tract of land. Nothing definite was decided as to adopting of any such plan. Most of the farmers indicated they quite likely would post their land and allow only hunters who asked permission to hunt there.

After this a film from the Wisconsin Conservation Department was shown. It illustrated methods used there to rid lakes of coarse and destructive fish such as carp, lawyers, gar pike. Many reports of big carp have been coming in lately.

Henrys' Daughter Has Polio In South

Unexpected and sad news has just been received from the Dal Henry's at West Palm Beach, Fla. Their daughter, Jon has polio.

The Henrys write that they have no idea where Jon contracted the disease or how she got it, but fortunately, so far, there is no paralysis. Jon is in an isolation ward for two weeks and can see no one, so she is a pretty lonesome gal.

However, there is no reason why she couldn't pick up a post card from Charlevoix that would surely be most welcome, especially coming from her many friends and the boys and girls in her grade at school. Jon's address is St. Mary's Hospital, Room 226, West Palm Beach, Fla.

Wrong Way Score Made by Captain

Chick Gallagher did a wrong way Corrigan act for the Charlevoix Cleaners team Tuesday.

He and Don Meggison had refered at Ellsworth, returning here in time to get in the Charlevoix-Boyne City game. The first play Captain Gallagher made was to drop the ball through the Boyne basket.

After he got straightened around, the boys went on to win from Boyne 43-39. The second team won also, 19-16.

Saturday night Ludington sent its Independent team up here to take a 48-44 game from Charlevoix.

Farm Price Goat Will Be Discussed

"Are the farmers the goat again on farm prices," will be the topic at the next meeting of the Charlevoix County Farmers Union meeting.

It will be at the Norwood Local hall on US-31 at 11 a. m. Feb. 22.

A potluck dinner will be served at noon.

15 Tons Honey Sent from Here Monday by CROP

Fifteen tons of honey rolled out of Charlevoix Monday evening, headed for Michigan's Friendship Train and eventually for Europe's hungry.

It was contributed by the farm folks of Charlevoix, Antrim and Leelanau counties in the CROP drive just ended. Originally the two latter counties had planned to ship wheat, but towards the last of the drive it was decided by them to drop the wheat idea and to go in with Charlevoix on the car of honey.

Altogether the car cost some $4050. Of this Charlevoix contributed $1500, Antrim $1700 and Leelanau $850. The last county sent over 63 cases of the sweet stuff. Charlevoix and Antrim beekeepers supplied the other 284 cases which went into the car.

This one car, according to County Agent Ed Rebman, took about half the honey the beekeepers of the three counties had on hand.

The car was loaded Monday at the Charlevoix Co-Op siding. The bee men brought the wood cases to the car where they were steel banded and stacked away. Those in this section from whom the honey was bought were William VanderWall of Ironton, George Jaquays of East Jordan, Zell Bricker of Ellsworth, Manuel Bartholomew of East Jordan, O. W. Mayhew of Boyne City and Frank Hrushka of Boyne Falls.

Henry Korthase of Boyne City was the Charlevoix chairman and W. J. Brake of Bellaire headed the Antrim drive.

Seniors Will Give Annual Comedy Next Wednesday

The accent will be on laughter when the Senior class of the Charlevoix high school presents the annual play, "Mistakes at the Blakes," at the high school auditorium at 8 p. m. next Wednesday.

The three act comedy is under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Richards.

In the play Don Burke and his brother, Warren Shadko, decide to become newspapermen and rent an apartment from Marorie Brow as their base of job hunting operations. Then an attorney, Jim Potter appears with the news that an eccentric uncle had left Warren $50,000 and Don is to have charge of Charlie, who they remember as an old sheep dog.

Charlie turns out to be Sally Swinton. In the mixup the boys have each other adjudged mentally incompetent. Others in the cast are B. J. Cunningham, Arnold Loper, Sharon Butler, Patti Hamilton, Sue Webster, Nancy Kipke, Don Ecklund and Dick Jolliffe.

Committees assisting in the presentation of the play are: program, Patti Hamilton, Shirley Black and Sally Swinton; stage managers, Don Ecklund and Dick Jolliffe; tickets, Nancy Kipke and Sharon Butler; advertising, Beverly Looze and Ruth Blanchard.

Tickets for the production may be purchased from any member of the senior class.

City and County Offices to Close

SPEB Has Unique Session; Is Served Hot Rolls, Honey

Something possibly unique in the history of all Barbersbopping was done here last Thursdey by the Charlevoix Chapter of SPEBSQSA.

It wes served honey and hot biscuits at the close of the regular meeting.

Bill VanderWell of Ironton brought in the honey. Then host Lowell Merice (the Chepter met at the Sugar Bowl) baked end served hot biscuits to the members.

McMillan; dining room, Mrs. Raymond Seymour; kitchen, Mrs. Jake White, Sr. The B. P. and M. circle of the church will decorate the dining room and tables in a Valentine motif.

Cub Scouts' Parents Invited to Meet

Parents of all Cub Scouts or boys who want to become Cubs are being invited to an open meeting next Tuesday night.

It will start at 7:30 in the school lunch room. The Cub work and coming year's program will be discussed.

ATTENTION FLORIDA

Yep, It's Really Mild Here

Maybe it hasn't been noticed but Charlevoix is having a mild winter.

The big lake has just a few ice lumps at the shore but no hig floes have shown up yet. Round Lake isn't frozen and there are only a few inches of ice on Lake Charlevoix with the channel at the railroad bridge still open.

Sure, there's snow around town but none of the high piles you couldn't see over along Bridge street such as we had last year.

In fact, since Jan. 1 the temperature has averaged almost twice as high as it did during 1948. For the first 39 days last year the average was 11.18 degrees. This year it has been 20.64. Last year it got down to 22 below once and was below the zero mark half a dozen times. This year it hasn't sunk below the 0 once.

Maybe, as the woodchuck is supposed to have forecast, we're going to have six weeks more winter. But if it's like the sample dished out so far it won't be too bad . fn fact, some folks around town are beginning to wonder about next summer's ice already.

United Fund Drive to Start in County Monday; Health, Relief Needs Are Covered

With drive chairmen named for almost all districts of Charlevoix County, the United Health and Welfare Fund campaign will be starting Monday.

Detail plans were discussed with the workers at a kick-off meeting Wednesday night at the Charlevoix City Hall.

As was announced last fall, this year it was not possible to have the Community Chest and the United Fund drives at the same time. After this, however, the two health and welfare drives will be made together, thus making only one unified solicitation each year.

The quota for the whole county is $3600, with a third of that sum being alloted to the Charlevoix area. Included in that budget are sums for disaster and blood bank services, polio, cancer, TB and crippled children's services. The $3600 is apportioned among the various agencies according to their respective needs and the service they give the public.

The United Fund grew from the movement started in Detroit almost two years ago by Henry Ford II. In that city it has grown until today the chief industries and labor unions combine in backing it and in discouraging any separate drives for funds.

The general chairman for the county is Gordon Freedman. The various chairmen are:

East Jordan sector; Jean Bugai, city; Mrs. Raiph Price of Ironton, Eveline on west side of South Arm; Mrs. James Beal of Advance, Eveline on east side of South Arm; Mrs. Archie Murphy of East Jordan, South Arm; Mrs. August Knop of Boyne City, Wilson township.

Charlevoix sector: Mrs. Freedman, city; Mrs. Vernon Mathews, Charlevoix; Mrs. Clarence Murray, Norwood; Carlton Smith, Marion; Leo Burnett, Hayes.

Boyne Falls sector: Joseph Topolinski of Boyne Falls is in charge of Chandler and Boyne Falls.

Boyne City: Revo K. Gerrie, city; Mrs. Lavinia Lockman of Boyne City. Evangeline; Charles Robinson of Hortons Bay, Bay; Dan Buckley of Walloon Lake, Melrose.

Solicitation on Beaver Island will be arranged next week when Freedman and Robert Bridge go there.

The Tow Line

News of folks, your neighbors and mine . . .but did you know that—

Congratulations to the men who are participating in removing the snow from our streets about town. They are surely doing a wonderful job . . . Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kemp of Ironton announce the engagement of their daughter, Carrie Emily to Marvin Rubingh of Elisworth. The wedding will be in the near future.

"Got an extra pair of sea legs," said Clair Webster Sunday morning in church. And from Clarence Odmark came "Ever have the navy run a needle in your arm. They are so-o--o-o long and have propellors on them." Such has been an example of the remarks that friend husband has been getting all week, since the news came out that he was to go on a six week's cruise to the Caribbean next week, as a guest of the Navy, being one of the eight editors in the U. S. to go.

Anywey we are helping to get him ready to take his trip, and we are asking that each and everyone of you help us at the office in getting out the paper during his absence. We will welcome your news items. Thenks a million.

Last week Mrs. Leland Barker entertained the Episcopal Guild at her home and one of the guests was Mrs. Leon Abbey. During the course of the afternoon, Mrs. Abbey suddenly said to her hostess: "Did you ever live in Tawas City? Was your name Myrtle Robinson?" Whereupon Mrs. Barker gave her a long look and laughingly said, "And you couldn't possibly be Grace Braddock." Sure enough the women had been in high school together but had not met since. 'Tis a small world alright.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tuhy spent the week end at Frankfort with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clare Staley and family . . . Mr. and Mrs. Irving Drost and two sons of Lansing are spending a month with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Slezak. Mr. Drost was here for the week end . . . The William Heerings are now at Tampa, Fla. Sent a card of a cocoanut tree and said they were waiting patiently for one of the nuts to drop . . .

Some of our merchants are really having "sales what am" right now along Main Street. Heard a farm woman remark as she came out of Abbey's with a bundle under her arm, "Surely got a bigger bargain then I could by sending away to the catalog." . . .

Surely have got a terrible bang out of the rotogravure pictures from the Detroit News of February, 1928, with a full page of Charlevoix folks on a toboggan slide, and Mabel Turpin Kipke, Charlevoix Queen that year. "We certainly had a lot of fun then," folks say as they look at the pictures. Frank Bird is sitting on the front of the toboggan holding his son. A lot of local folks now about town are in the pictures.

Then this week Ray Faulkner brought a picture to the office that has the office in peals of laughter. It is an old Sour-Kraut Club picture. With the high stand-up collars and the lofty expressions on the faces accompaning the collars one could never dream that the men around the festive board could ever get their thoughts down to the subject of sauer-kraut. Even the napkins stand up in peaks along the table with a huge turkey in the foreground. Those now living in Charlevoix in the picture are Bert Beaudoin, Ray Faulkner, Wilis Kerns, Arthur Bergeon, Morris Ackert, George Emrey and Milo Miller. The picture was taken in 1901 at the Ackert house on South State street. The picture is in the window. (Now don't push folks, there's plenty of room to see.)

The Right Attitude

I want to compliment our State Liquor Control Commission on one point. Unlike some state governmental bodies, it wants the public to know what's going on.

Saturday I received (and I assume every other editor in the state did too) an invitation from the Commission to attend the meetings.

The Public Might Get Hooked

A group of Labor leaders in Detroit are circulating all the papers with a lengthy document charging Sen. Homer Ferguson with a considerable array of high crimes and misdemeanors.

They also charge that the papers have refused to air the case. That seems funny, as I recall quite clearly long stories in the Detroit papers telling of the charges and later of the Senator's replies.

I sospect there is a dark gentleman in the woodpile. The case of the obnoxious Mr. Hook of the Upper Peninsula for the Senate seat now held by Mr. Ferguson is about due to come up. Now is the strategic time to attack. And those who do not like the Senator's middle-of-the-road policy are out to get him.

It's Sensible, But Hopeless

I feel sorry for Governor Williams and the State Legislators. Every one of them down there knows the right answer to our public financial troubles.

The right thing would be to cut down on spending. But if they try to do that it means lopping off some public service or cutting down on the seemingly costless handouts to communities. And that raises a howl to heaven from back home.

So taxes will go up. We insist on having the state take our money and then hand part of it back to us.

I don't know whether the Governor's plan is the best one or not. But one thing is sure—whether he collects from the corporations or from a tax on beer, in the end the laboring man, the producer, will pay the tax.

Not a Job for the Lawmakers

Rep. Louis Anderson writes that the Legislature is being asked to forbid hunting of pheasants in Huron and Sanilac counties. If the lawmakers at Lansing pass such a law, they are putting a patch on an outworn pair of pants.

What they should do is turn such jobs over to the Conservation Commission. Game management, such as pheasant season and limits, is a technical job. We have some of the best men in the country. They know what should be done to build up our hunting. It is to their interest to do so. For the more game, the more hunters; the more hunters, the more money to build up our conservation program.

But the rules cannot be made by the Legislature. That body is too slow, too ponderous. It should turn the job of making the year-to-year rules over to the Conservation Comission. If the Commission made a botch of it, the Legislature can repeal its act at any session.

But what Michigan needs is a little freer hand for the group which is most interested and informed on the outdoor problems of the state.

State Forbids Salted Sand On New Pavement

Don't get sore at the County Highway Commission if at times there are slick spots on the new road between here and Bay Shore.

It cannot be helped. State regulations forbid using sand mixed with calcium chloride on new pavements. After two or three years, the salted sand can be used but at the start there would be too much chemical reaction with the still new concrete.

The road crews try to keep plain sand on the icy spots. But this soon glazes over and doesn't do the job as well as salted sand will.

Want to Write About New Health Bill?

In case aanyone wishes to write to Washington regarding the proposed and so-called national health insurance bill, letters should be sent to two men.

Cong. Charles E. Potter writes The Courier that Sen. Elbert Thomas is chairman of the Labor and Public Welfare Committee of the Senate; Rep. Robert Crosser is head of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee.

He writes: "Communications in opposition to Health Insurance Legislation can well be directed to the above named committees."

Charlevoix Chapter of Sorority Is Founded at Dinner

The Charlevoix Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi was officially initiated Monday evening, Feb. 7 when a group of nine women were entertained at a dinner given by Petoskey's Delta Tau Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, held at High Manor in Petoskey.

Tables were decorated with yellow roses, arranged in a black bowl, thus carrying out the sorority colors.

Mrs. Jesse Tippy of Petoskey conducted the ritual at which the girls became charter pledges of the Charlevoix Chapter. They were: Miss Betty Strehl, Mrs. Irene Shadko, Miss Edith Olaeh, Miss Ione Mosier, Mrs. Marguerite Powell, Miss LoAnne Anderson, Miss Marjorie Webster, Mrs. Althea Krahnke and Mrs. Jean Gallagher.

Following the pledge ceremony, Mrs. William King, President of Delta Tau Chapter, installed the following members in their respective offices: president, Betty Strehl; vice president, Irene Shadko, recording secretary, Marjorie Webster; corresponding secretary, Edith Olach, treasurer, LoAnne Anderson.

Mrs. Rosalyn Goldstick, Beta Sigma Phi of Atchison, Kan., was unable to attend the dinner. She will, however, transfer her membership to the new Chapter at an early date.

Scouts Observe 39th Anniversary, Give Program At Kiwanis Meeting

From bandaging a strained ankle to Cleopatra's Needle in Paris was the program Monday night at Kiwanis Club.

Because the Scouts are celebrating their 39th year and since the Club sponsors the program here, the Kiwanians were hosts Monday to the Scouts, both Boy and Senior members.

Each Kiwanian took a Scout to dinner. Afterwards Scoutmaster Gaylord Howell turned the meeting over to Charles Krahnke, senior patrol leader. After Troop 11 assembled at one side, Krahnke explained they would present in short one of their regular evening programs.

Following the opening, the Pine Tree Patrol led by Dudley Towe took over. Each member in turn explained what to do for certain kinds of injuries. Those taking part were Bob Richards, Billy Golden, Dick Bryan, Roger Pischner and Gordon Mol

Then Rev. Howell presented Ronald Chapman of Bellaire. An Eagle Scout, he attended the World Peace Jamboree in Paris in 1947, and was an alternate to attend the National Ceremonies at Washington this week.

He showed colored slides he had taken on the European trip and told of what happened.

L. E. Towe was program chairman. He was introduced in turn by Judge Floyd Supp and Capt Hubert Paddock. Rev. W. D. Wood and Dean Davenport were in charge of the community singing.

The week of February 6-13 marks the 39th birthday of the Boy Scouts of America and what a hirthday it is!

Charlevoix Boy Scouts started the week Sunday by each Scout attending the church of his own faith. In the afternoon the Scouts held a lighting ceremony in the park at 2:30 p. m. At the same time this ceremony was observed throughout the nation with the master ceremony being held in Washington, D. C. There were 70,000 units participating throughout the nation and its territories.

In Charlevoix a pyramid with "39" was placed in the park upon which the light was placed. Clarence Meggison, President of Kawinis Club, the organization sponsoring Boy Scouts in Charlevoix, applied the torch to the light, with the Scouts assembled about the pyramid. Frank Oleksy assisted. The light will burn throughout the week. At the same time the U. S. Coast Guards sounded the fog signal at the Charlevoix Station.

Monday night the Scouts put on a demonstration of a meeting at Kiwanis Club and Wednesday night a Board of Review was held.

Arthur A. Schuck, Chief Scout Executive of the Boy Scouts of America has announced that the "Strengthen the Army of Liberty" crusade will be a major activity of the Boy Scout organization this year and in 1050.

"The proper training of youth takes an added importance in view of today's domestic and world-wide problems," said Mr. Schuck. "It is obvious that the boys of today are going to inherit a world situation that will tax their ability and their character to the utmost."

Senior Scouts Add Three New Members

Three new members have been added to the Senior Scout Troop, now under the leadership of George Wolf.

Unique Vegetable Ivory

Normally ivory, the hard dentine-containing substances found in the teeth of most mammals, is secured from the large teeth of elephants, walruses, hippopotamuses and narwhals. The fruit of some tropical American palms contains a remarkably hard, creamy-white substance resembling the consistency and appearance of true ivory to such a degree that it is called "vegetable ivory." The inhabitants of Ecuador carve from it all kinds of ornaments, toys, ash trays, rings, rsels of spindles and knobs of walking sticks. But far more important than these are the thousands of tons of buttons that are made from this material.

Grandson Drowns When Car Goes In Flooded Creek

Tragic news came to Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Henderson last week; their grandson had been drowned in a flooded stream near Proctorville, Ohio

He was Ernest David Swindler, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ferry Swindler. He was drowned at 7:40 p. m., Jan. 28, when a car driven by Charles Boggs, 22, went off the road between Chesapeake and Proclorville and into 10 feet of water in Indian Guyan Creek.

The two were missing all day Saturday, Jan. 29. That night, according to the coroner's report the father of the older boy prayed and then had a vision of where they were. The next day a searching party found the car where he had said.

The accident is believed to have happened when Boggs missed a turn to the bridge in the fog. The road was a detour route made necessary by floods covering the main route.

Mrs. Staffeld Rites Held Here Thursday

Mrs. Nora Staffeld, 41, wife of Edward Staffeld, died unexpectedly Sunday at Providence Hospital, Detroit, where she had undergone surgery on Friday. She had been ill about three weeks.

The body was brought here for funeral services at St. Mary's church at 9 a. m. Thursday with Rev. Fr. Sherzer of St. Theresa's church, Detroit, officiating. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery.

Born in Charlevoix on March 7, 1907, the former Nora Kathryn ine Hebert attended St. Mary's school and the Charlevoix high school. On Dec. 5, 1925, she was married to Edward Staffeld at Waukegan, Ill., where they lived for the next two years. Later they returned to northern Michigan and lived here and in Petoskey, going to Detroit ten years ago.

Besides her husband she is survived by two daughters, Marcheta and Marcella; one son, Paul; six sisters, Mrs. Fred Klaus and Elaine Hebert of Detroit, Mrs. Franklin P. McFarland of Miami, Fla., Mrs. Hugo Wiethoff of Flint, Rita Hebert of Manistee and Mrs. Harry Gregory of Charlevoix; four brothers, Lee and Philip of Atlanta, Ga., Charles of Flint and Arthur of Detroit. Two children preceded her in death.

Anyone Recognize Old School Scenes?

There's some more old pictures in the front window of The Courier.

During the week a page from the Detroit News back in 1925 has been displayed. It belongs to F. E. Cartier and was printed at the time Charlevoix was pioneering in the development of winter sports.

The boat picture is from Joseph Bohrer of Bloomington, Ill., who would like to know about when it was taken. (The north side surely looked different then.)

The school pictures belong to Mrs. Louisa Smith, of 404 Lincoln. Does anyone recognize the groups or any individuals?

Heat Car Windows

Cold window panes on railroads and buses can be remedied by using a new radiant panel. The entire side walls are warmed, with heat discharged from metal fins. About one-quarter of the heat is released below the window sill to put a veil of warm air over the glass to eliminate the cold shoulder feeling from sitting next to a window on a cold day.

Farm Topics

By ED REBMAN

A combined meeting to discuss better farm buildings and poultry production will be held Feb. 17 at 1:30 in the basement of the Boyne City Library.

George Amundson, extension agricultural engineer, will talk on the farm building program.

One of the features of the meeting will be a display of several models of illustrated buildings construction and arrangement There will be models of the laminated rafter construction, milking parlors, and insulation for poultry houses and barns. A model septic tank will be shown.

J. M. Moore, poultry specialist, will discuss a poultry program for Charlevoix County. Market for meat and eggs, raising broilers and cutting down labor needs will be some other topics. Moore will also tell about keeping the laying house dry in the winter time.

There will be adequate time arranged after each discussion for any questions that farmers may have.

Vegetable Growers to Meet at Michigan State College

Vegetable growers of Michigan want to talk about cutting costs. A two day session, Feb. 22 and 23 at Michigan State College in East Lansing will be devoted to increasing production efficiency and improving marketing records.

The two-day institution is to be held in the Agricultural Engineering Building Auditorium. Registration is from 9 to 10, Feb. 22. Both days program will include panel discussions by growers and their own problems and methods of meeting these problems.

Representatives from the California Fruit Exchange, from Michigan Vegetable Council, from machinery firms, and specialists from Michigan State College will appear on the program. If you as a vegetable grower would like to attend this session and would like to ride with someone else, call your County Extension office at Boyne City and if possible, arrangements will be made.

Planning a Crop Rotation

Here's a way to measure the value of your crop rotation—use ten questions suggested by Lynn Roberston, Michigan State College Soil Scientist.. If the answer to each question is "yes", then it's a good rotation. Here are the questions:

1. Do you grow adapted, high-yielding varieties?
2. Are the crops grown in an order that will produce the highest yield of the important crops?
3. Are leguminous, green manure crops plowed under at frequent and regular intervals?
4. Do you use cover crops to protect the soil during winter?
5. Does the rotation control weeds, insects, and crop diseases?
6. Is the rotation adapted to the total acreage of the farm?
7. Is it not easily disturbed by legume failures, winter killing, drought, etc.?
8. Does it provide enough good cheap feed for livestock?
9. Does it enable you to distribute labor evenly throughout the year instead of having all the work pile up at one season?
10. Is the rotation profitable for you and for those who may follow you on the same land?

Bay Shore Pupils Strong for Books, Handicraft Work

whole set of science books is badly needed.

"But we're just getting our reading books up to date and we use work books to fill out the gaps. They work fine." Mrs. Hair also gives much credit to the State and Charlevoix libraries. Both loan books in quantities. "In fact, if I didn't chase them out, the children would rather sit all recess if I would read to them."

The kindergarten class, in the foreground, is Kay Oehrli, Bobbie Day, Caroline Price, Mike Baker and Richard Johnson.

Last fall the ladies of the community made a quilt which the school sold at enough profit to buy the power scroll saw which Bob Kalmback is running. Before Christmas the school had a present-making spree. The gifts all are gone now and the activity is on bird houses, lamps, bows, quivers and corner shelves.

Absent when the picture was taken were Darrell Lawson, Barbara and Betty Kay Deschermeier, Eddie Price, Sharon Day and Jean Warren.

The club also rebuilt and refinished the kindergarten table and chairs, and the school's storage cupboard.

Foster Writes from Blodgett Hospital

Brad Foster, who is down at Blodgett Hospital in Grand Rapids for a thorough check-up, writes to Glenn Ingalls that he has been having Charlevoix callers.

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Abfalter have been in to see him several times. Ron, he says, is slowly getting better. Brad himself doesn't know how soon he will be home Mrs. Foster is with him.

Rural Tele-news

THESE NUMBERS PLEASE—In 1948, Michigan Bell made great strides in bringing more and better telephone service to the rural areas it serves. Last year, 23,000 more telephones were installed, 10,800 miles of wire were strung, in addition to many miles of buried wire and cable, and 23,000 new telephone poles were set.

INSIDE STORY—Installation of new central office equipment inside a number of telephone buildings during 1948 made possible the replacement of nearly 3,000 "turn the crank" telephones with dial or "lift the receiver" instruments. This also enabled Michigan Bell to reduce the number of other rings heard by subscribers on those rural lines.

MORE AND BETTER SERVICE—At the end of 1948, seven out of every ten families in rural areas served by Michigan Bell had telephone service. Seven out of eight rural telephone customers were on lines having eight parties or less.

STATE OF MICHIGAN

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY OF CHARLEVOIX
IN CHANCERY

In the Matter of the Petition of Murl K. Aten, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

To the Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix, in Chancery:

Murl K. Aten, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, respectfully shows unto the Court:

1. That he is the Auditor General of the State of Michigan and makes and files this petition under, by virtue of and pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 206 of the Public Acts of 1903, as amended, and Act. No. 126 of the Public Acts of 1905, as amended.

2. That Schedule A annexed hereto is the tax record required by the act first above mentioned and contains the description of all lands in the aforesaid county upon which taxes, which were assessed for the years mentioned therein, have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, the description of all lands in said county heretofore bid off in the name of the State and thus held and upon which taxes which were assessed subsequent to the tax for which such lands were sold to the State have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, and the description of all lands in said county which are delinquent for any installment of taxes under the provisions of the act last above mentioned.

3. That extended separately in said schedule against each description of said lands therein contained are (a) the total amount of delinquent taxes upon said description for the non-payment of which the same may lawfully be sold at the next annual tax sale, (b) interest computed thereon as provided by law to the first day of May, next ensuing, (c) a collection fee of four per cent and (d) $1.00 for expenses, all in accordance with the provisions of the act first above mentioned.

4. That all of the aforesaid taxes, interest and charges are valid, delinquent and unpaid, and have remained delinquent and unpaid for sufficient time to authorize and require, as provided by the foregoing acts, the sale of the aforesaid parcels of land against which they were assessed and are extended in said schedule at the next annual tax sale for the non-payment thereof, and that the said taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses so extended in said schedule against each parcel of land thereto described constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein and against which extended in favor of the people of the State of Michigan, the payment of which lien this court may enforce as a preferred or first claim upon such lands by the sale thereof.

Wherefore your petitioner prays:

a. That within the time provided by law this court may determine and decree that the aforesaid taxes, interest, collection fee and charge are valid and constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule, and that said lands be sold for the amounts as claimed by the State of Michigan.

b. That within the time provided by law this court make a final decree in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands for the payments of the several amounts of taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land therein contained;

c. That said decree provide that in default of the payment as ordered of the said several sums computed and extended against said lands in said schedule, the said several parcels of land, or such interest thereto as may be necessary to satisfy the amount decreed against the same, shall severally be sold as the law provides;

d. That your petitioner may have such other and further relief in the premises as to this court may seem just and equitable.

And your petitioner will ever pray, etc.

Dated: December 31, 1915.

MURL K. ATEN,
Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State.

The Tow Line . . .

It was about six years ago that I began getting notes saying "isn't it about time you put away childish things," all because I had the chicken-pox. And now another person is in the same boat, George Light, Jr. He is at his home in Norwood these days, entertaining the childish disease. It's no fun, either when you are a grown-up in spite of all the kidding one gets . . . It was truly "full house" at Boyne Mountain Sunday.

Charlevoix County is really getting in the limelight in the winter sports field. Gov. and Mrs. G. Mennen Williams were among the guests Sunday afternoon. It was fun Monday hearing folks say, "and were you there Sunday when the Governor took a spill on his skis? He fell down five times." He said that it was ten years since he had been on a pair of skis, so he would be entitled to take a few spills.

On board their cruiser "Markay" down at Stuart, Fla., Mrs. A. Schaerer, one of our summer residents on Lake Charlevoix, writes that it is much fun getting The Courier. She told of giving the Devil's Food Cake rule (that $100.00 story one) to a friend who went home and made it after supper that night. Said she couldn't believe that a cake with salad dressing as an ingredient could be any good. But it was super, even if fattening.

Then Mrs. Schaerer sent a rule which she declared was a nice fattening one for Lady Fingers. The ingredients are: 7/8 cup butter, 5 tablespoons sugar, 2 cups flour, 1 tablespoon water, 1 cup chopped nuts, 1 teaspoon vanilla. Cream shortening, add sugar and cream together, then vanilla and flour gradually. Beat after each addition, add water and nut meats. Shape into lady fingers and bake in 350 degree oven for 20 minutes. When cool roll in powdered sugar.

Thanks a million, Mrs. Schaerer, and with that recipe comes another thought. During the next six weeks here is a way in which you can help, even those of our Charlevoix Courier family who are many miles away. Why don't you sit down NOW and copy off a few of your favorites. Bring them when you come down town, or if out of town, send them to me. That would help a heap and I'll be looking for those recipes.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Walton and daughter of East Jordan were dinner guests Thursday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Eizinga. Mrs. LeRoy Furgeson and sons of Petoskey called at the Eizinga home Sunday . . . With the ground really covered with a blanket of snow, please don't forget those birds who are hungry. So many folks about town are enjoying their bird feeding stations and report many interesting visitors daily.

Odd Fellows Take Lead at Cribbage

With only four more games to go, the Odd Fellows Monday night grabbed a definite lead in the Cribbage war.

Scoring 17,347 to the Mason's 17,039 points, the IOOF crew now leads by 346 points.

And believe it or not, Fred Christianson for the Odd Fellows and Max Seamehorn for the bricklayers each had a high score of 944.

Edwards Attends IGA Convention

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Edwards are down at Chicago this week attending the national IGA Convention at the Congress Hotel.

Accompanied by Arthur Edwards they left here Saturday, staying all night at Newaygo with her folks and going to Chicago Sunday. They expect to be back Thursday.

Bell Rate Case Is Being Held Up

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company case is being held up pending the clarification of a legal point by the State Supreme Court.

At issue is the question as to the legality of the Michigan Public Service Commission proceeding with the case while the 1045 rate-reduction order is still in litigation.

Remember the good old days when the only picket duty we had was white washing the garden fence?—Iron Ore, Ishpeming.

Duke Gets His Tractor

Duke Thomas bought a farm with the money he'd saved in the Service, but he couldn't get a tractor. He needed it badly, but was tenth on the local dealer's list.

"Tell you what," old man Peters says, "If those nine fellows ahead of you agree, you'll get the next one I get in." "No, thanks," says Duke, "I'll just take my turn."

But old Peters mails out nine postcards. And the other day he tells Duke his tractor will be in next week. "I simply wrote the facts to the fellows ahead of you. They decided it."

From where I sit, it's that spirit of understanding that helps make our democracy so great. Understanding for the other fellow's problems and respect for the other fellow's rights—whether it's his right to earn a living, his right to cast his vote against your candidate, or even his right to enjoy a moderate, friendly glass of beer or ale—if and when he chooses. Let's always keep it that way!

IT HAPPENED ON . . . . BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

In the "mail lift" for the Island only two mishaps occurred, Musette LaFreniere's glasses, being returned from the repair shop, were broken. A shoe box containing Eva McDonough's shoes was broken and the shoes separated.

Jack Connaghan and Robert Gillespie flew across to Charlevoix Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McDonough who were in Grand Rapids for three weeks, returned Wednesday.

Tattle tale taxi tracks traced Beaver Island's only taxi to the Coast Guard Station after it was discovered missing from in front of the Shamrock Tavern. The culprit found out crime does not pay. The car's pipe line froze up and he had a long cold walk back to the village.

Mr. and Mrs. Bugs Bunny and their family of 37 bunnies are running around at large in Burt McDonough's yard—correction, the name is Bertrand. Now Bertrand likes rabbit stewed, fried baked and often, so he planted Mama and Papa Bunny in his yard and the family grew to the present proportion. Now he can sit on his back steps, grab a rabbit as one hops by without the fuss and bother of a hunting expedition.

The Altar Society's benefit card party was held Thursday evening in the Parish Hall. Mrs. Willie Schmidt and Russell Greene won prizes for top score. Larry Cull won the door prize. After the card game, lunch was served.

Theresa Gallagher and the children had a scare Thursday afternoon when James' team returned from the woods without him. On the way home from the lumber camp, James stopped by George Ricksgers to inquire about Mrs. Ricksgers, who was ill. James left his team untied while he went in for a visit. The horses evidently were anxious to get home, so away they went, tearing down King's Highway lickety-spiit. When the team stopped in the Gallagher's yard with James absent, the family was frantic. Thoughts and fears of every description filled the interval between the return of the team and the appearance of James, safely delivered home by George in his Jumper.

Audrey Gatliff was 12 years old Friday. After school, she invited her classmates to her home for a celebration. Those who came to make her birthday a happy one were: Margaret Ann Lafreniere, Carolyn Miller, Rosalie Bennett, Rosemary McDonough, Mary Catherine Hanley, Carlene Left, Norene Cross, Jean Catherine LaFreniere, Margie Martin and Eleanor Gallagher.

Sunday, Sophia Irene, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Lafreniere was christened at Holy Cross church. Marguerite Connaghan and Bruce McDonough are the god-parents.

Sunday afternoon, members of the Holy Cross Altar Society met at the Parish Hall for the regular monthly meeting.

Wilbur Martin is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Bill Belfy.

The Sodality of the Blessed Virgin will sponsor a Valentine Dance in the Parish Hall the evening of Feb. 14.

Rayders Hand Out Severe Defeat to Harbor Springs

Charlevoix was headed for victory. The first quarter ended 14 to 5. The Rams played better ball the next period, the half ending 28 to 22. But Charlevoix came back with 22 points in the next period to 10 of Harbor and the game was on ice.

The Reserve battle was no such cinch. In overtime struggle, Charlevoix nosed out ahead, 31-30, by virtue of Ward dropping in a free throw with about 30 seconds left to play.

The box scores were:

The ski school luncheon tried out last week at the Boyne Mountain Resort proved so successful that Manager Jim Christianson plans to make them a regular Thursday feature.

Open to women of Northwestern Michigan who want to learn more about skiing, the luncheons at 12:30 are followed at 2 p. m. by an hour and a half ski lesson on the Boyne Mountain slopes.

Christianson says it is advisable to make reservations.

Anger or hunger will make fish bite, but when they are full they will take no more for irregular periods of time. Their appetites vary from day to day, season to season.

100 Scouts to Enter in Klondike Derby Sunday

The Tow Line

News of folks, your neighbors and mine . . .but did you know that—

Folks are now driving across the ice at Ironton. At least there is some ice safe enough to drive on. Both entrances are good at South Arm.

Our hats off to the Boy Scouts. They have had a busy time for the past week or so with their birthday celebration. Now a grand finale will be held Sunday at 2 o'clock at McSauba when they stage the Klondike Derby. The derby is open to the public and it is hoped that a large represantetion of townspeople will be there. When there are such splendid groups of Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts as Charlevoix has, there is not too much to worry about juvenile dalinquency. It's a real solution to the youth problem. Lets show the boys and their leaders we are behind them by being at Mt. McSauba Sunday.

Hope that we can have snow stay long enough so that a few old fashioned sleigh ride parties can be staged before the winter is over. Monday's snow gave evidence that we might have some, but Saturday one felt like getting out the rugs and starting spring housecleaning.

Now that friend husband is bound for the Virgin Islands with the Navy we can expect anything back in the mail. Have been reading up on crocodiles and chameleons and find chameleons make good pets if kept in a warm sunny place. Am up a stump on one thing though. The best food for chameleons is cockroaches. Where would one find them short of Mississippi?

Stanley Flnucan, who passed away in Lansing last week, was the son of William Flnucan, who was a Great Lakes man and Captain of the Manitou and other Great Lakes boats. His brother, George, was at one time Postmaster in Charlevoix and for many years the family lived in the house now occupied by Nora Moran.

Alma Rayman took an enforced vacation last week from her duties at the Sugar Bowl. She remained at home entertaining the chicken pox and did not welcome her guest of the week . . . Robert Morse of Lansing was here for the week end at the Robert Bridge home. On his return he was accompanied by Mrs. Adelia Morse and Mrs. Laura Kimball who have been with the Bridges for some months. Mr. Morse stated that his son, Bill, a navy aviator, will be on the same maneuvers to the Virgin Islands that friend husband is going on as a guest.

Mrs. Harry Craig was taken to Ann Arbor Friday to the University Hospital as she has been suffering quite a bit of pain of late . . . Asked LoAnne Anderson in Williams store Monday morning if she could have her choice of dining with any parson in the world at dinner tomorrow night who she would choose. She hesitated a moment and then said, "President Truman." Turning to Clarence Wood who was coming in the store, we asked him the same question and quick as a flash he said, "My wife." Now there's real devotion for you. (At any rate Clarence knows that he woud get a good meal for Blanche is a crackerjack of a cook.)

Have you been noticing the huge great Dane dog about town. It is the property of the W. K. Cota family and follows Judy about. The dog's name is Dana and spends his time being very lazy around the house as the family is afraid to allow him to run out through Boulder Park and Birch Hills as they are afraid some boy might mistake him for a deer, shoot, first and then look afterwards. Mrs. Cota, by the way, was raised in Seattle and loves the water so feels quite at

Road Commission Recommends Lower Ironton Ferry Toll Charge

Riding across the Ironton Ferry next spring and summer likely will cost either a dime or 15 cents.

Monday two committees of the Board of Supervisors met with the County Highway Commissioners at the Court House here and in a two hour session threshed out the matter of tolls.

Last January the Supervisors and the Road Commission met. The former turned the management of the ferry for the coming year over to the Road Board. A ferry toll schedule was tentatively set up under which a car would pay 25 cents for a single trip or 20 cents for a book of tickets.

Immediately the storm started blowing up. Although the proposal of putting a toll on the ferry had been well publicized almost two months before the meeting, no protests or suggestions had been made to either the Supervisors or Road Commission.

But after the January meeting the protests rolled in fast. They varied from suggestions for a lower toll to none at all.

The result was that the Ferry Commission and the Special Ferry Committee of the Supervisors and the three Road Commissioners met Monday. It was decided that it would be better to drop the toll down and to see how it worked out. The result was adoption of a resolution setting the toll at the 10 and 15 cent level for cars. This resolution will be presented to the Board of Supervisors at the April session. Action taken then will be final.

The rate for trucks and cars with trailers is higher, since these take up the space required for two cars. The fare on them will be 25 cents for single trip or 20 cents if the prepaid tickets are used.

United Health And Welfare Drive Is On

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Livingston Sr., and daughter, Janet went to Rockford Friday to spend the week end with the David Livingstons and the Archie Livingstons, Jr.

Red Cross Plans Annual Drive

The annual Red Cross funds drive will open in Charlevoix county on March 1, Loton Willson, funds chairman, has announced. Plans are now being made for the drive. Local chairmen and the 1949 quota will be announced next week.

Mr. Willson has warned county residents not to confuse the Red Cross drive with any other drive. The American Red Cross annually conducts its drive in March and not associated with any other drive.

Of the amount raised in the county in 1948, $4,917.07 was spent within the county. Among the major funds spent were $840.32 to aid those who had suffered losses in fire disasters; $1,965.20 to assist veterans and their families; $818.38 to help servicemen and their families; and $182.14 for the water and safety program. The latter paid the entrance fee for the Red Cross Aquatic school which was attended by several young men and women who then returned to their respective communities to aid in life saving and first aid programs.

This year 74.8% of the funds raised will remain in the county to be used for the residents of the county. The remainder will go to national headquarters to be used for such things as aiding in national disasters, serving the armed forces, serving veterans and promoting health and safety.

Adversity Is Challenge to Hortons Bay Students

Handicapped by the loss of its equipment and building in a fire three years ago, the school at Hortons Bay is getting back on its collective feet again.

After a year of school in the town hall, last summer the former Lakeside or East Bay building was moved to the hilltop east of Hortons Bay. Seats were borrowed from the closed Undine school. The books and other equipment bought, indoor toilets hooked up to the septic tank and last fall school opened under almost normal conditions.

For the second year, Miss Betty Clarke is the teacher.

The studies are the required ones. As indicated by the hooks ranged in order on her neatly kept desk, they are; geography, language, spelling, arithmetic, reading, science.

This last is not just a dull topic. A lot of the surrounding territory is called on for illustrative material. On the window sill at the south side of the room is a start on a good rock collection. Every piece was brought by some

Ramblers Bow To Rayders In Second Clash

The Charlevoix Rayders knocked the Boyne City team from the ranks of the undefeated on Friday night when they trounced the visitors 46-24 in a thrill-packed game played in the local gym before a record crowd of fans.

Boyne City still leads the league, however, with eleven wins and one defeat, while Charlevoix is in second place with ten wins and one loss. Unless Gaylord or Harbor can pull an upset and beat the Ramblers they will hold their first place rating. Charlevoix who still has games with Mancelona and Grayling expected to win both and finish in second place.

Girl Scout Week to Be Observed By Local Groups

At the Charlevoix Girl Scout Council meeting last week tentative plans were made for Girl Scout week March 6 and for the annual meeting on April 8.

For the Girl Scouts of Charlevoix as well as for all other Girl Scouts and Girl Guides in 31 countries around the world, February is International Month. Learning to understand and make friends with the girls of other lands is one of the most important year-around activities of the Scouts.

Biggest current international project of the organization is the Clothes for Friendship drive. Originally scheduled to end Dec. 1, 1948, the undertaking has proved so successful that it is now being continued until the Girl Scout birthday, March 12.

Local troops have already shipped overseas more than 400 garments assembled into 18 complete wordrobes for children ranging in age from one day to 14 years.

Letters of gratitude have been received by Charlevoix Girl Scouts from several families in Germany. One was from a Children's home in Remagen, Germany, operated by Catholic Sisters. This home alone cares for 90 children ranging in age from 3 to 15 years.

Kiwanians Get Facts On Fund Drive

At the regular meeting of the Kiwanis on Monday evening, Gordon Freedman addressed the group in the interest of the United Health and Welfare drive and explained the aims of the new organization.

David Hamilton entertained the gathering by playing several of his own compositions on the piano.

Milstein, Feagan to Head County Chamber of Commerce

Barney Milstein of East Jordan was elected president and Don Feagan the secretary of the Charlevoix County Chamber of Commerce last Wednesday at East Jordan.

Eight men from Charlevoix attended: Leon Abbey, Cornellus Gelken, Arthur Bergeon, S. E. Coleman, Robert Fochtman, Charles Bleha, C. B. Meggison and L. E. Towe.

The approaching Smelt Derby and the Ironton ferry toll were discussed at length.

The Smelt Derby will be an all county affair, and will be given state-wide publicity. It will enable smelt dippers to circle Lake Chirlevoix and dip smelt in ten streams at regulated hours.

Arthur Bergeon and C. B. Meggison of the Board of Supervisors told the story of the ferry. They explained how the operating cost was getting so high the county had to do one of two things—get more taxes or let the users pay. Since most of the users (three-quarters of them, according to Pete Bennett) are out-of-county residents, Bergeon said he felt the county should quit being Santa Claus.

Independents to Meet Mt. Pleasant and St. Ignace Here

The Charlevoix Independents will play two home games within the next week. On Saturday the Mt. Pleasant Independents will play here and the following Tuesday St. Ignace will invade the Lower Peninsula gym for a return game with the local aggregation. Starting time is 7:30 p. m.

The main game Saturday night will be preceded by a game between the local Reserves and a Petoskey team and on Tuesday the Central Lake team will meet the Reserves.

The Midland team, who played here earlier in the season, rate the Mt. Pleasant team on a par with Charlevoix providing the local quintet play their best game. Charlevoix will be bolstered by Lewis Brown of Petoskey, and Skinny Edson of Ellsworth.

St. Ignace defeated the Independents on their own floor a couple weeks ago but the game is rated as a toss-up here. St. Ignace is led by Sendik, a State Policeman, who has been averaging 25 points per game. The preliminary with Central Lake will wind up the Cleaners League schedule.

Perch Festival Brings Publicity

Charlevoix rated a picture and write-up in the "Hardware Age" national publication of retail hardware dealers.

The story told about the three-day perch festival put on last May by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The picture showed the Ironton float just as it turned the corner by the Central Drug Store.

Ray Ashdon Draws Perfect Cribbage Hand

Ray Ashdon was the "man of the hour" Monday night at the Cribbage Tourney between the Masons and the Odd Fellows for he got a first perfect score.

The Masons won by 277 points with Ray Ashdon high point man with 968 points and Robert Pearl a close contestant with 957 points. There were 8½ tables at play.

The Masons score Monday was 15,550 points with the IOOF trailing with 15,273 points, just 277 points behind.

The IOOF fellows have a lead of 69 points in the total score thus far for the season's tournament. With just three more games to be played in the tournament, the competition is now very keen.

City Officers to Be Nominated at Primary, Monday

Charlevoix city primary election, Monday, offers but one contest for a place in the city official family. For alderman of the First Ward, Charles Bellinger, incumbent, is opposed by Claude L. Davy. Both candidates are life residents of Charlevoix and both are in business here.

Harley Ochs, who has been alderman in the Second Ward for the last four terms, did not file for nomination. This left Drew E. Young, local realtor, unopposed for the nomination. Since his return to Charlevoix from the service, Mr. Young has taken a keen interest in city affairs.

It is reported he has been on hand, as listener, at nearly every council meeting.

All other nominees to be elected are incumbents. The ballot will present the following candidates.

City: Mayor, Ray S. Hamilton; Clerk, Hugh Mayne; Treasurer, Nelle A. Hammond.

First Ward: Supervisor, George O. Haggard; Alderman, Charles Bellinger and Claude L. Davy.

Second Ward: Supervisor, Arthur Bergeon, Alderman, Drew E. Young.

Third Ward: Supervisor, Clarence Meggison; Alderman, Harry F. Hooker.

Ziegler Will Be Honored at Dinner

The Charlevoix Republican Committee will be the host to visiting Republicans from ten counties Feb. 24, at a banquet honoring Charles M. Ziegler, state highway commissioner. The affair will be held at the Dilworth Hotel, Boyne City, at 6:30.

Commissioner Ziegler will deliver the address of the evening. It is expected that Ziegler will document the success of the state highway department under the past six years of Republican administration as well as to analyze the situation which confronts the Republican party on April 4.

Invitations to the rally have been sent to Republican organizations in Emmet, Cheboygan, Alpena, Antrim, Kalkaska, Grand Traverse, Montmorency, Otsego and Presque Isle counties. Both men and women are invited.

Operations Zero To Be Staged On Mt. McSauba

"Operations Zero" will be the theme of the Klondike Derby to be staged at Mt. McSauba Sunday afternoon. Those participating in it will be the Scout patrols of Charlevoix and outlying districts. It is expected that about 100 Scouts will enter the event.

The derby will start at 2 p. m. and the Scouts will have to go to 6 to 10 stations to test their powers which will be based on second class requirements. Prizes will be awarded those winning the highest number of points.

A temporary shelter will be erected at the foot of Mt. McSauba where Scouts will be given hot dogs and cokes or hot chocolate. This food is given as the courtesy of Peet Packing company, Muellers Bakery and the Coco Cola Bottling Works.

The event is open to the pubic and it is hoped that many observers will be present to watch the boys especially when the patrols return to camp to await the decisions of the judges. For these folks there will be sandwiches and coffee which can be bought and the proceeds will go to the Scouts.

Charlevoix Only Resort Represented At Travel Show

"Charlevoix and Charlevoix county were the only resort areas in Michigan represented at the annual Travel and Boat Show held last week at Navy Pier," was the report Capt. Joe Howard brought back from the show on Monday. "We had a good spot," he added, "and I passed out all the literature I had with me."

He also reported seeing all the boat people who visit Charlevoix in the summer. The Charlevoix booth was near a display of large cruisers and other craft and everyone stopped by to see him, he said.

The fellows in the booth next to him, clocked him one day and reported that he shook hands and dispensed literature to more than 500 people during the afternoon and evening.

He said he not only sold Charlevoix to the visitors at the show but to the people who had displays there. Many assured him that they would visit Charlevoix if and when they came to northern Michigan.

Talking to the visitors at the booth was like having roll call at the various resorts in Charlevoix. And they all brought their friends along, too. It was wonderful, he added, and all said they'd be back next summer.

Hats Off to Central Lake

There's one team in the Independent Basketball League that merits a lot of praise. It's the Central Lake squad. Definitely playing out of their depth this year, the Lakers still refuse to drop out but keep on with the schedule.

That's the kind of grit which one has to admire.

Incidentally, the whole League is a fine thing. It is supplying our section of the state with some fine quality basketball and entertainment during the winter.

Less Spending, Not More Expense

Evidently I'm right or else a lot of Michigan's editors are just as mistaken as I am on this subject of state government. (The same thing applies equally to village and to national affairs.)

The Bureau of Governmental Research of Michigan polled all of the Michigan editors about our state government. The most pressing problem, said 68 percent of the editors, was to reduce and consolidate agencies.

Also, 78 percent of them said that expenditures should be cut to fit revenues, not try to find new taxes to meet mounting expenditures. Only 17 percent favored a four year term for state officials.

Why Have Any Backbone?

What do you know, pretty soon Uncle Sam is going to come out here to Charlevoix and help us organize and run our recreation program! He'll see to it that we have a nice soft patch of non-staining grass for mumbledypeg games and maybe even provide good safe dull barlow knives.

That of course will provide another federal job for some deserving patriot. He can be head barlow knife uncountant for the northwestern district.

No kidding, Senator Thomas of Utah is introducing a bill at this session which authorizes the Federal Security Administrator to provide professional and advisory services to help states develop community recreation programs. Oh's that one FSA head who is seeking another quarter million jobs in his department through the so-called sickness insurance program.)

The Federal Government has about as much business monkeying with a recreation program as I have being skipper of the Queen Mary. If we here in Charlevoix want a recreation program, it's up to us to provide it. Pretty soon, Uncle Sam will have some one around here to blow our noses for us—and we'll be paying another salary.

Good Roads—or CIO Control

In his Michigan Mirror Column on this page, Gene Alleman, down at Lansing outlines one big question which Michigan voters will be facing on April 3.

But he does not point out, except by mild inference, the big question which we up here in Northern Michigan are facing. It's this one of roads.

Since we are a tourist area, roads are one of our major interests. If we have good roads, more folks will come. If we don't, they'll stay away.

Charles Ziegler, present Highway Commissioner and candidate for re-election, has proved himself both a road builder and a friend of Northern Michigan. We have tangible evidence right around us:

The new bridge here at Charlevoix.

The new pavement to Bay Shore.

The new link on US-131 between West Elmira and Boyne Falls.

And there are plenty of other similar jobs going on. Equally important is his general policy on state roads. He delegates all the work he efficiently can back to the counties, thereby saving the state a million dollars a year. His is one of the few departments which has cut down its employees and boosted its output at the same time. We need more men like that at Lansing.

I know nothing of the qualifications of Mr. McCarthy. But it is a fact he is a protege of the CIO. That means his loyalty and first service will have to be to that organization—which is primarily interested in the Detroit-Flint-Saginaw area and the urban worker's needs.

For Northern Michigan the issue is clear—do we want good roads or do we want CIO control?

Michigan Mirror

Non-Partisan News Letter

By Gene Alleman
Lansing Observer for Michigan Press Association

Lansing—Confused Republican bigwigs, still bewildered from the November election shock, were weighing this week the merits and demerits of a brand new issue for the coming spring election.

The issue is more emotional than rational. It doesn't have much to do with maintenance of the highways, for good or worse, or whether Michigan boys and girls are getting a good deal in education, or all of the other things candidates for office promise when they're wooing votes.

All of the trappings will be present for the Feb. 22 revival of the State Democratic convention at Grand Rapids.

Old line Democrats, such as those who once loyally followed Murray D. "Pat" Van Wagoner, witnessed the "capture" on Feb. 5 of the state Democratic organization by the Congress of Industrial Organizations. The party boss was not the youthful Gov. G. Mennen Williams, the Grosse Pointe beneficiary on Nov. 2 of CIO "yes" votes and GOP "no" votes.

The new party boss was August Scholle, president of the CIO state council and chairman of the union's Political Action Committee. It was the astute Scholle who presented a slate of candidates to be nominated for the spring election.

Opposition to his slate collapsed. Favored candidate of "old-line" Democrats for state highway commissioner was William H. Harvie of Birmingham, former engineer for the state highway department. Because of the candidate's capabilities and the well-run campaign directed by C. W. Lucas, secretary to former Governor Van Wagoner, the Harvie band-wagon was running smooth. That is—until Scholle took over!

The CIO choice for highway commissioner was John H. McCarthy of Mt. Clemens; for superintendent of public instruction, E. Burr Sherwood of Stambaugh.

The convention was also unorthodox politically in the fact that the state chairman, John R. Franco, was completely ignored. Hicks Griffiths, law partner of Governor Williams, was chosen chairman.

The CIO tried to upset the re-election candidacy of Justice Edward F. Sharpe of Bay City because of Sharpe's record of court decisions, said to have been "reactionary." John B. Legatz, former Muskegon prosecutor, was favored for the Supreme court post. But the party leaders, apparently worried that the CIO might be going too far, finally united on Sharpe. The second nominee, George E. Bushnell of Highland Park, was unopposed.

Since the record shows that the Michigan CIO dictated most of the choices, the question before Republican strategists is something like this: Should the GOP make the CIO the spring election issue? Should Michigan let one labor organization "take over" selection of a party ticket?

But to stir up the CIO, hush-hush other Republican leaders, would only invite an organized march of union members to the polls.

However, the Democratic convention attendance—one of the largest in history—does not indicate that the Michigan CIO is going to be disinterested in the spring election outcome. The governor's program to tax "big business" is certain to be kept quietly on the legislative shelf until after the election. No issue there.

If the Michigan CIO can demonstrate its liberal appeal with the rank and file of Michigan voters by winning the spring election, then perhaps a pattern can be evolved whereby the Democratic party will become the "workers' party" in everything but its name.

IT HAPPENED ON . . . . BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Henley

Beaver Island's ice village has grown in the last two weeks to a settlement of about 25 shanties.

Tramping over the ice in the gray of early morn, one can see fishermen, usually pulling a sled and followed by a dog, making their way to "Shanty Town". By eight o'clock, the village is well populated.

Fishermen report good catches of perch—much better than last year.

Monday, Feb. 7 was a very special day for Mr. and Mrs. Vesty McDonough. They celebrated their 51st wedding anniversary. Throughout the day, friends and relatives called to congratulate them.

This past week, camp No. 3 began operating. Truman Ramsey is managing the logging.

School children had a free day Monday and half of Tuesday due to the depth of the snow up around the church. Elston Pischner had to rig up the bulldozer to plow through the deep drifts.

The monthly promoter's meeting of the Third Order of St. Francis was held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Malloy.

Willie Schmidt's nickname comes from the game he plays so often at Joe Gallagher's place. He is now known as "Cue Ball" Schmidt.

Jack Bowman, Gaylord, assistant district supervisor of the Department of Conservation, and Julius O'Brien, East Jordan, conservation officer, flew to the Island in the conservation plane piloted by Peter VanValen.

An 87 year old Norwegian sailor who lives in Hancock and who came to the Island 60 years ago read the account of our "Mail lift" and took time out to write to the "Mayor of Beaver Island" about an experience he had here. The letter was handed to Archie LaFreniere, Jr., and is Pat burned up!

Education gotten the hard way is deserving of mention. The Bonner children, Robert and Mary walk from their home to school each day, a distance of three miles for Mary and over four miles for Robert. This walking over roads deep with snow. "About the last turn of the miles, we usually picked Robert up," says Russell Greene, who drives a sleigh full of young folks from the country to the village school each day.

Mrs. Russell Palmer entertained Mrs. Vesty McDonough and Mrs. Wilfred O'Brien Thursday afternoon.

Archie LaFreniere and Lawrence McDonough are sporting on their upper lip a remnant of the brush grown on their camping trip.

Beaver Island's icy airport is in good condition. Much of the snow has been blown off and a good bit of it disappeared with the 40 degree temperature Saturday.

The night club affair being sponsored by the Association of Commerce will be held Thursday evening.

No one ever dreamed Buddy McDonough could give such a perfect imitiation of a dog as they say he did at camp last week.

Mrs. Bill McDonough left by plane Saturday for Manistique. From there she continued on to Twin Valley, Minn., to attend the funeral of her father. Mary Ellen McDonough arrived on the Island Sunday to take over in her mother's absence.

"Jingle bells, jingle bells, jingle all the way—Oh what fun we're gonna have down on Sandy Bay" sang eight Beaver Island sportsmen as they glided over the snow in Lawrence McDonough's horse drawn sleigh to McDonough's cabin on Sand Bay.

Equipped with everything but the kitchen sink, razors excepted —Burt McDonough, Archie La Freniere, Jr., Gene Connaghan, Gene Burke, Father Giles, Buddy McDonough, Lawrence McDonough and Donald Cole took themselves off Monday for four days of camp life down among the tall pines.

After setting up house keeping and in between shifts of cooking and dishwashing, the four days were spent hunting, hiking and relaxing. With Gene Burke's experience as cook in the army and Burt McDonough's culinary experience at the lighthouse, a heap of good eatin' was one of the highlights of the expedition. However, Archie took over breakfast on the last day and the bill-of-fare turned out to be burnt flapjacks.

With all the hunting only Gene Connoghan had a shot at a coyote. He missed. A try at a buzzard by Donald Cole brought no results. A chick-a-dee volunteered to accompany the would-be hunters home just to save their bearded faces.

Bill, Bob Carey Going Places On M. S. C. Cage Team

Bill and Bob Carey are going places down at Michigan State as far as basketball is concerned.

The Michigan State News in its Feb. 9 issue had a lengthy story on the basketball prospects for next year when Al Kircher takes over as head basketball coach for State's first year in the Big Ten.

After analyzing the situation and discussing strategy, the article goes on to say:

"Throughout the season, the big item on the frosh list has been the remarkable rebound work of such members as Bill and Bob Carey, six feet two inches and six feet, five inches respectively. The Carey brothers are twins from Charlevoix, Mich.

"Also outstanding in controlling the rebound area are: Art McCoglan, former Saginaw SS. Peter and Paul center; Bob Ranguette, Escanaba star; Bill Eckstrom, Grant forward; and Gerald Holstein, Pearl River, N. Y., center."

Fred Stabley, sports publicity editor, writes:

"We might add that Bill and Bob have been on the first five of the freshman team since the start of practice late last fall and have shown great promise of becoming collegiate stars."

The Nicest Distance Between Two Points

To ride in a Cadillac is to experience the supreme satisfaction that can be derived from personal transportation. The person at the wheel is the quickest to sense this—for he is the special beneficiary of Cadillac comfort. He enjoys, of course—in common with the other occupants of the car—the matchless benefits of Cadillac balance and springing and roadability. But he enjoys, in addition, the driving ease of a feather-light steering wheel; a quick, powerful, responsive motor that knows no counterpart for agility and smoothness; big, dominant brakes that are as soft to the pedal as sponge rubber; and an over-all sure-footedness on the highway that reduces driving strain to the minimum. Somebody has said that, once you have driven a Cadillac, you're unhappy at the wheel of any other car. Certain it is that a ride in a Cadillac—whether as driver or passenger—is the nicest distance between two points! Have you driven a 1949 Cadillac—or ridden in one? If not, you ought to do so. You are welcome in our showrooms at any time.

R. T. Davises Back From Long Trip

Back from a 7000 mile trip which took them to 16 states, Mr. and Mrs. R T. Davis reached Charlevoix last Wednesday.

Three weeks earlier they had attended a picnic with the Charlevoix crowd wintering at Harlingen Texas. Mr. Davis says he never saw so many vegetables as are grown in the Rio Grande Valley where three crops a year are harvested.

Most of the labor is by Mexicans who are paid from $1.50 to $2 a day.

• Mr. and Mrs. Lance Neff and Capt. and Mrs. Alfred Brow spent the week end at Newberry with the former's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Neff. While there they attended the annual Winter Carnival Smorgasbord sponsored by the Messiah Lutherao Brotherbood.

Fochtman Briefs New Road Laws For Grangers

Changes in the proposed highway legislation now being considered by Michigan lawmakers were briefly outlined to the Charlevoix County Pomona Grange at the Rock Elm Grange hall, Tuesday evening by Mr. Gus Fochtman of the Charlevoix County Road Commission

Mr. Fochtman pointed out that the highway laws proposed would completely revamp present highway legislation. A new motor vehicle highway fund would be set up for financing and all classes of motor vehicle taxes levied would be placed in the fund.

County roads would come under two classifications, primary county roads and county local roads. McNit roads would come under the latter classification and under the proposed law they wnuld be financed on a matching basis with the townships.

Passenger car weight tax would be increased to 50 cents per hundred weight and commercial vehicle tax would be increased 33 1/3 per cent. The gasoline tax would jump to 4.3 cents.

The commissioner also told the group that the question of tolls on the Ironton Ferry had been tentatively revised., It is now proposed to have a total of 15 cents for one passenger car trip or books of 20 tickets for $2. Toll for trucks would be 25 cents.

Mr. Fochtman pointed out that it cost the county about $8,000 to operate the ferry in 1948. This figure did not include depreciation and administration costs. It is estimated that depreciation and administration costs would increase the figure to about $12,000.

Judge Marx Given Party on His Sixtieth Birthday After Observing Fortieth 20 Years

Judge Robert Marx had a 20-year-old resolution definitely broken by his Cincinnati friends a couple of weeks ago.

The story, as told in the Cincinnati Post, goes back to 1929 when Mr. Marx invited a group of friends in to a party celebrating his 40th birthday. At that time he announced he was not going to allow himself to get any older but would continue to celebrate his 40th birthday annually.

He kept to that resolution. Year after year on Jan 29 he was host to a birthday party, his fortieth. But last year the guests had another idea. At Judge Marx's party some of them offered a resolution that the next year they, the guests, should be host and the party was to be in honor of the anniversary as shown in Who's Who– the sixtieth.

So that's the way it was this year. In charge was the "Committee for the Life Begins at 60 for Robert S. Marx party." Besides, the invitations said " . . . his friends owe it to him to pay the bills of the party after all the dinners they had had at his expense."

But on Jan. 29 Judge Marx announced that, now the guests have got this crazy idea of 60 years off their chests, he intends to be sensible and go back to celebrating his fortieth birthday annually again.

Editor Steps Out of This Argument

Here's one argument the editor is going to step out of:

Two weeks ago The Courier told about the old picture brought in by M. K. Chew. Earl A. Young happened to be in at the time and told about Major Green's being a Confederate veteran, about his home, orchard and white crow.

Now along comes a letter from Will Hampton in which he says Major Green was an officer in the Union Army and member of the G. A. R. "I know, for it was the first real scoop that I had in the paper when I went to Charlevoix in May, 1890. Major Green delivered the Memorial address and I printed it in full."

So there you are. Now it's up to Mr. Hampton and Mr. Young to argue it out between themselves . On only one thing will The Courier stand pat; everyone seems to agree that Major Green was a top quality citizen, whether a Johnny Reb or Yankee.

Casket Salesman Gets Both Feet In the Grave

There is an old saying about a man "having one foot in the grave," but it took Ed Lupe to challenge that statement. He not only tried to get in both feet, but to take it head first.

Ed is well known in Charlevoix, a casket salesman from Grand Rapids, and a personal friend of the Glenn Sees.

Last week he was here when services were conducted from the See Funeral Home. He went to the cemetery to assist with the arranging of the flowers at the grave. He was leaning down, putting some flowers in place when he missed his footing, fell through the artificial grass used as covering for the grave and went in, head first. He waa knocked unconscious.

Mr. Lupe was taken to the Charlevoix Hospital where he has been since. Mrs. Lupe was called to his bedside. Now they are awaiting word when the patient can be removed to the hospital in their home town where he will be confined from eight to twelve weeks more.

It was hearts and Cupids at school Friday afternoon when the annual Valentine party took place. The small fry stayed at home in the morning so that they could go in the afternoon and be in on the fun too. After playing games for a while the Valentines were distributed from a gaily trimmed box and every one had a number of them. The girls served a lunch of cookies and hot chocolate. Every one had a wonderful time.

Saturday was the day of Carol Wangburg's sixth birthday party. It took place from two to four at her home. After playing games for a while, Carol opened her gifts. Son Brings Old Pictures of Ice Cream Factory

That remark of Joseph Bohrer about the delicious ice cream of Johnson's brought out some old pictures.

Like the others, these too, are in The Courier window. Elwyn Johnson brought them in.

The Johnson ice cream plant stood where East Park now is. In the pictures are his father Will Johnson, and Charles Lanphear. Shown are the old heavy ice crusher, the wooden freezer tubs, and two wheeled delivery cart used for hauling the tubs around town.

The picture of the bridge is from the horse and buggy days. Operator of the bridge was Elmer Johnson, uncle of Elwyn. Back in those days the operator worked 24 hours a day, seven days a week and for as long as the season lasted. Mrs. Johnson brought his meals down to him, and he lived and slept in the little bridge house.

The modern design for '49

Why not get all this in YOUR new car?

Owners of low-built Hudsons have it!

Owners of New Hudsons are seeing for themselves that the lower a car can be built, the more graceful its lines can be made, the better it will ride, the more surely it will handle, and the safer it will be!

Because people who drive Hudsons "step down" into an exciting, new kind of automobile, they enjoy more head room and roomier seats—in an automobile only five feet from ground to top—than in any mass-produced car built today! Yet Hudson has ample road clearance!

But roominess is only one of the wonderful advantages that go with the automobile that is so far ahead it's a protected investment in motor car value.

Here are more:

Authentic beauty—the "step down" principle is so basically right it frees designers of the need for makeshift styling, enables Hudson to achieve pleasing proportions, symmetric, free-flowing lines.

A hug-the-road ride, and a smooth, steady way of going, because Hudson has the lowest center of gravity in any American stock car!

Performance? You bet! Hudson's all-new, high-compression Super-Six engine—or the masterful Super-Eight, get every chance to perform at their brilliant best, because this car is so low-built, so streamlined!

A new measure of safety, because you ride completely encircled by the sturdy, box-section steel girders of Hudson's Monobilt body-and-frame.*

We invite you to visit your nearby Hudson showroom, to see all the advantages you are entitled to in your new car!

In the Matter of the petition of Murl K. Aten, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon. No. 1544

On reading and filing the petition of the Auditor General of the State of Michigan praying for a decree in favor of the State of Michigan, against each parcel of land therein described, for the amounts therein specified, claimed to be due for taxes, interest and charges on each such parcel of land, and that such lands be sold for the amounts so claimed by the State of Michigan.

It is ordered that said petition will be brought on for hearing and decree at the March term of this Court, to be held at Charlevoix in the County of Charlevoix, State of Michigan, on the 7th day of March, A. D. 1949, at the opening of the Court on that day, and that all persons interested in such lands or any part thereof, desiring to contest the lien claimed thereon by the State of Michigan, for such taxes, interest and charges, or any part thereof, shall appear in said Court, and file with the clerk thereof their objections thereto on or before the first day of the term of this Court above mentioned, and that in default thereof the same will be taken as confessed and a decree will be taken and entered as prayed for in said petition. And it is further ordered that in pursuance of said decree the lands described therein as may be necessary to complete the sale of said lands and of each and every parcel thereof, at the office of the County Treasurer, or at such convenient place as shall be selected by him at the county seat of the County of Charlevoix, State of Michigan; and that the sale then and there made will be a public sale, and each parcel described in the decree shall be separately exposed for sale for the total taxes, interest and charges, and the sale shall be made to the person paying the full amount charged against such parcel, and accepting a conveyance of the smallest undivided fee simple interest therein; or, if no person will pay the taxes and charges and take a conveyance of less than the entire thereof, then the whole parcel shall be offered and sold. If any parcel of land cannot be sold for taxes, interest and charges, such parcel shall be passed over for the time being, and shall, on the succeeding day, or before the close of the sale, be reoffered, and if, on such second offer, or during such sale, the same cannot be sold for the amount aforesaid, the County Treasurer shall bid off the same in the name of the State.

Witness the Hon. Charles L. Brown, Circuit Judge, and the seal of said Circuit Court of Charlevoix County this 31st day of December, A. D. 1948.

CHARLES L. BROWN,
Countersigned, Circuit Judge.
FENTON R. BULGW, Clerk.

STATE OF MICHIGAN

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY OF CHARLEVOIX IN CHANCERY

In the Matter of the Petition of Murl K. Aten, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

To the Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix, in Chancery:

Murl K. Aten, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, respectfully shows unto the Court:

1. That he is the Auditor General of the State of Michigan and makes and files this petition under, by virtue of and pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 260 of the Public Acts of 1893, as amended, and Act. No. 126 of the Public Acts of 1933, as amended;

2. That Schedule A annexed hereto is the tax record required by the act first above mentioned and contains the description of all lands in the aforesaid county upon which taxes, which were assessed for the years mentioned thereto, have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, the description of all lands in said county heretofore bid off in the name of the State and thus held and upon which taxes which were assessed subsequent to the tax for which such lands were sold in the State have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, and the description of all lands in said county which are delinquent for any installment of taxes under the provisions of the act last above mentioned;

3. That extended separately in said schedule against each description of said lands therein contained are (a) the total amount of delinquent taxes upon said description for the non-payment of which the same may lawfully be sold at the next annual tax sale, (b) interest computed thereon as provided by law to the first day of May, next ensuing, (c) a collection fee of four per cent and (d) $1.00 for expenses, all in accordance with the provisions of the act first above mentioned;

4. That all of the aforesaid taxes, interest and charges are valid, delinquent and unpaid, and have remained delinquent and unpaid for sufficient time to authorize and require, as provided by the foregoing acts, the sale of the aforesaid parcels of land against which they were assessed and are extended in said schedule at the next annual tax sale for the non-payment thereof, and that the said taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses so extended in said schedule against each parcel of land therein described constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein and against which extended in favor of the people of the State of Michigan, the payment of which lien this court may enforce as a preferred or first claim upon such lands by the sale thereof.

Wherefore your petitioner prays:

a. That within the time provided by law this court may determine and decree that the aforesaid taxes, interest, collection fee and charges are valid and constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein extended;

b. That within the time provided by law this court make a final decree in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land therein contained;

c. That said decree provide that in default of the payment so ordered of the said several sums computed and extended against said lands in said schedule, the said several parcels of land, or such interest therein as may be necessary to satisfy the amount decreed against the same, shall severally be sold as the law provides;

d. That your petitioner may have such other and further relief in the premises as to this court may seem just and equitable.

And your petitioner will ever pray, etc.

Dated: December 23, 1948.

MURL K. ATEN,
Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State.

County School Commissioner Is W. C. T. U. Speaker

Mrs. Walter Bergeon, Charlevoix county school commissioner, was the speaker at the regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. held at the home of Mrs. Floyd Ikens on Friday. Her topic was "Character Building" and she told how the teachers in today's school system are cooperating with the parents in molding the child's character. She compared the methods taught in the school of yesterday and those taught today and what a vital role fair play and cooperation plays in the class room along with the three R's.

The posters made by the Y. T. C. were displayed to the group.

Mrs. Carroll Fiedler sang a solo "We are not here to play, to dream and to drift", a song which carried out the motto of the organization. Mrs. Guy Smith lead the devotions.

The bake sale on Saturday was highly successful. The proceeds will be used to send two girls to the Y. T. C. camp in June.

Decidedly, yes! By accepting your thrift deposits and your purchases of U. S. Savings Bonds, banks help you postpone your spending for scarce articles; by lending funds to business and industry for constructive purposes, banks help increase the supply of scarce goods. In these and other ways, banks fight inflation.

Ramblers Bow to Rayders In Second Clash

all the tricks out of the bag and came out with a victory

Getting off to a fast start the local team scored three points in rapid succession and from there on the game was definitely theirs. The Boyne team was no match for the inspired Rayders as they led at the quarter 9-3 and at the half 24-9. In the last half the Kipmen settled down to a good steady game and were in command all the way. Fairbanks paced the attack with 14 points and Shadko played a bang up game as guard rounding out a fine show of team work.

For Boyne, Everest, meshed eight points and led their floor attack.

The Reserves with Donaldson and Boss leading the way won another thriller 39-38. Saffron of Boyne topped both teams in scoring with 14 points.

News of folks, your neighbors and mine . . .but did you know that—

Another hobby of yesterday seems to have been revived and the gals of 1940 are trying their hands at china painting. Geik tells us that he has sold several pieces of china for this purpose.

Charlevoix County contributed $817.60 to the March of Dimes Drive, as announced by Mrs. Walter Davis of East Jordan who was chairman for this county . . . Any old dishes, any old wares. Here is your chance to dispose of any white elephants cluttering up your dish cupboards and at the same time you will be helping the Girl Scouts in their old dish sale at the McCabe's store on Saturday. And, who knows, you might find a pretty dish there yourself!

The Ben Browns are headed for St. Petersburg where they will be for the next two months. The Frank Couriers left about ten days ago, waiting for them when they arrive. The Lewis Brants had planned on going to Texas and California but weather reports got them scared out. Now with the floods coming, Charlevoix looks pretty good to them.

It's second semester time at collegt. From Alma College we learn that Nancy Heering has been elected treasurer of the Alpha Theta Sorority for this semester.

Mrs. Annie Bowdish in New Orleans writes that she had Charlevoix visitors, the Ray Hamiltons and the Albert Cooks. The lady did some real advertising for her town when she sent along several clippings about carnival season in New Orleans. The grand finale will be March 1, Mardi Gras, when the town really turns itself upside down. Rex, of Carnival reigns on Mardi Grass. Carnival Night Comus parades and at midnight in the auditorium the courts of Rex and Comus meet to mark the end of Carnival revelry. Then comes the next day, March 2, which is Ash Wednesday, the beginning of Lent, when a gray calm will settle down upon a city exhausted.

Belated birthday greetings to Mrs. Anna Loeb, Friday she celebrated the occasion by having her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Loeb here from Chicago . . . Our sympathy to the Withers family in the loss of Mont Withers. In poor health before the family left for California, no one dreamed his condition was so serious . . Bernie Schrader, who arrived home recently from a motor trip through Texas and down to New Orleans tells of snow and ice in Texas. While he was in Baton Rouge he found snow there. It is fast growing toward Azalea trail time in Louisiana. Hope the blossoms are not rnined.

Mrs. John Zeitler received word that her son, Bruce Zeitler, Chief Petty Officer on the Carrier Cicily, is also on the navy maneuvers to the Virgin Islands . . . Mr. and Mrs. Earl Young are spending several days this week in Chicago . . . Dr. and Mrs. Larry Grate returned home last week from Detroit and Chicago where they have been for the past ten days.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mosier left Saturday morning for Clifton, N. J. where they expect to be for two weeks with their daughter, Mrs. Louis Schumann . . . George and Tom Finucan of Grand Rapids were in this section Friday on business . . .

Voters Show Little Interest In Primary Election

Charlevoix voters virtually ignored the city primary election Monday, permitting a mere 210 electors to choose the candidates who will be named on the spring election ballot. Claude L. Davy defeated Charles Bellinger by a vote of 62 to 43 for nomination of alderman in the First Ward, the only city office for which more than one candidate filed.

Nomination at the primary is tantammint to election unless someone decides to run for an office as a "write-in" candidate at the spring election.

Unofficial results of the vote follows:

Mayor: Ray S. Hamilton, 175; clerk, Hugh Mayne, 174; treasurer, Nelle A. Hammond, 180.

First Ward: Supervisor, George O. Haggard, 50, Alderman, Claude L. Davy, 62; Charles Bellinger, 43.

Second Ward: Supervisor, Arthur Bergeon, 51; Alderman, Drew E. Young, 51.

Third Ward: Supervisor, Clarence B. Meggison, 44; Alderman, Harry F. Hooker, 42.

Pioneer Spirit Hits Bay Shore School District

The true pioneer spirit that has always bolstered American democracy is again asserting itself in the Bay Shore community. There the residents are faced with inadequate school facilities, insufficient funds to finance an improvement program and a low tax valuation on which taxes can be assessed.

Community action apparently was the only solution and the community went into action Thursday to which Mrs. Walter Bergeon, County School Commissioner was invited.

Organization was the first step and the group formed a Parent-Teachers Association with Louis Price, president; Charles Prow, vice president; Joseph Day, secretary and Mrs. Marjory Johnson, treasurer.

The association voted dues of 25c a month per person. Additional funds are to be raised through money raising activities. Labor bees will eliminate labor costs.

Improvement must start in a small way, but immediatey with installation of a thermometer and repair of the broken drinking water dispenser. Provision will be made to chlorinate the drinking water as a safeguard against epidemics and disease.

The rotted, wooden, back porch is to have immediate temporary repairs with Charles Brown don-

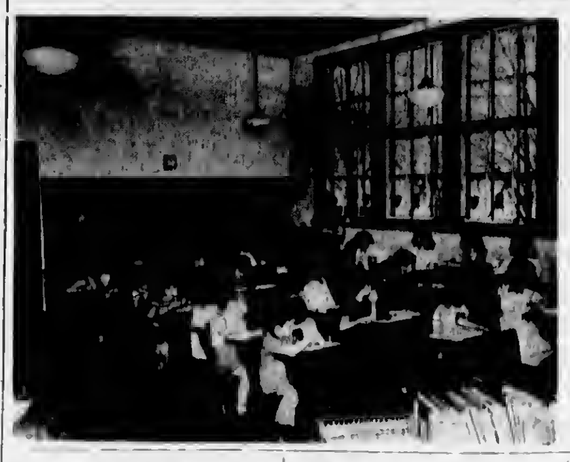
Murray School Offers Many Advantages and Conveniences with Modern Equipment



Housed in a new brick building equipped with everything from a kitchen to library, the Murray School and its 24 pupils have a lot of advantages.

The program as carried out by Mrs. Blanche Paul matches the equipment. First, of course, there art work are the silhouettes on various classes study—language, spelling, reading, geography, science, arithmetic. The pupils range from kindergarten through the eighth grade.

Then there are music and art work. The school has a piano and a phonograph with quite a stack of records. Samples of the are work are the silhouettes on the windows, and the picture books which the younger pupils in the first two rows are coloring.

Out in the kitchen at the west side of the school room there is

Cleaners to Play East Jordan Tuesday; Lose to Mt. Pleasant

The Charlevoix Independents face the winner of the East Jordan-Gaylord game in the semi-finals of the Northern League Tuesday, March 1, at the local gym. There is a possibility that both semi-final games will be played here with Boyne City facing the other team. There will be a preliminary starting at 7:30.

Charlevoix dropped another tough game Saturday night to Mt. Pleasant, 57-51. The locals led at the half 31-26, while the invaders went out in front at the end of the third quarter 43-40, and turned on the steam in the final few minutes to win by six points.

Johnny Swanson had a great night for the Cleaners with 20 points, but this was more than matched by Dorn of Mt. Pleasant with 33. The latter is a former Central Michigan star and as good a player as has shown on the local floor this season.

Red Cross Quota $6000 for County

The quota for Charlevoix county in the annual Red Cross Funds drive which will open March 1 has been set for $6,000, Loton Willson, funds campaign chairman, has announced.

Plans for the funds drive were formulated at a meeting of county Red Cross officials and funds workers at the City Hall in Charlevoix on Friday night. At that time the quota was announced and plans discussed.

Local chairmen and workers will be announced later.

Fathers and Sons Get Together for Annual Banquet

Democracy embodies all of our everyday privileges and we should make use of them, Dr. R. E. Todd told 180 fathers and sons at the annual banquet in the Methodist church parlors, Thursday evening.

In pointing out the fact that democracy works here, he flashed a note of warning by stating that less than 51 per cent of the voters exercised their right of franchise at the last national election. He emphasized the point that this lack of interest could lead to failure by default.

The toast to the sons was given by Mr. Kenneth Sweet who stressed the point that the aim of the fathers was to guide and protect the character and development of their sons. Replying with a toast to the fathers, Roger Sweet voiced the appreciation of the sons.

Mr. C. A. Odmark lead in rousing group singing and presented Clarke Bergeon, Jack Niswander, Roger Sweet and Jim Fiedler in two quartet numbers.

Clarence B. Meggison introduced the toastmaster, Edward J. Edwards. Invocation and benediction were given by Rev. Gaylord D. Howell.

United Drive Is Meeting With Public Approval

United Health and Welfare Fund drive, now in its second week, has been enthusiastically accepted in this community and throughout the state. Field workers are finding public opinion favoring one united effort a year. In this years drive, all but three of the larger agencies are solidly behind the United Fund campaign.

Once again, it should be made clear that actually the United Fund Drive is the tail end of the Community Chest Drive. Purposely the Chest budget for the City of Charlevoix was reduced last fall and did not include any outside agencies. For example—the 1947-1948 Chest, in the fall of 1947 raised funds for cancer services. This year, the chest purposely did not raise funds for cancer services as it was to be included in the present United Fund Drive.

It was originally intended that the United Fund Drive run concurrently with the Community Chest Drive, However, the State Headquarters of the United Fund had not completed all its plans and though it best to hold this initial drive at this time.

The question has been raised whether there will now be another drive in the fall. There will definitely be a combined drive of the United Fund and the Community Chest next fall. This will be for the 1949-1950 season. The present drive is finishing out the 1948-1949 season.

Both the directors of the United Fund and the Community Chest wish to reaffirm that from this time on, there will be only one drive a year and all agencies not now participating are to combine their drive with the combined United Fund and Community Chest Drives.

Resolutions approving the efforts of the United Health and Welfare Fund have been forwarded to the state headquarters, National Grange annual convention, the Michigan State Grange and the Michigan Farm Bureau.

Red Rayders Makes Conference Score Record

Playing on a small basketball court at Mancelona was no handicap to the Red Rayders last Friday when they gave an example of their scoring punch by running up a new conference record of 85 points. Mancelona meets added for 30 points.

Mancelona was the last to find the hoop on a charity toss at the expense of Ross Case but after that initial marker the Rayders took over the lead and were in control of the ball throughout the game. Lead by Case and Wallace with 28 and 17 points, respectively, the Kipmen connected for 36 field goals and

With the United States Navy

(A letter from your editor who is guest of the U. S. Navy on manenvers to the Virgin Islands.)

Down in Old Virginny

Dear Folks:

Well, in about three hours I'll be landing in Norfolk via ferry from Newport News, and right now we're going through some of this Virginia piney woods country. Also red clay as Georgia's. The little winding dirt roads make me think of our woodtrails.

Several things since daylight made me think of Charlevoix. Passed a one-room school back there. The Virginia school buses are painted a strong chrome yellow. In one town there was a John Deere dealer. He had a new green corn harvester out in front like Con Klooster.

This land does lay beautifully. The country has an established look. Some big homes, some small. Some painted, some in need of it. But it is pleasant looking. I can see why Virginians are highly loyal to their state.

I like to travel on the C and O. The meals are a lot better and more reasonable than on some of our northern roads. There are "No Tipping, Please" signs on the dining tables. The trains are clean and service good. Also, this train doesn't waste any time getting there. It reminds me of the North Shore in a mild breeze.

I'm sitting in a drawing room writing this. The porter and I had quite a gab at 2:30 this morning. The drawing room was unoccupied. I wanted to write and not disturb folks. So here I am, but I wish they'd turn off the steam heat. Speaking of heat. There was no snow in Detroit. Streams in southern Ohio are in flood and here it is drizzling. When we crossed the Ohio I think I could see some of the Greene Line boats tied up beyond the old suspension bridge.

Because the train was late from Detroit, I had only five minutes in Cincinnati. I wanted to call up Stan Hascher, Eleanor Freedman's dad and the Ockrants, but no time. Had an interesting time coming down from Detroit. Retired Michigan Central engineer going to New Orleans on a pass sat with me. We alternately napped and talked about stoker firing of locomotives. He is a Glen Lake fan. I tried to convert him to the superior qualities of Lake Charlevoix but don't know if I succeeded.

We had 25 minutes in Richmond so I went to the station restaurant for breakfast and I had a breakfast like I used to get when a kid in South Carolina and went home with some farm boy for Saturday.

Before I got out of there an old uncle behind the counter had got me to eat a big bowl of real hominy grits with two chunks of butter atop, 2 scrambled eggs, 3 slices of bacon, 3 slices of toast a whopping cup of coffee (slightly bitter like they like it down here.) Then he complimented me on my appetite and liking for food.

Just saw a strange thing. The telegraph line alongside the track followed an old railway cut. The wires are just level with the ground. They sure couldn't do that up home. The first storm would fill the cut and bury the lines. Honestly though, I'd swap

GUEST EDITOR

Starting with this week and for the next six, The Courier editorials will be written by various men and women about town. We're doing this for two reasons. First, to give you readers some change from the regular editor's ideas and hear what others have to say. And second, because he's away and would have trouble writing about Charlevoix affairs from the Caribbean.

Contributing this week's is Ray Ashdon.

Why Not Plant Nut Trees?

When you were young did you like to go nutting? Do you still like to see squirrels feeding and playing about a tree?

If so, you can help the youngsters of today and tomorrow enjoy those same things by planting a few nuts or setting out seedling nut trees.

This is not an idle dream. Here in Northern Michigan walnut, and butternut both can be grown easily. I have one in my yard that I transplanted 24 years ago. It has yielded four bushels of nuts so far.

Trees planted in the country mean, for the hunter, more game and better conditioned game in addition to the other benefits.

Some one has suggested buying a book as a memorial. Why not have a tree planted in cases where the survivors have a homestead or grounds. Call it Mother's Tree or Dad's Tree. A book will wear out but a tree grows bigger and more beautiful each year.

So, Why not get a few walnuts or butternuts and plant them this spring? They will grow and benefit the community for years and years.

About Our Country Schools
(By L. E. Towe)

The Courier is carrying a series of seven stories on our rural schools. Several folks have suspected the editor of having some axe to grind in the matter. Believe it or not, he hasn't. He simply believes that our rural schools are important, and interesting institutions and that The Courier folks would like to know about them.

Right after the first story appeared Bob Coleman, our able and efficient sanitarian, offered the loan of his reports on these schools. (The Courier will carry a story soon on this phase.) These reports show some serious danger spots, and a lot of things that need doing which would cost only some community effort.

Now Bob is a perfectionist and wants things right. It's a good thing for all of us he is and does. He's trying to save us from the results of our follies. It seems to me that his recommendations should be carried out as fast as they can.

But here we run up against that old debbil—Money. None of our districts are flush; most of them barely can get by. But they are trying to do a good job. So, it comes down to a case of doing what we can with what we have. (And a few drops of Roman Cleanser in the drinking water are a lot better than a child dead of typhoid.)

There are some folks who say we ought to close these rural schools and transplant all the youngsters to town. I disagree violently. After visiting the schools and talking with the teachers and Karl Festerling; and sizing up country school kids in high schools for the last 15 years—after all that I'm in favor of the rural school wherever it can be operated.

It may be unprogressive, and old fashioned, and too hot or cold—but it educates youngsters. Not only in book learning (and there it does a top notch job) but in community living.

It always strikes me as funny when I hear folks running down the country school as inefficient. Our youngster for two years attended the University Elementary School at Ann Arbor. It is one of the most modern of the modern; a sort of a private school of the finest type. Yet the methods used there in teaching are closer to those of the rural school than to the city school today.

So as long as the districts can finance the cost, I'm hoping our country schools will continue. I also hope they will dig new wells or chlorinate their water so we'll have no sick kids. But they are too great an asset to America and to Charlevoix County for us to lose.

What we really need is more young folks staying on the farm, getting married and having more kids so that more rural schools can afford to open. Then we'll be getting somewhere.

Aboard the U. S. S. Taconic

This is positively the last you're going to hear from me until after we sail, and I don't know when the next mail or message will be going. In fact, I'm beginning to feel lazy and I may not send any more at all for the tropics are beginning to get me.

The dogwood is in bloom, camelias are budding, grass is green and the rain is wet and uncomfortable.

This Norfolk Navy Base is staggering. It covers about 50 square miles. (I've asked so many questions already I haven't the nerve to shoot even one more.) This end of Chesepeake Bay is at least as large as San Francisco Bay and the Navy has stuff strung all over the place.

I even was told there's a marker on what's now dry land to show where the Monitor and Merrimac tossed solid shot at each other on that afternoon during the Civil War. That's right here.

Some little details: this is the largest naval base in the world. It can do everything from build a ship to fix a camera. Part of the ground was the site of the old 1907 Jamestown Exposition and some of the buildings left over from that are now used as homes for the admirals.

The Taconic on which I am is a communications ship. There are enough radar and aerials topside seemingly to supply everyone in Charlevoix with reception. She's a new ship. Being named after mountains indicates that she is a communications vessel. I don't know just what is ahead and I haven't asked.

For the benefit of Clarence Odmark and some of the other ghoulish guys there, there have been no shots so far and no mention of them. All I've had to do is sign a paper saying that if I fall overside the Navy isn't to blame or accountable.

The Public Relations Director for this Fifth Naval District, Comm. William Starbuck, took me over to the Officers Club for lunch and then brought me to the ship. He explained the Navy policy regarding newspaper publishers.

These ships go on these manuevers anyway. There is extra room aboard and the Navy and other Armed Services are using this and similar means to acquaint the public with what is going on. As an ex-publicist I have to agree with him it is a good idea.

"After all, it's your Navy," he said.

The Missouri is tied up a couple of piers down. She's so big those 16 inch guns look sort of small from the dock.

IT HAPPENED ON . . . . BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Henley

It might as well be spring! a robin has been sighted, the ice in the harbor has taken on that "soupy" look and a wide stretch of open water has pushed in on the south side of the harbor. 'Tis a balmy winter we are having on Beaver Island.

Members of the Blessed Virgin's Sodality had a hand in making St. Valentine's Day very special. They sponsored a card party cake walk and dance combination at the Parish Hall Monday evening. In charge of the affair were the Sodality's central committee; Mary Malloy, Joy McDonough, Walter, McCauley, Sally Cull, Mary Margaret Greene, Charlotte McDonough and Mary LaFreniere..

Anthony Greene, Jr., entered the Coyne Electrical School in Chicago on Feb. 7.

Bob McCann writes home he is well satisfied with his work. He is fueling planes for the Slick Airways in Chicago.

Jack Connaghan returned home from Detroit during the week.

James McCann is in Bay City visiting his brother, Dr. Charlie Mcann.

The girls belonging to the sewing class have completed their slack suits and are now making corduroy skirts. Instructor Martha Miller is very pleased with the progress of the class. In between sewing classes, home duties, styling hair, giving hair cuts, etc. Martha finds time to take on upholstering. She is giving a "new look" to an old chair belonging to the rectory.

Mrs. Lawrence Malloy left Wednesday for Chicago to attend the funeral of her niece, Mrs. Roberta Danks, the former Roberta Drewry.

Mrs. James H. Gallagher returned to the Island Thursday after being away since the middle of December. "It's good to be back," said Mrs. Gallagher and from the big smile James is wearing, he's mighty happy the missus is home.

The Night Club and floor show put on for the benefit of the Association of Commerce, was not only successful but one of the most enjoyable affairs in many months.

Fred Spalding sure had everyone guessing when he walked out on the stage as "Madam Human Shike." At the end of the song, he doffed his hat, then the wig and discarded the falsetto voice.

Another production is under way for St. Patrick's Day. Mrs. Spalding is busy again gathering material, talent and ideas.

Mail pilot Bud Bechtold stayed over night Thursday to take in the Killarney Klub.

Ervin Belfy came over for the big night Thursday. He is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Vernon LaFRreniere.

Beaver Island Killarney Klub Stages Floor Show

Beaver Islanders were treated to a gala night Thursday at the "Killarney Klub" with Spalding's all-star cast entertaining a packed house.

The Parish Hall, transformed into a night club for the occasion, took on the full effects of a swank place to dine and dance. Individual tables for four centered with burning tapers were placed in semi-circle arrangement in front of the stage where the best floor show in town was the main attraction.

Rolland McCann, acting as Master of Ceremonies, introduced "Carmen and Yolanda," ballroom dancers, who were none other than Charlotte McDonough and Lester Gallagher. "Singing Troubadours, Molly and Mike", otherwise Mr. and Mrs. Jewell Gillespie were next on the program. From the deep south came Glendora and Soapstone Johnson, a couple of black clouds. Mrs. Margaret Hanley and Richard O'Donnell presented this number, a skit and dance act.

"A Summer Day in the Park" brought down the house. The scene opened with Mary Malloy, a cute little nurse sitting in the park and policeman Johnny Andy Gallagher, being very friendly. Archie LaFreniere, Jr. repeating a command performance as a flirty gal, was the other attraction to policeman Gallagher. "Wolf" Burt McDonough did his best to become acquainted with "glamor gal" LaFreniere, under protest of the cop. In the chase—the cop after the "wolf"—the parks bathhouse door was opened, revealing "Flora Dora" Lawrence McDonough in old fashioned camisole and lace trimmed pantaloons.

Father Giles had a little trouble over a hat which brought on the song. "I Had a Hat" sung by Father Giles, Art Miller and Frank Nackerman.

Coming as a complete surprise, "Madam Human Shike", coloratura soprano dressed in an off the shoulder, long flowing gown, wide black hat tilted to an angle showing red curls, gave out with "The Kiss" from "Bacca. Folks, it was Fred Spalding.

Mrs. Fred Spalding, Mrs. Rolland McCann, Mrs. James W. Gallagher, Walter Wojan, Ed Boyle, Mary Malloy and Walter McCauley appeared in the skit "A Nohle Profession" showing the trials and tribulations of Dentest Wojan.

The popular beautiful song hit "Galway Bay" was sung by Father Giles.

As a grand finale, the entire cast fell in line for a grand march off the stage and down the length of the hall.

During intermission, Gene Connaghan, Buddy McDonough, Gene Burke and Donald Cole served refreshments.

Preceeding and during the floor show, the Beaver Island Trio, Mrs. Walter Wojan, Fred Spalding and Jewell Gillespie, entertained the patrons with a veriety of good music.

Mrs. Fred Spalding directed and produced the floor show. Members of the Association of Commerce were in charge of tables and refreshments.

Mr., Mrs. Fred Cartier Observe Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary Friday

Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Cartier, prominent local couple, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary on Friday. They plan to go to Grand Rapids for a family gathering at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. W. Claire Cartier. Their other children will join them there for the celebration.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Cartier were born in Chatham, Ont., Mr. Cartier, who has been in business here for 48 years, was born there on Dec., 7, 1872. Mrs. Cartier, the former Hannah Seafe, was born on Sept. 1, 1880. They were married at Adrian, Mich., on Feb. 25, 1899, and returned to Chatham where they lived until coming to northern Michigan.

Mr. Cartier came here in June 1901, and worked for Mr. Dodge, a local tailor, that summer. In the fall he opened a shop of his own at 308 Bridge st., a location he maintained until the buildings on the east side of Bridge st. were razed to make way for East Park. In January, 1902, Mrs. Cartier and their sons, Harold and Claire came from Chatham to join him.

In his day, Mr. Cartier has seen Charlevoix change from a lumbering center and commercial fishing town to a summer resort and one of the most modern of Michigan's smaller cities. When he first came here, Mr. Cartier relates, a new bridge was being built over Pine River and traffic was carried across the river on a small ferry. Now another bridge is being built and the temporary bridge cost more than the permanent bridge did in 1901.

In 1920 Mr. Cartier enlarged his tailoring business to include dry-cleaning. His business is now located on Belvedere ave. In 1946 he sold the dry-cleaning business and now has a retail clothing and tailoring business.

Mr. Cartier has always been civic-minded and has given generously of his time in many ways. He served on the city council as third ward alderman for several terms, was a member of the Charlevoix Hospital board, was a member of the Park Commission and was a member of the Chamber of Commerce for many years and served on the board of directors. He was also a director in the West Michigan Resort and Tourist Association until recently.

He also aided in another way in putting Charlevoix in the limelight for he was the local correspondent for the Grand Rapids Press from 1922 until 1945.

In spite of the fact that he has retired from civic duties he is still interested in the goings-on of the town and can be seen any day walking the length of Bridge st., and passing the time of day with his friends.

He is a member of St. Mary's church and the Holy Name Society.

Mrs. Cartier is also active in church and club circles. She has been a member of the Congregational church since 1904 and has been active in the South Side circle. Like any good mother, her interest was in her family while they were growing up, but now they have all married she has become interested in clubs and is an ardent member of the Garden Club. Her hobby, she added, is crocheting.

The couple have three sons and one daughter, Harold, a civil engineer of New York and Dover, N. J., Dr. W. Claire, a Grand Rapids dentist, Stanley of Chicago, and Mrs. Willis A. (Betty) Cross of Ludington. They also have ten grandchildren.

Mrs. Ellen Bolton Died Friday, Was Life Resident Here

Mrs. Ellen Bolton, 65, lifelong resident of this community, died at her home Wednesday after a long illness. Funeral services were held at the See Funeral Home at 2 p. m. Friday with Rev. R. B. Warner officiating. Burial was in the Brookside cemetery.

Born in Hayes township on July 4, 1883, the former Ellen Banks was married to Whitford Armstrong on Aug. 4, 1900. They made their home at Burgess in Hayes township. Following Mr. Armstrong's death on Aug. 12, 1932, she moved to Charlevoix to make her home. On May 18, 1937 she was married to William J. Bolton who died on June 19, 1940.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Lewis Gravelin of Charlevoix; two sons, Whitford Armstrong of Boyne City and Kenneth Armstrong of this city; a sister, Mrs. Janet Hawley and one brother, Alex Banks, both of Petoskey; seven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Six New Groups Have Applied for Soil Conservation

At the last meeting of the Board of Directors of the Charlevoix Soil Conservation District six more groups of farmers sent in applications to receive assistance from the District. Two groups were from south of Charlevoix—one group was from Walloon Lake, one group was from Hortons Bay, and two groups were from East Jordan. This now makes a total of eight groups of farmers who are interested in Soil Conservation work in Charlevoix County.

It is expected that the farm planner will be stationed in Charlevoix County sometime during the first part of March. The farm planner will meet with these groups as soon as possible and lay the ground work for a soil and water conservation plan. It is suggested by Guy Springer, District Supervisor of the Soil Conservation Service, that the first groups that go through this course of instructions should include each one of the directors. The purpose of this is to inform the directors about the operation of the Soil Conservation District.

Any other farmers who are interested are advised by Ed Rebman, County Agricultural Agent to send in their applications as soon as possible. It must be realized that every group cannot be first and that some will have to wait their turn. But it is hoped that everyone who applies for assistance will receive some help during 1949.

The Board also, at this last meeting, passed a resolution to make farm planning assistance available to the farmers at Beaver Island. It must be remembered that a total of 24 votes, all in favor of establishing a district were reported in Beaver Island. The date has tentatively been set for the farm planner will go to Beaver Island the first week of May.

Important Announcement

The Charlevoix County Chapter of the American Red Cross will conduct its annual membership campaign in March to finance the Red Cross program including blood for civilians and disaster relief services, and is not seeking funds for these or any other purpose through any other organization, according to Ralph S. Hamilton, chairman of the local Red Cross Chapter. Hamilton made his statement in connection with the avowed intention of United Health and Welfare Inc., to solicit funds here beginning Feb. 14 to finance, among other welfare services, blood and disaster aid to the sick and to victims of catastrophes. Hamilton added that acceptance of United Health and Welfare funds would destroy the direct association of the Red Cross with its membership among the American people, one million of whom in Michigan and 1175 in Charlevoix county answered the Red Cross membership appeal last March. For that reason, among others he said that the Red Cross cannot accept from the United Health and Welfare, Inc., any funds raised for blood, disasted, or any other service given by the Red Cross.

"Because the United Health and Welfare Fund is publicizing that part of its gifts are being sought for blood and disaster services, two activities most commonly associated with the American Red Cross, the local chapter felt that the resulting confusion could be dispelled by a public statement in regard to the Red Cross position in the matter," Hamilton said.

"Numerous agencies are included in the United Funds campaign, not one of them performing either a blood service or giving disaster relief or rehabiliation aid to disaster sufferers," Hamilton's statement continued.

"The 21,000 pints of blood given through the Red Cross in Michigan last year, the nation-wide Red Cross blood program launched in 1947, the Red Cross record of 67 years of relief and rebuilding work in at least 55 major Michigan disasters have, we believe, thoroughly identified these services with the Red Cross in the public mind."

"We believe that the people have a right to know that contributing funds for blood or a disaster service to the United Health and Welfare fund Inc., will not aid the Red Cross in performing these services."

Hamilton cited correspondence from the Red Cross showing that the United Health and Welfare officials had been informed as to the Red Cross inability to permit funds for its services to be raised by any other then authorized Red Cross representatives.

"The board of governors of the Red Cross fixed this present policy for all Red Cross chapters, only after a careful study of this matter and a thorough review of past experience," Hamilton said. "It is believed participation in any joint fund-raising effort will weaken the Red Cross to the degree that it could not effectively perform the duties for which it was created. Our experience supports the conclusion."

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

How's Your Listening Time?

Buck Howell and I were in Baleville last week. Dropped in at Bob's diner where some friends were sitting around talking about whether to sell hogs now or wait.

Buck plunges right into the discussion. He's lecturing away when suddenly they all stand up and start stomping their feet like it was an Indian war dance.

I'm flabbergasted. But Buck only looked sheepish and explains, "Guess I was talking again, when I should-of been listening. When a person's talking time gets out of line with his listening time around here, the gang reminds him by standing up and stomping."

From where I sit, that's a good system. Everyone has a right to his opinions—but others have a right to theirs, too—whether it's deciding between to sell or not to sell, apple pie or cherry pie, or a glass of mellow beer or cider. Life's more interesting that way, and hang it if you don't sometimes learn something!

When should I use a "special endorsement"?

When transferring a check to another person or corporation, it is safer to use a "Special Endorsement" which specifies the person to whom, or to whose order, the check is to be payable. Then, if the check is lost before it is endorsed by the person you designate, the check cannot be collected by any other person.

STATE OF MICHIGAN

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY OF CHARLEVOIX
IN CHANCERY

In the Matter of the Petition of Murl K. Aten, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

To the Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix, in Chancery:

Murl K. Aten, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, respectfully shows unto the Court:

1. That he is the Auditor General of the State of Michigan and makes and files this petition under, by virtue of and pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 209 of the Public Acts of 1893, as amended, and Act. No. 126 of the Public Acts of 1933, as amended;

2. That Schedule A annexed hereto is the tax record required by the act first above mentioned and contains the description of all lands in the aforesaid county upon which taxes, which were assessed for the years mentioned therein have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, the description of all lands in said county heretofore bid off in the name of the State and thus held and upon which taxes which were assessed subsequent to the tax for which such lands were sold to the State have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent and the description of all lands in said county which are delinquent for any installment of taxes under the provisions of the act last above mentioned;

3. That extended separately in said schedule against each description of said lands therein contained are (a) the total amount of delinquent taxes upon said description for the non-payment of which the same may lawfully be sold at the next annual tax sale, (b) interest computed thereon as provided by law to the first day of May, next ensuing, (c) a collection fee of four per cent and (d) $1.00 for expenses, all in accordance with the provisions of the act first above mentioned;

4. That all of the aforesaid taxes, interest and charges are valid, delinquent and unpaid, and have remained delinquent and unpaid for sufficient time to authorize and require, as provided by the foregoing acts, the sale of the aforesaid parcels of land against which (they) were assessed and are extended in said schedule at the next annual tax sale for the non-payment thereof, and that the said taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses so extended in said schedule against each parcel of land therein described constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein and against which extended in favor of the people of the State of Michigan, the payment of which lien this court may enforce as a preferred or first claim upon such lands by the sale thereof.

Wherefore your petitioner prays:

A. That within the time provided by law this court may determine and decree that the aforesaid taxes, interest, collection fee and charges are valid and constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein extended;

B. That within the time provided by law this court make a final decree in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land therein contained;

C. That said decree provide that in default of the payment so ordered of the said several sums computed and extended against said lands in said schedule, the said several parcels of land, or such interest thereto as may be necessary to satisfy the amount decreed against the same, shall severally be sold as the law provides.

D. That your petitioner may have such other and further relief in the premises as to this court may seem just and equitable.

And your petitioner will ever pray etc.

Dated December 22, 1948.

MURL K. ATEN,
Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State.

ating lumber nnd Louis Price and Nathan Smith the labor. Sonitary conditions of the toilets are to be improved.

Plans are underway for future needs wiuch are: Sanding or scrubbing the floor down to a white wood and sealing it, rebuilding porches with cement; appointing a committee to obtain cost of paint for interior and exterior. It was decided to organize bees for the compieting of work.

A long range program will be necessary to fill the more expensive needs of the school, according to Mrs. Bergeon. Both the natural and artificial lighting are unsatisfactory. The only windows are on the north side of school, eliminoting all direct sunshine. High windows should be installed ,on south side, giving cross lighting. Electricity supplies the artificial light, not completely satisfactory.

The school is heated by a floor-type furnace surrounded hy a steel jacket, giving inefficient control of room temperature.

Seats and desks are obsolete and should be replaced by modern movable equipment for better comfort and posture.

Toilet facilities are located indoors but they are not of the flush type connected to a septic tank. Temporory measures are being taken to improve the sanilary condition of the system. Eventually the present system will have to be replaced.

THE MOST IMPORTANT PLACE IN THE WORLD

It's not Washington, Moscow or Lake Success.

Don't look in the atlas for it, look out the window. There it is, right there before your eyes—your own community, the place where you live.

The largest part of your time is spent right there, within a few blocks or a few miles. Your community influences your life and shapes the lives of your children.

It is your own special part of America. If your community isn't all that you would like it to be you can do one of two things: You can move away, hoping to find a better place, or you can work to make your community approach more closely your ideal. I have never heard anyone say they wanted to move away from Charlevoix-the-Beautiful, but some have had to. Why not all do our part and make our community what we want it to be.

an electric cooker on which the older girls every Wednesday ,evidently obeying the old German song) prepare soup which is served to all.

4-H work plays a big role in the school with projects in food preparation, handicraft, sewing and knitting.

Mrs. Paul herself leads the work in Food Preparation and Bill Price has the boys in Handicroft over at his home every other Friday afternoon for woodwork. And Mrs. Paul directs the Sewing for the first, second, third and fourth year girls as well as the first and second year knitting.

At the front of the room is the library room with its 300 books nnd seats. During the winter it is not usually heated except when some of the group hod some special project they wished to work on.

Instead books from the Charlevoix and State Libraries are piled on the big library table ot the front of the seats. And ore those books used! One girl had read 28 of the 33 there.

Other equipment includes a new set of maps, a new 18 inch globe in a stand and a sanitary dringing fountnin. In the picture, Bill Curits is at the back blackboard demonstrating a business form for the older studentts in the far rows while Mrs. Paul looks on.

From front to back in the near row are Sandra Zipp, Mary Wiklanski, Carol Wangberg, David Curtis, Sandra Garver, Glenda White, Barbara Curtis.

Charlevoix Urban Telephone Service to Be Extended

Extension of urban telephone service in three orees adjacent to the present base-rate Charlevoix territory and establishment of a "locality-area" in the Ironton territory have been announced by the Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

The base-rate area is extended northeast and west of Chorievoix and includes development along US-31 Lake Michigan, and a subdivision on Lake Charlevoix. In the territory added, users of private telephones will no longer pay exchange - line mileage charges. Their rate will be the same as for city telephones.

In this area rural (party line) service will be changed to urban service when facilities are available. Rates will remain the same for these rural resident users, but there will be some increase in the charge for business phones according to the company. County C. of C. Announces New 55 Mile Smelt Derby

Sportsmen of Charlevoix county are planning an experiment in Smelt dipping, which if successful, will streamline the sport and make it the smelt dipping center of the state.

It is called the 55-Mile Smelt Derby, which will get under way as soon as the spring spawning runs start—sometime between March 5 and April 25, if the 20 year record can be relied upon.

Monday night the directors of the three Chambers of Commerce of the county, Barney Milstein of East Jordan, president, released final plans for the event.

Archie Karlskin of Advance was named general chairman of the derby because of his success last year in handling large crowds at Porter Creek. Pete Bennett of Ironton was named assistant. Don Feajan was named chairman of advertising.

Gregg Smith, publicity chairman, told of the terrific response from down state due to the large amount of publicity that metropolitan papers from that section have already given the derby.

Different sportsmen clubs outlined their needs for their own communities and methods by which they could interest local people in cooperating. Signs are to be placed near streams directing persons. Maps are to be distributed to visitors. Main streams will be under supervision this year and the committee outlined the dipping hours for these streams.

The Sportsmen have been assured the cooperation of the sheriff's department, the county highway department and the Charlevoix county Chamber of Commerce.

Partieipants will be awarded prizes for the largest catch of smelt in Boyne City, East Jordan and Charlevoix.

A WORD TO THE WISE

By Gregg Smith, Chairman of Publicity for Charlevoix County Smelt Derby

Sportsmen of Charlevoix County have embarked upon a project, which, if it receives the support of the citizens of this county, will do much to keep this area prominent as the Smelt Dipping Capital of the state.

A 55 mile Smelt Derby will be the biggest sports attraction in the midwest if everyone cooperates.

Smelt Dips are no longer an oddity. There is competition in the field and plenty of it and today we find smelt running in streams all the way from Milwaukee, Wis., to the St. Clair River. If Charlevoix County wishes to remain known as a Smelt Dipping Center of the nation, it's up to everyone to do his bit.

Last year the only group who evinced any interest in regulating dipping was a group of sportsmen at Advance. They were a small group with only 28 active members. Obviously the matter of patroling all the streams in the county would be impossible by such small groups. If every civic organization would turn a hand to help with the success of this venture, than the 55 mile Smelt Derby would be off to a good Start.

Because there are always a few (hogs) who insist on their own selfish rights and refuse to observe regulations it is necessary that dipping on all streams be supervised. That fact is self-evident in view of the success last year of the Advance Dip and the failure of runs at other sites where there was no regulated dipping.

Main streams emptying into Lake Charlevoix and McGeagh and Inwood creeks have regulated dipping this year. Then there will be elbow room and smelt for everyone.

LET'S ALL COOPERATE.

Need Kindling Wood In Indiana

"I just want to tell you of the pulling power of an ad in The Courier," said Harold Miller.

"I ran an ad in the peper about cedar kindling and birch fireplace wood for sale, delivered to your door."

"If I didn't get a letter from a fellow down in Bedford, Ind. asking for a truck load of wood."

At present the customer will have to content himself with a toy truck filled with wood, but in a few weeks Mr. Miller is planning to go to Peru, Ind. on business. He is going to make good his word in the ad and deliver a truck load of fire place wood to Bedford.

It pays to advertise in The Courier.

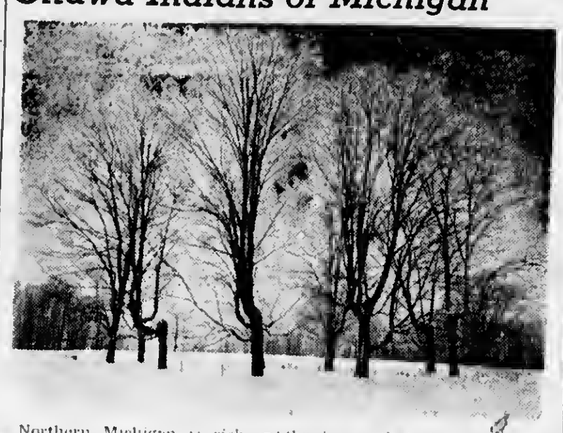
Council Trees Brought Peace to Ottawa Indians of Michigan



Northern Michigan is rich in Indian history but few of the places visited by the Ottawa tribes in the early days when the north was opened by the missionaries and traders are in evidence today.

One of the few, however, is seen in the Council Trees at Greensky Hill, five miles north of Charlevoix. Legend has it that over one hundred years ago thirty Indian chiefs of the Ottawa tribes, from Benton Harbor north to the Straits of Mackinac, met at this spot for a peace treaty. Each chief, so the story goes, planted a maple tree and pledged himself and his tribe as long as the trees lived and bore leaves he would remain a friend and live in peace with the other chiefs assembled for the ceremony. In the hopes that the trees would be made unfit for lumber, the trees, when planted, were bent and tied with throngs to give them a deformed growth.

However, of the original thirty trees in the circle only nine have escaped the woodman's axe and stand today as a reminder of the ceremonies that once took place beneath their branches. The trees, which have grown to a height of approximately 55 feet, measure from four feet-eleven inches to seven feet and two inches in circumference.

How long these gatherings were held is not known for the history of the event which took place at the Council Trees, as compiled in a book by the late Peter Greensky, was lost in a fire which destroyed the old Indian's home.

Tug G. L. Dornbos Damaged by Fire

Fire in the hold of the tug G. L. Dornbos, owned by the John Cross Fisheries, caused damage estimated at $2,000. The fire was reported by Dick Martin who noticed the smoke pouring from the tug.

The blaze, believed to have been caused by a coal heater, charred the earlings, transverse deck beams, and stanchions on the port side, burning a bole in the floor and destroying the batteries connected with the deisel engine.

With the United States Navy

Aboard U. S. S. Taconic
Somewhere Off Florida

Dear Folks:

This Navy is a wondrous institution.

Already today I have learned the relative merits of Hereford and Angus cattle in Texas, the right way to take pictures at sea, how to try to shoot down planes and why the marines won World War I. Of course there's been a lot else but that will give an idea of the variety possible out her in the Gulf Stream.

The cattle discussion was with a chief fire controlman from Abilene. The plane shooting was at small radio controlled drones with 20 and 40 MM. guns we missed. The marines won the first war the same way the Texans won the last one . . . they had the best publicists.

So that none of you folks back home will have any false ideas, will say, this definitely is not a pleasure cruise either for the Navy or any of the five publishers aboard. I have been putting in about ten hard hours a day and the future looks just the same.

This morning Rear Admiral Jerauld Wright, who is boss of the whole operation told us editors we could go ashore right behind the first invasion wave.

This whole thing is called the Atlantic Command Exercise. It is the largest one ever held by the Navy. Taking part are the army, marines, navy and cadre from the Canadian army. The air force was invited to get in too, but was too tied up by operations Haylift and Berlin, however, air-force officers are helping direct part of the navy's planes. The exercise has a double purpose, to train everyone from admirals down in amphibious warfare and learn better ways to do the job.

There are four task forces, which is navy for a group of ships picked, because they can do a certain type of work. They come from all along the Atlantic Coast and Bermuda. They range from the Missouri and FDR down to destroyers.

They will converge on a combined land near Puerto Rico called Vieques. The navy owns half of it. There the landing forces will stage a regular full scale invasion. Opposing will be another force command of army land troops and some ships just to complicate the pattern.

Unlike war games no ships or men will be declared out of action. That would deprive the men of the training. As Rear Admiral F. D. Kirkland told us this morning, this thing is costing plenty of taxpayer's money and the navy wants the taxpayers to get every dollar'a worth of value.

This Admiral has quite a job. Officially he's here in charge of the opposing force. As one officer said, "It's as though the Japanese Admiralty had operated from Admiral Halsey's flagship during the Pacific battles.

Speaking of admirals, the Taconic is carrying enough top brass to equip a prewar navy. We have or soon will have, six Admirals, one Lieut. General of marines,

Charlevoix Band Wins 1 Rating at Music Festival

The Charlevoix high school band directed by Clarence A. Odmark received a No. 1 rating at the annual qualifying festival at Petoskey on Saturday by getting the hard-four straight No. 1 rating from all four judges. Petoskey was the only other band who had four straight ones although East Jordan and Traverse City each received a No. 1 rating.

The Traverse City orchestra also received a No. 1 rating; the Elk Rapids band received a No. 2. The Cheboygan, Boyne City and Alanson bands played only for criticism and were unclassified.

The three special entries, the saxophone quartet, the clarinet solo by Dwight Smith, accompanied by Mrs. Joesph Smith and the flute duet, Dudley Towe and Barbara Bice, accompanied by Mrs. L. E. Towe gave a very creditable showing and received No. 2 ratings.

Constructive criticism was given by all four judges and Charlevoix received many suggestions which will aid them in future contests.

Among the strong points listed by the judges were spirit and balance. It was the opinion of all four that although the band was excellent they were capable of doing better work and could improve a great deal by the time the state festival comes up in April.

The state band festival will be held at Ann Arbor on April 23. The Charlevoix band is eligible to attend after receiving a No. 1 rating Saturday. The northern Michigan band festival will be held at Boyne City and Gaylord on May 3 and 4. The Charlevoix band will play at Gaylord.

"Why did you wait until so late to come for this," asked Mr. Hamilton.

"Late?" said the woman in a puzzled tone ot voice. "why I have until midnight, don't I."

Watchful Waiting As Span Lowers

Curiosity and expectancy marked the expression of spectators who braved the misty rain Thursday afternoon to watch the first lowering of the new bridge. None of the anticipated possibilities happened. To the onlooker it was merely watchful waiting as the span settled so slowly that movement could scarcely be noticed.

There was a different picture in the power room and pit beneath the bridge where the operation was being carried on.

While one crew of men controlled the hand brake to keep movement of the bridge under complete control, two other crews of four men each pulled to the limit of their strength on two hand cranks that transmitted the power to lower the span. In the present stage of construction the counterweights over balanced the span, making it necessary for the power crews to actually raise the counterweight.

Engineers and inspectors were on the alert, watching and checking every moving part until the bridge rested at the road bed position.

• Mr. and Mrs. Chester Robinson of Alma arrived Friday night to spend the week end with Mrs. Herschel Miller. It has been 7 or 8 years since they had been to Charlevoix in the winter. About two hours after their arrival Mr. Robinson became ill and by Monday morning had a well developed case of pneumonia. Mrs. Robinson is a former Charlevoix girl better known as Helen Parsons.

A Good City Builds Good Citizens
By Capt. Hubert Paddock

In one of David Grayson's books he queries as to "What is life for?" and then comments that it is for the purpose of making better men, nobler men—and after that still nobler men. He goes on to say that if a city produces good and noble human beings then it is a good city.

Charlevoix boasts of its beauty and many other excellent qualities. We, as its citizens, might well give thought to the equipment we have at hand for making it a still better city in the light of its means of producing good and noble human beings of our growing youth.

We have fine schools which are manned by excellent personnel, although there is much over-crowding of pupils. The physical facilities are at present inadequate.

We have fine and an ample number of churches. Our church leaders are outstanding in their abilities and in their zealous efforts. However, it can not be said that our churches are over-crowded. More of our citizens could well take more advantage of what our city has to offer in the field of religion.

The third and greatest major factor in producing nobler human beings, ie., good citizens, is good homes. The place where children are reared, fed, sheltered, and receive the warmth and well-being of our youth, is the greatest item of those just recounted for the development of our future citizens. One cannot help but know that Charlevoix is quite outstanding in the quality of its home-life which is afforded to its youth. This, however, is the individual problem of each and every individual family.

These three, the school, the church, and the homes of Charlevoix point to the fact that this is a city having an infinite greater worth than its beauty. This worth is based in its youth.

There is another fine and great force which can and should be used to the full to augment the excellent work of our schools, churches, and homes for developing high quality citizenship. This force is our National Scouting Organizations—the one for our boys, ie., the Boy Scouts of America; and the one for our girls, the Girl Scouts of America. Each one is a separate and distinct national organization, chartered directly by Congress. The President of the United States is the Honorary President of the Boy Scouts of America.

We have just had Boy Scout Week—Girl Scout Week will soon be here. During these weeks Mr. Average Citizen is enlightened somewhat as to the activities of Scouting. However, these are only a sample of the wealth of good that is available to this city through the Scouting programs. It may be said that Charlevoix has barely tapped the wealth of character building material that is available to its youth through Scouting. This is not, however, the fault of its young folks of Scout age. Each youth seeks in all directions for opportunities to learn and to grow. If good opportunities are not available, he or she will seek satisfaction in mistaken ways. Scouting affords the good opportunities. Its aim directly is to help boys and girls to become good citizens. In order to make effective use of the scouting program it is most essential that the people of this city realize, first, the benefits to be gained, and secondly, that they must be glad and able to devote time, effort and a certain amount of money to get the program to the boys and girls. There can be little doubt that money spent in bringing children up to be strong, intelligent and resourceful is the best saving for our city, state and nation.

Organized scouting provides the vision and the plan. It provides the goal (good citizenship) and the compass (the Scout oath, and the Scout laws). Scouting, too, is a voluntary movement. It is not dependable on grants from the government, but upon what we the people furnish voluntarily in both support and in leadership. It is certainly the job of this city to provide the support, and more especially, the leadership, in order to help our youth to the goal of good citizenship through systematic training in the principles of liberty and freedom, and in the democratic traditions on which our country was founded, and which are the basis of the American way of life.

Two thousand years ago Pericles, a Grecian statesman in Athens gave the following counsel:

"I would have you day by day fix your eyes upon the greatness of your country, until you become filled with the love of her, and when you are impressed by the spectacle of her glory, reflect that it has been acquired by men who knew their duty and had the courage to do it."

Scouting will help our youth to have that vision and that courage.

Scouting may be summarized by the following prayer:

"Oh, Thou Who art Heroic Love, keep alive in our hearts, we beseech Thee, that adventurous spirit that leads men to scorn the way of safety, so that Thy will be done. For only so may we be worthy of those courageous souls who, in every age, have ventured all things in obedience to Thy call, for whom the trumpets have sounded on the other side."

Captains in proportion. Lesser officers are a dime a dozen. We're also to top it off expecting a British Major General of Marines. He rates as an observer just like us. It's the first time I ever was ranked with a Major General.

All this talk we've been hearling lately about unification of the services is beginning to sound funny. Down here where the work actually is done unification appears to be an old story.

There are at least eight army and air force officers aboard, some of them on permanent assignment to the navy. The various services appear to work together without trouble. It may be that if the top boys at the Capitol would quit bickering over appropriations and prestige, the working services would take care of the unification.

Feb. 20

A marine Colonel, an Air Colonel was briefing us this morning on what we could do when the expeditionary forces land on Vieques Island and he said, "We'd prefer that you observers didn't get in between the lines."

Just as though he'd ever find me there. I know the ships will be tossing a bunch of shells over on the Island. There will be grenades issued to the landing forces. The opposition will have simulated land mines (I don't care a hoot if they are simulated, they'll still explode.) And some of the boys defending the Island likely will be doing a little shooting.

No, sir, I'm going to be safely behind one large chunk of ground. I didn't go on these maneuvers to get killed. If I do go forward it's going to be close behind one Otto Higgins, who's the largest chunk of man aboard and if a larger one shows up, Otto won't have me for a rear guard. I'll shift my allegiance.

This Otto is our Independence, Mo., publisher. He was one of the 29 publishers accredited by the army in the first war and was a bosom poker-and-craps buddy of Damon Runyon in those days.

Today has been quite eventful. This morning we went on a tour of the ship. Just an idea, the Tocanic has a mere 108 antennae, 79 regular for sending and receiving; 29 for special jobs like radar and jaming the other guy's radio.

Down below there's a room the size of the County Bank's main lobby. Its packed full of steel boxes, each with about 17 kinds of knobs, dials and buttons. They're the machinery at the other end of the antennae, one of them will soon be sending out this atory.

Had one odd experience today. The fleet Chaplain was escorting a Lt. Commander of the Royal Canadian navy and me around the crew's quarters. We got to talking with a marine Master Sergeant. Come to find out both he and the commander were graduated from the same Japaneae prison camp, probably had been in one at the same time.

This afternoon I ran into a boy from Jackson, Mich.—We had a good Michigan gab. He's learning to be a cook and if he gets his rating before his enlistment is up, he thinks he'll make the navy a career. Only trouble he is married to a girl who isn't reconciled to being a navy wife. Hope they can work it out. There are worse careers and the navy sure does have good cooks.

Word came down that tonight is Otto's and my turn to be guests of the Admiral at dinner. So we dug out our tropical dress to do honor to the Admiral. The other boys panned us plenty but we told them it was just pure jealousy.

Then at dinner, there were two Admirals, a Lieutenant General, three Captains and a Colonel. What did we talk about? Kansas dry farming, pheasant hunting, Michigan deer and fishing. After that we sat on deck to see the nightly ship's movie. We sat out on the deck in tropicals and were comfortable, so you see the weather is getting warm. It's too warm, in fact.

Feb. 21

For years, we've been seeing these Navy posters about seeing the world and getting an education. Today for the first time their real meaning was driven home. It occurred upon the ship'a bridge. We had been looking at the radar and seeing how far various ships were from us. Then the Admiral casually turned and remarked that any of the men aboard who had learned to care for those radar machines could leave the service after three years and get a job with General Electric, or one of the other big concerns.

"The pay? Likely about $10,000.

"I doubt if there's a technical school in the country that has as much electronics equipment as we have right on this ship," he said. "Of course electronics is so new it commands the highest pay."

The education is free. Only a willingness to work is required. All this may sound like a recruiting poster. But I can see a lot worse posibilities for a high school graduate who wants more education yet cannot afford it.

I know the way I've been writing back about this Atlantic Fleet exercise has made it sound simple.

But it isn't.

This morning Capt. Robert L. Adams, assistant chief of staff, spent 05 minutes, just outlining the principal things which will happen during only five days down around Vieques, which we're going to take. He only hit the high spots. A task group comes in and does a job, goes out, breaks up, regroups; other men and ships are doing other jobs. It's all on a definite schedule, worked out in many cases to the minute.

But what really drove the complexity home to me took place this afternoon. We ran into a little rain squall about 2:30 and I ducked into the signal bridge as a shelter spot. A helicopter from the carrier Palau was fluttering around. The Commander loaned me his binoculars to watch it.

I had just returned them and was standing watching the rain taper off when Rear Adm. Jerauld Wright came along evidently out for an afternoon's walk. He stopped and spoke. I said, "Afternoon, Captain," then swallowered quick and apoligized for my slip. He laughed, leaned on the rail, and said he sort of liked it . . . makes him feel younger.

We talked about the other ships. He answered at least two dozen questions of mine, everything from atomic bombs to the value of training service. He took me inside to see the radar equipment and then picked up a book, almost two inches thick. This was his overall plan for the operation.

Then he told me. Last November the work of planning these spring maneuvers was given him. He and his immediate staff spent six solid weeks drafting the main part. Most of it was written out by hand in pencil, then reworked and reworded.

"It didn't quite take all my Christmas vacation," he said, "but is surely dented it aplenty."

About January 1 the main outline was done. Next the various parts were turned over to the other men, mostly admirals and generals, who would carry them out. By Feb. 1, they and their staffs worked out individual programs, each requiring almilar books just to outline. Details were there, even down to provision for taking publishers ashore on Vieques on Feb. 22 and feeding them lunch.

Now any of you try to map out detailed plans and a time table to cover the activities of 55,000 men and 127 ships, after moving them some 2000 miles, and make it all fit down to the minute.

I began to see clearly the point of one remark as we were leaning on the bridge rail and looking at the blue Caribbean:

"In anything like this, no matter if its just training exercise or actual combat, you succeed only if you plan it down to the last detail. It's fatal if you leave things to chance and hope for the best."

That brought up a second major point he had made. A training exercise such as this is valuable for the thousands of men involved. Yet the biggest and almost last benefit for the nation is the experience gained, the lessons learned by the coming staff officers. They are tomorrow's Nimitzes and Halseys. The more problems they have to face and solve now, the better protection our navy can give our country in the years ahead.

Cleaners Take Ludington 60-58

Bounoing back after a disastrous defeat by St. Ignace, the Charlevoix Independents edged Ludington on the latters floor 60-58 The Independents led at the half 27- 23 and at the third quarter, 48-35, but Ludington staged a strong comehack in the fourth quarter to come within 2 points.

The game was played before a packed gym and the crowd was free with their praise of the Charlevoix team. Lewis Brown was high for the locals with 15 points followed by Edson with 13. Ayers led Ludington with 14.

Gallagher's value to the Independents was shown clearly Tuesday night as St. Ignace handed the Cleaners, playing without him, their worst defeat of the year, 72-46. Charlevoix made a game of it for one quarter, leading 13-10, but trailed at the half 33-23, and the roof really fell in in the third quarter.

When the local team became badly disorganized and when Brown fouled out all hope of victory fled, Swanson led the Cleaners with 13, while Sendik, the State cop paced St. Ignace with 26

The Charlevoix Independents sparked by Don Carey, trounced East Jordan last night to go into the finals of the Northern Independent League. They will play the winner of the Boyne City-Gaylord game for the championship at a time and place to be announced later.

Chipmunk Patrol Wins Klondike Derby

Eight Boy Scout patrols entered the Klondike Derby, a week ago last Sunday, held at Mt McSauba before a large crowd of spectators. Perhaps the best Scout of them all was George Burns, 94 years of age, who stayed throughout the afternoon.

Three patrols came out as winners. First honors went to the Chipmunk Patrol, Tom Bleha, leader with 156 points. Second was senior Scouts, Explorers Patrol, Vane Smith, leader, with 148 points. Third was Pine Tree Patrol, Dudley Towe, leader, with 141 points. The troops received Scout knives, first aid kits and waterproof safety match boxes as prizes.

Other patrols entering were Eagle Patrol of Petoskey, James Mania, leader; Buffalo Patrol of Petoskey, Watson Gregory, leader; Cobra Patrol, Dean Davenport, leader; Bison Patrol, Stewart Walker, leader; Sea Scouts, Gregory Bryan, leader, all of Charlevoix.

Arthur Ranger was chairman of the Derby, ably assisted by Leland Barker. Alvin Ranger drew the master map. Herb Campbell and Frank Oleksy were in charge of the refreshment stand.

The Scouts were sent to six stations where they were given tests by the following men: Kodiac Station, oaths, slogans and laws, George Wolfe and Alvin Ranger; Anchorage, tests and measurements by Don Campbell and Harry Ladd; Point Barrow, drowning first aid by Fred Young, Louis O'Neil and Robert McClintock; Muskey Valley, winter fire building by Charles Bleha; Bitter Sweet Valley, Compass bearing and trail signs by Charles and George Bergmann; Cold Foot Pass, knots by Jack Abfalter.

The wood for the roaring fire during the afternoon was furnished by Gordon Freedman.

School Children Given Hearing Tests

A hearing clinic for 647 school age children was held at the Charlevoix public school last week by the Michigan Hearing Conservation Service, a division of the Michigan State Health Dept.

The tests were given with the use of an audiometer operated by Mrs. Dean Davenport, school nurse, and Mrs. Marian Rice, of the Health Unit. Raymond Cromer, of the Michigan Health Dept., was here the first day to instruct the nurses in the use of the audiometer.

School students from the fourth through the 12th grade in the public school, from the 4th through the 8th grade in St. Mary's school and from the 4th through the 8th grade in four nearby rural schools. Murray, Marion Center, Ironton and Norwood, took the simple tests. 115 were retested. Of that number all but 29 were screened in a second test. These students will receive individual tests at a later date by Mr. Cromer who will return for the special tests.

The object of the clinic which will be held in all Charlevoix county schools is to find the children who are working under hearing difficulties and to aid them in whatever way is possible.

Former Resident Dies At Detroit Home

Charlevoix was shocked Saturday morning when word was received of the death of Mrs. George Myler, wife of the late George Myler, and former resident of this city, who passed quietly away in her sleep at 9:30 a. m. that morning at her home. She had been ill for a few weeks.

Myrtle O'Neill was well known here for she came to Charlevoix in 1881 with her parents from Washington Island, Wis., her birthplace. It was here she spent her girlhood and attended school. In 1897 she was married to Mr. Myler and went to Detroit to make her home. There she was a devout member of the Episcopal Church of Our Saviour.

There were three children who survive her, Mrs. Helen Bolding, Williams Edward and James W. Myler. There are also seven grandchildren. Mrs. Myler was a sister of Mrs. Ray Faulkner.

Mrs. Myler came every summer to visit her sister Mrs. Faulkner at which time she renewed her Charlevoix acquaintances.

Zeigler Is Honor Guest at Rally

Charles M. Zeigler, State highway Commissioner, on his first public address since his nomination for reelection at Grand Rapids, spoke before an overflowing crowd Thursday night at a 10-county G. O. P. rally at Hotel Dilworth in Boyne City.

The Charlevoix County Republican Committee played host to the commissioner and county officials.

In laying the planks of his platform Zeigler said, "I will run for reelection on my past record as State Highway Commissioner and in face of the facts, I am proud of that record."

Zeigler pleaded for party harmony and urged young Republicans to take an active part in the party organization. At the same time he defended his policy of awarding road maintenance contracts to counties able to meet standards and highly approved the work of county road commissioners.

The spring election is very important to the G. O. P. because its results will decide the balance of power in the political setup of the State Administrative Board

Of particular interest to Charlevoix County was the statement the Highway Department has already started and mapped out a program of improving and straightening M-31 from the Straits of Mackinac to St. Joseph which may send much more traffic this way.

It was very apparent from the reception given Mr. Zeigler that he is the accepted leader of the Republican party in Michigan.

Those attending the rally from Charlevoix were Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Haggard, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Livingston, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Abbey, C. B. Meggison, Max Novak, Angus Fochtman, Rex Davis and Ralph Hamilton.

Visits With Parents In Florida via Short Wave Radio

Billie Meyer Smith got a thrill of her life Wednesday noon. Preparing the noonday lunch she was called to the phone and learned that Jim Gaskins had Billie's folks on short wave radio from Palm Beach, Fla.

Grabing her son, Perry, so that he could talk to "Deddy Bill" as he calls grand dad Meyer, they made for the radio. The reception was very clear and Mrs. Smith talked to the Nettletons as well as her folks, who were eating outside the Nettleton's trailer in bathing suits with the temperature at 85 degrees. (That day the temperature was in the low 30's here in Charlevoix.)

The Nettletons are feeling fine and are enjoying Florida very much.

She also learnod her parents had been to see Jon Henry, whn had been stricken with polio and was confined to a hospital in Palm Beach. She is doing well and her parents are hoping that the worst is over.

The Meyers have seen the Larry Ecklunds, the George Smiths, the Dal Henrys, the Nettletons and the Perry Smiths. They are all planning a Charlevoix picnic soon at which time the David Griswalds will be included.

Write Congress Your Opinion of Medical Bill

Many persons in Charlevoix, much against the idea of socialized medicine, have written or called The Coorier office and have asked what they could do to protest such a law.

A letter from Congressman Charles W. Potter relative to the subject follows, which is self-explanatory:

"You ask how our people can most effectively protest the passage of what we term socialized medicine legislation.

"(s-5)—to provide a national health insurance and public health program was introduced by Senator Murray and others, and is before the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee of which Senator Elbert Thomas is Chairman.

"(H. R. 783)—the House companion bill, introduced by Mr. Dingell of Michigan, is before our House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee of which Representative Robert Crosser is chairman.

"Communications in opposition to Health Insurance legislation can well be directed to the men of the above named Committee of the Congress."

Address of senators is "Senate Office Building" and of Congressmen "House Office Building", Washington, D. C.

4-H Club Week March 5-13, Stresses Better Living

National 4-H Club Week is March 5-13. One of the major aims in the 1949 Michigan program will he to add more members to the roll which now includes 53,830 boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 21 years. Theme for this year will be "Better Living for a Better World."

On a national basis 4-H Clob Week marks the beginning of the activities which will wind up with the exhibiting of projects at the county and state fairs. While in Michigan, the program aims at a year-roond program with a schedule of projects for both winter and summer.

Michigan had 5,261 clubs functioning in 1048 with 52 project clubs in Charlevoix cnunty, directed by 30 club leaders. These clubs completed 482 projects which represented a total value of $3,844,-09. Projects included handicraft, canning, food preparation, knitting, gardening and livestock.

Five 4-H clubs in the county are being conducted as community projects with local club leaders. These clubs operate the year around without having to be reorganized for the winter and summer programs. These include North Bay, Barnard, South Arm, and Bay Shore 31. The other clubs in the county are operated in connection with the schools and school teachers assume the doties of club leaders.

Charlevoix County 4-H Club winter projects will be terminated with the annual achievement day to be held the last week in April, according to Mr. W. C. Festerling, coonty director for MSC service. The summer program is conducted with exhibits at the various fairs.

County enrollment this year will be in line with the aims of the state program to bring more youth into 4-H Club work, in the opinlon of Mr. Festerling. He says the total increase can not be determined until achievement day.

The 4-H Club program stresses development of talents, choosing a wey of earning a living, producing food for the home and market, creating better homes, conservetion of natural resources, building good health, sharing responsibilities for community improvement, and joining friends for work, fun and fellowship.

Says Guam Soldier To Much Food Waste,

Anthony E. Novotny, S/Sgt. stationed at the North Guam Air Force Base writes:

"After reading "The Tow Line" in your January 5 edition of the Courier, I felt there was room for comment on a world wide subect. Following Christmas the remark was made and I quote: "I am going to start to reduce. I have just eaten too much over the holideys, and who didn't?" Of course I have no idee who made the stetement, because it is one that is made every day.

"The question of, who didn't eat too much, can be answered and I'm sure everyone knows the answer, but sometimes we all need reminding. There are people all over the world who didn't eat too much over the recent holidays. Europe, China, Japan,and here in the South Pacific are good examples. The United States also has many hungry mouths every day. And still, in spite of all this we, the more-fortunates ones, waste food by poor planning and over indolgence.

"I believe that many lives could have been saved both at home and abroad and that many persons would have had a more pleasant holiday season if we would give just a little more and take a little less.

"If all the left-overs and excess helpings of food were used to feed starving mouths, I wonder how many mouths they woold fill?

"I believe this may be food for thought."

Circulate Petitions for Oleo Referendum

Farmers throughout the State were being urged this week to sign referendum petitions which would give the voters a chance to decide if they want the sale of yellow oleomargarine legalized.

The League's decision to take the fight to the people was made known at a meeting last week with members of the State Legislature.

STATE OF MICHIGAN

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY OF CHARLEVOIX IN CHANCERY

In the Matter of the Petition of Murl K. Aten, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

To the Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix, In Chancery:

Murl K. Aten, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, respectfully shows unto the Court:

1. That he is the Auditor General of the State of Michigan and makes and files this petition under, by virtue of and pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 206 of the Public Acts of 1893, as amended, and Act. No. 126 of the Public Acts of 1939, as amended;

2. That Schedule annexed hereto is the tax record required by the act first above mentioned and contains the description of all lands in the aforesaid county upon which taxes, which were assessed for the years mentioned therein, have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, the description of all lands in said county heretofore bid off in the name of the State and thus held and upon which taxes which were assessed subsequent to the tax for which such lands were sold to the State have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, and the description of all lands in said county which are delinquent for any installment of taxes under the provisions of the act last above mentioned;

3. That extended separately in said schedule against each description of said lands therein contained are (a) the total amount of delinquent taxes upon said description for the non-payment of which the same may lawfully be sold at the next annual tax sale, (b) interest computed thereon as provided by law to the first day of May, next ensuing, (c) a collection fee of four per cent and (d) $1.00 for expenses, all in accordance with the provisions of the act first above mentioned;

4. That all of the aforesaid taxes, interest and charges are valid, delinquent and unpaid, and have remained delinquent and unpaid for sufficient time to authorize and require, as provided by the foregoing acts, the sale of the aforesaid parcels of land against which they were assessed and are extended in said schedule at the next annual tax sale for the non-payment thereof, and that the said taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses so extended in said schedule against each parcel of land therein described constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein and against which extended in favor of the people of the State of Michigan, the payment of which lien this court may enforce as a preferred or first claim upon such lands by the sale thereof.

Wherefore your petitioner prays:

a. That within the time provided by law this court may determine and decree that the aforesaid taxes, interest, collection fee and charges are valid and constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein extended;

b. That within the time provided by law this court make a final decree in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land therein contained;

c. That said decree provide that in default of the payment as ordered of the said several sums computed and extended against said lands in said schedule, the said several parcels of land, or such interest therein as may be necessary to satisfy the amount decreed against the same, shall severally be sold as the law provides;

d. That your petitioner may have such other and further relief in the premises as to this court may seem just and equitable.

And your petitioner will ever pray, etc.

Dated: December 23, 1946.

MURL K. ATEN,
Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State.

Many Take Advantage of Adult Education Program

Charlevoix high school is lighted at night during these weeks not only for basketball games, school plays, meetings, but for a new venture in the town, classes in adult education.

That persons above high school age wish such a program in the school is evidenced by a large number of persons who have voluntarily came for the classes offered.

Class Personnel

Following are the classes, the instructors and those making up the personnel, as submitted from the office of the superintendent, Roy Bennett.

Spanish, Miss Sue Jarvis, instructor. Lillian Swinton, Bernie Schrader, E. W. Miller, Elsie Bennett, Eleanor Carson, Mrs. L. A. Arnold, Howard Brumm, Betty Clarke, Anne Higman, ElDean Towe, Bernice Wexstaff, Florence White and Marian Pletcher.

Sewing: Mrs. Aili Gustafson, instructor. Mrs. Helen Baker, Mrs. Ted Browe, Betty Burns, Audrey Harrington, Esther Hawley, Esther Krohn, Mary Margaret Orlowski, Clara Schultz, Lucille Talcott, Marjorie Webster, Mrs. Fred Willis and Jean Young.

Woodworking: Uno Suomela, instructor. Robert Livingston, Dewey Bruce, Edward Heise, Charles Martini, Albert Novotny, John H. Olsen, H. E. Paddock, F. R. Bulow, Leonard Burns, Norman Gallagher.

Bookkeeping: D. C. Maltby, instructor, Mrs. Helen Baker, Lela Brumm, Lester Gallagher, C. D. Gelken, Robert Heise, Ruth Heise, Maxine Lewis, Ruth Miller, Mrs. Elmer Poole, Irma Roff, Betty Strehl, Ida Welshelmer, Jerry Whitley, Mrs. Peter Winnick, Betty Potter, Bertha Roberts, Charles Bergmann.

Aim of Instructors

Miss Jarvis is teaching the class conversational Spanish as taught the GI's using the same type of text. She is endeavoring to teach members so that they could use their Spanish on a trip to Mexico or other Spanish-speaking countries. Many Mexicans come to this section to work and several persons wish to be able to talk with them, not only from a business standpoint, but a social one. Learning another language helps to establish a kinship with other races, making for better racial understanding.

In Mrs. Gustafson's class in sewing there are several experienced sewers as well as the inexperienced ones. To the inexperienced she is teaching the basic steps in sewing and having the women make cotton dresses. To the experienced sewers Mrs. Gustafson is giving them supervision in their varied projects of slacks, lined woolen suits and childrens clothes.

Mr. Suomela has two aims in mind in his mechanical drawing course: first, teaching fundamental principals of orthographie projection, primary ways of putting drawings on paper; secondly, helping in individual work asked by special people that will help them in their own vocational fields.

In woodworking class, the members are taught the fundamentals of woodworking such as driving nails, cutting joints, sawing and finishing. Each person is accomplishing this through some project from towel holders to finished desks and tables.

The Bookkeeping class will have a grasp of main bookkeeping operations at the end of their session in a general way. Possibly the class can get started on bookkeeping pertaining to certain lines of business such as farming and mercantile work.

The typing classes will have learned the keyboard and gained as much speed as possible in the allotted time. Several members of the class have typewriters at home and are spending several hours a week on them as well as the class work.

With so many townspeople responding to adult education classes, Supt. Roy Bennett says that it is possible that the classes may be continued. It will depend upon the wish of the people.

Former Residents Observe Their 55th Anniversary

Of interest to many in Charlevoix is the 55th wedding anniversary of Rev. Eliheu Mayhew and his bride, the former Aurry Bowdish, which took place in Shepherd, Mich. last week.

Mrs. Mayhew spent her girlhood in Charlevoix on the farm now owned by Mrs. R. R. Farmer on US-31, in Norwood township.

The couple were married in Charlevoix where Rev. Mayhew was in evangelistic work.

Now the parents of nine children the Mayhews were a musical family and in early years organized a family band and traveled during the summer and gave concerts in various churches.

Rev. Mayhew is now chaplain of the Michigan Home and Training School and has been affiliated with church work in the vicinity of Shepherd for many years. Much interested in the Indians of Michigan he helped organize their Indian Band which became popular throughout the state. Also he was in complete charge of the Mt. Pleasant Indian parishes for several years. Mrs. Mayhew has been an able helper and is well versed in Indian life and lore.

Recounts "Good Old Days" in Charlevoix

Mrs. Dora Hamilton of Battle Creek interested in the activities of past days in Charlevoix writes:

"I read in The Courier about the old residents remembering about Charlevoix and the lumber schooners and boats that used to run to East Jordan and Boyne City. At one time we lived over the water works when it was on Belvedere Avenue and supplied Charlevoix with water from the flowing wells. Also we used to use chips from the tan bark that the boats used to unload on the dock back of where we lived.

"I remember the dozens of schooners that docked along Round Lake, many coming in on account of bad storms. The Grand Rapids was among them and the steamer Friant used to go up Lake Charlevoix on Pine Lake as it was called at that time.

"Then there was the log house, not far from where the Hamilton Boat yard now is, that Henry Wood used as a barn and the lot for pasture for his horses.

"What an exciting time it was when the Illinois was grounded. I remember being down there when it was pulled off shore. Oh, I am sure that Ray has some old pictures that I gave him for the office.

"Boats meant a great deal to me too, for Mr. Hamilton was harbor Master for 25 years and he knew every boat that came into the harbor."

In November, 1947 the farmer received 25 cents of the consumers dollar spent for a loaf of white bread but in November, 1948 he received only 18 cents, according to the National Council of Farmer's Cooperatives.

Plans Announced for 1949 Annual 4-H Dress Revue

Michigan 4-H Club girls won't be all dressed up in "buttons and bows" when they model a costume of their own making in the forthcoming 1949 annual 4-H Dress Revues, but they will be wearing the most becoming styles in work, school and party clothes. Michigan's acceptance of the program has been announced by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work. This activity is conducted under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

All the fun, excitement and accomplishment afforded by the Dress Revue—to say nothing of the economy—has made it one of the most popular contests among 4-H girls, according to reports of State Club leaders and the girls themselves.

Based on a five-point plan, objectives of the 1949 program are, namely: (1) find out just whatsort of clothes are needed; (2) acquire the know-how to plan, assemble and care for clothes; (3) learn what to wear and when—all within the family budget; (4) select costumes with an eye to individuality; (5) last, but not least, develop poise and habits of good grooming.

Again this year, Simplicity Pattern Co., will provide all awards in the National 4-H Dress Revue program totalling $11,189. They include silver medals for county winners and an all expense trip to the 1949 National 4-H Club congress in Chicago for state winners. All state winners modeling outfits in the Dress Revue presentation at the 4-H Club Congress will receive a handsome leather-cased scissors set.

Last year more than 14,499 4-H girls throughout the state participated in the Dress Revue contest.

For 53 years, this newspaper has been recording Life Histories of men and women from this area. For the great majority of them, it is the only record made of their achievements and their contributions to the cause of humanity.

This is the purpose of a newspaper.

Of course, there are limitations to the space available, but we can certainly record the highspots.

With this thought in mind, we appeal to all citizens to co-operate with us in recording history by furnishing us news and giving us tips regarding news which should be printed.

Through the years, the publishers of this hometown newspaper have sought to make improvements in the publication.

The Courier again pledges itself to continue to serve citizens of this area by recording the history of its people, by furnishing them with information which will be helpful, and by offering public encouragement to worth-while causes and undertaking.

As an example of what we mean, we have recorded the highlight of a mythical local citizen in the column to the left.

News of folks, your neighbors and mine . . .but did you know that—

It seems wonderful to see Mrs. Florence Fox out in circulation again. We have missed her at Dutcher & Johnson's Store. Now she has a brand new arm and no more casts and slings. And Foxy is looking fine! . . . That was a terrible spill that Cornelius Geiken took last week. And he gave Jean Gallagher a fright when she turned the corner by the bank and discovered him lying on the sidewalk. Geik slipped on the ice and fell so hard on the sidewalk on the back of his head that he had completely knocked himself cold. What a headache he gave himself.

The Adult Education classes at school are catching. Many in the classes want the courses to continue. And now we understand that Boyne City is planning on giving some Adult Education courses. It's fun as well as informative . . . Ethel and Bill Meyer write they are certainly enjoying the Florida sunshine and that every day has been perfect since they have been there. They have met up with so many Charlevoix folks. It must seem like old home week around there . . . Some sixty folks, members of the SPEBSQSA had a real sing-fest last Thursday night at the Argonne. Several men and women came from Boyne City to join the Charlevoix group. Gus Hard, a professional Master of Ceremonies who was in the north fishing was a guest and really took over. Then the guests enjoyed the informality of a Smorgasbord . . . It's interesting to know that East Jordan has also organized an SPEBSQSA group and had 26 out to their first meeting last week . . .

Nomination for the Ancient Order of the Inconsiderates is the person, or persons who committed a real act of vandalism. It has been discovered in the yard of one of our outlying resort cottages that some person cut down three beautiful 25 foot evergreens that took the owner 22 years to rear to their beauty. The tops were then cut out evidently for Christmas trees. For shame!!

We truly hope an error has been cleared up. Some weeks now we have been enjoying early history of Charlevoix through the medium of old pictures brought to the office by interested folks and we want them to keep coming. One of the pictures happened to be that of Major Green. One of the men of town happened in and identified some of the persons. He told of Major Green, what an esteemed person he was, and then said he thought he was a Confederate soldier. Since then we have been told by several old-timers that Major Green was a Union veteran. We thought the matter closed, but apparently it wasn't. I just want to say, the statement made at the time was not done to cast any reflection upon anyone's character, least of all such a beloved man about town as Major Green. Now the Civil War has been fought and won, and I for one do not care to have to fight it over again. Nuf' sed!

Larry Oldham received a telegram today that his son Charles A. Oldham, a technical sergeant who has been in the Aleutians for the past two years is now at Susan Base in Los Angeles . . . And from another soldier boy, Don Brown who has been in Europe for the past three years comes word that he will sail for America April 24. Another happy fellow!

Jeanne Englehart Hawley writes from Colorado that her husband will graduate March 16 and then they hope to come to Michigan on a visit. Then Jeanne enclosed a recipe as her contribution, which we hope to print soon.

Did you ever attend one of the famous Michigan Operas given back "in the old days" by an all-male cast of the University of Michigan? If you had you would never forget it. How badly folks felt when they were discontinued. Now a graduate student from Flint has written "Froggy Bottom" which is being made into an opera in the hopes that the Michigan Union Opera will start back on the road to success.

Jane Kohler and Nancy Heering rated the Sophomore honor roll at Alma College last semester . . . Bob Miller and T. L. Turcott are more stamp collectors in town. There is certainly a bunch of them. They should get together . . . From Jon Henry, down at Palm Beach confined to the hospital with polio, comes a clever little letter all dressed up with cartoons she drew. And she says that it is not very easy for her to write but she does want to thank everyone who has written letters, sent cards and candy. She was very happy to receive them. Well, we are all pulling for you, Jon. Hurry up and get well and come back home.

Jackson Turner was in Chicago recently and saw Dr. Louis Mann while there. Dr. Mann invited him to go to a school in one of the suburbs where he was going to speak at a Parent-Teachers meeting. Dr. Mann drove up to a gas station in the suburb and inquired the whereabouts of the school. The gas station attendant said, "Oh, there is no basketball game there, some crazy guy is speaking." To which Dr. Mann replied. "Not as crazy as the people who are coming to hear him." (Can't you just hear him chuckle?) Wonder if that attendant ever realized who his customer was?

Old Dish Sale Helps Camp Fund

The old dish sale at McCabe's Store Saturday sponsored by the Girl Scouts was a real success. While not so many dishes were turned in as could have been, yet the enthusiasm ran so high, that the Scouts are planning another sale in May during housecleaning time. Between their baked goods and dish sale the Scouts made $24.00 towards their camping fund.

News of folks, your neighbors and mine . . .but did you know that—

Charlevoix has suffered a real loss in the death of one of its residents, Mrs. Harry Craig. She was a real worker in her home, her church, her club activities, besides being a real friend. She loved her home town. How well I remember a conversation with her early last fall when she told of how she and her husband sat one Sunday afternoon in their yard overlooking Round Lake. The fall colors were in their glory. "I just wanted to sit and sit," she said "and drink in the beauty of Charlevoix. Suddenly it seemed as though I were looking at an old familiar scene with new eyes."

Mrs. Chet Maltby discovered a visitor in her back yard one day last week who might be considered an unwelcome one by some folks. It was a skunk. At this time of the year the appearance of this animal is an omen of early spring according to the old timers. They have not only appeared in Charlevoix but we were told of another skunk down at Beulah last week who bit a small child. Luckily a heavy snow suit saved the child's leg from too severe a lacaration but we understand said snowsuit took a fast trip to the cleaners.

It's too bad that the only Charlevoix team bowling in the East Jordan Ladies Bowling League can't find a sponsor. Won't some public minded citizen lend a hand and a ten spot? The girls doing their best for Charlevoix are Marilyn Swanson, Florine Krahnke, Ione Mosier, Shirley Balch and Charlene Cota, with Ida Heise as regular sub.

It's nearly sap time in Michigan and all indications point to an early run. Folks owning sugar bushes are getting out their buckets and getting them ready, afraid if they don't the first sap run will be over. Believe it or not, next to Vermont, Michigan ranks second in the maple syrup business.

Was I happy this week to received a latter from Guy Green of Harlingen, Tex., which I quote: "Major E. H. Green mentioned in two of your recent issues was my father and I can assure you that he was in the Union Army. There does not need to be any argument about the question because his name appears on the monument at Gettsyburg Battlefield and only soldiers of the Union Army are so honored." (Thanks a million, Mr. Green. That rolls away a big mountain of misunderstanding among some of our citizens).

"Charlevoix the Beautiful" and with beautiful women, too, if Opal Ingalls has her say. With all her beauty clinics lately we should be the most glamorous city in Michigan . . . Mr. and Mrs. Angus Fochtman plan to attend the State Road Commissioners meetiog in Grand Rapids on the 14th. They will be accompanied by their son, Bill, who graduated from Ferris Institute last week. From there they will go to Lansing and Chicago and if the weather permits, may take a little time off and take a desultory pilgrimmage.

The Robert Bridges have taken their son, Gene, to New Jersey to enter school. From there they plan going on South for n short time . . . Believe it or not, Michigan was second in the number of fishing licenses issued in 1948, having sold 1,071,975 licenses.

Too many kids have been playing hookey from school to go deer hunting. So a group of northern Michigan educators think and have launched a move to have the deer hunting season open on the "nearest Saturday" to November 15, the starting date. Rep. John Krause, R. from Manistee has promised to offer a bill in the House concerning the weekend opening.

Welfare Case Load in County Shows Increase

Charlevoix County's Welfare load is on the increase, according to Roy Gregory, Social Welfare Agent.

The jump is not just a local condition as practically all of Michigan's counties have shown a welfare increase as many men in this state are now unemployed. At that, Charlevoix is luckier than some, as it has not been as hard hit as other counties with large manufacturing areas.

Many cases for dependent children have come under observation during the past five months, jumping from 136 cases in October to 161 cases in February. Much of this is due to unemployment of fathers, or step-fathers, in many instances. The dependent children cases remained more or less static during the war, not exceeding 131 cases.

In October there were 95 open cases of welfare aid in Charlevoix County and 85 cases receiving financial aid; November, 99 cases and 90 receiving aid; January 137 cases with 122 receiving aid. February hit a new high in the County with 146 open cases and 125 cases getting aid.

In contrast to these firgues are those of the first two months of 1948: January there were 106 open cases and 96 getting aid while February had 118 cases and 101 receiving aid.

From direct relief the applieants can be given rent, fuel, food, clothing, medical assistance outside of a hospital. Funds for direct relief come, one-half from the county and the other half from the state. Hospital funds come 100% from the county and Charlevoix had 16 hospitalization cases last month.

Last month (February) there were 36 welfare cases in Boyne City, 20 cases in East Jordan and 16 in Charlevoix. The remainder of the cases were in rural sections of the county.

With such an increase in cases, Mr. Gregory could see the appropriation funds going fast. In order to curtail some of the expense, all able-bodied men have been sent on a woodcutting job to reduce the fuel expenditure.

This rapid increase in Charlevoix County is not alarming because of the fact that January and February are particularly poor employment months in a resort area. Should the load continue to increase in April, May and June, then the situation would prove alarming.

Cleaners Play Final League Game Saturday

Charlevoix Independents will face Gaylord in the finals of the Northern League Saturday, March 26 at the local gym. The game will be played as part of a double header with either Alma All-Stars or the Bay City St. James Athletic Club furnishing the opposition in the night cap.

It may even develop into a triple header with Don Burke's Seniors playing the Independent Reserves in an early curtain raiser.

Gets 60 Days On Alimony Charge

For failure to pay alimony, Neville Weeks of Boyne City was senteneed to 60 days in the county jail by Judge Howard A. Campbell at the Tuesday session of Charlevoix county Circuit Court.

Vernon Lamb of Boyne City, arraigned on a charge of taking liberties and indecent exposure, stood mute and a plea of not guilty was entered by the court. Trial by jury was set for March 17.

Robert McCutcheon, formerly of Bellaire, charged with non-support, entered a plea of not guilty. He will appear March 18 for trial.

Next session of court will be held Friday.

Vandals Damage School Bus Wiring

Occupants of a Bellaire school bus were delayed in their return after the Thursday night basketball tournaments. Apparently pranksters or disgruntled persons ripped lose some of the wiring of the vehicle.

Police officer Joe Smith came to the aid of the stranded persons by calling a local mechanic to repair the damage.

New Concert Series Tickets Go On Sale Next Monday.

Having recently completed a successful concert season, the Northern Michigan Community Concert Association is already laying plans for an even more successful concert season next year.

The annual membership drive will open next Monday and will continue throughout the week. During this time old members may renew and new members join the association.

As last year, the memberships are taken before the year's attractions are announced. This is necessary so that a budget can be established before artists can be selected.

Clarence Odmark, local chairman and member of the Board of Directors announces the following workers who will take care of the memberships: Mrs. Arthur Wexstaff, Mrs. E. J. Edwards, Mrs. Clarence Wood, Mrs. Walker Mdes, Mrs. Dean Davenport, Miss Mary Margaret Orlowski, Mrs. Gerald Gibbons, Mrs. Robert McClintock, Mrs. Charles Bleha and Mrs. Clinton Cooper.

Plan Sportsman Meet to Discuss Fish Problems

A meeting of all sportsmen interested in improving the fishing in Lake Charlevoix and the South Arm will be held Thursday evening, March 10, in the IOOF Hall at 8 p. m.

J. T. Wilkinson, Regional Fisheries Supervisor of Roscommon and H. L. Thompson, District Fisheries Supervisor of Gaylord will be here to discuss problems with the sportsmen.

At present fishing is at an all time low and it is hoped that the Conservation Department can help remedy the situation. However, the support of all sportsmen in this area is needed to help make this project a success.

Date Set for H. S. Musical Event

March 23 will mark the date of a big musical event in Charlevoix at the High School auditorium.

On that evening a program will be given by the Junior Band of 25 pieces, the Charlevoix high school band of 48 pieces and the newly organized high school choir of 55 voices.

The climax of the evening will be the presentation of a group of numbers by the combined high school and city bands.

Proceeds from the ticket sale will help defray the cost of six new uniforms made necessary because of the increased size of the band.

Rayders Place Three on All-Conference Team

The Charlevoix Rayders captured three berths on the All-Conference basketball team selected by coaches this week at a meeting in Boyne City. They are Ross Case, forward; Pat Martin, guard and Charles Fairbanks, center. Wes Fleet of Mancelona won the other forward position and Jim Everest of Boyne was selected as guard.

On the second team were Frank Shaler of Boyne and Fred Linahan of Harbor Springs as forwards; Dick Elliott of Harbor as center; and Bryan Boring and Bob Johnson of Mancelona as guards.

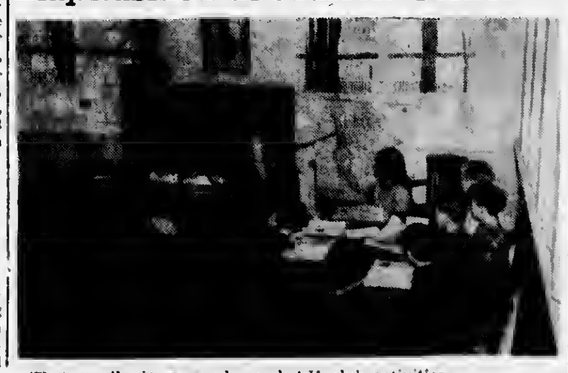
Given honorable mention were Warren Shadko of Charlevoix and Don MacArthur as forwards; Jack Trudeau of Grayling as center; and Chuck Wilson and Keith Emerson as guards.

Outdoor Writers to Present Awards at Charlevoix Meet

Charlevoix will be in the limelight again in May, when the Michigan Outdoor Writers Association will present its second "Oscar" to newspapers, magazines, radios, reporters, photographers and commentators who have made the best contributions to conservation and the outdoors. The awards will be given at the convention here at the Belvedere Hotel.

The Michigan Outdoor Writers Association believes that by this recognition the reader potential of outdoor coverage will be emphasized among editors, writers, and photographers and they will be spurred to a better effort.

Rural Education Advantages Emphasized at Marion Center



That pupils in a good rural school get a better foundation education than many do in a consolidated school is one of the strong beliefs of Mrs. Mildred Coblentz at Marion Center school.

Her work and that of the pupils there give support to the belief.

Her 14 pupils range from kindergarten through the seventh grade. Their studies include arithmetic, spelling, reading, geography, language, science. In addition there is music, art and 4-H club activities.

In other Class C games Boyno City, the winner of the Petoskey District tournamant, will meet Gaylord, winner of the tournament in that city, at 7:30 Friday evening. At 8:50 Lee Lanau School for Boys, winner at Traverse City, will play the winner of the Charlevoix-Mesick game.

On Thursday night only Class B games will be played. Petoskey will meet Rogers City at 7:30 p. m. and at 8:50 Cadillac will play Traverse City.

The finals in Class C will be held at 7:30 and in Class B at 8:50 Saturday night.

United Drive Is Nearly Complete

A tabulation of funds for the Charlevoix County United Fund Drive will be carried in next week's Courier along with the names of the workers who have given of their efforts in the initial campaign.

The solicitation of the business men is now being completed in Charlevoix by Harley Ochs, Archie Livingston, Meyer Levinson, Walter Bergeon, Fay Davis, Charles Hamlin, Ed Edwards, George Haggard, Dean Davenport, Robert Wexstaff and Cornelius Geiken.

In order to ease the burden, and in accordance with the policy of the United Fund, in the next campaign another group of businessmen will be asked to make the solicitation. By this rotation one man would have to do the job once every ten years.

Since the prime effort of the Fund is the consolidation of many drives into one united effort to reduce the work of all individuals, it is hoped that the agencies that have not yet decided to fully cooperate, will come into the next drive in the fall. In this way there would be one united drive each fall for the Community Chest.

Realizing the initial drive had many loop holes, the committee is welcoming suggestions and inviting all interested persons to attend the organizational meeting in the fall and give their ideas.

Mrs. Harry A. Craig Funeral Services Held Saturday

Funeral services for Mrs. Harry A. Craig, 57, beloved Charlevoix resident, were held at the See Funeral Home at 2 p. m. Saturday with the O. E. S. and Rev. Jackson E. Turner officiating. Burial was in the Brookside cemetery. She died Thursday at the University Hospital, Ann Arbor, where she had been a patient for two weeks. She had been in ill health for several months.

Mrs. Craig, the former Marion Ione Swinton, was born at Calumet on June 2, 1891. She attended the University of Michigan and Lawrence College at Appleton, Wis., before coming here with her family about 1911. On Aug. 7, 1918, she was married to Mr. Craig, who was then superintendent of the Charlevoix schools and now manager of the Argo Milling Company.

She was a member of the Congregational church, the Charlevoix Chapter of the O. E. S. and the Dickens Club.

Besides her husband she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. George L. Wigglesworth, Jr., of Naugatuck, Conn., and Marion, a student at Michigan State College, East Lansing; a son, Robert of Buffalo, N. Y.; one granddaughter; two brothers, Dr. Andrew L. Swinton of Marquette, and Prof. Roy S. Swinton of Ann Arbor.

Matched With Mesick in First Regional Clash

Charlevoix Red Rayders breezed through their two matches in the district tournament here, defeating Kalkaska 67 to 34 in the Friday game and came back Saturday to win from East Jordan 38 to 27. They will enter the regional tournament at Petoskey Wednesday at 7:30 p. m., meeting the Mesick team.

The Ellsworth team took an easy victory from Alba in the first round but was no match for the Central Lake cagers who defeated them in the final Class D round by a score of 38 to 21.

Holding East Jordan to a seven points in the first half, Charlevoix coasted to an easy victory in the Class C District finals Saturday evening. The game was some ragged by spells, with both teams missing a number of dog shots and having passes go astray.

Charlevoix was more adept at stealing the ball although Boring of the Jordans made them look bad on a few occasions.

At the quarter Charlevoix led 9-4 and at the half had run their lead up to 20-7. The Jordanites flashed their only challenge in the third quarter when they out-

Fund for School Band Uniforms Under Way

Realizing the need for all members of the Charlevoix High School Band to have uniforms, the Leslie Shapton Post of the American Legion has started the ball rolling by voting $25.00 for this emergency.

During the year the high school band has increased in size from 42 to 48 members. When uniforms were purchased two years ago 42 suits were ordered. As a result this year six members of the band have been appearing without uniforms whenever the band played.

The American Legion appropriated the $25.00 to the uniform fund in the hopes that other public spirited organizations would also feel that they would like to help the band. With an A-1 rating in the recent Band Festival, Charlevoix is eligible to go to the State Band Festival in Ann Arbor in April. Also uniforms are badly needed for the majorettes so that it will take between $450.00 and $500.00 to cover the bill.

Council Favors Assessment Date Change to January

City Council went on record at the Feb. 28 meeting favoring the proposed legislation to change the assessment date from April 1 to Jan. 1, and forwarded a resolution to this effect to Senator Andrews and Representative Anderson.

The proposed legislation would rearrange the assessment, equalization and allocation procedure in a more logical order, according to City Manager A. G. Leitch. Such a change would allow more time to take the assessment and make up the tax rolls. The legislation would not change the date for payment of taxes

Tourist Air Facilities

By Gordon Freedman

There has become established throughout the country, at particular vacation spots, Air Parks, Air Ranches and Air Country Clubs. The facilities offer entertainment, varied according to the locality. Air Ranches in the Southwest generally will have a very fine airport, airplane service facilities, a dude ranch, and since many of the guests come a great distance, complete airplane repair facilities.

Air Parks may very considerably, some merely being landing strips by a large wooded reserve—others, being very elaborate where all types of sports, such as tennis, golf, archery, as well as facilities for hikeing and fishing, etc, are available. Still others, have airports located by a country eating spot which is widely advertised among private flyers, who fly there from 200 or 300 miles around for Sunday breakfast and special meals—some noted for southern fried chicken, etc.

The Air Country Clubs are generally a landing strip by a golf club with golfing, tennis and swimming facilities.

In conjunction with the Charlevoix Airport, through the Board of Commerce and cooperation of everybody, Charlevix can offer all of these facilities combined, since we have horse back riding, swimming, fishing, hunting, golfing, boating, plus winter sports and a very adequate, though undeveloped, airport with the very important advantage of being close to town.

A start could be made in building up this idea of private flyers, particularly the flying executive, to come to Charlevoix for all the advantages we all know Charlevoix has over practically any other resort in the summer, and make the Charevoix airport the stopping point for winter sports in conjunctinn with anything which might possibly be developed in Charlevoix and the Boyne Mountain facilities.

The airport could be kept open in the winter if sufficient traffic came in, so that they could land with wheels. Arrangements could possibly be made whereby Joe McPhillips could offer fying facilities to Boyne Mountain, using his plane equipped with skis, or actually, make ski rental available to the various private planes so they could hop over to Boyne Mountain.

Athough Charlevoix, as a vacation resort, has been very widely publicized, it still might not have heen brought to the attention of private plane owners and the flying executives. This could be more widely publicized through the lists available to fyers through the Department of Commerce and the Aircraft Pilots and Owners Association.

Possibly, an Information Bureau could be set up at the airport so that information would be immediately available upon landing regarding housing, fishing facilities, etc., and decalcomanias of "Charlevoix the Flyers' Resort", handed out to the flyers who land and who might like to apply these transfers to their airplanes.

There are many ways in which the idea could be publicized—posters could be made available at many airports throughout the country; literature through distributors of aircraft and parts; und, publicized at sales-mertings of aircraft manufacturers, who are very much behind Air Parks and other similar activities which promote the advantages of private flying.

Although eventually the airport will require complete hangar, repair facilities and a licensed mechanic, this could be developed over u period of years. Possibly, something could be worked out in the way of group membership, such as the Belvedere and Chicago Cinbs, in which a fairly large body of regular flying vacationers, making this vacation headquarters, would be willing to form un organization to build hangur facilities, which could be rented at special rates to the members and have snfficient income to support a mechanic or mechanics. Snmething like this could be very udequately handled under the management of Joe McPhillips.

Every resident of Charlevoix, no doubt agrees to the fine service that Joe McPhillips has performed, and we can feel certain that under his direction, the airport idea would grow into something beneficial to everyone. Until this adequately can be developed into an actuality, everyone in Charlevoix should protect this becoming an important development by being certain that the mail contract and all other facilities between Charlevoix and Beaver Island are kept here at home.

If sufficient pressure is brought to bear, the mail contract could become a near permanent thing out of Charlevoix by McPhillips Flying Service. The mail service already this year, now contracted to an outsider, is not proving adequate, whereas, Joe McPhillips has always done an excellent job, and at a price, that any expert in economics of aircraft passenger and cargo services, will agree also is a very fair rate.

Anchors Aweigh

BY LARRY TOWE

With the United States Navy

Aboard U. S. S. Taconic

Well, we've had our first sight of the tropics, we're going to have our first tropical food tonight, and we're going by a tropical island now. Further, the tropics are getting me down fast!

Yesterday morning in the middle of a soaking shower we were taken ashore in a special Press boat which the Taconic carries. At a Navy supply pier on the north side of Vieques we huddled in a damp shed until a covered wagon style jeep came. Eventually we wound up at the town of Isabela Segunda, population 3000 or less. It was named for Columbus' queen.

For a living the folks fish, raise cane and cows. They also raise kids by the dozen. They paint their houses pale orange, pink and blue, have backyard sanitary facilities. Under navy influence there is a city water and power plant.

Cows run loose, but the pigs are tied up. I saw only one running at large. It was a slat-sided razorback, so lean you almost could hear the ribs rattle. Maybe it was so worthless no one would claim it.

This next paragraph is for Ray Hamilton, Allie Moore, Bill Belinger and the rest of you boatmen. These sail boats ore just the reverse of ours. A 20 foot boat will have a 20 foot mast and a 20 foot boom. After the lakes, the rigs look positively squatty. A lot of them have lines about like a Mickinac boat and evidently serve the same purpose of being an ollaround work boat that can take it.

I needed a pair of rough shoes to wear when we land. So, I acquired a couple of nine year old hoys as guides and we started out. It was surprising how fast the Spanish words came back—at least the essential ones. They took me to a shoe store, a zapateria. But all they had were good shoes. So I said, 'Too, too much, too much. I want a poorer shoe."

Oh! Big grina, "Champios." Yes, "Champios." We went to another. Champios, it developed, are slippers or a non-leather shoe. I finaliy bought a pair of Hood tennis shoes with heavy duty aoles for $2.00. At home they cost about $4.00 as I recall.)

The difference? Low taxes. That $2.00 represents just the cost transportation and profit. Our $4.00 represents the same costs pius all the taxes which our government is sticking on.

Our party also bought 16 pounds of langouste. Those are tropieal lobsters. They have no clawa. But they do have two foot feelers, a lot of aharp spikes, and a Missouri mule's kick. I was holding one and examining it when it flopped its tail back; it felt like my finger was smashed.

Those langouste will be our dinner tonight. We've been guests of the top brass. So tonight we're entertaining the admirals and our general at a langouste dinner. Also present will be our British colonel and Conadian Lieutenant Commander.

We thought we should do the thing up proper and have cut flowers for our table. So I was delegated the job of gathering posies when we had a brief shore liberty at Roosevelt Roads at the east end of Puerto Rico this morning.

The nearest flowers were down the road three miles. No chance of getting there. I ducked into a base commissary where there were a half dozen women, patently American wives. The men had failed but I knew how the women can always do things.

Within five minutes they had me fixed up with two big sacks of fresh fruit, mostly apples and pears. They will be our centerpiece tonight. God bless the women!

Yesterday we also visited another little island, named Culebra, which is Spanish for snoke. Folks never heard of any being there. There also the place is overrun with kids. But the school teacher has organized a Boy Scout troop of 30. Some have uniforms, but all are active. Some of them were nround on the streets selling coconuts to the Navy for 10c.

Off Vieques

There is a hot sun here. That's no joke. Today I had my shirt off for 15 minutes and my back is a pale pink. It happened on a boat ride.

Some of the ships were staging a landing rehearsal. They lay off about four or five miles and sent in wave after wave of landing craft. First came the sea-going tanks with armor and a sizeable gun. Next came the tanks with 30 heavily armed shock troops, also sea-going.

After that are wave after wave of landing craft with men, equipment and supplies. Landing places are marked on the beach and the whole schedule is worked out to the minute. Once more, it is a case of looking after the thousand and one details and planning for everything.

Colored flags on the beach show where everything goes. After the boats or tanks unload they either pull inland, as the attack tanks, or to one side, or the boats race back out to the ships for their next load.

We rode in o big power boat and our guide was a public relations officer, Lieut Comm. Grant Meade, one of the veterans of the South Pacific amphibious war. He not only could tell what was happening but exactly why it was done that way. He made it so interesting. I almost forgot to get my shirt back on in time to avoid sunburn.

Still off Vieques

Today I spent a lot of time on a tug like the big Roen one which made its maiden voyage into Charlevoix a year ago last summer.

She is the U. S. S. Papago, one of the Navy's largest deep sea towing vessels. Down here her joh is hauling mail around from Roosevelt Road to the various units. When she pulls into sight of the 75 ships anchored off Vieques, she easily is the most popular vessel in sight, not even excepting the hospital ship which has 18 nurses aboard and is constantly scanned hy hopeful users of binoculars.

This morning I played hookey with one of the editors and went for a mail run over to the north side of the island. The skipper, Lt. R. S. Bailey of North Carolina made us welcome in his cahin and on the bridge. But to get aboard we had to go up one of the rope nets overside. It was quite on experience. The trick is to grab the vertical lines and not the cross rungs. I returned to the Taconic with the best sun-burned face aboard.

In the Caribbean, Feb. 27

This navy sure has variety.

Yesterday we saw one of the largest sea-going swimming pools in the world, visited a guppy, and saw two movies. This morning the Taconic sent some fuel over to a destroyer.

The swimming pool is the whole middle section of what is known as a LSD. Unlingoed, that means Landing Ship Dock. Actually she is a seagoing drydock. A space in the middle, 40 by 347 feet, can be flooded with 8 foot of water. Gates at the stern are opened and the landing ships which she carries can be floated out and then drive up on the beach.

Thus, the LSD is loaded at a home port, wallows aeross the ocean, ond at some amphibious landing operation disgorges the smaller landing craft which couldn't weather open seo. They in turn take their Army tanks to the beach. The LSD meanwhile can become a floating dry dock and make repairs to most of the smaller craft.

The guppy is the new type of submarine with the snorkle or underwater breather. Not even an airliner has things packed in os tightly. We have two or three subs aboard. They say the guppies like rough water. Their wake isn't so easily seen. The air intake has an automatic closing device which flags shut when a wave hits.

We also went aboard a troop transport which had 1300 Puerto Rican troops aboard. Except for the guppy, that was the tightest packing I've seen so far. The third tightest is the evening meeting of the Taconic Press Cluh in Room 106 when we sardine eight or nine regular and honorary members into a 6x8 space.

This morning we sent some fuel over to a destroyer via a big rubber hose.

Tomorrow the big show starts!

South of San Croix, Feb. 28

Theoretically, I'm likely in lifeboat No. 2 and chugging calmly over the star studded Caribbean for one of the Virgin Islands.

For, theoretically again, we've probably been sunk a couple of times in the last 24 hours. We've had enemy planes and submarines popping all over the place today. One of the new navy planes will pop out of the sky, make an earsplitting pass just above our masts and roar off.

The umpires then will decide whether or not our own fighter planes, plus the guns aboard got her before she got us. The whole idea is to let everybody make all the passes and drop all the bombs and shoot all the unloaded guns (and believe me, they are unloaded) they can. Later the umpires will decide from the pictures and reports who did the mostest shooting firstest.

We saw one of those one-in-a-thousand events today. Correct sub tactics are for the submarine to try and come up right in the middle of a convoy such as ours and let go with everything it has fore and aft. Well, one of the best subs lay low and waiting until the convoy was about on top of it. Then it surfaced smack under the lead ship in our column, knocking the subs superstructure lopsided and forcing it to the surface.

One of our British observers said he had seen or heard of the thing happening only once before. The sub had figured right but our column of ships had zigged at the wrong or right moment.

Tomorrow we arrive back at Vieques and then the BIG fun really starts. We will be watching the gun fire ond the planes strafe the beaches and the troops go ashore. The word has got around that these army troops ashore have been plotting evil for two months. We're going to have a delegation of Congressmen there (Homer Ferguson and Paul Chafter among them. I'm sticking right close to them. Not even the Army will pick on a Congressman.

New Automatic Telegraph Center

A scene in the automatic selective switching section of Western Union's new $2,000,000 telegraph center at Detroit which flashes telegrams between all points in Michigan and Indiana and all parts of the nation.

Charlevoix began today to receive the benefits of the new era of ultra-modern communications. At 8 a. m. lines from local telegraph office were cut into Western Union's new high-speed automatic switching center at Detroit, it was announced by M. E. Wakefield, local telegraph manager.

The $2,000,000 streamlined center at Detroit features an "electrical brain" which eliminates manual retransmission of telegrams and flashes messages between this city and all others with vastly greater speed and efficiency. This new automatic method places at the fingertips of the local operator circuits connecting all parts of the country.

Until today telegrams from Charlevoix were transmitted to Grand Rapids, where they were received in the form of words printed on tape, and the tape gummed to message blanks, routing clerks at Grand Rapids sorted the telegrams and girls on roller skates carried them to the proper trunk line operators, who retyped the messages tn send them to their destinations, or, in many cases to another center where the whole process had to be repeated.

Now these time-consuming steps have been eliminated. Each telegram will be typed only at the point of origin, and then will speed to its destination without manual retransmission.

The Charlevoix operator transmitting a message will first type a "call letter" at the beginning of each telegram. That symbol will automatically route the message to its destination.

In the case of a telegram addressed to Dallas, Texas, for example, the Charlevoix operator will type the letter "D" and then proceed with the rest of the telegram, when the letter "D" flashes over the wire to the switching center at Detroit, the "electrical brain" there will automatically select the Dallas wire over which the message will flash to that city in less time that it takes to describe the procedure. The speed at which the electrical impulses travel is 186,000 miles a second.

An incoming telegram for Charlevoix will be received at the Detroit switching center on a telegraph device known as a printer-perforator which simultaneously prints the telegram and punches combinations of holes on a paper tape. A clerk, seeing the destination on the tape, will press a pushbutton marked Charlevoix. This will cause the perforated tape to run through a transmitter which automatically sends the message to this city.

Several hundred telegraph people, including Manager Wakefield of the local office, took a special training course at Detroit in operating the new telegraph system. Nothing has been left undone, Mr. Wakefield said, to give the people of this city faster and even better telegraph service.

In addition to the cut over of Charlevoix's telegraph office to the Detroit center today, circuits from all other cities in Michigan and Indiana are being connected to the new center.

The capacity of the new Detroit center is three times greater than was provided by former facilities, Mr. Wakefield explained. The installation is the eleventh to be completed and one of the largest in the nationwide telegraph network of fifteen high-speed switching centers in Western Union's $70,000,000 mechanization program.

It required a year's work by a large force of telegraph engineers and installers to complete the new center in Detroit. The equipment, set up in aisle form, includes more than 3,000 miles of wire conductors and over a million wire connections.

scored the Rayders by three points. The final quarter was an evenly matched contest with the Rayders scoring 11 points to Jordan's 10.

Fairbanks was an outstanding player with high score of 15 points to his credit. His spectacular hook shot was really effective. Case played his usual strong floor game and meshed 10 points before fouling out in the fourth quarter.

Boring led the East Jordan team with seven points. Evans, who did not get in the game until the final quarter, showed promise.

Rural Education Emphasized at Marion Center

posedly reading but demurely conscious of the camera are Danny Drost, Ethel Elliott, Lois McGinnis, Darlene Greiner and Earl Van Zant. Absent that morning was Loretta Drost, 5.

Mrs. Coblentz, who has taught for 24 years and prefers a rural to a graded school, points out that the children have more opportunities to learn.

"Classes here are smaller. Sure, one teacher has to teach all grades and all the subjects. But with a little planning of the work it isn't too hard.

"And the children learn more. When I'm having a fifth grade geography class, those third graders often are picking up part of the lesson.

"I call on the older children to help, too. We call them monitors when I'm busy. If you've ever taught school you know the surest way to learn anything is to try to teach it. Those older children are getting more schooling than I can give them at those times—and the younger ones learn just as much or more."

Mrs. Coblentz points out another advantage of the rural school. Her children can go as fast as their ability permits. They don't have to be held back so much to the pace of the class average. In that, although she did not point it out, her school resembles the practice of the highest priced private institutions.

"I have one girl in the first grade who is almost doing third grade work. Loretta, who isn't here today, has finished seven and is in her eighth little reading book."

The school, Mrs. Coblentz says, never has seemed interested in having hot luncheo. All the pupils, however, carry lunch boxes, "and we sit around the big table to eat."

Marion Center has three 4-H projects. Jimmie Raymond has a group in woodworking that meets in the basement of the school. Mrs. Coblentz herself instructs in knitting and several of the boys are learning this useful trick of hooking wool yarn.

Mrs. L. Greiner, who lives a half mile up the road, is the sewing leader. Last year, at the special request of Karl Festerling, club leader, one of the Marion dresses was sent to the county exhibit. All the three groups meet Friday afternoon.

Oil Painting of Bridge On Exhibit

An oil painting of the new bridge is now on exhibit in the window at the Campbell Boot Shop—Artist Don Campbell. The picture was made in December, showing the bridge at that stage of construction.

Mr. Campbell and Harold Hampton are spending much of their leisure time these days doing oil paintings of scenes around Charlevoix. They may decide to have a complete exhibit of their work at some future date.

At the social hour which included several games, members signed a card to be sent to the secretary, Marguerite Colburn, who is ill. Refreshments were served by the hostess' mother, Mrs. Richard Hull.

Anti-Polution Bill Favored By Sportsmen

The Anti-Polution Senate Bill No. 65 was the main topic of discussion. All sportsmen and civic clubs are behind this movement to keep Michigan waters clean.

In support, the local Rod and Gun Club wired the community chairman, Senator Perry Greene, Tuesday afternoon when the bill was brought before the Senate. The telegram read: "The Charlevoix Rod and Gun Club, Inc., is unanimously in favor of a strict anti-polution law to preserve the waters of Michigan which is one of our greatest assets."

Hearing on Potter Program to Build Fish Hatcheries

Charlevoix was among the cities of northern Michigan discussed Tuesday in Washington when a hearing on the Potter program to build up the Great Lakes fishing industry was held before a subcommittee of the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee.

His program called for establishment of fish hatcheries and for a long range study of the problems of commercial fishing. Part of the study was devoted to the elimination of the Lamprey eel which has devastated Great Lakes fish. Bills are to be drafted following the hearing.

Among the witnesses to testify at the hearing was Fred Westerman of Lansing, representative of the Michigan Conservation Department; Dr. John VanOosten of Ann Arbor, representing the Interior department's Fish and Wildlife Service and Claude Verduin of Grand Haven, secretary of the Michigan Fish Producer's Association.

AN OPEN LETTER

The Directors of the Charlevoix County United Fund wish to thank everyone for their cooperation and support of the United Fund. Also their gratitude to all of the workers for their fine effort in the campaign.

We are hoping in our drive next fall that the Red Cross will find it to their mutual benefit to cooperate. We understand the Red Cross has issued a statement that some of the fund solicitors instead those being solicited by stating that, the Fund was collecting for the Red Cross. In no instance have we been able to find where this representation was made and we do wish this to be made clear. WE HAVE, AT NO TIME, STATED THAT THE RED CROSS WAS IN THIS DRIVE. We have stated and will state again, that WE HOPE the Red Cross will cooperate to make one united effort once a year from now on.

Remember this is your Health and Welfare Ageney. It is not directed by any paid county workers, by State Headquarters or National Headquarters. State Headquarters and field representatives of the United Fund are merely available to offer suggestions, help in the preparation of the budget, etc. However, we can accept or reject anything offered by them. We are not controlled by any body outside of the County. Our County Fund and Community Chests have full authority to dictate how and where the funds are distributed.

Above all, we do not wish to quarrel with anyone or any organization in fulfilling our efforts for the County, for there is strength only in unity.

St. James Harbor to Be Ship Refuge

Beaver Islands land-locked harbor, one of the most beautiful natural harbors in Lake Michigan will soon become a refuge for tansient vessels.

At a joint meeting of the two townships and members of the Association of Commerce Friday evening, it was unanimously agreed to accept the conditions offered by the United States Department of Engineering and Michigan Warterways Commission. The conditions as presented are:

The U. S. Department of Engineering and Michigan Waterways Commission will finance and do the work of dredging the harbor to a depth to accommodate vessels of any size. The citizens of Beaver Island to construct a suitable dock. All present at the meeting pledged full cooperation to the proposed project.

Tentatively, the site of Mielke's mill dock has been selected as the most likely spot for the new dock.

IT HAPPENED ON . . . . BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

Pre-lenten parties filled the calendar for Beaver Islanders the few days preceeding Ash Wednesday.

Rosemary McDonough entertained her schoolmates Monday evening at her home. Audrey Gatliff, Margaret Ann LaFreniere, Eleanor Gallagher, Mary Catherene Hanley, Rosalie Bennett, Carolyn Miller were the invited guests.

The lads belonging to the Boy'a Club, otherwise known as the Dairy Bar, entertained their parents with a pot luck supper. Mothers and dads had a very enjoyable evening with their sons playing hosts.

A Mardi Gras party was held in the Parish Hall Tuesday evening. Members of the Blessed Virgin's Sodality were in charge. Card games, a cake walk, and dancing entertained those who attended. Mrs. Mike Cull, Lloyd McDonough, Buddy McDonough and Gene Burke stook on the lucky numbers in the cake walk.

Beginning with Ash Wednesday, lenten devotions will be held three times weekly at Holy Cross church. Wednesday and Friday evenings at 7 o'clock and Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

Rolland McCann returned from Bay City Tuesday.

James Gallagher and his crew completed the cutting and storing of next summer's supply of ice during the week. James cleared and marked the ice a few weeks ago, but a covering of water and freeze up necessitated the work to he done over again.

"In again, out again, Finnigan" —that's what the ice has been doing in the south portion of the harbor all winter long. One day the harbor is closed tight, the next day it's wide open.

A fish tug belonging to John Cross docked at the point Saturday with white fish and trout aboard.

Johnny Paul Kenwabakise fell and injured his shoulder last Monday. Friday, it was necessary for his father to accompany him to Charlevoix for an X-ray.

With the job of logging completed Wojan's lumber camp broke up this past week.

Truman Ramsey has begun hauling logs to Gus Mielke's mill from Camp 3.

The Altar Society of Holy Cross church met Sunday afternoon after lenten devotions. Plans are being made to hold a bazaar in connection with the August dinner. A booth of hand made articles will be a main feature. The August dinner will be held as usual on the second Sunday of August.

If Governor Williams Only Knew

Beaver Islanders, noted for their pranks, sure pulled a fast one this week.

Word got around Gov. Williams was due on the Island Friday with the intentions of buying a house. The message was described as being received by telegram.

With great expectations, Pat LaFreniere had his wife put more starch in his Sunday shirt. Gus Mielke laid plans for a perch dinner. As the news spread via the grapevine, excitement grew—more plans were made.

Friday came—so did Saturday and no Governor. "Why?" "How come?" "Who said so?" Well I'll be a monkey's uncle—if it wasn't Elston Pischner and his able collaberator Johnny Andy Gallagher at the bottom of it all—the rascals.

Good Record

are being made by poultry men that are feeding

Mermash 18%.

One grower that fed Mermash 18% started 104 sexed white pullets Feb., 1948. A few of these birds were cockrels and he lost 3, and he saved 90 for layers. These birds laid 11,423 eggs from Aug. 1, 1948 to Feb. 1, 1949. This is an average of 621 eggs per day.

The August, September and October egg prices were high so the average price would be about 55 cents per dozen. This brought in $523.60. Figuring at 100 lbs. of feed (mash and scratch) per year this would be 50 lbs. per bird for the 6 months covered. 90 birds at 50 lbs. of feed per bird equals 4500 lbs. mash and scratch. 60% should be Mermash 18%; so 2700 lbs. of Mermash 18%; and 1800 lbs. of scratch with a few pounds of Oyster Shell and Grit covers the feed bill. 2700 lbs. of Mermash 18% at $5.00 per hundred equals $135.00; 1800 lbs. of scratch at $4.00 per hundred equals $72.00. Add $3.00 for shells and grit and the total feed cost is $208.00. $523.60 minus $208.00 equals $315.60 over feed cost for 6 months.

18% Mermash . . . $4.60 per cwt.

25% Turkey Starter $4.90 per cwt.

For 53 years, this newspaper has been recording Life Histories of men and women from this area. For the great majority of them, it is the only record made of their achievements and their contributions to the cause of humanity.

This is the purpose of a newspaper.

Of course, there are limitations to the space available, but we can certainly record the highspots.

With this thought in mind, we appeal to all citizens to co-operate with us in recording history by furnishing us news and giving us tips regarding news which should be printed.

Through the years, the publishers of this hometown newspaper have sought to make improvements in the publication.

The Courier again pledges itself to continue to serve citizens of this area by recording the history of its people, by furnishing them with information which will be helpful, and by offering public encouragement to worth-while causes and undertaking.

As an example of what we mean, we have recorded the highlight of a mythical local citizen in the column to the left.

It would be fun to be at the Sportsmen's Congress and Boat Show in Detroit at the State Fair Grounds starting on March 19. Log rolling, canoe tilting, sawing and chopping exhibitions, tub races by North Woods guides, as well as fly and bait casting exhibitions and dances by native Indians are a few of the entertainment features.

Funeral services for Charles Avery Bacon, age 90 years, who passed away at the home of his son, Melvin Bacon at Lakewood, Ohio, were held at the Daniels Funeral Home last Wednesday. Burial was in the Sunset Memorial Park at North Olmsted, Ohio.

Our basketball boys are certainly living up to their name of the Mighty Rayders and everyone is plugging hard for them as we feel they will go far in the tournament and to prove it, let's be behind the boys at the tournament . . . You should have been at school Thursday morning. One would have thought upon entering the auditorium that an Indian pow-wow might have been on, instead of one Indian giving a program. It was interesting to watch the faces of the boys and girls from the lower grades through high school. From the youngest kiddie to the most blase' youth, Albert Franklin Stewart and his wife entertained and held that crowd. Born Chickasaw Indian, Mr. Stewart had an excellent baritone voice and really put himself across to the children in songs and stories. And perhaps the most thrilled child of all was young Edward Nixon who got to put on the beautiful war-bonnet of the Indian and imitate him in a war dance. His act really brought the house down and his teacher, Mrs. Ronald Abfalter laughed until she was crying.

Don't forget to reserve the date of Friday evening, March 18 at 8 p. m. at the Charlevoix high school. Mr. Rose will discuss varieties, fertilizers and other important items in the management of your gardens.

Council Supports Greyhound Suit

Litigation now pending in Ingham County Circuit Court, between the Greyhound Corp., and the Michigan Public Service Commission, led to a resolution by the City Council, supporting the case of the transportation firm. The resolution requested the Michigan Municipal League to intervene in behalf of the city and authorized the Mayor to select a city official to attend the hearing as a witness.

Results of this case may have a direct bearing on future bus schedules in northern Michigan, according to Herb Schofield, former employee of Greyhound and now with Brown Motors, where the local bus station is located. American Bus Lines were recently granted a franchise to operate a line between Toledo and Bay City. This run, as explained by Mr. Schofield, duplicates a service now rendered by Greyhound. The action by Greyhound is to have this franchise rescinded.

The route involved is one that extends the length of the state and the section of the run duplicated by American Bus Lines produces the revenue that offsets losses on the northern part of the line, according to Mr. Schofield. He says continuation of competition on the Toledo-Bay City run could make it necessary for Greyhound to discontinue part of its north state schedules.

• Mrs. Lola Hahn of Muskegon spent Sunday and Monday with the Bill Fessendens while her husband was in the north on a fishing trip. She reported that her mother, Mrs. Manie Fessenden has been in Detroit for the past month but is planning on returning to Charlevoix to her home in April.

Resort Promotion Meeting Friday at Ellsworth

A meeting of interest to Charlevoix resort persons, and all other orgonizations in the surrounding territory will be held Friday evening at the Ellsworth Community Hall at 8 p. m. when the Northern Antrim County Association will have three officials from the West Michigan Tourist Association to speak.

These officials will be Chester G. Wells, secretary-manager, Aurey Strophaul, publicity director and William White, field manager.

The talk will be of orgonizing small local organizations, which should interest Chambers of Commerce, resort owners, businessmen and other persons awake to the advancement of this territory as an all year-around vacation area. Special stress will be made of the winter sports angle.

Paul Woll of Eastport, who is a director of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association and a committeeman of the Northwest Antrim County Association will act as chairman of the evening.

Cruise Folder Features Stops At Charlevoix

"Charlevoix the Beautiful" received a prominent place in the new folder published this week by the Georgian Bay line advertising the summer cruises of the S. S. North and South Americans.

Charlevoix will be one of the seven stops on the '49 Voyageurs cruise. The North American will call here every Sunday from 2:15 to 3:15 p. m. during the summer months.

A picture, aerial view of the entrance of the harbor and the three lakes, is included in the folder as well as the name "Charlevoix" in red letters along with a red star on a large map showing the route of the Voyageurs cruise.

The folder was received this week by Capt. Joseph Howard and S. E. Coleman, secretary of the Board of Commerce.

• Mrs. Edward A. Webb arrived during the past week from Elkton, Md., to remain for an indefinite time at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Molet. Mrs. Molet entered the hospital for major surgery

Electors to Vote On Court House Sinking Fund

First steps toward the building of a new county building may become a reality April 4. Qualified electors at the spring election will have an opportunity to approve a resolution, adopted by the Board of Supervisors, providing for the creation of a county building sinking fund.

The resolution, if approved by the electors, would authorize the Board of Supervisors to levy a tax of two mills each year for a period of three years and o tox of one mill a year thereafter for a period of seven years.

This would not mean an increase in taxes, explains Clarence Meggison, chairman of the Building and Grounds Committee which drew up the resolution adopted by the supervisors.

During the last 17 years the Board of Supervisors hos set aside $1,000 a year in a county building sinking fund. The amount has been taken from the general fund. This is not legal, according to the state auditors, and they recognize it only as part of the general fund, subject to general fund uses.

In order to make a sinking fund legal there must be a special tax voted and levied for that particular purpose. A sinking fund so established can not then be diverted to meet other expenses of the county.

Voter approval of the resolution will merely mean that two mills of the tax now levied can legally be placed in a sinking fund for the next three years, said Mr. Meggison, Thereafter, for a period of seven years, one mill of the tax levied will go to the sinking fund.

"The present county building is a serious fire hazard with inadequate vaults and storage spoce," said Mr. Meggison. "Vaults are packed with records that would cost the county many thousands of dollars to replace if they were destroyed by fire. The building has been repeatedly condemned by the state fire marshall since 1932.

"In the event records were destroyed by fire there would be considerable expense to property owners to reestoblish their right of ownership. Court procedure might be necessary in some cases. Losses might include such records as wills, birth records, marriage records, death records and a multitude of other valuable documents that belong to the people."

Electors qualified to vote on this resolution must be owners of property in the county, or the wife or husband of a property owner, according to Fenton R. Bulow, county clerk. It will be necessory for the election board in each ward or precinct to check the qualifications of each elector. Registration requirements are the same as for voting at the spring election.

"Voters should not lose sight of the fact that the establishment of a county building sinking fund does not increase the property holder's taxes," explained Mr. Meggison, "this is a procedure to legally set aside money for a building fund."

Following the Junior Band the high school choir of 55 voices will sing a group of three numbers, "Ave Verum" by Mozart, "An Evening's Pastorale" by Shaw and "Hi, Ho, Sing Gaily," a Swiss folk song arranged by Luvaas.

The high school band will next present a group of numbers. Opening the band portion of the program will be the State Festival group, the numbers the band will ploy at Ann Arbor on April 23. They are: "Pride of Arizona" by King; "Two Moods" by Grundman and the required Closs C number, "Carnival of Roses" by Olivadoti.

The band will then present two polkas, one a clarinet trio consisting of Dwight Smith, Sally Swinton and Sue Miles playing the "Merriment Polka," and "Elena Polka," a baritone duet featuring Sue Webster and Patsy Hamilton as soloists.

Also included in the band portion of the program will be a novelty number "Ten Little Indians" and the ever populnr numbers "I Love a Parade" and "I Get a Kick Out ut You".

Climaxing the program will be the combined City and High School bands playing a group of numbers, chief of which will be the spirited "Tarantella" by G. E. Holmes.

Proceeds will be added to the fund being raised for the purchase of additional uniforms.

New Bakery to Be Located Here Soon

Charlevoix is to have a new all-year around bakery.

Saturday, a lease was signed between Amuel Smith of Chicago and Theodore Birnkrant of Detroit for the building on the corner of Bridge and Park Streets, formerly occupied by Fales.

Immediate plans are under way for the modernizing of the building and the installotion of modern electrical equipment for baking. The new Charlevoix bakery will specialize in cakes, breads, rolls, cookies. Mr. Smith has been associated with the Ward Baking Company of Chicago for several years and is thoroughly acquainted with the trade.

Already cooperation is assured by the City that adequate wiring and electricity will be given the building for the installation of the necessary baking facilities. The building is to be painted white.

Mrs. Smith will also work with her husband, waiting on customers in the front shop. The family is moving here immediately and hope to have the bakery ready for operation early in April.

Republican Rally At Cheboygan

Charlevoix County will be one of the 12 counties of the Lower Peninsula to take part in a 12-county Republican Rally to be held March 26 at Cheboygan, when several of the Republican candidates for state offices will speak at the Opera House in that city.

Congressman Charles E. Potter is scheduled to be present from Washington, D. C. for the rally.

Prepare for Coming Navigation Season at Coast Guard Depot

It will only be a matter of days until all the buoys that line the dock and grounds of the United States Coast Guard depot in Charlevoix are ready to be taken to their designoted moorings on the shipping lanes of northern Lake Michigan. Again they will become part of that extensive system of lights and markers thot aid in the safe operation of commercial and pleasure craft plying the waters of the Great Lakes.

At the close of the navigation season in the fall, all of the buoys that dot the lake from Sleeping Bear Point to the Straits of Mackinoe, are picked up by the Coast Guard light tender and delivered to the local depot. During the winter months Klaus Anderson and his crew of Coast Guardsmen are busy with the task of repairing and painting the buoys.

More than 100 buoys are serviced at the local depot. They range from the long tapered wooden spur buoys to the four and a half ton cone-shaped light buoys. Chipping and scroping scale deposits from the submerged parts is the first operation. Next comes inspection ond repair of weakened or damaged places and finally the paint job to protect them during another season of navigation.

Nearly all of the work is done in the repair shop in the depot. The heavy buoys are hauled into the shop with a caterpiller tractor. Once inside powerful hoists are brought into use to move them about ond finally to place them on a tram car to move them back to the dock.

Operation of the buoy repair depot is only one department of the Coast Guard unit headquartered in Charlevoix ond commanded by Warrant Boatswain Joe Etienne. Incidentally, the unit located here is the largest in the Ninth Coast Guard district which includes all of the Great Lakes, according to Mr. Etienne. His command includes eight lighthouse stations, two lifeboat stations and the buoy depot.

The commander says a light tender will be sent here to pick up and place the buoys as soon as Lake Michigan is free of ice floes.

Navigation of commercial craft depend completely on lighted aids and buoys in chortering their courses, Mr. Etienne exploined, but many navigators of pleosure craft invite possible disaster by resorting to the use of road maps as navigation guides.

The commander suggests pleasure craft operators will find navigation much easier and far safer if they will procure copies of charts and light lists from the United States Lake Survey office at Detroit. These may be obtained at a very nomical price.

News of folks, your neighbors and mine . . .but did you know that—

March 15 was not a national holiday, but everyone would agree it wos a mighty important date in the life of every man or woman who has an income, or had one, last year. 'Twas a fatal doy!

Saw one of the most beautiful costume pins that I have looked at in many a day. It was one of Mrs. Fred Cartier's 50th wedding anniversary presents, that came to her from Harold Cartier's wife in the East, an heirloom from her family, 113 years old. Mrs. Cartier is to give it to her granddaughter when she is finished with it so that it will still be in the family. One could certainly wear such a pin with pridal

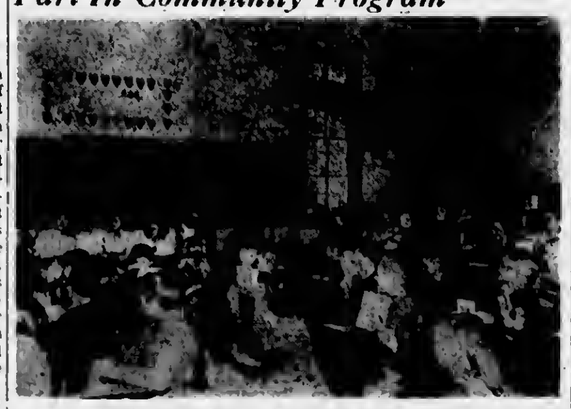
Charlevoix County In California News

Northern Michigan is getting a bit of publicity in even the California papers. In recent issues of two western publications the fire department at Ellsworth which hadn't answered a fire call in three years, was mentioned in a UP dispatch.

In a syndicated column which appeared in a Los Angeles paper the "City on Ice", Smeltanio, was shown in a drawing and an explaination of the unusual city which appears each winter at Boyne City.

Clippings of the above were sent to Mr. ond Mrs. Harry Powers by their son, Gilbert Powers, who with his wife and son live in West Los Angeles.

North Bay School Takes Active Part In Community Program



A big, busy school where a lot is going on is a pretty good description of the North Bay School taught by Mrs. Anna Warner.

North Bay has a couple of other unusual things about it. The United Brethern Church almost across the road from the school plays a big role in the community life. And the folks who live there mostly are either second or third generation residents, or are professional people who prefer to live on a farm and have their youngsters attend a rural school.

Because the school is so large, 33 pupils and all grades except the sixth, Mrs. Warner doubles up on her work whenever possible. For example, she is teaching science now by having the pupils study and do conservation work. The kindergarten learns art work by making a decorative flower garden with paper and crayons on the far wall just below the blackboard, and the one with valentines above. ...

Although housed in an old building, the school has a couple

What Has Become of Ira Adam's Gun Collection

Help! Help! Help!

Will someone enlighten us and tell what has become of the gun collection owned by the late Ira A Adams. Mr. Adams of the old Sentinel office had a real collection, and several inquiries have been made of late as to their whereabouts.

It seems that gun collecting was a real hobby of Mr. Adams, a hobby he started in his youth, and he had acquired more than 300 guns during his lifetime. There were revolvers of all patterns and models dating from unwieldly flintlocks to repeating rifles of today.

Also in the collection were two dueling pistols in what was purported to be the last duel fought in California and were in as pertect condition as when they left the hands of the British gunsmith. Two rifles also in the collection were carried by David Livingston, celebrated British explorer on his trip through Darkest Africa.

Other antiques in the collection were flintlocks fired at the retreating Red Coats in Lexington, ancient Kentucky squirrel rifles carried by followers of Daniel Boone. Pepper box pistols in vogue between 1830 and 1860, old foshioned horse pistols. Swords, rapiers and cutlasses which figured in many an encounter and military guns of many patterns occupied a prominent place in the collection.

But the question is—where is this collection?

Oldest Native Local Resident Died Saturday

Mrs. John M. Ackert, 89, Charlevoix's oldest native resident, died Saturday evening at the Charlevoix Hospital following a brief illness. Funeral services were held at the See Funeral Home at 2 p. m. Tuesday with Rev. W. D. Wood officiating. Burial was in the Brookside cemetery.

Born in Charlevoix on Nov. 30, 1859, the former Ida S. Mason was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Seth Mason, two of Charlevoix's earliest permanent residents. She was married to Mr. Ackert in December, 1867. He preceded her in death in 1936.

She was a charter member of Charlevoix Chapter No. 72 of the Order of the Eastern Star and the Methodist church.

She is survived by two sons, Morris of Charlevoix, and Lawrence of Woodland Hills, Calif.; one sister, Mrs. Lottie Markham, of Batavia, N. Y.; three grandchildren and four greatgrandchildren. A son, John, died in 1929.

• Edwin McCann, Gerald Left, LeRoy Plum and David Hamilton have gone to Cheboygan to resume work on the freighter, J. B. John, which will open its season about April 1.

Negaunee Holds Rayders In Final Quarter 37 to 30

Trailing Negaunee most of the game, the Red Rayder's challenging drive in the final quarter failed to overtake the fast Upper Peninsula team in the quarter finals of the state tournament at Petoskey Wednesday night. Negaunee won by the narrow score of 37 to 30.

Negaunee held a slight edge over the Red Rayders throughout the first quarter, finishing with an 11 to 6 lead. The Rayders rame back with a stiff challenge early in the second quarter to gain a two point margin, then were stalled by a counter challenge that gave Negaunee the half 22 to 16.

Negaunee came back strong in the third quarter to increase their lead 31 to 18. Late in the final quarter the Rayders caught fire forcing the Upper Peninsula boys into a stalling game in the last four minutes.

Case did a remarkable job of holding Juntilla to 5 markers while scoring 13 points for the Rayders Fairbanks, Shadko and Wallace were taken out on fouls.

Ishpeming defeated Traverse City 43-31 in the Class B quarter finals, taking two quarter final victories to the Upper Peninsula.

In Class D Gwinn whitewashed Onekema 74 to 43.

Qualifying for their place in the quarter finals for Class C State championship, the Rayders, coached by Ray Kipke, romped to three victories in the regional tournament at Petoskey. It was the third successive regional victory for Coach Kipke's eagers. The Rayders defeated Boyne City 41 to 32 in the final game of the regional, after having eliminated Leelanau 54 to 20 and Mesick 54 to 33 in the two opening games.

Defeat Bayne City

Led by Charles Fairbanks who banged in 20 points, Charlevoix won their eighth Regional Championship by downing Boyne City 41- 32. The Rayders jumped off to a 12 to 6 lead in the first quarter only to have Boyne pull up within 2 points at the half, 18 to 16. The second quarter told the story as Fairbanks set a sizzling pace with 9 baskets in five minutes to give Charlevoix a 29 to 23 lead going into the stretch. They outscored Boyne in the final period 12-9, and that was the ball game.

The Rayders had a marked superiority at the foul line, making good on 13 out of 17; while Boyne could only rack up 6 out of 19.

It was a bitter pill for Earl Brotherston, who is retiring this year and hoped to go out with a winner, and it was a sweet victory for Ray Kipke, who succeeds Earl as dean of Northern Michigan coaches. Taking the remnants of last year's great team and it was a great team, make no mistake about that. "Kip" has put together a smooth passing, fast moving, sharp shooting outfit that might pick up all the marbles in this year's Class C division.

Plans to Improve Lake Fishing Face Obstacles

What can be done to improve the fishing in Lake Charlevoix? Interested persons from all parts of the county met with two supervisors of the Fisheries Division, Conservation Department, at the Charlevoix IOOF hall Thursday evening to discuss the question.

Apparently little can be done immediately due to limited knowledge of the causes and the lack of personnel in the Conservation Department to make adequate studies of conditions, according to T. J. Wilkinson, regional supervisor of fisheries. The fact that Lake Charlevoix is almost a part of Lake Michigan makes it almost inevitable that conditions in the big lake will be reflected in Lake Charlevoix, he said.

The finger of suspicion was pointed at a number of conditions that could be the cause, or a contributing factor, in the steady decrease of the fish population. Chief among these was the lamprey eel. Other causes suggested were the destruction of vegetation by the increased carp population; eating of small fish by the large flocks of merganser duck that spend four or five weeks on the lake each year.

Elimination of any one of these causes presents a major problem, according to Mr. Wilkinson. Little is known of the life cycle of the lamprey beyond the fact that its life span if from five to eight years and that its preferred food is the soft skin species of fish. This could account for its heavy toll of lake trout. A program to net the lamprey when he enters the streams emptying into the Great Lakes to spawn would be an unsurmountable task and to screen the streams against his entrance might cause him to change his spawning bed to stony areas in the lake, in the opinion of Mr. Wilkinson.

Oddfellows Win Cribbage Series

Final results of the Masonic-Oddfellow cribbage tournament ended with the Oddfellows winning to make this years victory their ninth in 19 years of play. George Willis and Joe Williams tied for high point men for the year on the IOOF team and Ray Ashdon was high point man for the Masons.

To the victors go the spoils, and Monday evening at the Masonic Temple, the Masons donned their cooking garb and prepared and served a boiled dinner with all the trimmings to the victors.

Officers were elected for the tournament to be played next year. Ray Ashdon will captain the Masonic team, assisted by Pat Curtis. The IOOF captain will be George Willis assisted by Lee Sneathen.

Thirty-eight women, mothers of students of the high school band met Tuesday evening and formed an organization of Band Parents for the purpose of lending financial aid to the band. They are helping to sponsor the sale of tickets for the Wednesday Concert and plan an All Games Party soon.

Officers were chosen with Mrs. Clair Webster, president; Mrs. Fenton Bulow, secretary and Mrs. Walker Miles, treasurer.

Keep Trunk Line Maintenance Out Of Politics

BY ANGUS L. FOCHTMAN

Chairman Charlevoix County Road Commission

This being election year, derogatory remarks have been made concerning maintenance of the State Trunk Line System by county road commissions under contract for this work with the state highway commissioner. Whether, in the final analysis, contract maintenance is to be made a political issue remains to be seen. The facts remain, that contract maintenance of the State Trunk Line System is a proven economical and efficient system that should not be disturbed or made a political issue.

The county road commission system was established by the legislature in 1893. The State Highway Department was established in 1905 and the first nucleus of the State Trunk Line System in 1913. The county road commissions compose the oldest administrative body having jurisdiction over Michigan highways.

There are 83 county road commissions. Thirty-two of these commissions have always maintained the State Trunk Lines in their countries, regardless of the political faith of the state highway commissioner, a fact that few seem to know. Sixty-five road commissions are now under contract with the highway department for State Trunk Line maintenance. Michigan is not the only state that employs its county road commissions to maintain its State Trunk Lines.

The above facts were apparently unknown to two of the recent aspirants to the office of state highway commissioner. Both these men were previous executives of the highway department, yet, one stated he felt only ten or twelve county road commissions were capable of handling this work and the other man said that trunk line maintenance by county forces was an ill-fated experiment of the present commissioner and that more than sixty counties had taken over State Trunk maintenance at the instigation of the incumbent commissioner and that he was "ashamed to say" that Michigan was the only state using such a system. All these remarks showed a lack of knowledge of State Trunk Line administration in this state and nationally. Neither of these aspirants received their party's nomination.

For your education, Mr. Reader, let us review for you this method of maintenance. In the first place, no county road commission has to contract for this work. In fact, they must ask the state highway commissioner for such a contract and prove to him they are capable in personnel and equipment to properly handle this maintenance, before they are considered for a contract. The county supervisors must also be in accord with the idea of such contracting. secondly, the contract they sign, retains complete control of the State Trunk Line maintenance operations under the state highway commissioner. He can remove personnel for just cause, just as though they were directly on his payroll. He approves of all equipment used on the State Trunk Lines and establishes the specifications for the work to be done. All this work, man-power and equipment is under continuous supervision of one of the State Highway Department's engineers.

Next, let us look at the system from an economy and efficiency standpoint. This system eliminates duplication of garages, equipment, personnel, superintendents, clerical help and saves the State of Michigan a minimum of one million dollars a year. This saving is used for construction and improvement of the State Trunk Line System. There is no longer a "stand-by" crew waiting for something to happen so they can go to work. After the State Trunk Lines are in proper condition, this personnel and equipment is put to work on the county system, which as you see, provides a very flexible organization. It was only through pooling of resources during the war, that the State Trunk Line System was maintained so that a constant flow of heavy traffic was possible. Any justified criticism of this maintenance would be traceable to lack of supplies and equipment caused by the war effort and not to a breakdown in the system of maintenance. No other state highway commissioner had the handicaps to maintenance that have been prevalent since the war started.

Suppose, however, the state highway commissioner desired to eliminate the County Contract Maintenance System. He must first be prepared to invest at least $5,000,000.00 for equipment and facilities. He must purchase cars, trucks, snow plows, power graders, power shovels and thousands of small tools. He must build or find garages and offices to rent. He must educate an entire maintenance personnel. Some proponents of this procedure talk about taking county equipment. This is not possible as the counties need this equipment for their regular work. What little equipment taken over by the counties from the State during the war years, was worn out long ago. A few garages might be available and some man-power.

If thirty-two counties have always maintained the State Trunk Lines and 62 are now efficiently doing this maintenance job, why cannot all counties handle this trunk line maintenance? Can you conceive of any justifiable reason for county road commissions such as Wayne and Kent not being capable of trunk line maintenance, yet a few years ago under a different commissioner, such counties had their contracts cancelled. The contract system of county road commission maintenance of the State Trunk Lines is a proven success over many years. It should not be tampered with by any state highway commissioner, regardless of his political faith.

With the United States Navy

Off Vieques

I've just seen another version of the Navy. Frankly, I like it fine.

It's the dungaree section. Although I wasn't on one of the destroyers (whose crews consider themselves the elect) I've spent 24 hours aboard the U. S. S. Papago, and I'm all for the small ships for fun. (I'll grant the weather has been calm and perfect.)

The Papago is easily the most popular ship in the Vieques amphibious fleet. Everyone is proud of the Mighty Missouri. They like to gaze at the big white Consolation, the hospital ship. But the Papago is the mail ship. Without mail from home, the morale sinks and sinks like a Pellston thermometer. With it everything is rosy.

The Papago isn't a regular mail ship. She's the big tug I visited once before. Her captain, Russell E. Bailey, had invited me back and I grabbed the first chance to accept.

Wednesday had been a hectic day. The fleet had steamed away for submarine maneuvers and the Papago had been granted three days respite at St. Thomas. Tuesday when she returned there were 1000 bags of mail awaiting her. Tuesday night the crew was still working it but by 6 p. m. Wednesday, with two round trips behind her, all but 50 sacks were distributed.

It was at this stage that I went aboard. Peter McKinney, chief commissary steward, took me in hand, fed me and showed me how he plans his menus for a week in advance. For the week starting Feb. 21 he expected to serve 1321 meals at a cost of $473.01. or $1.09 per man per day. For Feb. 28 the budget was for 1575 meals at a cost of $607.43, or $1:15. And they were not skimpy meals.

The next morning I had breakfast with the crew. In order I had chipped beef on toast, oatmeal with milk, sweet rolls (baked the night before by a Flint boy, grapefruit and coffee. That was just an average sample.

The chief is quite a character. A South Carolina Irishman, he wears plenty of pictures on his chest and arms. He took me down to the chief's mess with its fine collection of pin-ups, where we drank coffee and listened.

That night we lay off the Island of Culebra and I learned more about the ship—and her captain. In 1923 he started out as an electrician's mate. Now he is a full lieutenant with a flock of decorations. Among them are Submarine Combat Insignia with 2 stars, Presidential Unit Citation with 2 bronze stars (for service in the Greenling and Guardfish) and the Philippine Liberation Ribbon.

He also has an attractive wife and daughter up at their Cape Cod home. Above his desk is a Catholic silver medal neatly framed. I asked him what it was. He said:

"I don't know. You see, I'm a Protestant but somebody put it up there and thought enough of it to do a good job. I'm not going to take it down."

The captain did another memorable thing, among many.

The night before the evening movie started he took me down to the crew's mess and drew us both mugs of coffee.

"I like to get down here with the crew whenever I can," he said later. "And I like to keep track of that coffee. It keeps the coffee good, for if I ever find a poor batch, they dump it all and make is right."

Charlotte Amalie, Virgin Islands

At last I've heard a crowd that can get as excited and make as much noise as Charlevoix does at a Boyne basketball game.

It was out at the St. Thomas race rack this afternoon. That was a mile out of town, on a brown grass flat surrounded by hills. The grand stand, a third the size of our county fair one at East Jordan, stayed up and down only through the grace of a dozen West Indian saints. The mile track was sod. A loudspeaker blared Calypso music and urged the customer to place their bet.

There were eight races, all for the same distance. Most were supposed to have three or four entries. I saw three. Each had only two horses. Jockeys were 150 to /?? pounders. I've heard crap shooters talk to the dominoes, but I've never heard such beseeching as a dozen good Islanders could turn on over $1.00 on a nag's nose.

Down here cars drive on the left side. The streets are narrow. Folks use them as sidewalks. Taxi drivers believe only in three things: get a fare, drive like mad, honk the horn. I have a new crop of gray hair.

Real estate prices are crazy. It costs $70 or $80 a month to rent a good two bedroom house. But, to buy or build the same house costs from $15,000 up.

Charlotte Amalie is inhabited by two groups. First is composed of well fixed retired Navy officers and private citizens, plus a small professional group. Second are those who are looking to Uncle Sam for their daily bread. Some of these earn it, like the Army and Navy personnel. The rest and I suspect the big majority get government handouts and are perfectly content to let the great white father continue to supply the groceries.

Those groceries, incidentally, are mostly flown in and cost like compound sin. Ships, except for small inter-island sloops, seems to be giving Charlotte Amalie the go-by. The island produces almost no food except a few vegetables and fruits. It is simply a whopping chunk of hard green volcanic rock with a beautiful harbor and the picturesque and quiet clean town.

Speaking of groceries and welfare, had a 45 minute interview with Gov. William Hastie this morning at the century old Government House. (It all came about because you know my failing for asking questions.) Two of the commanders and I were at a hotel for dinner and just getting started. About four feet away there were four fine looking colored folks. In the lull I slid along and asked the nearest man if he lived there and if I could ask a few questions about the Island. He said sure. After the first few questions I found it was Gov. Hastie, who is a Harvard law graduate, by the way.

Our interview was most interesting. He is one smart man who has great plans for his people. He says that the tourist business is the economic hope of the future, but hopes St. Thomas will not become noted as a Reno.

However, most folks seem to think that the easy divorce will be the big magnet, at least at the start. Tonight I met a New York woman who had come down for the cure. I should judge that it would cost between $750.00 and

Seems Squint found a new way to clear brush. They take two tractors, about thirty feet apart, and connect them with a heavy chain weighted down on the ground with old iron. Cause of Eclipse

An eclipse is caused when the moon comes between the sun and the earth and casts a long shadow along the earth's surface. If the sun is completely obscured to the earthly observer the eclipse is total; if part of the sun remains visible, the eclipse is said to be partial.

Obstacles Face Better Fishing In Charlevoix

ledge, he believes the lamprey will reach its population peak and then as its food supply deminishes and disease and parasites attack it, natures balance will be reestablished. Then we will live with the lamprey the same as they have for some time in New York State.

Little can be done to stop the toll taken by the merganser duck. This fish-eating duck is protected by Federal statute.

Elimination of the carp which destroy spawning beds and water vegetation on which fish feed, would be next to an endless task on a body of water the size of Lake Charlevoix. Commercial fertilization of lake vegetation has limited possibilities but the expense would be almost prohibitive.

Restocking of lakes and streams has not been satisfactory, according to Mr. Wilkinson.

Fingerlings or fry when planted become easy prey to their natural enemies. Planting legal size fish is merely a case of the conservation department attempting to raise and supply enough fish to keep up with the take.

Local sportsmen requested the Conservation department to organize a program to test Lake Charlevoix and suggested that the aid of local fishermen could be utilized in making trappings for studies. It also was recommended that the sale or use of small eel for bait be prohibited by law.

Don Swinton acted as chairman of the meeting. Glenn Ingalls secretary of the Charlevoix Rod and Gun Club asked that the clubs in the various communities work cooperatively in studying the lake problem.

How Much Are These Books Worth To You?

They are the 15 key record books in the office of the Register of Deeds. One of them alone, it was recently estimated, would cost $2200 to replace. Yet they are stored in plain steel cabinets because of lack of vault room.

But to you, Mr. Taxpayer, they are worth a lot more than 15 times $2200.

Without these books, and several hundred others that are stored in unsafe old vaults, the title to your home, your estate records, your tax records — all could be questioned. You might easily have to go to court to protect your rights if these books were lost.

It is to end this danger to your pocketbook that the county needs a new county building.

At the April 4 election you will vote on a proposition for a sinking fund for the eventual construction of such a building. All this fund will do is make it legal for the county to start saving money for such a badly needed building.

Remember

This Sinking Fund Means NO NEW TAXES — It Will SAVE YOU MONEY

Its Only Master is the Person at Its Wheel!

White sidewall tires available at additional cost.

From the standpoint of agility, smoothness and quickness of acceleration—the 1949 Cadillac is a never-ending challenge to the imagination. Yet, in the hands of the person at its wheel, it is as docile as a kitten!

Never before has a car so dynamic been under such certain and easy control. The big, powerful hydraulic brakes are completely dominant—yet they are as soft to the pedal as sponge rubber. A touch from the daintiest foot—and the car settles down to a quick and easy stop. A touch on the accelerator, and it moves quickly into any position its driver wishes to occupy. The big, slender steering wheel is feather-light in the hand—and quick and positive in its action.

Yes, the driver is boss in a Cadillac!

It's a great thrill to take command of such a car—as hundreds are learning every day. Why not come in and see for yourself? Regardless of the price class from which you expect your next car to come, you ought to be familiar with Cadillac.

Community Groups Give to Support Local Hospital

Several organizations in Charlevoix and Ellsworth have made generous contributions to the Charlevoix Hospital, Miss Anne Baumgartner, superintendent, has announced.

Among them have been two groups who have purchased material and made articles to be used in the maintenance of the hospital. The Church of God Ladies Aid made one dozen linen dish towels, one dozen dish cloths, one dozen sugar sack dish towels, six crepe bathrobes for children, one adult bathrobe, one dozen chore boys and one dozen birds-eye diapers.

The Ellsworth Junior Ladies Aid also purchased the material for and made six plain and six fancy dresser scarves, one dozen diapers, six baby hands and six crepe children's bathrobes.

The Ellsworth Community Farm Bureau recently contributed two bags of fresh carrots, one bag of beets, two cartons of home canned fruit and vegetables including four quarts of peaches, two quarts of pears, three quarts of cherries, one quart pickled crab apples, one quart of beets, three quarts of tomatoes and four quarts of string beans.

Earlier in the winter the Ellsworth Farmers Exchange donated 50 bushels of potatoes.

These contributions have aided greatly in the maintenance of the Charlevoix Hospital, Miss Baumgartner reports.

North Bay School Plays Prominent Roll In Community Life of highly modern additions. At the front is an enameled and porcelain combination washing stand and soap dispenser. But it is more. At the top in an electrically heated compartment is a place for hot dishes the youngsters bring for their noon lunch.

The school does not have a hot lunch program but Mrs. Warner has applied for supplementary food for the noon lunch.

The school also has an almost ideal cloak room. It is a clothes rack at the rear of the room near the big stove. When the pupils arrive, damp clothes are hung up. By recess time they are both warm and dry. After recess the same process is repeated. In cold, snowy weather, Mrs. Warner points out, those warm coats mean a lot.

Recess usually means a game of kick the can. That, it is explained, is played with a broom and not a can. It isn't a kicking game but a variant of hide and seek. It requires a lot of strictly North Bay rules to give the unlucky "it" even a ghost of a chance. And teacher is one of the ongiest of all the players.

As might be expected with a 15-year leader for teacher, 4-H plays a role in the school activities. Mrs. Karl Festerling is the leader of the sewing groups. Mrs. Warner directs the Hot Lunch and knitting. Karl Festerling has charge of woodwork.

The knitting is taking a practical turn. Six pupils already have made themselves a pair of mittens, three others are well started on their first and a few have begun the second pair. Those just starting are Paul Stolt, Richard Renkiewicz and Lois Long. Those with a pair finished are Donald Festerling, Ronald Leist, Helen and Hilda Johnechech, Robert and Genevieve Crandall.

Open House At New Jordan Valley Creamery Plant

The new $150,000 plant of Jordan Valley Cooperative Creamery at East Jordan will be presented formally to the public on Thursday, March 24, when an Open House is held for all members, their friends and the public. Open House hours will be from 10 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m.

The program has been arranged by the board of directors of the cooperative and will show Michigan's newest and most modern creamery plant. The building was completed early in February and includes a new and larger receiving department for producers' cream; new butter cutting and wrapping machine; new power house and boiler and new roller drier for producing dry buttermilk powder as a byproduct of the creamery operation.

Plans for the event have been worked out by Percy Penfold, manager and G. P. VanderArk of Ellsworth, president of the board of directors.

Would Have Art In School Curriculum

Nineteen members of the Charles Dickens Club met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harley Ochs. Mrs. Sally Bergeon, as spokesman for the Charlevoix Schools, told of the hopes for the school to have an art department when money and space will be available. She also explained that some art is now taught in the elementary schools as teachers receive special training for that purpose. She concluded by speaking of the 5-year 5 mill tax which will expire in July and of the need to ask for a renewal of the tax.

The program for the afternoon was a cooperative one, each member telling of some interesting book or article read during the year. The social hour following resolved itself into a surprise birthday tea for the club's president, Mrs. Margaret Bowman.

Girl Scouts Annual Birthday Tea Party

The Girl Scouts held their annual birthday tea party for mothers Saturday afternoon at the Congregational church. The tea table was most attractive with lighted tall tapers, daffodil trimmed cakes and dainty open faced sandwiches decorated in the Girl Scout motif.

Mrs. Helen Richards and Mrs. Hubert Paddock presided at the tea table to which the Scouts escorted their mothers and leaders.

• George Hovey and Ormie Bergeon have returned after a few weeks vacation in California, returning in time to take in the last of the tournament.

• Mr. and Mrs. Warren Shapton and two children spent the week end with Mrs. Shapton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bonnie Nickerson.

IT HAPPENED ON ... BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

Sure, and it's a great week we'll be having on the Island in honor of St. Patrick.

The celebration will start Tuesday evening in the Parish Hall. A one act play, Mrs. Murphy's Chowder" and a number of vaudeville acts will be presented under the direction of Mrs. Fred Spalding.

On the 17th, the feast day of St. Patrick, a High Mass will be celebrated at Holy Cross church at 8:30 a .m

The past week has been a busy one. Daily rehearsals for the show—needles and fingers flying making costumes and in the Parish Hall, a group of boys under Father Giles direction redecorating the hall.

'Tis proud and grateful we are of those who helped make our Hall so attractive. Donald Cole, Jr. and Gene Connaghan sprayed the walls and ceiling a pale green. The wondwork has been gone over with a coat of paint and new electric sidewall fixtures have been placed around the hall. Buddy McDonough gave freely of his time and Gene Burke also, assisted in the work. Father Giles not only directed the work, but rolled up his sleeves and worked with the boys.

A group of ladies, members of the Altar Society, took it upon themselves to laundry the red drapes that frame the stage. This was a big job and our thanks go to Madams Lloyd McDonough, Grace Cole, Burt McDonough, Irene LaFreniere and Mike Cull.

Harry Zeitler, Northern Auto Co., Charlevoix, made a very profitable trip to the Island during the week. Orders for six new cars were tucked in his pocket when he returned.

One had to be a good puddle jumper with the spring thaw in full swing. Quite a bit of snow disappeared during the week.

The road to the airport is open. Friday, the mail plane landed at the airport for the first time since heavy snow.

Charles McCauley and Alfred Ricksgers flew to the Island Friday to make a "pep" call on their folks before sailing season opens. They returned to the mainland Saturday.

Francis Ricksgers left Friday to report for sailing.

Robert Gillespie and Buddy Left returned home Saturday to spend a week before reporting to their boat.

Mrs. Truman Ramsey and son returned Saturday from Marlette after a visit with Mrs. Ramsey's mother.

Besides the big party Saturday night, Jill Smith received a lovely taffeta formal from her uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. Russell Palmer.

And what an array of colorful formals were worn by the group of junior Misses attending Jill's party—not to mention Mrs. Palmer's very stunning powder blue dinner dress.

Dr. Palmer, who is quite an artist, designed and executed a fine job in pastels for the back ground used in the playlet. The scene was the home of the Mountain king.

Sunday morning, Bud Beehtold flew to the Island with four fishermen. Equipped with minnows for bait, the four men pulled up through the ice plenty of perch to take back home.

Vernon LaFreniere is in the market for a new hat! His young son, Leon, threw his best Sunday-go-to-meeting felt in the washing machine. The contact with soap and water did the hat no good. So—Charlevoix merchants take notice! Vernon and his wife will be passing through your fair city on their way to the Beaver Island party in Chicago and here will be a good chance to make a sale!

Mrs Gus Mielke recently entertained Mr. and Mrs. James Gallagher, Mrs. Herman Pischner, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Pischner with a chop suey dinner. After dinner, card games were enjoyed.

Warn Housewives Be On Lookout for New Sales Racket

Charlevoix housewives should be on the lookout for the latest racket:

There are bell-pushing salesmen in Michigan.

These salesmen pose as interviewers "taking a poll."

A housewife is led to believe that if she will "mail in her vote" on her favorite radio program (with a dollar each week) she will receive whatever the salesman is selling. Of course she is asked to sign a contract which may trick her into buying something which in some cases runs to more than $150.00.

Watch Your 10's-20's; Counterfeits Afloat

There are some counterfeit bills afloat in Michigan, so look twice if you are lucky to get hold of a $10 or $20 bill, especially during the week of March 15.

The counterfeits are of good quality and several merchants in other parts of the state have been fooled by them.

On the back of the $10 bill look at the lower right corner. Just above the large figure "10" is a little number. If this number is 1201 the bill may be counterfeit. If the number is 1201, look at the front of the bill. In the lower right corner on the front, if you find one of these numbers, the bill is counterfeit: L-108, L430. G-110, G-430, H418, J430.

On the back of the $20 bills, look at the lower right corner. If counterfeit the number will be 480. Then look at the front of the bill. If you find one of these numbers, the bill is counterfeit: G-110, I-110, J-110, H-110, L-108, K-108.

• Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zeitler, Sr. have returned home after spending the winter at Panama City, Fla. Enroute here they visited his brother-in-law, and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Haney in Lansing.

Just what you need FOR FASTER, EASIER HAY MAKING

Dearborn FARM EQUIPMENT

● Every farmer likes to get his hay in while the weather is right . . . here is the mower to help you do it. This mower can be attached to the Ford Tractor in eight minutes and a lot of hay mowed by dinner time. Can be detached just as quickly for switching to other equipment.

The speed of the new Ford Tractor and the improved, short-turning brakes, make a big mowing job nothing to worry about. And this mower is built to stand the gaff . . . has a steel pitman and roller bearings.

With Ford Hydraulic Touch Control the cutter bar is easily lifted over stumps, stones or other obstructions . . . no pulling on mower levers or ropes. If an obstruction is hit, the bar swings backward and the sickle stops automatically, preventing damage . . . Backing slightly and then going forward resets the bar for use. Ask us for a demonstration.

Ford TRACTOR

Mower attached and power take-off connected in eight minutes.

Fast, safe transport. Good ground clearance.

If bar hits an obstruction, automatic release prevents damage.

Fruit Growers . . . Are You Ready?

ALL FRUIT GROWERS know that without regular, planned care on their part, insects would soon take over the orchard business. It is a never ending fight.

There are three main considerations to a successful spraying program: correct timing, thorough application and the use of proper materials. If one is neglected, the program fails, for without all three, success cannot be attained.

Your chances of getting spray materials this spring are good providing you get them now. Some items are still scarce, so . . .

Jordan Creamery Discusses Plans to Process Milk

Markets for fluid milk products and feasibility of Jordan Valley Creamery entering this field were discussed Wednesday at a meeting of Jordan Valley directors and representatives of the Michigan Milk Producers Association.

During the last two years Jordan Valley has been investigating the possibilities in the fluid milk business. Solution of three problems is necessary before any definite action will be taken by directors of the creamery: (1) amount of fluid milk available and its accessibility; (2) market outlets for various manufactured milk products; and (3) financing of necessary equipment.

Protection of its territory is an underlying issue the directors are keeping in mind. Past experience indicates that large manufacturers of milk products are alert for new territory, according to Mr. Howard Simmons, secretary-manager of the Michigan Milk Producers Association. Installation of a milk processing plant in this territory would undoubtedly cut into the supply of cream available for butter manufacturing it was pointed out by Mr. Simmons. He added that the present unstable conditionf in the processing business does not pose an immediate threat, however, stabilization of the manufactured milk market might bring competition in the territory.

This territory has attracted the interest of two manufacturers of milk products in the last two years. It was reported to the group that the last company to survey this field has gone so far as to select a site but dropped their plans when the manufactured milk market went into a slump.

A survey by Jordan Valley Creamery two years ago indicated there was interest among farmers for a fluid milk outlet but the nature of the survey did not indicate the amount of milk available for manufacturing purposes. This survey also failed to reveal the accessibility in the source of supply, if and when a market was established.

Both producer representatives and directors of the company agree that any venture into the fluid milk field should be started in a small way and expanded as conditions and markets warranted. The least expensive plan was believed to be the separation of whole milk, using the cream for butter and powdering the skim milk. A larger scale of manufacturing might include cottage cheese, ice cream mix, condensed milk, powdered whole milk, or cheese.

Michigan Milk Producers Association was represented by Howard Simmons, secretary-manager and H. H. Varney, market analyst. County milk producers associations affiliated with Michigan Milk, were: Emmet Bay Stultz - Grand Traverse, John Woodland, Charlevoix, Harold Tot-

San Juan

The guy who called San Juan a city of contrasts was as truthful as George Washington.

We've been seeing them for two days. Here is one of the oldest new world forts and walled cities and some modern architecture. The second worst slum in the world; and as beautiful homes as you could wish to see. Honest and hard working public servants and some highly colorful crime.

We started with the Fort, called like most of them, El Morro. Old Ponce De Leon sarted it in 1433, soon after he discovered this sheltered bay. It sits atop a rocky hill right at the harbor entrance. For 350 years Spanish governors built and strengthened and added until its cost, even with slave labor, is in the 9m millions. Those old boys were, or had engineers, who knew how to build.

But it paid for itself. San Juan never was taken or sacked. Maybe there's something to be said for military strength after-all.

The new buildings here include International Harvester and a dozen auto agencies. Just like you'll see in South Bend or Dallas, only most of them look newer.

San Juan has two prize slum areas, La Perla and El Fanguito. (The Pearl and The Little Swamp.) The Pearl is downtown right at the ocean's edge and near El Morro. It has paved streets, outdoor plumbing, goats, gamecocks and BABIES. It is not a good place to go alone. The cops always enter in threes. Up to six, at least half the babies avoid clothes. The gamecock owners pluck all the feathers from the bird's legs—it toughens the skin. The legs then look red. The ronsters seem almost as evil as the owners. (Our driver and his uncle down in La Perla had a few bitter wards: I wanted a picture of the latter with his bird. He, in effect, said he wouldn't.

El Fanguito is less given to crime but more to smells. It is built—and the residents are merely squatters who picked the place themselves—on a tidal mangrove swamp. Which means the salt water used to gurgle over the black slimy mud twice in one day. In one section it still does. In the older, the tin cans, sewage and accumulation, plus some hauled-in dirt, have raised the level enough so that the water only stands in stagnant pools.

The one room shacks are packed in tight. The insane roam about. One man got quite violent when our station wagon showed up; it took four friends to hold him until we pulled out. He just didn't like us. One editor made the mistake of handing out some coins. We had at least 75 yelling kids and more coming fast when we finally reached the main paved highway.

The residential sections are composed of modern, white concrete houses set in lawns and surrounded by flowers. They look cool, clean and comfortable. There are miles of such homes out in the neighboring countryside. The government also is putting up a huge low-cost housing project. Attractive threo room concrete homes along curving streets. Even the less prosperous can rent these and do. One attempt was made to get folks out of the slums. Housing at extremely low rates was offered. Those who went there soon moved back. They preferred the old Home Sweet Home.

Today we are going to meet the Governor and maybe the Lady Mayor. From all I hear both of them are doing a fine job. Tomorrow we're guests of the Don Distillery and are on the taken down to Ponce on the south coast to see the country and how the sugar industry operates.

The Latin will stop his car in the middle of a busy street to light a cigarette or honk to one of his eight admitted lady friends. Traffic can look out for itself. In traffic court the man who honks first is usually adjudged in the right.

Also he can be expressive. The difference between La Perla and El Fanguito; the former is more likely to slit your throat to get your pocketbook! the latter would merely clip you over the head.

With March 25 set as the tentative date for 1949 shipping season to start on the Great Lakes, it will be one week in advance of the opening last year . . . From Annie Bowdish down in New Orleans comes word that she had another surprise recently when Mr. and Mrs. John Beattie and Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Hopper recently called on her. How she enjoyed having Charlevoix friends stop to see her in her Louisiana home, and she hopes that someday she can be popping in on Charlevoix.

Word has been received from Pvt. Charles Elzinga by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Elzinga of Birchwood Ranch that Charles left Camp Breckenridge last week for Camp Kilmer, New Jersey from which point he will sail for Germany in the near future. Charles was originally expected to have embarked for Germany Feb. 1st, but due to the death of his aunt, Mrs. Tom Jensen he received an emergency furlough. Since then he has been in a holdover platoon. He received his orders and was given a six-day pass to come home. While here a family dinner was held with Julius and family of Eastport, Lawrence and family of Ironton and Frank Louiselle, Jr. of Ellsworth being present.

Some of the girls we see nowadays in the rotogravure sections of papers in scanty swim suits look hard . . . and so do we . . . I always enjoy taking a peep into Uno Suomela's manual training shop whenever I pass by it at school. One thing has always stood out in my mind, so many boys at work and such a clean spot. A far cry from most workshops in the basements at home. And those boys are really turning out some remarkable things for high school students . . .

Aili Gustafson was called to Kaleva Saturday morning by the sudden passing of her father-in-law, C. G. Gustafson. Mr. Gustafson had been in poor health for sometime and not long ago suffered a stroke . . . Mr. and Mrs. Roland Corbisiier and two children of Frankfort are with Mr. and Mrs. Angus Leitch. Mr. Corbisier had a 15 day leave, but Mrs. Corbisier is staying for a month with her parents . . .

A line in the New York Times challenged one's attention the other day when it said: "Splitting the atom before untiling mankind may change the birth certificate of the atomic age to the burial permit of civilization." Who said it? Nona other than Dr. Louis L. Mann, rabbi of Sinai Temple in Chicago, one of Charlevoix's well known summer citizens.

Ray Ashdon states that his editorial on planting of nut trees already has begun to bear fruit, so to speak. He has had letters from out-of-town folks on it and has had a request to plant several trees on a certain property here . . . Gladys Griffin left Friday for Florida to join her husband, who has been working there during the winter months . . . Mrs. Edward Shanahan received a letter last week from the president of Theta Xi of the Unievrsity of Michigan stating that her son, Robert Shanahan was recently pledged to that fraternity . . .

Birthday congratulations to Margaret Bowman . . . It's truly been an "in-again, out-again" situation with the ice in Lake Michigan this winter. One morning when I looked from my front window, it looks like an ice-locked harbor and then in a day or two, I will awaken to see the blue, blue water of Lake Michigan.

Shakespeare Club Holds Annual Recipa Day

Mrs. Meyer Levinson and Mrs. Charles Levinson were hostesses at the former's home Monday afternoon when 20 members of the Shakespeare Club met for their annual recipe-day. It was a well balanced meal, with the members bringing unusual and new dishes prepared, along with the recipe for same.

The next meeting will be an exchange meeting with the Dickens Club at which time Mrs. Karl Erber will speak for her club at the home of Mrs. Roy Bennett. In like manner Mrs. Monica Bingham will speak for the Dickens Club at the home of Mrs. Alma Foster.

• Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Sternberg have returned home after spending several days with relatives at Ubly.

News of folks, your neighbors and mine . . .but did you know that—

It's getting near that time came Easter, when milady starts looking over the clothes closet and then soddenly realizes that a thing af beauty is a joy forever, until it is out of style . . . Alma Foster said they really had a thrill the other night when they looked out their picture window in Ironton and saw eight deer standing there an silhouette an the opposite side of Lake Charlevoix,

A person we are looking forward to meeting is Mark Ostrum, who lives on the north end of Little Glen Lake. Mr. Ostrum is a former trombone player of the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra, and during the summer is on the music faculty at Interlochen. He came up here to teach at National Music Camp and loved the country so much that he didn't want to leave. Now he has started up a garden furniture factory which permits him to live in the north the year around. Also, Mr. Ostrum is a veteran of the theatre having rubbed elbows with such famous stage folks as Eddie Cantor, George Jessel and Al Jolson.

When a fellow's sick it's the time when he finds out who his real friends are and we nominate Mrs. Marie Black as one of the good samaritans of the town. She is continually baking things and taking them to sick folks along with a word of cheer . . . Then, there was another person who was always doing kind deeds for folks and that was Mable Goddard. Just the other day a woman said, "How I miss Mabel, she never forgot to call on folks, especially when they were ill. Seems as though she was busy all the time looking after others."

Althea Arnold had the misfortune to fall on the ice last week and dislocated her right elbow, however, her accident did not prevent her from being right on the front seat in Spanish class the other night and contributing her bit . . . Jack Gallegher is now wearing a metal knee-cap these days as a result of a bad spill he took on the ice recently.

Mrs. Harry Walstad left the first of this week for Detroit to visit her brother and wife, the Lloyd Swartouts. Mr. Swartout called his sister Friday morning to tell her they had a baby girl born to them. There is real joy in that household over their first-born . . . A note comes from the Jerry Scudders in Florida saying "expect Charlevoix names to appear in most any paper in winter!" And along with the note was a write-up of the famous 1949 Jessie James train holdup in which Mrs. Ida Sterritt of Charlevoix was listed as one of the passengers enroute from Washington to Detroit, who suffered from shock.

The Negaunee-Roseville game at State Friday night must have been a heart-breaker. With Negaunee nosing Charlevoix out of the picture last week in Petoskey, everyone was anxious as to their outcome. The score was 42-41 with the extra point going to Roseville . . . Another "Open House" is in the offing for Charlevoix Schools, a real medium in bringing parents and teachers together.

A benefit party is being held by the Congregators Tuesday, March 29, as an aid in helping swell the band uniform fund. . . . Mrs. Bertha Roberts received a letter from her daughter, Phyllis, in Japan who informs the family that she is a busy gal. She is enrolled in school at Yokahoma University and among the studies she is taking Japanese, which is really a hard language to grasp . . .

• Mrs. Helen Bolding, William Bolding, Mary Myler and Doris Sayler all of Detroit accompanied Mrs. Sadie Faulkner home Saturday. Mrs. Faulkner has been in Detroit for the past three weeks following the death of her sister, Mrs. George Myler.

United Drive Nears Goal In Two Districts

While the returns are not yet completed in the United Fund Drive, it appears certain, when all the businesses have cantributed their share, Charlevoix and the townships of Charlevoix, Hayes, Marion and Norwood; East Jordan with Eveline, South Arm and Wilson townships, will be close to their goal of $1200 each. From present tabulations East Jordan had received $972.75 and Charlevoix $1042.95.

Boyne City's latest tabulations, including Evangeline and Bay townships show contributions of $352.46 towards their share of $1200. A report is still forthcoming from Joseph Topolinski, chairman for Boyne Falls which includes Hudson, Chandler and Boyne Valley townships.

The county directors of the United Fund, on this initial drive are most grateful for the efforts solicitors have given in making the drive a success. Those persons are:

Church of God Folks Make Things Click

If you go to the Church of God you will find an interesting missionary chart up there. The church is personally responsible far a missionary family, the Charles Struthers down in Half-Way Tree, Jamacia.

Former Charlevoix falks, they are the children of Mrs. John Funk and Mr. and Mrs. John Struthers of Charlevoix. The chart is marked off in squares and when each person's pledge is made it is entered on one of the squares and covered with a star. With the exception of a very few dollars, the entire chart is now filled, representing $1200.00. Then there is the upkeep of their church here plus pastor's salary. Not to be satisfied with that they are also raising $600 a year for their sinking fund for a new addition to their church. It only goes to show that when folks put their shoulders to the wheel they can really make things go!

Old Gun Collection Is Widely Scattered

Charlevoix certainly came forward with the "Help, Help" call regarding the former gun collection of the late Ira A. Adams.

After Mr. Adams' death, his heir disposed of some of the pieces. Then the remainder af the guns were stored in the Arga Mill for some time. There was a move on for the city to buy the guns but nothing ever came of it.

It was Bill Brown, now of Traverse City, wha finally came into possession of the gons. Mr. Brown owns a sporting goods shop in Traverse and has some of the collection there. He, too, has disposed of some of the guns.

Would Combat Lamprey Menace In Great Lakes

Following the meeting af the Fish and Wildlife Service Subcommittee in Washington, D. C. last week, Rep. Charles E. Potter reports that the hearing revealed that the catch of lake traut in Lake Huron has diminished from more than a million pounds per year to five thousand pounds, caught in 1948. In Lake Michigan last year, there was a new low on lake trout, only 1,163,000 pounds as compared with 2,425,000 in 1947.

In order to combat the Sea Lamprey and to save commercial fishing of the lakes, Mr. Potter is firmly convinced that it is going to take considerable more money than has been spent to determine methods of controlling the situation. For the past twa years the Federal Government's Fish and Wildlife Service has been spending $20,000 a year.

Potter is preparing legislation calling for the expenditure of approximately $350,000 for 1950 and $200,000 for 1051 ta create a full-fledged research program to determine methods of clearing the Great Lakes af this menace. He also is convinced that as soon as the Sea Lamprey is under control that it will be necessary to restore the Federal Fish hatcheries in order to restock the lakes. The advisability of reestablishing the fish hatcheries was also discussed at the meeting in response to the many requests from fishermen in this district.

Gideons Give 128 Bibles to Students

Fred Bancroft, H. H. Fales and M. E. Wakefield, representing the Petoskey Camp of Gideons, presented 128 testaments to the pupils in the fifth and sixth grades of the Charlevoix public schools on Friday. The three men, all members of the Petoskey camp, who made the presentation were accompanied by Rev. W. D. Wood who spoke briefly to the students.

This presentation is part of a program carried out each year by the Gideons af this area.

Is Your Answer "Yes"?

Do you, the taxpayers of Charlevoix County, want to protect your interest in the taxes and fees you have paid into the county funds? You will give your answer April 4. Do you want the Board of Supervisors to establish a County Building Sinking Fund? This can be done now without increasing your taxes.

A "YES" vote on the proposal will authorize the Board of Supervisors to put two mills of the Tax levied for the next three years and one mill of the tax levied for seven years thereafter in a County Building Sinking Fund. To offset the decreases in revenue for operating expenses the county can draw on the surplus which has been accumulated in the general fund during the last 17 years. It is simply a case of taking money from one pocket and putting it into another in order to create a fund that can only be used when a new county building is needed.

The taxpayer should ask himself these questions before giving his answer at the polls.

1. Is it good business for the county to be saving of the taxpayer's money?

2. Is it good business for the supervisors to plan in advance for future county needs?

3. Is it good business for the county to be as prepared as possible before emergencies arise?

4. Is it good business for the supervisors to tell the taxpayers in advance of an expense he will have sooner or later?

5. Is it good business to warn the taxpayer of the tremendous extra expense he will have should disaster destroy his county building and county records?

Briefly, here is what your county has done with respect to the above questions:

1. Since the county building was first condemned in 1932, your Supervisors have saved certain fees and other revenues and set them aside in a theoretical building fund.

2. Your Supervisors have been aware of the condition of the present county building and they realize it will only be a matter of time until it will have to be replaced.

3. Your Supervisors have wisely built up a surplus in the general funds, now making it possible to meet county expenses and at the same time use part of the tax now levied for a permanent building fund.

4. Your Supervisors are now giving you an opportunity to plan ahead to meet a definite county need—a new county building.

5. Your Supervisors are now warning you that a disaster, such as fire, will mean a tremendous expense added to the cost of a new building.

Voters should carefully study the advertisements which fully explain the County Building Sinking Fund proposal. These advertisements are being presented by the Board of Supervisors to thoroughly inform the taxpayer of the facts.

Independents to Play Gaylord-H. S. Seniors In Final Games, Sat.

The Charlevoix Independents face Gaylord Saturday night at 7:45, in the finals of the Northern Independent League. All efforts to line up another game against Alma, Bay City, St. Ignace and St. James failed.

The High School Seniors led by Don Burke will face the Independent Reserve squad in the night cap following the main game.

The locals will be strengthened by either Bob or Bill Carey. Unfortunately, by league agreement only one Carey can be used at a time.

Ironton Sponsors Big Perch Contest

The Ironton Board of Commerce has voted to sponsor a perch contest for the spring run. A prize of a fine fishing rod will be offered by the group, according to Glen Williams, president of the Ironton organization. The prize will be awarded for the largest perch caught during the run.

The Irontan perch run has long been famous. This contest is hoped to stimulate still more interest. A weighing station and further rules for the contest will be announced in the near future.

Studies and Activities in Ironton School Are Built Around Good Citizenship Program

Probably the most valuable thing the pupils at Irontan school are learning is not the lessons in the book.

It is good citizenship, working together, good manners.

For few schools, either large or small, have as well developed a program of all-around training as that which Mrs. Goldie Sommerville is carrying out with the help of her children at Ironton.

The school work covers just about every phase of the school work. It is planned by the pupils themselves and they see to it that it gets done.

iety af things. There are the usual academic subjects of course.

The school work, like that of all the rural schools, covers a var- And Ironton has the books it needs, plus extra ones from the East Jordan library as needed.

Then there is a fine hot lunch program helped by stato aid, and money raised by local parties. "And the Conservation Department gave us a deer last fall that's in cold storage now. It's all in hamburger and I bring out what's needed from the locker."

4-H work is about to be started. There is a continuous contest on attendance and compositions being carried an. And every week there is a school talent entertainment.

Every Friday for the first half hour after lunch, the Citizenship Club meets. Every pupil is a charter member. At this meeting, plans are made for the next week, and assignments made.

"All I'm here for is to see they do things right. Outside of that, they do everything themselves," explains Mrs. Sommerville.

Written on the front broad as a constant reminder are the various duties and those responsible. For that week the list read:

Program

Washing boards, Bobby Geer; Checking desks, Billy Mc, Harold; Entertainment, Marilyn, Artis, Carolyn; Hot lunches, Artis, Arlon, Barbie; Washing dishes, Marilyn, Donna; Friday, Billy Mc, Barbie.

That "Friday" refers to the next week's entertainment. It takes a half hour just before Friday's lunch.

The lunch program itself is quite an affair. The hot dish is prepared in the small kitchen at one corner of the room. The pupils get their own lunch boxes and put the food out on napkins on the desks. Then, cafeteria

A Man's World Yet—Someplaces

The old order changeth! .... Spring house-cleaning is over in one place in town and the men have beat the women to it in Charlevoix this spring. That place is the Post Office. For the past ten days the place has been in the proverbial "spring uproar," with painters about. Monday morning others of the force were cleaning and washing the windows, while another was busy with the vacuum. Tuesday morning all signs of painters had vanished. All was done and everything back in order.

And the color of the interior! There is that song entitled "Out of the Blue," but, when one enters the Post Office now and looks around he will have to sing it "Into the Blue."

Poster Contest Is Sponsored By Rod-Gun Club

Charlevoix high school is cooperating with the Charlevoix Rod and Gun Club in sponsoring a conservation poster contest for high school students (grades 7 through 12). The local contest is tied in with a statewide contest sponsored by the Michigan United Conservation Clubs. Cash awards in the local contest total $21 and the cash prizes in the state contest amount to $200.

Posters will be judged on their effectiveness in presenting the message of conservation of woods, water and wildlife, says Glenn Ingalls, secretary of the local club. Students interested in entering the contest should contact Superintendent Bennett or Mr. Ingalls of the Rod and Gun Club.

Students in the seventh and eighth grade of rural schools are also eligible to enter the contest, according to Mr. Ingalls.

The roles specify that posters should not be larger than 22x28 inches nor smaller than 11x14 inches. Posters may be submitted in color or in black and white. Media used may be oil, water color, pastel, tempora, charcoal, crayon, ink or pencil. All posters entered in the local contest must be submitted not later than May 1.

Meggison Named Vice President of Supervisor Group

Clarence B. Meggison of Charlevoix was named vice president of the newly organized District Association of Supervisors formed at a meeting of county Supervisors held at the Court House in Traverse City on March 17. Roy Hooper of Grand Traverse county and Howard Reinke of Leelanau county were elected president and secretary-treasurer respectively.

Charlevoix county is one af eight counties included in District No. 2. The others are Emmet, Antrim, Leelanau, Benzie, Grand Traverse, Crawford and Kalkaska. The Association is one of 11 which forms the State Association of Supervisors which meets in Lansing each January to discuss the problems of supervisors throughout the state.

The Association of District No. 2 will meet about four times a year with the next meeting tentatively set for June 9. Problems of common interest to this particular district will be discussed and a capable delegate elected to present the needs of the district at the state meeting in January.

Red Cross Drive Lags In Charlevoix

As the fourth week af the annual Red Cross Funds drive draws to a close Charlevoix is lagging in the drive to raise $1700 as its portion of the $6000 quota for 1949. To date $744 has been contributed, according to George Wolfe, Jr., residential district solicitor, and Joseph Howard who is collecting in the business section.

High school boys, all members of the Junior Red Cross, under the direction of Mr. Wolfe are collecting in the residential district.

Soil Conservation District Program Started In County

E. B. Watkins, Farm Planner far the Charlevoix Soil Conservation District began his work in the program of soil and water conservatian last Monday. Mr. Watkins completed his course of training last year and for the past several months has been assisting the farm planner of the Grand Traverse Soil Conservation District.

Mr. Watkins will spend most of his time until spring, meeting with small groups of farmers who have asked for assistance in soil and water conservation. A total of thirteen groups of 87 farmers have applied for assistance for the Charlevoix District, according to Ed Rebman, County Agricultural Agent. The policy that was established by the Board of Directors in regard to the order in which the groups will be taken is as follows: Those groups that have a director in them will be taken first, as it is felt that the director of the district should thoroughly understand the program. After those groups with directors have started their meetings others will be taken in the order in which they were received by the district. This means that possibly some groups may have to wait until fall before some meetings are held.

A general soil conservation program will be held on Monday evening, April 11 at the Charlevoix High School. One of the features of this program will be the showing of the new soil conservation movie entitled. "By Land We Live." All farmers who are interested in soil and water conservation would find it worth while to attend this meeting.

Farmers Will Be Guests of Merchants At Annual Banquet

Farmers and their hosts, Charlevoix business men, will get together Monday evening for their annual hanquet. The dinner and meeting this year, sponsored by Kiwanis, will be held in the Methodist church parlors.

Guest speaker will be Jack Yaeger, executive secretary of the Michigan State Farm Bureau, Lansing. The speaker has been on programs in Charlevoix on several previous occasions and is well known to farmers throughout the state. His work for Farm Bureau has given him a close insight of agricultural problems from a national to a local level. In his Monday night talk he will discuss the problems of public relations.

Arlo Wickersham has been selected as toastmaster. The committee in charge arrangements include Fred Willis, chairman; Frank Bird and Arlo Wickersham.

Band Shell Needed

By Bob Miles

"Do you have some dream you would like to see fulfilled for Charlevoix?" asked Mrs. Editor.

"Yes, indeed, I have," I replied.

"O. K.," said Mrs. Editor, "you are guest editorialist for the next Courier."

Well having committed myself, here I am at the editor's desk.

Band concerts have been an important part of our summer activities for many years, and as everyone knows, the City Band has played under terrific handicaps, battling the noise of traffic on Bridge Street, plus poor acoustics from a blank wall at its back. And all the while people straining an ear to catch the music.

Last year a step in the right direction was taken. A bandstand was built east of the pool. A decided improvement, with much larger crowds in attendance. But the present facilities still are sadly inadequate.

This situation could be remedied by building a Band Shell facing west on the east side of the park near Round Lake. This would put the sound source where it belongs, and the Band could play to a much greater audience with same assurance of being heard.

With a Band Shell, several evenings a week could be devoted to some form of entertainment: Band, community singing, guest artists, etc.

A Band Shell would not only serve to beautify the waterfront, but would advertise Charlevoix as it should be advertised; by giving our summer visitors something more to enjoy, by giving them something to talk about when they go home, and by giving them something to look forward to when they come again.

But more important than all else, this Band Shell could be built as a War Memorial, a REAL LIVING MEMORIAL. This to me would be something worth while, worth great effort to attain. There is nothing more fitting to a memorial than music. And if this would serve to remind us of the efforts and sacrifices of our boys in war, it might also serve to remind us continually of the effort and sacrifice we must make for peace.

This is the dream for Charlevoix I would like to see fulfilled.

Blank Checks

By Rev. Jackson E. Turner

When a public official is elected by a large margin it is said that he has a "mandate" from the people. President Roosevelt used his mandate to do what he considered politically expedient and he said that since he was elected by such a margin, the Congress should do what he wanted—he had a mandate from the people. President Truman has one too. He is now telling this Congress that they must do what he wants.

Apparently a mandate is a blank check, signed by the voters—the holder can write in anything that he wants and call it the people's will. President Truman is writing in "socialization," making it the most important blank check ever given a President. As this blank check is used, it will bring very important changes in the way you and I live. It is worth paying close attention to how it is used.

Only about 33 percent of the people signed President Truman's blank check and if our political representatives are not to believe that his will is that of the people at large, then we must let them know otherwise. They will give attention to individuals even more than organized pressure groups, if they find that you feel strongly enough to let them know about it. They want to voice the will of the people at large, instead of the desires of the smaller groups, if they know that the people have strong opinions. They will weigh your opinions by your "reasons why." So find out what is being written on your blank check—not hearsay and others' opinions, but the facts. Then let them know what is the will of the people. Do not complain tomorrow, if you did not tell them "yes" or "no" today.

P. S.—The same goes for other things than politics, too.

Anchors Aweigh

BY LARRY TOWE

With the United States Navy

USS Tacanic—off Hispaniola, The Dominican Republic is the Puzzle of Trujillo.

He's the former Dominican Sergeant of Marines who since 1930 has run two thirds of the Island of Hispaniola. And I mean he runs it. He also is the gentleman whom most U. S. writers delight in taking pot-shots at. I'm not sure he deserves 'em.

It certainly is the best run country we've seen — although it's touted it has the most brutal government. It believably could have the greatest future; and in case he should die suddenly, it surely would have the biggest crash.

In 10 years it has made almost unbelievable progress say those who know it; others say it is all front. Trujillo is accused of amassing great wealth—and of keeping little for himself in proportion to what he has expended for the country's advancement.

All I'm sure of are: Trujillo City is cleaner than most. It has wonderful hosts and beautiful women. There's a policeman on almost every corner with an efficient and handy revolver — and a picture of Trujillo in almost every home.

I also for the first time in an uneventful life had a bayonet shoved under my nose. It was on a quiet Sunday morning walk. The shady side was in front of the Army barracks. At the entrance I started across. A guard whipped in front of me—and I was looking a very sharp bayonet right in its teeth.

They couldn't or didn't catch my stumbling Spanish. Finally an English speaking captain found out who I was and made all sorts of explanations. It seems the guard simply wanted to give me an honorable escort. The bayonet and loaded rifle hadn't loaked that way to me.

I walked along that street purposely to see the sleeping policemen. I had met four of them the night before when an American couple brought me back from a school benefit at the American Embassy. The said sleepers merely are bumps, eight inches high and 20 across in the pavement. They run from curb to curb. If you hit one at more than 3 or 10 miles an hour you smash your car or your head, likely both. The idea is that no one is coming down those certain strategic streets, toss a bomb, and get away fast. Certain elements of Trujillo-land life are strange indeed.

On the other hand, pure water supply systems and sewage plants are being built even out in the little rural pueblecitos. Hydro plants are up or being built. Trujillo City, the old Santo Domingo, has a downtown that is at least half brand new, with fine government buildings. The debt has been reduced almost half and the Dominican peso is worth a full U. S. dollar which is something these days.

Even those who damn the dictator admit he is willing to hear any citizen who has a suggestion to make. If the citizen can convince Trujillo that such and such a course is genuinely for the good of the country, all is well. If he's trying to put something over, it's bad.

From all I heard, I gathered that about 96 percent of the people never did and even now would not take much interest in government. They are most interested in the price of sugar and cocoa. Of the remaining 4 percent, 96 percent of them would like to run the government for their own benefit. That leaves a tiny handful who are primarily interested in Dominica's welfare. Trujillo considers himself that saving remnant—and believe me he's doing a thorough jab of running things.

I ran into one man who was willing to be quoted directly. He's Harry E. Hurst, former U. S. Marine, farmer brother-in-law of the Benefactor of his Country (one for Trujillo's mast used titles and not altogether unfitting.) The

Barbershoppers Have Big Sing

Thursday's meeting of the Charlevoix SPEBSQSA was one of the best of the year. There was a full evening of singing with a well balanced number of voices present. The meetings are now being held at the Sugar Bowl the first and third evenings of the month.

Henry Ingalls, one of the most fervent singers, recently returned from Texas. He declared it was good to be back with some good singers, for those Texans sing "flat."

Charlevoix's newest quartet, "The Remnants" sang several numbers and were enthusiastically received.

While the past winter has been one of the mildest this region has known for some years, yet it is still comforting to the year around residents to know that summer is not too far away.

Lets Take a Lesson From Joseph

The Bible tells how Joseph foresaw tough times ahead—and Egypt wisely saved up for years of desperate need. Charlevoix County, like Egypt, has a problem coming up. Now is the time to start preparing for it.

Before many years the Old Court House will have to be replaced. It has been condemned as unsafe by State Fire Marshalls since 1933. Their Minimum requirements include:

- A complete rewiring job.
- Fireproofing boiler room.
- A fireproof vault built outside the present building.
- Another fire escape.

These would cost close to $48,000, money which would be virtually wasted on the old building.

The right answer, like Joseph's is to start saving for a new building. But the county, under state law, cannot save unless the citizens vote to do it. That proposition will be presented at the April 4 election on the COUNTY SINKING FUND PROPOSAL.

It will Not Mean a single added penny of taxes

(If your valuation is $2500 and you pay a county tax of $22.50 now, you will continue to pay $22.50 under the Sinking Fund.)

It Will mean money saved for you as a taxpayer

(By putting this money in a sinking Fund it can draw interest at 2%. Instead of having to borrow when the time comes to build, interest on bonds will be saved. This would be at least 3% or maybe 5% for each year the Sinking Fund operates.)

Investments

Government Bonds	$56,902.12
Bank Stock	2,500.00
		$59,402.12

(There was no unappropriated cash).

Commitments

1948 Appropriation (for hospital at county infirmary)	$ 7,795.56
General Fund Overdraft	13,386.84
Outstanding bills	5,120.77
		$26,267.17
Net Surplus		$33,134.95

It is not legal under State law for the county to use this surplus for a building or a building fund unless a Sinking Fund is first set up by your vote. That is the only way this money can be transferred and made available at some future time for a County Building.

The Sinking Fund Plan would set aside about $22,000 annually for three years and after that about $11,000 a year.

The Sinking Fund does not mean an added cent of taxes.
The present surplus has been built up from money paid the county for fees and services. This income will continue.

But to make the Sinking Fund legal, State law requires it to be voted by the people as part of the taxes. Actually, all future tax money will be used to run the county. Fees and services will build up the Sinking Fund.

It means NO New Taxes

SO—To protect your own Investment . . .

- To save yourself tax money . . .
- To prepare for the future . . .

Potatoes Mske Livestock Feed

Up to 40 pounds of fresh chopped potatoes may be fed to dsiry cows each day. The cows should be started on smaller amounts to accustom them to eating potatoes. Sunburned, decomposed, sprouted, and frozen potatoes should not be fed since they may csuse digestive disturbances.

Best results are obtained when the potatoes are fed with good sifalfa hay or other legume roughage. If a 'potato flavor' is noted in the milk, it can usually be done away with by feeding following milking.

Cooked potatoes make good feed for swine. Cooking makes the potatoes more digestible and increases psiatability. Potatoes should be fed in a well balanced ration with ample protein supplement and minerals. The cooked potatoes should replace not more than ½ of the grain ordinarily fed in the ration. They may be fed at the rate of 2 to 4 pounds of potatoes per pound of grain.

For sheep, fresh potatoes may be used both for fattening lambs and for wintering ewes. For the lsmbs, one to two pounds may be fed with good quality legume hay and grain. Ewes msy receive the same and following lambing be incressed to four pounds a day. Only potatoes in good condition should be fed.

Turtles have no teeth, but their jswbones are often very sharp and the jaw muscles extremely powerful.

Urges Cooperation of Everyone In Resort Promotion

Everyone in Northwest Michigan gets a share of the tourist dollar, Chester G. Wells, secretary-manager of the West Michigan Tourist Association, told the resort group meeting at Ellsworth Community Hall, Friday evening. By virtue of that fact, he said, it also was everyones responsibility to aid in promoting this vacation land of the north.

Quoting figures from a Babsun chart, Mr. Wells said the tuurists dollar is spent as follows: food stores and restaurants, 22 cents; hotels and rooms, 17 cents; transpurtation including gas and oil, 12 cents; transportation public carriers, 7 cents; purchases all kinds, 25 cents; confectioners and roadside stands, 5 cents; amusements and theatres, 9 cents; incidentals, 3 cents.

He urged greater cooperation among local resort associations and said a concerted effort could well be carried to prospective summer guests through the aid of the West Michigan Tourists Association.

Previewing prospects for the coming resort season Wells said inquiries to date exceed those of 1948 and reports advance resort bookings good.

Value of the tourist business to the farmer was stressed by William White, field manager. Tourist consumption of farm products is important to the agricultural economy of the state. Referring to a survey by Michigan State College, White said tourists consumed 593,000 bushels of potatoes, nine million pounds of beef, one and a third million pounds of veal, thirteen million pounds of pork, nearly five million pounds of poultry, three and a half million pounds of butter, 233,000 bushel of apples, 451,000 pounds of cherries, 20,000 crates of strawberries, along with quantities of other farm produce.

Keeping the West Michigan Tourist Association informed of local events and activities will aid materially in publicizing West Michigan resorts, according to Aurey Strophaul, public relations director. He said the association has the proper contacts to get publicity to prospective summer visitors.

Sponsored by the Northwest Antrim County Resort Association, the meeting attracted representatives of the Chain-O-Lakes association, Upper Torch Lake association, Chamber of Commerce from Ellsworth and Traverse City. Paul Woll of East Port, director of the West Michigan Resort Association, was chairman uf the meeting. The village of Ellsworth served the visitors with doughtnuts and coffee.

Dry Cleaning Danger

Homemakers should not use naphtha, gasoline or benzine for home dry cleaning. All are highly inflammable and give off vapors during cleaning which combine with the air to form explosive mixtures. Any spark or open flame may ignite these mixtures, with disastrous results. Even sparks of static electricity, from garments rubbed against a hard surface, may ignite and explode.

COPY OF RESOLUTION

WHEREAS the Court House at this County was constructed many years ago and has more than served its purpose, and WHEREAS said building is of such design and construction as to make it impracticable to attempt to remodel same, and WHEREAS said building has been repeatedly condemned by the Fire Marshall of this State as unsafe and a fire hazard, and there exists a very real danger of the valuable and important records of this county being destroyed by fire because of inadequate vaults and storage space, and of a loss to the public of many thousands of dollars, and

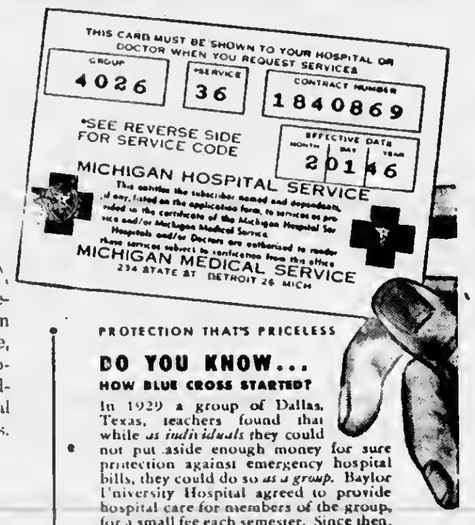
Over $94,000,000 in 10 Years... Paid for the Health Care of Those Who Hold THIS CARD

Blue Cross—Michigan's Truly Non-Profit, Voluntary Hospital and Medical-Surgical Care Plans—Reports to the People of This State



AMAZING, yes—but the record shows that since the beginning of Michigan Blue Cross just ten years ago, over $94,000,000 have been paid out for the benefit of subscribers! Today over 1,500,000 Michigan people enjoy the protection of the Blue Cross Plans, are safeguarded against worry over the high cost of sickness! 169 participating hospitals throughout the state stand ready to serve Blue Cross subscribers. And over 4,000 Michigan doctors participate in Blue Cross Medical-Surgical Plans.

The Hospitals' and Doctors' Own Health Plan for The Public Welfare

Blue Cross is a truly cooperative, wholly voluntary non-profit program for better health care. Blue Cross Plans are administered by Michigan hospitals, Michigan doctors of medicine and public representatives to make the best in hospital, medical and surgical care available without financial strain to the people of this state.

89¢ of Every Dollar Paid in Was Returned in Benefits

Because Blue Cross is truly NON-PROFIT, almost all income received is paid out in benefits for subscribers. During 1948 Michigan Hospital Service—Michigan Medical Service, combined, spent 89¢ out of every dollar for subscribers' sickness expenses. And from the balance an amount was set aside to provide special reserves for emergencies such as epidemics.

One Out of Ten Persons Will Go To A Hospital This Year ...

With the cost of hospital and medical care more than double what it was in 1941, you need this priceless protection. Blue Cross is backed by a tried and tested method of operation that gives great financial strength and soundness. It is with a feeling of pride in public accomplishment that the following report is submitted to the people of Michigan whose cooperative, voluntary efforts have made possible this outstanding record in providing against the financial hazards of illness.

BLUE CROSS

Michigan Hospital Service — Michigan Medical Service

234 State Street • Detroit 26, Michigan

PROTECTION THAT'S PRICELESS

DO YOU KNOW...

HOW BLUE CROSS STARTED?

In 1929 a group of Dallas, Texas, teachers found that while as individuals they could not put aside enough money for sure protection against emergency hospital bills, they could do so as a group. Baylor University Hospital agreed to provide hospital care for members of the group, for a small fee each semester. Since then, 90 Blue Cross Plans have been organized.

Michigan Blue Cross Medical-Surgical Plans (elsewhere known as Blue Shield) were developed by the Michigan Medical Society after prolonged studies of various methods of pre-paying medical care made by the Society and other interested groups.

WHO RUNS MICHIGAN BLUE CROSS?

Michigan Blue Cross is made up of Michigan Hospital Service and Michigan Medical Service. Michigan Hospital Service is operated strictly in the public interest by the voluntary participating non-profit hospitals of Michigan. And Michigan Medical Service is operated by Michigan's doctors themselves. It was organized by the Michigan State Medical Society to provide a way for Michigan's people to protect themselves against the costs of medical-surgical care.

WHAT BLUE CROSS DOES?

Michigan Blue Cross Plans provide a wide range of health-care benefits. Hospital room and care charges ... special services ... established amounts for surgical operations ... doctor's calls at the hospital—are only a few of the cost-of-sickness safeguards afforded. And you receive all this without red tape. No forms to fill out or claims to enter. Simply show your Blue Cross Card to obtain service.

THAT YOU MAY BE ELIGIBLE?

Employed persons may enroll as a group through their employer. Those who are self-employed, retired or not able to meet group requirements may enroll through the special Community Enrollment Plan—conducted in your community during enrollment campaign periods. If you are not already a member of Blue Cross, why not talk over the benefits with your friends who do belong—with your Blue Cross neighbors—with those who have already experienced how much Blue Cross really means when they have had to go to a hospital or undergo medical care. For full information, write or call your nearest Blue Cross Office. Offices in 20 principal Michigan cities.

THE BLUE CROSS PLANS are non-profit and are the only plans sponsored by the Michigan Hospital Association and the Michigan State Medical Society.

New Plan Offers 750 Scholarships Annually at M. S. C.

Approximately 750 scholarships for high school and junior college students throughout the state of Michigan will be made available this year through a new scholarship program of Michigan State College.

The program, to be effective immediately, was approved Feb. 16 at the regular monthly meeting of the State Board of Agriculture, governing body of the college. First grants under the new plan will be made for the 1949-50 college year, according to Prof. Arthur J. Clark, chairman of MSC's scholarship committee.

Of this total, 625 are earmarked for qualified high school seniors, one for each Michigan high school on the approved list of the State Department of Public Instruction, and an additional 100 "at large" grants. A smaller group will be available for junior college sophomores on the basis of one scholarship for every 200 junior college students. The scholarship plan was patterned after those in effect at other state-supported institutions.

The scholarships will cover total course fees at MSC, and may apply for four years if the student maintains a specified scholastic average, Clark said. Basic requirements for the grants will be honor scholastic averages and financial need.

This new program will replace the present scholarship plan which for a number of years has made available 64 scholarships for the state of Michigan.

Edible Educated Thistle

That strange-looking vegetable known as the globe artichoke is really an unopened flower bud which grows on a thistle-like plant. While botanists refer to it as Cynara Scolymus, a lot of people call it the "educated thistle." The artichoke is a good source of iron, calcium and vitamins A and B-1. It's also good to eat. The French and Italians have long valued it very highly for their tables.

Farm Topics

By ED REBMAN

Spring usually brings one of the most unpleasant situations a farmer deals with—muddy barn yards. Cattle that have to wallow knee deep in mud can't produce properly and they're hard to care for.

The remedy for the muddy barn yard is a hard surface. Michigan State College extension specialists have prepared a bulletin that gives the necessary information. Drawings and pictures show how the work is done.

The extension bulletin, No. 266 "Paved Barn Yards" can be obtained from your County Agricultural Agent office at Boyne City.

Electric Chick Brooding

Electric chick brooding is excellent in promoting good feathering and fast growth. The operation of the brooder is automatic and therefore a time and labor saver. It's safe too. One item to be watched on safety is this—make sure your wiring system is adequate to carry the load required to operate the brooder.

There are two bulletins on electric chick brooding available from your County Agricultural Agents office at Boyne City. These are Extension bulletins 237 and 168.

Farmhouse Plans Must Differ From City Buildings

Are your plans for remodeling or building for a farmhouse or a house on a farm? Farmhouses have certain needs that other houses do not.

In planning you should consider the location of the house, the customs and habits of the family and changes that may occur in family needs over the years. Clevia Meyer, rural housing specialist at Michigan State College, has some suggestions for farmhouses.

A side driveway and an arrangement of walks, steps and plantings that will give a direct approach to the house entrances are important. The house itself should fit into it's natural surroundings. Wings and extensions on a house may be useful for this as well as adding rooms.

Places to transact business and keep farm records are essential. You need space for storing canned goods, home produced foods and supplies. A space to accommodate the water system, frozen food storage and other equipment must be considered.

On the farm you need to plan for some place besides the kitchen where workers can change outer clothing; keep work clothes, boots and shoes; and wash up. A rear hallway or entry to permit people to reach the kitchen workroom, basement stairs and living rooms without interfering with the housework is a convenience.

You will find a workroom or utility room convenient for doing the laundry, pressing large amounts of food and taking care of other tasks that are inconvenient to do in the kitchen. Your kitchen needs liberal space for storage, a large stove and refrigerator and for serving family meals.

Travel Tax Repeal Bill Will Benefit

Charlevoix folks should be vitally interested in taking action on the 15% federal travel tax repeal bill in Congress, abolishing this war-born nuisance and hindrance to transportation, as Michigan ranks.

This 15% transportation tax should be wiped off the Federal Statutes.

The tax was imposed during war time to discourage travel when trains, planes and buses were overcrowded. Now it represents a direct factor in the high cost of living.

Also it is a determent to recreational travel which is essential to the north, also acting as a brake upon employment in the service and distributions trades where recreational travel is a vital factor.

This ta wasx removed from foreign travel in 1947. Thus the worker, the housewife and other average citizen who take vacations in North America are forced to pay this 15% travel tax, while those of sufficient wealth to travel abroad need not pay it.

If you wish to help our state northern resort section, sit down and write to your Democratic Representative, Roy D. Woodruff. The Washington address is House Office Building. Address him as "The Honorable . . . M. C. (Member of Congress.)

Homes for Farm Workers

One of the lessons learned from farm labor troubles in the past few years is that the farmer with a good tenant house has his pick of the farm workers. The knowledge might have considerable practical value in the future when materials become plentiful and cheap enough so farm buildings can be erected at a reasonable cost. Long-term farm workers want good homes.

All Potato Grades Have Same Parity Support This Year

A support level of 60 per cent of parity for the 1949 crop of Irish potatoes with a single price schedule for all grades, has been announced by the U. S. D. A., according to LeRoy Hardy, chairman of Charlevoix County AAA Committee.

Use of a single base support price was invoked this year to encourage the movement of better grades of potatoes into consumption through commercial channels and to limit, insofar as possible, government purchases of lower grades. Nationally, the 1949 support level averages $1.80 per hundred pounds over the marketing season, according to Mr. Hardy.

Support prices for the Michigan 1949 crop over the marketing season are: September and October, $1.50; November, $1.65; December, $1.85; January, 1950, $2.05; Feb. 1950, $2.10; March, 1950, $2.15. These prices apply to U. S. No. 1, U. S. Commercial, U. S. No. 1 size B, and U. S. No 2 grades, segregated and packed by grades.

Auto Tax Burden Hit New High In '48

Special automobile taxes will average a record $74 for every motor vehicle registered in Michigan in 1948, according to preliminary estimates by William Palmer of the Michigan Petroleum Industries Committee. Mr. Palmer pointed out that this tax burden, which includes all special federal and state levies on motor vehicles, has increased 71 per cent since 1938.

"These are startling figures when we realize that they represent only the special taxes that motorists paid on their motor vehicles and motor fuel during the past year," he said, "but in addition to the $74 burden of these special taxes, motorists also paid all the general taxes required of other citizens.

"The motorists have been called the most heavily taxed group in the entire state and it is easy to see why," he continued. "We hear a lot about the high cost of living, but what about the high cost of taxes?" he asked.

Dogs After Dope

In China, the custom officials use dogs to track down narcotic smugglers. The animals are trained to follow the scent of the drug.

Fighting Own Fires

Many homes are destroyed because householders attempt to fight small fires themselves. Hence the National Board of Fire Underwriters emphasizes that the first thing to do in event of any fire, no matter how small, is to call the fire department. Few homes are less than two or three minutes run from the nearest fire station, except in rural districts.

"We're not quitting until this job is done"

Operation Underground

It was about 10 A. M. on a dull, grey morning when the huge steam shovel accidentally hooked onto an underground telephone cable.

Tom, a Michigan Bell splicer, and Ed, his helper, were among the telephone men who arrived on the scene within minutes. The situation was bad. Out of 200 pairs of vital telephone wires inside the cable, 135 were broken. And, to make matters worse, a steady rain had started, threatening to flood the hole where the break occurred.

The first job was to make temporary repairs on the most important wires so that calls could go through. Working swiftly, Tom and Ed completed their part of this job by 2 P. M.

But then more trouble developed. Water from a nearby open-type drain began spilling into the hole where the men were working. If the open cable were submerged, moisture would short circuit the wires.

Pumps were working furiously. Meanwhile, Tom and Ed began building a foundation of planking. Then, with another plank as a lever, they began prying up the cable to keep it above the water level.

Higher and higher the water rose . . . above their knees . . . up to their waists and beyond. By sheer exertion, they kept lifting the cable break up and up. Sometimes it was only an inch and a half above the rising water. But more pumps were put to work and finally the water began to go down.

The problem now was to restore service on the remaining wires in the cable. This meant putting in a new section of cable ten feet long and making 400 wire splices at each end of the new piece.

Several times the foreman asked Tom and Ed if they didn't want to be relieved by another splicing crew. But they replied, "Look, this is an important cable. We don't want to quit until the job's done." The foreman agreed.

And that's how the precious threads of communication were restored between the outside world and the vital B-24 Bomber Plant at Willow Run, during the war.

This is one of countless stories that show the determination of Michigan Bell workers to keep your telephone calls going through.

MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

IT HAPPENED ON . . . . BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

Beaver Islanders wrapped their overcoats a little tighter during the past week when Jack Frost returned to pull the mercury down to one of the coldest spells we have had this season.

Winging their way across Lake Michigan via McPhillips Flying Service, a number of Beaver Islanders crossed to the mainland to attend the Beaver Island party in Chicago.

James H. Gallagher left Monday to join his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Coppens in Charlevoix to drive to Chicago. Enroute, they visited in South Haven and Grand Rapids. In Chicago, they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gallagher and Mr. and Mrs. Earle Gallagher.

Others who left later in the week were: Mrs. Mark Cross, Eddie Gallagher, Karl Keubler, Jack Cull and John Ricksgers.

Earle Left and Patsy D. Gallagher went to the Beaver Island party before reporting to their boat for sailing season.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Boyle and family left for Chicago during the week in time for the party. Ed will sail this season. His wife and children will remain in Chicago.

Matt Melvill and Jack Burke left Wednesday to report to their boat for the sailing season.

Tuesday, a caucus was held in the Parish Hall at 1:00 p. m. Nominations were made for the coming election.

Mrs. Fred Spalding deserves a lot of credit for the fine entertainment she produced last Tuesday night. The proceeds from the show will go toward defroying expenses incurred giving the hall a "new look."

A correction please—It was Jack Connaghan and not "Jr.," who worked hard with the spraying apparatus redecorating the Parish Hall.

Martha Miller and daughter, Carolyn, wore beautiful costumes for their Hungarian danee. Martha designed and made the costumes even to the seqins embroidered ballet slippers.

The girls of the sewing class under Martha's direction, made all the pretty crepe paper costumes worn by the fairies.

Mike Cull did a neat job constructing a parasol for the fairy dance. Made it out of coat hangers and a smooth stick.

With the main entertainment occurring two days prior to "Paddy's Day", the Irish couldn't let the day pass without something special. Joe Gallagher planned, cooked and aerved a real "Denny Moore" dinner in his establishment. The dinner was served in style and not in pails as you see it in the funnies. Lloyd McDonough, Mike Cull, Burt McDonough, Bill Greene, Archie LaFreniere, Turner Boyle, Bud Burke, Jewell Gillespie and Walter McCauley attend and testify that Joe is a top notch Irish cook.

On March 24, BM/1 George Van Erkle will leave the Island to report to his new assignment, the Coast Guard Station at Harbor Beach. Van Erkle came to the Island 14 years ago and has been on the job here all through the year with the expection of four years spent off the Island during the war. "I really am attached to the Island and I hate to leave," said Van Erkle. Mrs. Van Erkle and the children will remain on the Island until after school closes.

Sunday at noon, Beaver trapping season opened.—Lloyd McDonough and his boys drove down to the head of the Island to set traps.

Sunday afternoon, the members of the Third Order of Saint Francis met after lenten devotions for their monthly meeting.

Mrs. Leo McGinnes Funeral Held Friday

Mrs. Leo McGinnes, 62, died at Traverse City Tuesday, March 15 after 11 years of illness. The body was flown to the Island Wednesday and burial was Friday at Holy Cross Church, Father Giles officiating.

She is survived by her husband, one daughter, Mrs. Charles Martin, a sister, Mrs. Willie O'Donnell and six grandchildren, all of Beaver Island; two brothers James and Martin Burns, of Detroit.

Mrs. McGinnis was born on the Island and spent most of her life here.

Church Services Feature Yolenda Brothers Quartet

The Yolenda brothers, quartet from Clio will be at the Assembly of God church next Sunday for all services.

These brothers were in Charlevoix last year and sang before other organizations while here, including a meeting of the SPEBSQSA.

"Mrs. Murphy's Chowder" Big Hit On Island

Playing to a packed house, Spalding's theatrical troupe presented a full evening's entertainment Tuesday in the Parish Hall.

With the orchestra playing "The Wearing of the Green", the curtain rose for "Mrs. Murphy's Chowder" a one act play based on the song "Who Threw the Overalls In Mrs. Murphy's Chowder. The cast included:

Mrs. Nora Murphy, Mrs. Fred Spalding; Nellie Driscol, Mrs. Rolland McCann; Barney Murphy, Lloyd McDonough; Bridget Murphy, Mary Malloy; Dennis Trask, Walter McCauley; Mrs. Isaac Cohen, Mrs. Margaret Hanley; Erin Murphy, Patricia Ramsey; Helen Pearson, Mrs. James W. Gallagher.

The entire play smacked of Irish wit and good humor with a little Irish temper thrown in.

Following the play, an old fashioned song "When I Wore My Daddy's Brown Derby and You Wore Your Mother's Blue Gown" was sung by Mrs. Teddy Wojan and Johnny Andy Gallagher. The years turn back and out stepped little Colleen Nackerman and Alvin LeFraniere to sing and enact the same song. These two youngsters will be long remembered for their fine performance.

From far away places came doncers of different nations who thrilled the audience with their dance interpretations.

As a grand finale, the entire cast appeared on the stage and with the audience, sang one Irish song after onother.

Announcing all the acts were little Kathleen Gatliff ond Sally Martin, dressed as Lepercons.

Mrs. Walter Wojan, Fred Spalding and Jewell Gillespie furnished the music for the entire performance.

Playlet Features Birthday Party At Beaver Island

Perhaps one of the most unusual birthday parties that has been held on Beaver Island was that of Jill Smith when her aunt and uncle, Dr. and Mrs. Russell Palmer gave a party in her honor recently.

It was a musical evening and a playlet was presented by Jill's friends and other children of the Island. The playlet was Peer Gynt Suite and the characters in it were: Peer Gynt, Rosmary Nackerman; Ase, Rosie McDonough; Ingrid, Grace Marie McCann; Mountain King, A. J. Gallagher; the Princess, Jill Smith; Imps, Sally Martin, Ann Hanley, Noreen Cross, Mary Elizabeth Gallagher and Kathleen Gatliff; Arab dancers, Eleanor Gallagher, Majory Martin, Ellen Nackerman, Solveig, Kay McDonough; Anitra's dance, Carolyn Miller.

Mrs. Joe Dillingham Gour ed By Cow

Mrs. Joe Dillingham was seriously injured Friday morning. She was rushed by plane to the Charlevoix Hospital upon recommendation by Dr. Palmer.

According to reports, Mr. Dillingham, who was to go sailing, was showing his wife how to feed the cattle. Mrs. Dillingham with a pail of feed was helping her husband and as she set the pail down in the stall one of their cows made a quick turn with her head and the long, sharp horn goured into her abdomen. She is reported as recovering nicely.

former Mrs. Trujillo and the present and only Mrs. Hurst are aisters. Said he:

"I've known the old man since way back when he and I were Morines. He's given this country the best government it's ever had and he's done things no other man could do. Personally I've no reason to love him. But in fairhess, I've got to admit he's out to serve his country and not to feather his own nest."

The general opinion of men and officers of the Taconic, as far as I could gather, was that Trujillo City was the best place we've visited so far. I know I enjoyed everything from a ride on a rubberneck bus out to the race track, to an evening spent at the Jaragua.

That's a new hotel facing the ocean. I was the guest of two Latin couples. One wife was French-Spanish; her husband was Italian a couple of generations back. And the other wife was from Chicago. They taught me to maringue. It's the local dance. To do it you get a stiff knee on the starboard and a bad list to port, then limp sideways.

Oh yes, we saw the tomb of Columbus.

Kingston, B.W.I.

Just for a starter, how'd you like some authentic gold of the Spanish Main, maybe pirate's—a genuine Thieves Town and forgotten caves in a shunned range of hills where lie the bodies of old Spanish grandees and English gentlemen in brass studded mahogany coffins?

This place has color. Once it was known as the wickedest and richest city in the world. Today, o lady who lives here tells me it still isn't safe for a white mon to go alone at night; they should always be in groups of five, ahd at least one armed with a club. Yet back in the hills and on the farms, she goes along with never a thought.

I'm up on deck now writng this. The sun is just coming up over the dry and gullied hills back of me. A wooden dogout with three mahogany colored men is pulling across the harbor. And off to the left is the red buoy which tradition says is moored directly above the tower of the old English cathedral. It is a fact that Port Royal, headquarters of the thieves, pirates, English, wealth and sin of the Caribbean, slipped under the water of the beautiful harbor back in 1692 during an earthquake: The natives still believe the old bells, now buried in solid coral or mud, ring during danger or storm.

Just pulling into the harbor now is the "New Amsterdam" with its 600 cruise passengers. One and two hundred years ago this was no place to come except from necessity. Over beyond old Port Royal's site are the roofless wells of Fort Auguata. In the days of the yellow fever, whole garrisons stationed there have been wiped out, only a handful surviving.

Tradition doesn't say what was done with the bodies. Perhaps buried . . . if onyone dared the pestilence . . . in mass graves. Maybe just taken out and given to the sharks in the harbor. The sharks, and this isn't tradition, are still there. We're going sailing during the next few days. We were offered a boat for ourselves. I suggested the owner go along and keep us afloat. The rest of the sail fans in the party laughed at me, until they heard about the sharks.

Over behind Fort Augusta is a low dim range. The name oddly is the Healthshire Hills. What follows was told me as truth; folks who have lived here for years say they never heard of it before, so great is the native superstition ahout the place.

Pitting the hills are dry, deep limestone caves. In some of those caves are mahogany coffins, hand made of heavy and enduring heartwood. And within those coffins are the bones and dust of one-time great men and women of the Spanish and early English days. Sort of like the great chiefs of the old Hawaiians or the mummies in Egypt's Valley of the Kings. The dry caves have preserved both coffins and occupants. Native terror of the place has kept away all vandals. At that, I can think of far sorrier burials for the cruel, daring men and women who planned the building of a truly new world.

Speaking of coffins. Today a wood shop on the town's leading thoroughfare still makes them. They are of aolid mahogany boards, not hand hewn planks, and atand there ready for the purchaser. They are the old, form fitting style with a wide section for the shoulders. If I were Chinese I'd be tempted to buy one. They're good pieces of cabinet making.

Today's Jamaica is a stirred up place. In place of the cleanliness of Trujillo's Santo Domingo, there is a laxness and unpleasant air in Kingston. Just outside the city limits is a veritable Thieves Town, whose inhabitants sweep into the city whenever a new ship and victim pulls in.

Pickpoctets insolently bump into you as you walk down the street. Panhandlers pull their acts in front of the white jacketed constables. Small boys, post card sellers, would be guides and other less savory solicitors clutch at coat sleeves and refuse to he shaken. (I'm finding my old Italian method still works well—a black look and a sincere "Go to hell.")

Small farmers are often ruined for the season by a wave of predawn thievery of crops ready to market. The police know who does much of the work, hut nothing is done unless the farmers themselves band together as vigilantes. A plant owner has to fight off hoodlums who would beat up an employee who blocked their thieving. He uses a revolver like a black jack, and the officer aays for him to go ahead; he's doing all right.

Yet all this unpleasantness is only one small aspect of Jamaica, I'm told. The riff raff has come to Kingston in concentration. Away from the city, the people are as fine as anyone could wish. They are honest, willing to work, self-respecting and disgusted with the thieves ond troublers.

Politics is behind much of the trouble. Leaders who are seeking power keep things stirred up (not too different from our Huey Longs and Bilbos and leftist labor leaders.) Out of the resulting mess, they hope to get more power, maybe control the island. There's a lot more to the story but that is one big explanation.

This afternoon Hugh Farrington of North Dakota and I are going out with Rev. Charles Struthers, missionary from Charlevoix. He called the ship yesterday and happened to get in touch with one of our officers. We've made a date for this afternoon. He'll tell us more about the situation.

Tomorrow we're going out deep sea fishing with the owner of the big bakery here. In between there may be an audience with the governor and a sail on the Caribbean. Who said this was to be an easy going pleasure cruise?

Shop at Home

Not so long ago, there was a Charlevoix County man who wrote his name on a dollar bill. He then went to a local store and spent it. Several days later he received this same dollar bill from a housewife in payment for his services. He again spent the dollar locally and within two weeks it was back in his wallet, this time as change for a larger bill.

Then our friend broke the chain. He went to a neighboring city, made a purchase and paid for it with his traveling dollar. That's been several months ago, and he hasn't seen it since.

The moral of this story — Spend your money at home and the chances are very good that it'll come back home to you. The more money that can be kept circulating right here in our own community definitely adds up to more prosperity for all of us. Think it over!

Continuous Blooming Garden Is Subject at Club Meet

Mrs. Harley Ochs gave the lesson of the March meeting of the Charlevoix Garden Club held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Ranger.

With the topic of "Continuous Bloom for the Garden" Mrs. Ochs spoke on design and construction of the garden. Beginning with flowering shrubs, she combined it with perennials and annuals so that one's yard and garden could be a source of summertime pleasure. She concluded her talk with a story of how one's flowers always bloom more abundantly in the neighbor's garden, a humorous sketch.

The next meeting will be April 5 at the home of Mrs. Karl Erber and will be in charge of Mrs. Anna Campbell, who will give a talk on Florida, highlighted with colored still pictures she took while there.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Forbes expect to leave Monday to go to Huvelton, N. Y., to visit Mrs. Forbes father, Charles Greeley. They will arrive in time to help him celebrate his birthday. Gloxinia at Gebeau's Beginning Bloom Stage

Flower lovers, who have long awaited the blooming of a gloxinia plant in the Harry Gebeau grocery window will be interested in knowing the plant with its 33 buds now has started blossoming.

The unusual plant belongs to the violet family and has beautiful furry green leaves. The blossom is a long bell-shaped flower. While the gloxinia has many colored blooms, Mrs. Gebeau's happens to have a purple flower. The outside of the bud is white and then as the flower unfolds it turns a pale orchid. The throat of the flower is a deep purple. Three to five inches long, the flower will measure almost as much across when its broad tubular, flaring petals reach full maturity.

By next Monday most of the 33 buds should be in bloom.

style, they bring out the hot dish on crockery dishes owned by the school. Before anyone starts to eat, all bow and a short grace is asked by two or three chosen for the honor.

On a board at the side of the room are pinned the best papers turned in that week. A record is kept and at the end of the year, those pupils who had the most papers up there are rewarded. The same is done for attendance. All this takes place at the party each spring which marks the close of school.

Several changes have been made in the school itself. Like all those with two room buildings, the extra room is a basketball court. (Some ingenious individual rigged up calf muzzles as guards on the ceiling lights.)

Ironton is the only rural school in the four counties to have a panic lock on the door. Fire drills are held regularly. The seats are the movable and adustable type. Last year a drinking fountain was put in and this year flush toilets installed in two inside rooms.

Schools, Highways Are Threatened In State

The Tow Line

News of folks, your neighbors and mine . . .but did you know that—

A note from Fredrika S. Smith, one of our summer residents on the Chicago Club, tells us that she has been a shut-in for the past three months at her Lake Forest, Ill., home. Mrs. Smith improved those stay-in-bed hours by polishing up her latest book of poems and outlining a plot for a novel. Christopher House is bringing out "The Magic City and Other Poems" in May. Like her earlier books for children, this one is dedicated "To My Children's Children and Children Everywhere." The title verses represent a child's view of Rockefeller Center. The new novel will have modern Chicago as its setting.

Joy Van Zant is now at Camp Lee, Virginia, where she went last week to join the WACS. Enroute, Joy visited Washington, D. C. Her address now is WA8500803, Co. "C", 1st Battalion, WAC Training Center, Camp Lee, Virginia . . . Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bird were in Lansing Thursday and Friday. They were called to testify in the Greyhound bus hearing. They went on to Adrian and Dundee to see their sons and their families, John Schroeder and Harley Ochs were also at the Greyhound hearing.

Bernie Zeitler arrived Friday night from Panama City Air Base on a 'delay enroute' furlough. He visited his father in Detroit for two days and then came to Charlevoix accompanied by his mother, Mrs. John Zeitler and Michael Gallagher, who have been in Detroit for several weeks. Mrs. Zeitler arrived home in time to see her new kitchen, which has been undergoing repairs during her absence Bernie leaves April 12 for San Francisco. From there he goes to Alaska where he will be stationed for the next two years . . .

Guy Smith, who has been in the hospital during the past week is now at home. Our sincere sympathy goes to the Smith family in the sudden loss of Mr. Smith Sr. . . . Robins are here en masse this week and everyone is seeing them nowadays.

IF you do not do another thing for your country this year at least GO TO THE POLLS ON MONDAY, April 4 and vote. In Charlevoix County there is a real issue at stake and your "Yes" is needed concerning the sinking fund resolution for the court house. Sit down and read carefully the stories and ad in this week's Courier concerning all

Smelt Run Is Starting In Area

Dipping Hours Are Approved By Department

Confirmation was received last week from the State Conservation Department concerning regulation of smelt dipping hours in Charlevoix County, which reads:

"Under authority of act 165 P. A. 1929, Chapter 2, Sec. One, Sub. Section C, I, P. J. Hoffmaster, Director of Michigan Department of Conservation do hereby revoke the designations issued October 14, 1948, pertaining to waters of Charlevoix County and do hereby designate the following streams as open to use of hand nets not to exceed five foot in circumfrence with or without handle when declared open to dipping between the dates of March 31 to May 31.

Streams in the county are open for 30 minute dipping periods at two hour intervals during the night. Dipping will begin at odd hours on one group of streams and on even hours for another group.

Inwood creek and Boyne River dipping hours begin at 8 p. m., 11 p. m., 3 a. m. and 5 a. m.

Horton, McGeagh, Porter, Stover, Vance creeks dipping hours begin at 10 p. m., 12 p. m., 2 a. m. and 4 a. m.

Dipping in the Jordan river is permitted continuously from 8:30 until daylight.

South Arm Creek and all other non-trout streams in the county are not under regulations.

The 55-mile Smelt Derby has been given considerable publicity throughout the middle west and has great possibilities of being on early spring attraction several weeks before the early summer season begins.

The local Sportsman's Clubs in each town in the county is handling the arrangements for everything in their section. Cooperation of everyone is needed to make this a success.

Old Age Taking Its Toll on County Court House

The 80 year old Charlevoix County Court House now finds itself in the limelight. On Monday, April 4, voters will go to the polls to determine whether or not a sinking fund will be established which will mean a new court house in ten years to replace the condemned one.

Farm-Merchant Annual Banquet

The hopes of democracy lies in the hands of small businesses, which includes farming, Jack Yaeger, executive secretary of the Michigan State Farm Bureau, told the merchants and farmers at their annual banquet in the Methodist church parlors Monday evening. Quoting freely from statistics and pointing his remarks with appropriate stories, he stressed the importance of agriculture to the economy of the nation.

Agriculture is the third largest business in the United States, he said, and represents a larger investment than all of the other industries. Forty percent of our population live on farms or in rural areas and 19 percent depend on agriculture for a living.

The speaker expressed deep concern over the future of democracy unless a sincere effort is made to make democracy work. Democracy can only be made to work, he says, when there is a sound economy for agriculture.

More than 100 farmers were guests of the merchants at the banquet sponsored by the Kiwanis Club. Following a dinner served by the ladies of the Methodist church, Clarence Meggison, Kiwanis president welcomed the guests. Clarence Odmark led the group in a few lively songs and Arlo Wickersham introduced the speaker.

Awards Presented At Boy Scout Court of Honor

A Boy Scout Court of Honor was held Friday evening in the Community Hall, with Frank Oleksy, Uno Suomela, Arthur Ranger, Herb Campbell and Rev. G. B. Howell making up the Scout Board. Uno Suomela was in charge and presented the scout master's award to Rev. Howell.

The largest group of boys ever to get second class awards in Charlevoix were presented before the Court. They were Jerry Paul, Raymond Sanford, Bob McDermott, Dean Davenport, Joe McDermott, Jack Niswander, Duane Welker, Carl Foster, Billy Golden, Billie Mosier, David Glassford, Roger Pischner, Larry Burns, Richard Bryan and Bob Richards.

Two boys also were given first class awards, Gordon Mol and Dudley Towe. A mechanical drawing award was given Tom Bleha.

Basketball Banquet Monday Night

The annual Basketball banquet given in honor of the Cherlevoix high school team and its coach, Ray Kipke, will be given Monday night at the Knights of Pythias Hall at 6:30 p. m.

This testimoniel dinner is given alternate years by the Knights of Pythias and the Mesons.

Band Uniform Fund is Growing

The band uniform fund is growing!

Clarence Odmark, director, announced Monday that $276.78 had been received from the following donors: American Legion, $25; Anonymous Woman, 25; American Legion Auxiliary, $5; Jud Moore, $5; Detroit friend, $2; concert proceeds, $214.78.

With two benefit parties this week, one by the Congregators and another one Friday night by the Band Parents organization, many more dollars should be realized.

Coming Events

March 31—St. Mary's Rosary Altar Society will meet at school hall at 8 p. m. Mrs. Arthur Heilig, Mrs. Scheid and Mrs. Arthur Stack will be hostesses.

Interest Hits High Pitch on County Sinking Fund Issue

Welfare Aid Not Affected By Proposal

Outcome of the proposed County Building Sinking Fund resolution to be voted on at the April 4 election will have no effect on the percentage of the welfare expense paid by the State, according to Roy Gregory, Social Welfare Director for this district.

With decreese in the welfare load in recent yeers, the State has edopted a policy of splitting costs with counties on a 50-50 basis. There erc, however, 18 exceptions to the policy, it is pointed out by the director. These 18 counties have an excessive welfare load and a low assessed valuation. The State hes been given ample evidence in these ceses and made allowances in eccordance with the county's ebility to pay. The other 65 counties in the state, including Charlevoix, are receiving 50 percent of their welfere from the State.

Any change in the percent of stete aid received by Charlevoix county would be based on the essessed valuation and the welfere burden that existed, says the director. The present surplus in the county general fund will not lead to e decrease in the amount of state welfare aid the county will receive, he claims.

Voters will receive four ballots when they go to the polls Monday. The state officers to be elected are of vital importapce to the future of state government. From a county standpoint the sinking fund proposal warrants a heavy vote.

Seven state officers are to be elected: two regents of the University, Superintendent of Public Instruction, one member of the state board of education, two members to the state board of agriculture and a state highway commissioner.

There appears to be a strong campaign directed from Wayne County to get control of these offices, especially the state highway department and the educational department. Should the minority group waging this fight be successful the outstate counties may easily find themselves in a most uncomfortable position. Past record of the incumbents warrant serious consideration when marking a ballot.

Two justices of the supreme court are to be elected. There are five candidates on the ticket.

Interest in the county sinking fund proposal has gained momentum the last two weeks. Apparent attempts to confuse this issue have been made by reference to other issues which have no bearing on the question to be decided. The proposal, in simple terms, permits the county to save part of its present revenue for the purpose of building a county court house at some future time.

There is no apparent race for the township officers to be elected.

Editor, Charlevoix Courier,
Charlevoix, Mich.

Dear Sir:

Some criticism is being leveled at the Board of Supervisors for saving many thousands of dollars of the county income and still staying within the 15 mill tax limitation. Of course, there are always a few who think it a crime to save money. In hard times you will find them at the end of the bread line yelling like robins in a nest.

The Board of Supervisors by means of the Sinking Fund proposal on the April 4th ballot proposes that you set this money aside toward a new court house, and at no additional tax burden. The Board may be crazy, but nevertheless they want you to vote to set this money aside, at interest, against the day a new court house will be built.

A new building will have to be built somedny, and the money on hand should be set aside for that purpose. Even a moron should know that.

The place to build the court house can be determined when there is money with which to build it. And the county seat can then be changed provided there are enough people who want to place it 15 or 20 miles from the county jail. There are a few of that kind everywhere, but fortunately there are not many.

The Board of Supervisors have been good managers; they have saved money and asked your approval of their action.

If you approve of saving money, and would like to have more saved without additional taxes, you will vote "YES" on the County Sinking Fund Proposal, and if you think it foolish to save the tax payers money for a specific purpose, you will vote "NO" on the proposal. Let's use good judgement and vote "YES" on this to save ourselves money.

WILLIAM A. SHEPARD,
East Jordan, Mich.

A Supervisor Speaks

To the Editors of the Charlevoix Courier, The Boyne Citizen and The Charlevoix County Herald:

Dear Mr. Editor:

On April 4, 1949, the taxpayers of Charlevoix County will have an opportunity to approve a proposal to set up a sinking fund, at interest, for the purpose of building a new court house, and which can now be done without any increase in taxes largely because of a surplus on hand.

Because of the fact that the present antiquated building is condemned and there is an ever-present danger to the very valuable and irreplaceable records therein, and which, if destroyed, would mean tens of thousands of dollars loss to the public, it is THE DUTY OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS to present this proposal to the taxpayers for approval, and will CONTINUE TO BE ITS DUTY to present such issue at frequent intervals until funds are made available. A new court house must be provided for and it cannot be built ANYWHERE, ANYTIME, without money, and it doesn't take any "mastermind" to know that.

This proposal has nothing whatever to do with where such court house shall be located. Under the proposal it will probably be 10 years before there will be enough funds accumulated to begin the building.

When there are enough funds to start a building, then that is the time to start worrying about its location. But, instead of that a few people argue that its location should be changed now. Such argument is simply a "dog-in-the-manger" proposition that "if we can't have it, no one else ever will." If there was a vote at this time to change the location of the court house, and if it carried, the location would then have to be changed as soon as it could be brought about. Then there would be no court house at all at such new location, and could not be for some years until money was provided to build one.

Let us all endeavor to make provision for the building of a new court house. It is a MUST. When there is money accumulated to build it, or to start to build it, then if there is enough interest in same, the matter of its location can be taken up by the Board of Supervisors. LET US DO FIRST THINGS FIRST and not try to confuse the taxpayers with a lot of side-issues that have nothing to do with the present proposal.

Surely the people of Charlevoix County still have a little pride and common sense. Boards of Supervisors which are provident enough to accumulate a surplus should be commended, not criticized.

C. B. MEGGISON,
Chairman of the Building and Grounds Committee.

Vote YES Monday

Monday the citizens of Charlevoix County will have an opportunity to decide an important question in a business-like way.

The County Sinking Fund Proposal, which will appear on one of the ballots, provides that $22,000 be set aside annually for the next three years (and $11,000 annually after that) as an allocated fund to be used for a new Court House when the time is right for building.

Such a plan is common horse sense. It should have been done several years ago. It will save money for everyone in the long run. It could save the county some very costly financing in the event of a sudden destructive fire. It is preparing for something which will have to be done sooner or later.

Best of all, it does not add one cent to the taxes we now pay, nor does the money even come from taxes but from service charges and fees collected by county officials.

So, next Monday do two things:

1. Go to the polls. (For those opposed to the plan will be out in force on that day, you may be sure.)

2. Vote YES on the Sinking Fund Proposal.

Congregational Guild to Hear Guest Speaker

Mrs. Richard Chapman of Bellaire will be the guest speaker at the April Congregational Guild meeting on Wednesday the 6th at the home of Mrs. Hubert Paddock. She will give an illustrated talk on "Biblical Art."

This promises to be a most interesting meeting and all members of the Guild and Circles of the church are asked to be present and bring a guest.

Four Attend Girl Scout State Meet

The Girl Scout State Conference was held at the Pantlind Hotel in Grand Rapids on Monday and Tuesday. Attending from Charlevoix were Mrs. Charles Bleim, president of the Girl Scout Council, and Mrs. Hubert Paddock, who attended the program planning and training sessions and Mrs. Robert Kelley and Miss Betty Strehl who attended the camp institute.

• Donna Rose of Ann Arbor spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Rose.

This Building, Mr. Citizen can cost you a lot of money.

It is the present Court House

- It is 75 years old.
- It has been condemned as unsafe by the State.
- It would cost more to fix up than it is worth.
- It presents a positive danger to your investment in Charlevoix County.

Stored in its rickety vaults are:

The records establishing your title to your property.
The records and will of any estate you may be connected with.
The birth, marriage and death records of your family.
The records showing you have paid your taxes.

There is no other place to keep these records. A fire could destroy every one easily. The resulting trouble over title to your home or farm, or your share of an estate could easily mean hundreds of dollars loss to you.

For your protection, a new and safe County Building is needed. As a first step towards getting it, there will appear on the April 4 ballot a

County Sinking Fund Proposal

This will set aside $22,000 annually for three years and $11,000 after that as a fund for a new County Building at some time in the future.

It means NO new or added taxes.

It means real savings in interest charges.

It means lower costs when the time comes to build.

For all these reasons . . .

Kingston, B. W. I.

Vicky Ellis is right when she says that the tourist who stays in Kingston or goes only to the swank hotels and night spots never gets even a glimpse of the real Jamaica.

Vicky knows what she's talking about. A native Jamaican, she is the tutor of Rev. and Mrs. Charles Struthers' two handsome sons, John and Frederic. She made the remark yesterday as the Struthers family, Vicky and I were riding across Jamaica's mountain roads after a day's jaunt to the north side of this crumpled island.

The outing was the high spot of my five days here. A total stranger, Charles Struthers came for me, drove me out to the great Hope Botanical Gardens and then to the school and his home. There we had a Jacaican lunch, after the boys had shown me all over the grounds.

Then we six started out in the Chevrolet. Out to old Spanish town and the English Cathedral there where the floor is made up of slate and marble gravestones and the walls covered with memorial markers. Jamaica's level cane lands are like Puerto Rico's. But her mountains are more tangled.

The story is told that Columbus to describe this island at the Court of Isabella in Spain, crumpled up a piece of paper and threw it on the table. Unless you've ridden through one of the narrow western canyons in the U. S., with a tumbling stream beside the road, you cannot imagine what Bog Walk is like. That name shows what the Britton can do. The Spaniards called the gorge Boca de Agua, or water's mouth. The Englishman simply made it Bog Walk.

On the far side of some 4000 foot mountains, we came to a high rolling plateau. To me it typified this island. On knolls here and there were fading old stone houses which once patiently had been estates. Running everywhere were six foot high walls of painstakingly laid limestone blocks. Did you ever try to dig, haul and then lay a wall of rough limestone chunks, a wall so solid it will stand half a dozen earthquakes and 200 years? The labor represented by those stone fences appalled me.

Once those fields were covered with cane. Oxen plowed the land, black men and women planted, tended, harvested and processed it. They hauled it on clumsy ox wagons over tortuous mountain roads down to salt water. They got their food, a place to live and they proprogated their race. The white man profited.

For 200 years that was the story. The Negro was brought here with his African superstitions intact. He was held in a system which encouraged him to do as little productive labor as he possibly could. He never had to look out for himself or the future.

Today for his own good he should be exactly the opposite. He's being asked to govern himself—and he's gullible and completely emotional. He lives a hand to mouth oxistence. He's wasteful. An old hand here says that Jamaican labor is the most costly in the world judge by results. (I'll still put my bet on the Virgin Islander for that dishonor.) The island cannot produce enough to feed him and his too numerous progeny. For the land is exhausted in most of those old fields. The once rich families are back in England or have died out. Just the solid fences remain.

Mile after mile we wound across these once rich lands on a road worn three feet deep into the red clay soil. Then we came to Fern Gully. Imagine a rock defile, 300 and 400 feet deep and so narrow it is twilight at the bottom. Fill it so full with ferns, tropical trees and plants that the twilight becomes a green haze. Cool the air at least 20 degrees from that of the plateau. Then at the bottom put a narrow, twisting road about 1500 feet in one steady grade until it comes out on opalescent Ocho Rios Bay.

That is Fern Gully. Afterwards we visited Shaw House, a modern hotel built around a 1760 residence. It is perched on a high bluff overlooking the bay. And we whirled by Tower Island Hotel, which simply is another glossy resort hotel complete with bar and bored women.

We came back by way of the Devil's Race Course, which is merely a mountain road which snakes around on ridges and hangs on cliffs. It also is narrow. All along were the little homes of the people.

They themselves always were courteous, willing to help with road information. Also along the road were the rock women. Jamaica uses broken limestone and tar to surface her roads. She doesn't use a rock crusher. She just hires women to sit beside the road and with a short handled hammer make big rocks into little ones. There they sit, with their scratched, scrawny legs outstretched, whacking away in the sun at stones.

On the way back we fell to talking of the Jamacian. I, at least, reached the conclusion that two things would go far toward solving the basic problems of the islands—movies and a recreational program.

Jamaica already has too many of the typical American and horse opera movies. They think we're a bunch of rich suckers and charge accordingly. What this country needs is a 16 mm. machine (and the current to run it) in everyone of its thousand or so little communities. Then every night there should be a picture like Disney's bacteria film. They have no idea what causes disease (76 percent have venereal infection.) Schools cannot do the needed job fast enough. Education is hidebound with the college preparatory idea.

Educational movies, which can reach the great illiterate majority, look like the answer.

The recreational program is to provide something to fill in the evenings. As it is, there are no clubs, no social facilities. Homes are too small for entertaining for the young folks as we know it.

Zion Lutherans Break Ground for New Church Here

Ground was broken for the new Bethany Lutheran church at a special ground-breaking ceremony on the south Bridge Street building site at 0:30 Tuesday evening. Rev. Harold F. Kraeh, pastor of the Zion Lutheran church of Petoskey as well as the local church, turned the first spade of earth as members of his congregation stood by. Work on the new building was started Wednesday morning.

The new edifice will be of log or frame structure and when completed will seat 200 people in the nave, have a pastor's study, rooms for meetings and kitchen facilities. The estimated cost will be $20,000 which does not include contributed labor and materials. Completion date has been set for mid-June.

The property where the building will be built is located next to the Kit Carson Lumber Co. and was purchased last year.

Rev. Kraeh, who came to Petoskey in December, 1946, organized the Bethany Lutheran congregation a short time later.

William J. Higman Dies Following Brief Illness

William J. Higman, 72, local carpenter, died at the Charlevoix Hospital early Tuesday morning after a brief illness. Funeral services will be held at the See Funeral Home at 2 p. m. Thursday with Rev. Jackson Turner officiating. Burial will be in Brookside cemetery.

Mr. Higman was born in Bluffton, Ind., on Sept. 12, 1876. He was married to Katherine Hoskinson at Bluffton on July 26, 1905, and they came to Charlevoix in May, 1908. She preceded him in death on Aug. 22, 1913. On Aug. 27, 1919, he married Mildred Volker who died on April 1, 1940.

He was a carpenter by trade and for the last few years had been with the Charlevoix Lumber company. He had served one term as third ward alderman. When the L. O. O. M. was active in Charlevoix he was a member and served as dictator of the lodge. He had also been a member of the I. O. O. F.

He is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Robert Gerrie of Boyne City, Mrs. Alfred A. Gill, Jr., of Ironton, Bonita, of Petoskey, and Anne of Charlevoix; one son, George of Frankfort; eight grandchildren and two brothers, John of Bluffton, Ind., and Edward of Indianapolis, Ind.

Ground Broken for New Church In Sunday Ceremony

Rev. R. B. Warner, pastor of the Assembly of God church, broke ground for the new church to be built at 205 East Upright ave., at 10:50 Sunday morning. A special ceremony, attended by the congregation, marked the groundbreaking.

The new church will be a 40 by 60 foot structure of cinder or concrete block with brick veneer. Sunday school rooms will be in the basement and the church auditorium on the ground floor. It will cost an estimated $10,000 which does not include donated labor and materials.

Rev. Warner is chairman of the building committee assisted by the members of the church committee: P. H. Hittenberger, Clarence Way and M. E. Wakefield.

After the outdoor ceremony on Suoday the congregation returned to the church for a special service during the church hour. Featured in the service were the Kolenda quartette of Clio, who sang several selections. The quartette, composed of the Kolenda brothers, Louis, Arnold, Ernie and John, have appeared in Charlevoix before.

Den 1 under the direction of den mother, Mrs. Glenn See, gave a skit "Mexican Bandit"; Den 2, Mrs. Ralph Hamilton, Harmonica Wizards; Den 3, Mrs. Ellsworth Besemer, Cub Cheers; Den 4, Mrs. Lawrence Swanson, Pigmy Lion Hunt; Den 6, Mrs. Kit Carson, Magicians.

Colonel Bohn of Petoskey was chairman and "Pop" Warner of Traverse City the principal speaker. The purpose of the meeting was to give instruction and information to Scout leaders for their patrols.

IT HAPPENED ON . . . . BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

Island trappers spent a busy week luring beavers into their traps. The season did not look too promising due to the frozen streams, but thawing weather towards the end of the week brought profitable results.

Chuck Kleinheintz has the score so far. He brought home four beavers Friday night. Buddy and Bruce McDonough have two to their credit. The season has another week to run.

Beside the bounty collected for the pelts, the successful trappers will have a fine feast of roast beaver. They say the meat is delicious.

Ed Youngs was on the Island for a few days. He has returned to the Canadian Soo where he has been lumbering this winter.

Glenn See, Charlevoix, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Archie LaFreniere, Jr., recently. Glenn has a soft spot in his heart for the Island. It was here he met the Missus.

Vernon LaFreniere returned from Chicago Wednesday with a valuable prize won at the Beaver Island party. The prize, an oil painting of the sail boat, Royons II, painted by a former Island boy, Allie McDonough, is on display in the Shamrock. Allie, who lives in Chicago, has great talent as this painting proves.

Bert McDonough was also a lucky winner—his prize is an automatic electric toaster.

The La Fond, anchored near LaFreniere's dock and held fast during the winter months by ice was cut out and afloat in open water Friday. With the assistance of John Dubiel and his motor driven saw, a path was cut through the ice. Cutting the path took the better part of two days. Saturday, the Cull boys set three gangs of nets—4 boxes to the gang—16 nets to a box.

It was not difficult for Rolland McCann to start out Saturday to set nets. His boat was anchored at the point and free from ice.

Ice fishing is at the end of the rope. Friday's stiff blow sent a bunch of shanties on their backs. Archie LaFreniere's shanty not only blew over, but caught fire from hot coals. Most of the fishermen removed their shanties before the end of the day.

Parts for the high school play, "Sunbonnet Jane of Sycamore Lane" have been assigned and rehearsals started.

If the old piles Raymond Lewis has been sawing up on the ice in the harbor could speak, they could tell plenty. They are the last remains of the old dock used during King Strang's time. It was on the bridge of this dock that Strang was shot.

Francis O'Donnell and James McCafferty left during the week to sail.

Barney Mooney returned to the Island Saturday. Barney spent the winter months in Iron Mountain.

The Beachcomber Tavern, closed for business since Jan. 1, has been a bee hive of busy people during the winter months. Sewing classes, under Martha Miller's direction, have been conducted in the Tavern. Instead of beverages being served up, skirts, blouses, slack suits and formals are being dished out by the high school girls. Sewing machines, cutting tables, boxes of thread and ribbons, fashion books, patterns have crowded out the appearance of a tavern. Owner James McCann not only gave the use of the building, but provided wood to keep the budding designers cozy and warm while working.

Bub Burke dropped a coyote Sunday afternoon in the woods back of Carl Keubler's home.

"Well, I never had such a shaking up since I broke in a wild horse to a saddle," said Old Timer after a ride over the foot deep muddy ruts on King's Highway Sunday. More than one car had to be pulled out of the mud going back and forth to church Sunday. Oh well, it's spring, so what's a little mud!

Coleman Speaker at Basketball Banquet

Stewart E. Coleman, Charlevoix track coach, was the guest speaker at the annual basketball banquet honoring the Boyne Falls players who won their first district championship under Coach Joe Arvilla this year. The Banquet was held at the Boyne Falls high school with ninety guests present. Superintendent of schools Carl Leach was toastmaster and presented letters to nine team members, the student manager and three cheerleaders. Capt. Bill Carson representing the team presented Coach Arvilla with a gift from the boys.

Ferry Operation Started Tuesday

Distinction of being the first person to buy a ride on the Ironton Ferry went to Floyd Supp, who bought number one hook of tickets. He lost out, however, on being the first pay passenger to ride the ferry. That honor went at 6 a. m. Tuesday when the official summer operating schedule started.

Taking advantage of the recent warm days, Skipper Bud Gill and his relief operator, Walter Jarvis broke a channel through the thinning ice Monday.

Rate of fares to be charged this year are: passenger cars, single fare 15 cents or a book of 20 tickets for $2.00; commercial vehicles, single fare 25 cents or a book of 10 tickets for $2.00.

Brian Saymour Has Party On Birthday

Increase Bean and Red Beet Acreage

Fieldmen for the Reid Murdoch Co., of Ellsworth have started their annual tour of the farming areas with instruction to increase the acreage of contract canning crops this year. Larger acreages of snap beans and red beets are especially desirable this year.

Other crops canned under the Monarch Foods label will be carrots and cherries. An effort will be made this year to operate the plant 24 hours a day during the beet canning season.

Farmers interested in raising contract crops may call the company office if they are not contacted by one of the fieldmen.

The company has on hand sufficient fertilizer to supply the needs of all contract growers. A four row planter and operator will be available for planting and also a tractor mounted four-row cultivator. It is expected that some help will be available for hand weeding.

A contract was recently signed with the Union representing the employees of the plant.

Summer Resident Has Many Interests Reid Murdoch Will

That Judge Robert S. Marx is held in high esteem is evidenced by an article in the Tryon, North Carolina Daily Bulletin which we quote:

"Judge Robert S. Marx has had a versatile career. He was a captain in the army of first World War in which he was wounded near Baalon, France. He has distinguished himself as Judge of Superior Court of Cincinnati, as the first national commander of the Disabled American Veterans, and a lawyer.

"His varied interests have taken him into many activities through which his life has been enriched. He is well read and has traveled extensively; an ardent cameraman, he has taken still and motion pictures of scenes visited. He is an author of numerous articles on auto accidents, insurance and taxation problems and other subjects. He is an entertaining and instructive speaker of note and has practiced before the Federal and United States Supreme Courts since 1927, representing poor and rich alike.

"He is an enthusiastic sportsman; a member of the Y. M. C. A. and has taken part in all forms of gymnastics, being an expert wrestler. He belongs to the Detroit Yacht Club and spends much of his summer vacation in Charlevoix and sailing the Lakes.

"Judge Marx bought the old Governor Perry summer home which was moved to its present location from Dark Corner where it was known as the Durham log house. Judge Marx is making a show place of his Tryon home with hundreds of flowers and shrubs. The spirit of hospitality which follows him wherever he goes fills the Tryon home, too. He treasures friendships and his loyalty to them draws friends to him from near and far."

Northern Counties Warned Against "Hopper" Outbreak

Preparedness, in the form of a little advance study in the methods of grasshopper control, may be of valuable benefit to residents of counties in northern Michigan this coming summer. Recent surveys by Michigan State College entomologists indicate there may be an outbreak of the pest this year.

Unfavorable weather during the hatching period, or parasites and disease may come to the rescue of the farmer. If these natural control factors fail, it will mean an all-out fight to control the pests, say the entomologists. Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent, Boyne City, will have information available concerning control of grasshoppers.

Early Illinois Timber

Earliest record of the lumber industry in Illinois refers to the decade 1830-39, when 15 million board feet of pine logs were rafted down the Mississippi river from Wisconsin to mills located in the northwestern river towns.

COPY OF RESOLUTION

WHEREAS the Court House of this County was constructed many years ago and has more than served its purpose, and WHEREAS said building is of such design and construction as to make it impracticable to attempt to remodel same, and WHEREAS said building has been repeatedly condemned by the Fire Marshall of this State as unsafe and a fire hazard, and there exists a very real danger of the valuable and important records of this county being destroyed by fire because of inadequate vaults and storage space and at a loss to the public of many thousands of dollars, and

Charlevoix Missionary In Jamaica Writes About Activities There

Of interest to Charlevoix persons are letters from Mrs. Florence Struthers, who with her husband, Charles Struthers, are Charlevoix missianaries to Half-Way Tree, Ja. The letters were brought by Mrs John Funk, mother of Mrs. Struthers, fram which we quote

"Dear Mamma:

You have been so faithful to write to us. We want you ta know how much every letter means. Brother Woods sermons sound good. It makes us happy to know how hard he is trying. We pray that the church will enjoy harmony and growth in every way. We have often appreciated his willingness to have the church support us. It could have been very much different, yau know.

"News! I have a baby girl. What is more she is a little black baby. Her name is Esther and John and Fred love her dearly. She isn't two yet but sings songs from begmning to end with the right words, and what is more astanishing, the right tune. Right now she is sitting on the floor here wrapping up her shoes. She loves them, but doesn't like to wear them. She can run on stones or anything barefoot but doesn't make any progress with shoes. Na, she isn't here for keeps. Her mather is going to have anather baby and we thought it would be fun to have Esther for 3 or 4 weeks.

"Thieves surely have been killing cows all around us so that we have been losing a lot of sleep to be sure they dan't butcher ours far us. They certainly came in full force when they came. We are certain they were here in a goodly number one Saturday night. We could hear whistling like signals plus plenty of commotion but when we rushed out we couldn't find them. It was 2 o'clock in the morning and same of our neighbors seemed to hear noises here too. We are at a disadvantage araund here with all af the apen fields sa far behind us.

"We have been noticing that a depression is threatening the states.. It isn't good news to us.

"LeRoy came into port Thursday and called to see if we would eat supper on the ship. We were treated royally. There was a waitrr just for us and he put us at the captain's table. We had the privilege of anything our hearts desired. Guess what was the most satisfying? We had a big dish of celery between us. I've been hungry for it far almost three years. Everything was delicious. We ended with American pears and they really melted in our mouths. He went to church with us and then dashed up afterwards to hring the boys each a clown puppet and a jar of chop suey."

In addition to the letters there were several testimonial letters from students of Rev. and Mrs. Struthers, new graduates of the Jamaica Bible Institute. Each student tells of the inspiration and work the Struthers are doing in the Island, and how their understanding manner has helped the students over many a difficult situation.

The result is that motherhood usually comes about 10 or earlier and 80 percent of the population is born out of wedlock and with uncertain parentage.

That is the type of problem which folks like Charlevoix's own Struthers are facing. They have more courage and stamina than most of us. Mr. Struthers off handedly remarked that they all had malaria, but that right now none happened to have an attack. They boil every drop of water they drink. Living costs are out of all reason. Britain's ban on U. S. imports is one major factor. Everyone with whom I have talked is pro-U. S.

The public schools are so elementary and crowded they have to have a private tutor for the boys. But the Struthers are doing a REAL WORK and they are taking a lot of satisfaction in it. The pupils in their school show an alertness and attitude which will help make Jamaica a better place 20 years fram now.

U. S. S, Tacanic,
Quantanamo Bay

Two more days and we head for home country.

This Quantanamn, from all reports, is pretty much Yankee Land in a warm setting, a big naval and air base run U. S. style. So for all practical purpases, we're through with the sightseeing part of the cruise.

However, that last day in Kingston was pretty eventful. At 11 a. m. we had a conference with the British Governor-General out at King's House, his home. The palitical situation is so ticklish in the Island we stayad away from Jamaican politics and talked about the weather, farming, timber, scenery, education and the growing population. For all but the last, the governor could see progress. On population, there's altogether too much.

It's the same old story everywhere down here. These peoples, during hundreds and thousands of years, developed a high birth rate capacity in order to keep up with the terrible infant and adult death rate. We Caucasians with our health services come along. Tho births keep up and the deaths drop down. Some day there'll be an explosion. It may be a plague. War, famine and pestilenre are most likely. Then nature's old balance will be back.

Then the Admiral threw a luncheon party on the Taconic for about 125 navy officers and guests.

It marks the resumption of an old navy custom and it pays off. The younger navy officers make contacts with foreign officers and officials that will be valuable in the future.

Our original schedule has been changed in that we do nat go to Havana because of the recent Navy-Citizen flare-up there. From what we can learn aboard there is a little more to it than appeared in "Time".

U. S. S. Taconic

Probably my last letter.

For a steady diet, I'll take Michigan or Northern Califarnia or Chesapeake Bay or Maine.

But not the Caribbean.

Of course, I'm prejudiced in my eating.

Down here the meat would just suit the individual who likes his game high. It has plenty of flavor to put it mildly. Speaking af meat, Kingston has to guard against bootleg beef. Cops stop cars and trucks at the city limits. Out in the hills, steaks can be bought in the rhunk far 8 cents. In the city the price starts at 20 or 25. The butchers have same sort of hog-tie on the market and aren't letting go of it.

It seems to all five of us publishers that the hotels in the Caribbean may be missing a good bet. First of all, for the taurist there seem to be just twa kinds of eating places. These where he can eat safely and the other kind. In the latter, he may passibly get free of charge such little extras as amoebic dysentery.

The former include such places as the Magic Lamp and 1829 at Charlotte Amalie, the Jaragua at Trujillo, the Myrtle Bank at Kingston. In all you get the same sort of food yau'd see an a menu in Maimi, St. Pete, Mabile or Galveston. Most of us down here would like to have the native dishes, find out what falks here can enjoy that we cannot. But no, we get beef, roast park and the same old familiar things.

San Juan was the exceptian ta that. At the Mallorquina there we got Puerto Rican dishes. The tween them, there were so many. That was the place where we had cuttle fish cooked in its own ink, and it was delicious.

Now there is plenty of variety in foods here.

The langouste is a lobster. He isn't quite as tasty as a good Maine one pounder, but he's still good. The fish as far us we have had any, is flat. I wouldn't swap every eating fish from the Caribbean for a Charlevoix whitefish, Mackinaw trout or pereh.

In justice, the trouble may be in the cooking. Up there we do the cooking ourselves. Down here the help does it. It means work to prepare a tasty fish. Work isn't done unless absolutely necessary here, especially if it's for the boss. So maybe these fish might be good, but I cannot say from any evidence so far.

The fruits are plentiful. Out in the yard at the Charles Struthers place, the two boys showed me at least eight kinds as I recall. There was a red ackee, which is poison unless careful taken apart and cooked righ Bananas grow everywhere.

Tamarinds, with a dull brow husk, have a thin, sticky ta paste araund smooth flat seec Mangoes have a delicate tas and a rich peach colored mea Folks here eat the cashew fru and throw the nuts away.

Sweet potatoes here are wh we call yams. Yams here a a hard, brown hided, root-li thing. Cooked, they turn quicl ly to almost pure starch. Th sweet potatoes are small, re meated and delicious. Most Jam aicans eat yams, they're cheap er.

Did you know that Jamaic grows most of the world's al spice. It's the seed of a sizeabl tree. The fruit graws in cluster something like cherries. I didn see any as it is not the harves season. But Charles Struther got me to chew a leaf, it was like eating pepper. He knew it al the time.

Shop at Home

Not so long ago, there was a Charlevoix County man who wrote his name on a dollar bill. He then went to a local store and spent it. Several days later he received this same dollar bill from a housewife in payment for his services. He again spent the dollar locally and within two weeks it was back in his wallet, this time as change for a larger bill.

Then our friend broke the chain. He went to a neighboring city, made a purchase and paid for it with his traveling dollar. That's been several months ago, and he hasn't seen it since.

The moral of this story — Spend your money at home and the chances are very good that it'll come back home to you. The more money that can be kept circulating right here in our own community definitely adds up to more prosperity for all of us. Think it over!

1000 Attend Jordan Valley Creamery Open House

Nearly 1000 persons visited the plant of Jordan Valley Cooperative Creamery Co., at East Jordan Thursday when the plant threw open its doors, marking formal presentation of the firm's new $150,000 plant. Manager Percy Penfold described the event as a real success.

The festivities opened Wednesday evening with a dinner at East Jordan high school for merchants and quantity butter buyers who sell the products of Jordan Valley. The dinner was prepared and served by members of the East Jordan high school home economics classes under the direction of Mrs. Clara Brown.

Principal speaker was J. G. Hayes, head of the dairy extension department of Michigan State College, whose humorous dissertation on a cow, which he illustrated with a cardboard bovine, drew many laughs and contributed greatly to the success of the dinner. Donald Murray, Michigan State College extension dairyman, also spoke briefly.

Thursday morning the visitors started arriving at 10 a. m. and a steady stream continued until noon. It was resumed again at 2 p. m. and continued throughout the afternoon.

The new light buff brick building, trimmed in glass block and glazed tile interior walls, faces on the south arm of Lake Charlevoix and embraces 20,400 square feet of floor space. The visitors viewed the structure in its entirety and left with words of praise for the structure and its equipment.

The automatic machine which cuts and wraps pounds of butter proved the most interesting to the visitors.

Local Couple Speaks Vows In Candlelight Service

In a candlelight service solemnized at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Congregational church Nanette Totten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Totten, became the bride of Ronald J. Abfalter, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald J. Abfalter, Sr.

Rev. Jackson E. Turner read the double ring service in the presence of 150 guests before an altar decorated with baskets of calla lillies and snapdragons and tapers in candlcabra.

Preceding the service Mrs. Charles Bellinger, organist, played a program of traditional music and the wedding marches.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, selected a gown of ivory slipper satin. It was designed with a marquisette yoke outlined with an off-the-shoulder drape, long sleeves which came to points over the hands and a fitted bodice buttoned to the waist with tiny buttons. The full skirt ended in a short train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a braided tiara of the same material. She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses and sweetpeas.

Joan Heise was maid of honor and Elaine Taylor and Patricia Casselman of Belding were bridesmaids. They wore similar gowns styled with lace yokes, fitted bodices and hoop skirts, and matching lace mitts. Miss Heise, whose gown was light blue, wore a small hat trimmed with matching flowers. The bridesmaids, whose gowns were pink and orchid, respectively, wore matching floral headdresses. All carried nosegays of pink and white carnations.

Sharon Abfalter, sister of the bridegroom, as flower girl, wore a yellow taffeta gown and matching headdress.

Versal Shearer, of Ann Arbor, assisted the bridegroom as best man and Don Jadwin of Detroit and Russell Lewis were ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception for 35 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents. A three-tiered wedding cake centered the refreshment table which was decorated with tapers in silver candelabra and spring flowers.

The couple left on a brief wedding trip before returning here to make their home at 101½ Wood St. For traveling the bride wore a gold suit, brown accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Both are graduates of the Charlevoix high school and attended Michigan State College. The bridegroom served in the U. S. Marine Corps in the Orient for 14 months.

Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon F. Lahive and Don Jadwin of Detroit; Mrs. J. M. Totten and Miss Patricia Casselman of Belding; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hesse and Miss Ethel Clemens of Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. Lynn L. Mayne of Grand Rapids; Mrs. C. Moore and Mr. and Mrs. George Cronk of Newaygo; Mrs. William Irwin of Maywood, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Versal Shearer of Ann Arbor; Mr. and Mrs. William Shepard and son, James and Mrs. James McNeal, Sr., of East Jordan.

Remember How We Talked?

It went like this at the Hooper's the other night. Hap's eighteen-year-old daughter is talking about "a real gone guy—solid—out of this world, hut def."

"Now what kind of language is that?" Hap barks. "Can't she speak English?"

"I'll translate it for you," Ma Hooper says, "in the language of the twenties, when you were about twenty years old. She simply means this fellow is the 'cat's whiskers.' Remember how we used to talk sometimes?" Hap went back to reading his newspaper.

From where I sit, it's easy to criticize the other person when we don't take a good long look at ourselves. Sure, there'll always be some differences. I'm fond of a temperate glass of beer and maybe you would prefer ginger ale—but let's just live and let live. Because when we go out of our way to find things to find fault with in others, chances are they can find a few in us, too.

phases of this question. This is your chance to DO YOUR BIT FOR YOUR COUNTY AND YOUR STATE. All the eyes of the nation will be turned on Michigan at this election for it is the first state election since November when folks sat in their rocking chairs, instead of getting out to vote. And are they griping now! Perhaps you do not know it, but there is a small minority group, yet mighty powerful, down in Detroit (call them anything you want to) but they are definitely not the kind of men we want running our government. This minority group is doing its best to oust two important state men, Charles Ziegler, State Highway Commissioner and Lee Thurston, Superintendent of Public Instruction. That group wants that power in Detroit and Wayne County. Charles Ziegler has put more than 3 millions of dollars in roads, bridges and other improvements in the north in the past few months, which has greatly benefited resort areas. If that Detroit minority group wins out with their men, we can just whistle in this part of the state. Also, think twice before you cast your vote for the man who will have direct bearing on your children's education. That's a job where we want a 100% American and Lee Thurston is just that. He has been 19 years in the state education department and is well qualified for the job. Ineidentally, Thurston is a Central Lake man.

Mrs. E. E. Stroud has returned from a week's visit in Pontiac with her daughter, Mrs. Margaret Haggarty. She also visited in Port Huron and Mt. Clemens. Mr. and Mrs. Haggerty returned home with her for the week end . . . Mr. and Mrs. Clare Coulter of Detroit and George Finucan of Grand Rapids spent the week end in Charlevoix. Sunday there was a picnic at Mackinaw in Geik's new car with the group and the Ray Faulkner's as well . . .

'Twas a big time for Jill Stewart last Saturday when she celebrated her birthday at Grandma McMillan's home with 22 youngsters there and a theatre party after the ice cream and cake . . . Arlo Wickersham has some beautiful colored stills taken on his western trip . . . "Well your word in the Tow Line brought results," said Fiorine Krahnke. "You asked if someone wouldn't like to sponsor the girls bowling team. As a result two persons came to our rescue. Art's Dry Cleaners are going to be our sponsors."

Youthful Swimmer Going Places In Florida Meets

Patsy Ratigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ratigan is really in "the swim" in Lake Worth, Fla., where the family is spending the winter.

She is the only 12 year old girl on the Lake Worth high school swimming team. Last week she was entered officially in her first meet and won second place in the 200 yard free style against Palm Beach. She was beaten by the State Champion. So tiny in comparison with the 16 and 18 year old girls, Patsy makes up in speed as she is fast as a little torpedo.

Patsy was scheduled to swim against Fort Lauderdale on April 1 and she also swims in St. Petersburg on April 1 and Fort Myers on April 2.

The swimming coach at Lake Worth has high hopes for Patsy and thinks she could break the state record in two years if she continues her training.

Present Officers Are ReElected by Townships

Experience was valued above new blood by the voters pf Charlevoix county in most of the contests in the annual spring election Monday.

On the state, county and township tickets, the incumbents were reelected to office. Sole exception was in the third ward where John Knight, running on stickers, defeated veteran Councilman Harry Hooker. The vote was 187 to 104.

This puts three new men on the Council this year: C. L. Davy in the first, Drew Young in the second, and Knight in the third. William Heering and Carl Kohler were new last year, leaving W. E. Goss as the only veteran alderman.

All other city and county officials were reelected hy the city.

The neighboring townships provided some political contests. In Charlevoix Rudy Korth, incumbent, won the supervisorship from Arthur Stack, 52 and 14. It was the only contest on the ballot.

Eveline had only one ticket, reelecting all the present officials.

Results in Hayes were: supervisor, Howard Stephens, 88; Clarence Smith, 23; Clerk, Frank Burnett, 94; Clifford Struthers, 14. Treasurer, Hazel Evers, 83; Thomas Maxwell, 20. In Marion township, Carlton Smith did not accept renomination as supervisor. Russell Curtis won from L. E. McGhan, 85 to 30. Jay Adams stays on as clerk, winning 87 to 25 over Charles Mascho. John L. Boss defeated Frances Boss for treasurer, 96 to 18.

Norwood reelected Orton VanDusen as supervisor. His vote was 62 to Raymond Stafford's 16. William Parsons defeated Sam Campbell as clerk, 65 to 12. For treasurer Orville Hilton received 61 votes to Cecil Richardson's 16.

Final results had not been received from Beaver Island Tuesday but it was known that Lawrence Malloy and George Rieksgers were the supervisors for St. James and Peaine.

On the state and county ticket the vote of the entire county was:

Rod, Gun Club Makes Plans for Smelt Derby

With the time getting closer when the smelt will start their spawning runs, preparations are about ready for the first Charlevoix County Smelt Derby.

Advertised extensively down state, the 55 Mile Derby is expected to bring more smelt fishermen to Charlevoix county than ever before, ond to encourage them to visit all parts of the county.

Each of the three cities in the county, through its Boord of Commerce, is offering prizes for the largest smelt catches. At Charlevoix, the Board is putting up four. Two will be awarded each Saturday night of the Derby.

To the man or woman from outside the county registering the largest single catch, a heavy blanket will be awarded. To the man or woman within the county will go a pair of wading boots.

Thursday night the Rod and Gun Club will meet to determine detailed arrangements, such as place ond time for awarding the prizes, how the catches will be weighed, ond if the same person is eligible to win a prize here and at the other towns.

The hours given on the printed map have been changed. Instead of being staggered so that a fisherman can go from ono stream to the next, the hours are the same on all streams: 10 to 10:30; 12 to 12:30, 2 to 2:30 and 4 to 4:30. This will give an hour and a half for anyone wishing to go from one stream to the next.

To help the dippers at Stover creek, the Rod and Gun Club has strung some 600 feet of wire and lights along the dipping section. The city is donating the power and the hookup with its electric line south of town.

The three streams at this end of the lake which will be open for Derby dipping are Stover, McGeagh and Inwood.

Each merchant in Charlevoix is heing asked by the Rod & Gun Club to act as an individual Board of Commerce and information bureau for those from away. There will be free maps in the various stores for the out-of-county smelt fisherman.

The merchants also are being asked to keep their stores open nights during the Derby to accommodate the fishermen from away who may need to make purchases.

The Junior class play, "Almost Eighteen" in its last week of rehearsals, will be presented under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Richards at the auditorium at 8 p. m. Tuesday.

Theresa Zeitler will give the welcome and C. A. Odmark will direct the entertoinment to be given between acts in which the following will participate: June Guild, Roger Sweet, Jim Fiedler, Clarke Bergeon, Jim Niswander, Sue Miles, Sally Swinton and Dwight Smith.

Ushers will be Patsy Rose, Betty Hosler, Thelma Thorpe, Fern Waffle, Shirley Krulik, Arlene Drost, Don Gill and Jack Grubaugh.

Pythians Entertain Cage Champions at Banquet, Movies

Members of the championship basketball team, the cheerleaders and Coach Ray Kipke were guests Monday night of the Knights of Pythias ot the annual banquet given the team.

E. J. Edwards was toastmaster and paid tribute to the guests of honor. "We're proud of our team," he said, "for the way you boys played and the sportsmanship you showed." He called on the three seniors to stand: Warren Shadko, Pat Martin and Ross Case.

Ross, as retiring captain, wished next year's team a good year.

Coach Kipke, in a brief talk, stated that this year's squad had played better basketball, in proportion to the seeming natural ability of the members, than any team in recent years.

"We did pretty well after that first Boyne City game showed us how the game had to be played this year," he quipped.

The future depends on the players themselves, Kipke stated. "I usually think ahead at this time of year and pick out the ones who'll likely make the team. Then when the season comes around, others work harder and win the places."

With the grade teams coming along the way they are, and boys in the sixth and seventh grades shooting like high school players, the future looks good for Charlevoix.

Part of the color and excitement at the games, the chairman said, was due to the fine work of the four senior girls who have been cheerleaders. They are B. J. Cunningham, Sally King, Sally Swinton, and Nancy Kipke.

L. E. Towe spoke briefly about his experiences while with the Atlantic Fleet, telling of the complexity of the training maneuvers and the work the Navy does in training its men. Two movies then were shown, one on motor transportation and the other on Washington.

White Swan Starts Carrying Mail Over to Beaver Island

With the opening of navigation in northern Lake Michigan the mail was taken to Beaver Island Saturday hy boat for the first time this year.

The trip was made with the freighter, White Swan, of the Lyons Navigation Co. Because the harbor at St. James is atill filled with ice the boat anchored off the island south of the bay and the mail and freight were taken ashore by smaller craft.

From now on tho hoat will make at least three trips a week with the mail and freight. Passengers will continue to go by plane until the motorship, North Shore, which is undergoing repairs, goes on the regular run again.

Since Jan. 1 the mail has been carried by H. H. Bechtold, Jr., of Belliare, from the Pellston airport to the island.

Rod, Gun Club Moves Skeet Outfit

The skeet equipment of the Rod and Gun Club was moved last week end from its former location to the new grounds. Several pictures were taken of the men at work. The new location is just two miles north of the city limits and the Club is eagerly awaiting the day when ground can be broken for a new clubhouse.

City Picks Four Board Directors

Four directors of the Board of Commerce for the next two years were chosen Monday by Charlevoix citizens.

Also on the ballot were Walter J. Moore, Wayne Belding, John Connolly and Howell Parsel.

No Sugar Beets Will Be Grown This Year

No sugar beets will be grown in this area this coming year.

That was determined Monday night when 20 farmers who have grown beets the last two years met at Ellsworth with a representative of the Michigan Sugar Co. It was decided that untd 500 acres or more could be signed up, and a full time field man engaged, it was not practical to try to raise the beets here.

The Tow Line

News of folks, your neighbors and mine . . .but did you know that—

"In the spring, a young man's fancy" might now be termed "Love makes a man itch and marriage keeps him scratching for a living" . . . Can you imagine that it will be just about 60 more days and we will have our summer folks, vacationists and tourists with us again? . . . I truly hope that everyone read last week's minutes of the Council proceedings in The Courier of the basketball and the High School Band resolutions that were passed paying tribute to Ray Kipke and Clarence Odmark for the parts they have played in keeping sports and music on auch a high rating. These men cannot be given high enough praise for their work and the results they have obtained. Remember the friction of human relations screams to high heaven for the oil of expressed gratitude! . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Conley have returned from Holly Hill, Fla., where they were for the winter . . . The Harold Bedfords will he coming back soon . . . Mr. and Mrs. Ed Allen got back in the wee hours Sunday morning from Florida. On their return trip they stopped in Detroit where Mr. Allen had the misfortune to fall down two flights of stairs. Luckily no banes were broken although it was necessary to take him to the hospitol to sew up some cuts he received . . .

Annabelle Hiller of Ann Arbor spent the week end here with the E. J. Hillers . . . Mrs. Mary Hamilton arrived home from Flint where she spent the winter months. "Just think," she said, "in May it will make 50 years that I have lived in Charlevoix. My husband and I came here from Grand Rapids in "09". That's a real record . . . Did you know that the Old Mission house was where Edward Everett Hale wrote "The Man Without a Country?" The building was first ereeted in 1825 and was used as an Indian mission. It has since undergone many changes. It is located on Mackinac Island.

Mrs. Edward Shanahan left Thursday with her two sons, Robert and Bruce, for Washington, D. C. where she expects to spend 10 days with her husband. They will be there for cherry blossom time in Washington when the famous trees around the Tidal Basin were in bloom . . . While friend husband was in Washington last week as a grand finale to his navy trip, he was taken to Kenwood, a suburb of Washington. Here, some ten miles of cherry trees have been set out and they were also in full bloom and really a more impressive sight than the Tidal Basin trees . . . Sap is running and farmers who tapped their sugar bushes this spring are really doing land-office business this week. That will mean maple syrup for pancakes and waffles later in the year . . . A note from the Ken Forbes in Toronto says they have excellent weather for their eastern trip. He also adds "wife gone mad over antique shops." And that's an easy thing to do in Canada and the East.

Mrs. Clare Webster went to Grand Rapids Saturday to meet her husband who has been in Indianapolis at the Boat Show. She was lucky to find that a SPEBSQSA meeting was on and Sunday morning she went with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ingalls to breakfast and got to hear the informal sing put on by the quartets. Dr. and Mrs. Gilbert Saltonstall and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sessions were also there . . . While in Indianapolis Mr. Webster sent sev-

Farmers, Home Owners Offered Free Soil Tests

Proving of real value last year the soil testing meetings will ge repeated again next week in Charlevoix County.

Samples of soil can be brought by anyone who wants to know what fertilizers are needed on their land. This includes farmers, home gardeners and home owners whose lawns evidently need something done to the soil.

Four meetings will be held:

Wednesday, April 13: Boyne Falls, 9 to 12 a. m.; Charlevoix, 1:30 to 5 p. m.

Thursday, April 14: 8:30 to 12 a. m.; Boyne City, 1:30 to 5 p. m., East Jordan. All will be in the different high schools.

Ed Longnecker, soils specialist, from M. S. C., will be on hand to test the samples, and to give recommendations regarding lime and other fertilizers for general fertility or specific crops.

Several methods may be used for collecting soil samples. One of the easiest is to dig a hole the depth that is normally plowed, then collect a little of the soils from the bottom to the top. A half tea cup is adequate for testing. Soil that is damp should be collected in advance and allowed to dry.

Soil acidity tests with an electric P. H. meter will be made in addition to the tests for phosphorus and potash. Acidity test will determine the advisability of liming.

There also will he a general Soil Conservation meeting Monday evening at the Charlevoix high school at 8 p. m. The new soil movie, "By Land We Live" will be shown. The meeting is open to all members of the family.

Police Checking Lights and Brakes On Automobiles

The city of Charlevoix has joined over 200 other Michigan cities in a concerted effort to reduce traffic accidents by reducing the number of defective brakes and defective lights on vehicles being driven, according to Chief of Police Clarence Heise.

Police officers will check the brakes and lights of the vehicle of each motorist they stop for a moving traffic violation and will stop all motorists driving at night with defective lights.

The chief urged all motorists to have all of their safety equipment checked by their regular service man and repaired if necessary.

In addition the Rebekahs gave $5.00. This with $276.78 reported from last week makes a grand total of $423.05.

The bill for the new band suits will be about $370.00 and for four majorettes uniforms $160.00, making approximately $530.00 needed.

Kiwanis Sponsors Concert by School Band At Sanitarium at Graylord Last Thursday

After the outstanding performance of the High School Band under the direction of Clarence Odmark, a few weeks ago, it was with pride that the Kiwanis Club sponsored a program for the patients at the Gaylord Sanitarium.

Thursday night 18 members of the band went to Gaylord to give a concert. Their program was: New Frontier by Lee, Elena Polka by Kiefer with a baritone duet played by Sue Webster and Pat Hamilton; Overture, Two Moods by Grundman; Pride of Arizona by King; Keifer's Special by Keifer; Novelty number, Ten Little Indians by Long; Clarinet Polka by Bennett; I Get a Kick Out of You by Cole Porter; and a march, In Honor Bound by Keifer.

In addition Mr. Odmark played three violin solos, accompanied by Mrs. Leonard Burns.

The patients who attended the concert were a real inspiration to the band. In order that they might be allowed to have three-fourths of an hour for the concert, those persons were willing to remain in bed all day. There was also a public address system through the sanitarium and all bed patients were also able to listen in.

Following the concert Clarence Meggison took the band members to the Rendezvous for a snack before the bus ride home.

New Court House Program Given Majority of 405

Despite presistent efforts to hecloud the issue and divert attention from the necessity and economy of the County's Sinking Fund Proposal, that measure was approved Monday hy the citizens of Charlevoix County 1078 to 1273, a majority of 405.

The results contained several surprises.

Charlevoix cast a larger vote than did Boyne City, 603 to 573. The latter place also polled 94 favorable votes. In this connection, the townships of Boyne Valley, Chandler, Hudson and Melrose all showed more "yes" votes than the pre-election phophets had forecast.

East Jordan favored the proposal, 173 to 100. So did the townships of Hayes, Eveline, Marion and Norwood. Beaver Island voted 101 to 10 in favor of the sinking fund.

According to C. B. Meggison of the Board of Supervisors, that body now can set up a sinking fund at the next session of the Board. The funds set aside, two mills on the dollar, will be accumulated to help pay for the construction of a new county building at some future date.

When a child under the age of 17 years becomes physicially ill, the services of physicians, nurses and hospitals are available to him. However, should the same child become socially ill, the law turns him over to the Probate Court which is given little if any equipment with which to effect a cure.

The Court may be furnished a place of temporary detention in an antiquated building until its use is stopped by the state authorities, or the Court may make arrangement for temporary boarding of the offender in a private home. In addition the child may be sent to a correctional institution where likely as not he will learn from his associates more about crime and how it is committed than he would have, had he been left to roam the streets at home, a problem to his family and the local police.

Violation of the law by young folks and the subsequent punishment, if any, has much in common with the old saying about the weather: "Much is said about it, but little done about it."

Each county is permitted to maintain a place of temporary detention, but most counties cannot afford a place of detention that will conform to the law and regulations governing the construction and management of such places.

We know that there are not very many among the young folks of the county who are lawbreakers. It is only now and then that a child that is socially ill will break the rules of society and thus come in direct conflict with the law and be in need of treatment. Unless something is done to treat the illness of these few the trouble spreads to other children who are not as strong minded as might be, and thus are unable to resist temptation.

The law should be amended at once to permit two or more counties to join in the construction and maintainance of a detention home for their common use. There is much opinion that these should be built and maintained by a state ageney aready in existence, with the counties in each district furnishing a proportionate share of the cost of such maintainance and construction; with the best thought to the effect that the counties of the district pay half and the state the other half.

These districts would be in fact a community of a few neighboring counties in which the child would not be far from his parents and friends and yet in the hands of thoroughly competent persons in an institution designed for the purpose it is intended to achieve.

Great institutions are provided for the mentally ill, and for the murderer, the rapist and other hardened criminals and every effort is made, in most cases, to restore them to society. We do not disparage such efforts because they are thoroughly commendable and proper, and should be ever continued for the safety of society itself.

However, does not the child taking his first faltering step on the downward path deserve as much or even more? Nothing will be done until the fathers and mothers of Michigan demand it. Don't forget that it may be your child that will tread the forbidden road, and probably because no suitable provision for his treatment has been made when the signs of social illness first become evident.

Real Service to the Public

Win, lose or draw, two newspapers in the county, The Boyne Citizen and The Charlevoix Courier have waged a campaign during recent weeks to present their respective views on the County Sinking Fund Proposal. By so doing they have rendered a valuable service to the voters. The results of Monday's vote have no bearing on the point of this comment.

All too often in recent years rural newspapers have taken a more or less passive attitude on public issues. When a stand is taken, it usually is mildly for or against and the same lukewarm attitude is reflected by the public.

Both papers have attempted to present facts to support their respective views on the question. Two newspapers presenting a lively discussion of both sides of a question can not help but create some voter interest. Voter interest means more voters at the polls.

Had all of the newspapers in the county been of the same mind on the Sinking Fund Issue, many voters would have given little thought to the question. Some would have even failed to cast their ballot and others would vote "No" on general principles because they were not familiar with the issue.

But when two newspapers conduct a lively skirmish on public issues, they are doing a real service in keeping democracy working.—Harold Totten.

Meet Your Michigan

Anchors Aweigh

BY LARRY TOWE

With the United States Navy

Washington, D. C.
March 29

Well, the Navy trip is just about over officially. Ed Shanahan is going to take me through the gun factory this evening but that is sort of a post script, and a pleasant one, to the whole trip.

For the last two days I've been looking back over the six weeks and trying to size up the whole thing. Of one thing I'm sure: Larry Towe is no naval expert. Some of these city reporters read a few books, make a trip with the Navy and come back (sometimes when they go out) self-ordained naval experts. Not me; not when men who have spent their whole lives working and studying the service say they wish they knew just a few of the answers.

But I did gather a few conclusions or opinions which seem logical.

The wisest remark I believe I heard was a quotation from a certain almost fabulous retired admiral named Tip Merrill. (Capt. Paddock knows him. I understand.) A while ago Merrill said:

"I'm in favor of a big Army. And I'm in favor of a big Air Force. And I'm in favor of a Navy—so we won't be fighting on United States soil."

From what I gathered, the Navy today figures it has three jobs. It still is the first line of defense; it will try to keep the fighting outside our country. It must protect supply and all other craft on the high seas. It must provide the transportation for the forces we can send to do the fighting on the other guy's land—if anyone gets ornery to the scrapping stage. Meanwhile of course, it must keep ready.

To do this job, (and this is pretty much my own conclusion) it needs four types of craft.

Subs, because they are the most effective arm today for offensive worfare. I sow an official report on the Pacific war by the Air Force, Army, Marines and Navy of the Allied Powers. Subs sank 52 percent of all ships destroyed. Planes, warships, mines and other causes combined only took 48 percent. Subs are the craft which can go out and do the offensive job most effectively.

Second, we need carriers, smell onas. The Navy doesn't need long range air cover for most of its work. The powerful little plane which goes out, stings and comes back for another stinger is its best air weepon. The monster carrier is es vulnerable as the little one, end three small ones will last longer.

Also, today without air superiority surface naval action is suicide. The only time I ever heard Adm. Jerauld Wright say the going got almost too tough was when they lacked that air cover.

Third, we need enough warships to protect the carrier and transports, and to make it hot for subs. That means mostly destroyers and cruisers. The battleships are handsome, but a small carrier packs more wallop.

Fourth, there must be the transports and auxiliaries. They are the work horses which haul the men and machines and power across where it will do the most good.

Of course, the most important part of all is the men. Today, the averege enlisted man is pretty young. But both his intellectual level end age ere on the upgrade, we were told. Once more, the Navy is getting much of the pick of the enlistees.

As far os the technical side of operations ore concerned, I haven't the slightest idea of whether the amphibious operations were done well or ill. I know we gave the subs four chances to get pot shots at the force. I know the guns and planes peppered the island. The soldiers and Marines and their equipment rode ashore and proceded to wriggle through the brush and ticks and thorns and dust. Futher than that, I'm no judge. After all, what were all those umpires down there for? I wouldn't want to do their work for them and maybe ruo them out of business.

Just one story on the actual landings. On D-Day minus one the Marines had a nice, smooth, curving beach for landing. When they plowed in with their amphibious tanks and landing craft the next morning, there was an eight foot wall of soft coral sand all along their beach. Well, they went around it and punched one or two holes through it and yelled for bulldozers.

Later on Adm. Frad Kirtland, when we were talking about it, sort of chuckled and remarked that it was all right for the boys to have surprises. They'd get plenty in actuel operations and it was as well to get acquaintad with some of them early.

As for those Caribbean countries, they are interesting. And colorful. But two sadly depressing facts kept kicking us in the teeth.

The first is that the United States is lousy as a colonial administrator. It has too much cock-eyed sentiment, blind mentality, and baseless theory to do a good job in the Caribbean. It could prove a blessing; but not along present lines.

Our policy down thre is based on the theory that all men are alike: that the Caribbean fundementally is twin brother to southern Wisconsin, for example. On that theory, all that is needed for a successful, prosparous end heppy community is to trensplant our American schools end politicel system intact to St. Thomas end within ten years we'll heve a little Wisconsin down there.

I'm not stretching the truth an iota. That is exactly the mentality and underlying theory of our Caribbean policy. It's crazy on every count.

The people there have either 300 or 3000 years of slavery and slave thinking back of them. Do you know what that means? For one thing, you do every job as slowly as you possibly can and produce just as poor a product as you can. You never save, for what you save isn't yours. You never think of yourself nor for your fellows—for it only gets you in trouble. Let the other guy look out for himself. You don't worry about your home conditions or your morals or anything else; all that is done for you. In fact, you live just as indolently, just as selfishly and just as wastefully as you possibly can.

That's the mental and emotional equipment of the folks whom we expect overnight to become capable, thrifty, self-governing citizens working along ideal U. S. lines. (I neglected to mention the edded load of 3000 or 5000 years of primitiva superstition which is mixed in.)

The Danes had the right idea in St. Thomas. They ran the Island firmly, there were schools for the exceptional and steady pressure on all to do and live better. In those days, say the old timers, St. Thomas bloomed more like the rose and the 90 percent of the population was developing self-respect and self-reliance as rapidly as they could.

Then the United States took over with our wonderful foreign policy. Today the Tomasino won't work. Unless it is a white collar job he goes and stays on relief; he is a strong competitor for the honor of being the least efficient worker in the Antilles. Here's another story:

Charles Bellows, an American in business in Charlotte Amalie, advertised for a gardener. He told me he got eight replies. Every one was willing to drive a car or mix cocktails; but actually to mow lawn and tend garden: absolutely not! One answer was typical:

"I've got an eighth grade education. Do you think after that I'm going to do manual labor? Besides I'd lose standing with all my friends if I went off relief to do gardening." Mr. Bellow's gerdan is growing up to weeds.

All this brings up the second great disturbing fact down there. The United States no longer is looked up to by the mass of people as the land of opportunity to make a better and an honest living. It is the great source of the easy touch. Governor Munoz of Puerto Rico makes no bones about the fact to his supporters, the little farmers in the country. If they didn't have the millions being poured in by Uncle Sam, they'd be going hungry. And anyone, in his opinion, who wants independence from Uncle Sam is an idiot and blind to boot.

I don't know the answer. But of one thing I'm sure. We've made a terrible series of errors for nigh on to 50 years down in the Caribbean. We've done a great injury to those people by implanting still deeper the idea that they shouldn't work gainfully. It's time that we either pulled out or began to help the Tomasino and the rest relearn that only the man who takes care of himself amounts to anything in this world.

Maybe we need to relearn a little of that lesson at home, too.
